LOCAL MATTERS

State's Attorney for Caroline.—The judges of the circuit court at Centreville on Tuesday appointed Henry R. Lewis, Esq., of Denton, State's Attorney for Caroline county, vice Elmer W. Dean, deceased.

Spelling Match.—The pupils of the Sassafras School had an old fashioned spelling match on Tuesday afternoon. The contest was an interesting one, and all did well. Little Miss Mary Haley remained standing the longest. Quite a number of the patrons enjoyed the contest.

To Employ Accountant.—The Board of County Commissioners at their meeting on Tuesday employed Messrs. Black and Hunter, expert accountants, of Baltimore, to investigate the financial condition of the county. The agreement stipulates that the cost of investigation is not to exceed $300, and is to be limited to within 30 days. The accountants will begin work on Monday morning.

Caught Big Sturgeon—Mr. George Serack a prominent fisherman of Betterton, on Monday caught a roe sturgeon measuring six feet in length. The roe and meat are very valuable, the roe selling for $1 per pound. Mr. Serack telephoned a description of the fish to a Delaware City buyer, who offered him $75 for the monster if it were a roe, and were shipped alive. Mr. Serack left Monday evening for Delaware City with his prize.

Little Boy Run Over.—Raphael, the seven-year-old son of Mrs. Susie Copper, residing on Cannon street, was run over by a dearborn on Monday evening. The little fellow was playing in front of his home, and ran out to jump on behind a passing team. He fell under the dearborn, sustaining a severe cut on the nose and a bruised shoulder and arm. Dr. Dodd rendered medical attention and found no bones broken. The little fellow was rendered unconscious, but is now rapidly improving.

TOLD IN BRIEF.

—Quite a number of town and county people attended Barnum & Bailey's big circus in Baltimore Wednesday and Thursday.

—Mr. Frank Shinn, residing on the farm opposite Quaker Neck School, has a mare which gave birth to twin mule colts last week. That's a big prize for Mr. Shinn.

—Mr. J. Elwood Morris has a fine Belgian colt affected with lock-jaw. It is under the care of Dr. G. Allen Jarman and is doing well.

—Mr. Robert G. Nicholson has one of the finest fields of wheat in Kent county. Under favorable prospects it looks good for an average yield of 35 bushels per acre.

—Mr. Gilbert Taylor is surveying the walks and streets of Betterton preparatory to beginning the work of concreting.

—Mrs. J. Biddle Hossinger is offering a first-class square Heinekamp piano for 60 dollars that is certainly a great bargain.

—Capt. Harmon Taylor, of Quaker Neck, had the first soft shell crabs of the season in town on Tuesday. They were fair size and sold to the Hotel Imperial at 45 cents per dozen.

—The case of David Cannon vs. Walter T. Morris went to trial at Centreville on Thursday afternoon. There are a large number of witnesses in this case, yet it is hoped to finish it to-day.

—Mr. George Rouse, Standard Oil representative here, will discontinue the delivery of gasoline and oil to consumers. The company has contracted with Mr. J. H. Sides to handle this branch of the business here.

—Mr. Thomas W. Perkins received his fine new Buick touring car last week sold by Graham & Clements, and Mr. James Brice received from Mr. J. F. Thompson on Saturday a dandy Ford runabout.

—There are getting to be so many automobiles in town that it is well to urge all to observe the speed limit. Should the owner of an automobile encounter an accident to life or limb while violating the speed limit he may be liable to heavy damages. Some owners go too fast, especially within the town limits.

—One of our Washington avenue chicken fanciers has sold for settings during the spring $25 worth of eggs, has 130 engaged, and besides using what he needs for family purposes, he has 120 fine young chicks after having lost 50 chicks some time ago in one night. —Mr. D. A. Bacchus received one of those appealing letters from Madrid, Spain, this week about the noted prisoner who offers to divide an alleged estate of $480,000 with the man who will assist in securing his release from prison. Each of the three letters of this kind we have seen bear a different signature, and is a swindling game from beginning to end.

—In the presence of a large crowd of ticket holders and interested spectators the clock at Vansant & Nesome's store stopped at 12—12—51. Mr. Perkins Rolph held the ticket nearest the time 12—10—47, and got a beautiful set of dishes. What time will the clock stop next Tuesday? Get your ticket and get in line with the big crowd of ticket holders. The dishes are well worth holding.

To Govern Pound Nets.

The Secretary of War has designated a commission from the corps of Army Engineers to consider and report upon the subject of establishing regulations to govern the placing and operation of pounds, nets and other fish taking appliances in the Chesapeake Bay and tributaries. The work will in all probability be commenced in the locality of Love Point, and the Commission will endeavor to examine even the smaller branches of the Bay, including the rivers of this and adjoining counties. The rapid decrease in the yields of the Maryland waters is responsible for the steps that will be taken to improve the catches in future years.

FIRST LESSON IN LOVE MAKING.

As he strolled in the park, feeling as gay as a lark,
He met a fair damsel named Nan;
Just for a joke, he stepped up and spoke,
And she, smiling, reached out her hand.

They chinned to each other, like sister and brother,
While the time rolled swiftly away,
And in a voice quite low, she said I must go,
For my dad will scold if I stay.

Just here he felt weak though he managed to speak
And said may I go along;
Her face beamed with light as she said alright,
I guess dad won't think it wrong.

They started to walk and continued to talk,
As all young lovers should,
But alas, at the gate her dad stood in wait,
With a club of seasoned wood.

He said young man you git, for I've got the grit,
And your face I'll mash in a stew,
I will allow no man, with my daughter Nan,
Especially such young sports as you.

The sound of his feet, seemed to tare up the street,
As though scared, he managed to say,
That's all right, you've got me to fight,
I'll see you some other day.

But he never went back; no he never went back,
That face he won't meet any more,
If he kept going straight, without reducing his gait
He is now on that beautiful shore.

CLAYTON POET.

A Prosperous Order.

Mr. John W. Barnes has been notified during the week by State Councilor H. L. Mennerick of his re-appointment as Deputy State Councilor of the local order, Council No. 177 Jr. O. U. A. M. This is in recognition of the faithful performance of every duty entrusted to Mr. Barnes. He is one of the best fraternity men in the State, and his whole heart and soul are in the work of the various fraternal orders of which he is an active member, and we believe he is a member of every order except the Masons. The Jr. O. U. A. M. is one of the strongest orders in point of members and in financial condition in the town or county. Its membership now totals 155 of our most substantial citizens, and its trsasury is rich in the wealth so generously paid to assist the sick, the widows, the orphans and the public schools. The recent State Council held in Chestertown was a big boom for the local order, and we trust that it may continue to grow in members and grand work for the uplift of humanity for years to come.

There Comes A Time

when letters blur, when lines run together, and reading becomes difficult, especially in the evening. This blurring is caused by the eye not being able to focus at the normal reading distance—fourteen inches. The vision in the distance is as clear as ever, and this fact leads many to believe that glasses are unnecessary, but this is just the time when the first pair of glasses is needed. A continuation without glasses causes an undue strain on the muscles of the eye, and a dull headache is the result; a person gains nothing by doing without glasses when they are needed, in fact they gain much by having glasses fitted when the first blur indicates failing vision.

"Our glasses are reasonable in price—your sight is priceless."

"You cannot get new eyes, but you can get new glasses."
