We Are Representatives for This Locality.

See us before buying your boat or engine. The engine should be the deciding factor in purchasing a motor boat. No matter how high class the hull may be if the engine is not satisfactory in its operation the owner simply has nothing whatever to enjoy.

Miss Stewart is a native of Kent county and her many friends here are delighted to learn of her marked success.

TOLD IN BRIEF.

—Wheat is heading and is looking fine.

—An eclipse of the moon will occur on Monday, visible in this latitude.

—J. R. Baden won the dinner set at Vansant & Newsome's on Tuesday. The clock stopped at 5-28-35.

—Mr. Thomas Matthews, the efficient deputy Register of Wills, has purchased a Studebaker-Flanders runabout automobile.

—Senator Slay's home on Maple avenue is being painted by Mr. Prince, of Crumpton. The old paint has been burned from the weather boarding.

—Dr. James Roy Micou has purchased a fine little bateau from Mr. Benjamin Hazel, of Millington. The Doctor will make good use of it during the summer evenings.

—The second team of Washington College will cross bats with the strong Millington team on Washington Field this afternoon at 3 o'clock. This will be an interesting game, and well worth seeing.

—Messrs. Leittel and Wise, representing Black & Hunter, expert accountants, of Baltimore, are at work in the County Commissioners' office, examining the accounts, and they are finding out things.

—Mr. Robert G. Nicholson harvested this week one of the finest crops of alfalfa ever grown in this section, the yield on the first cutting being about two tons to the acre. The grass was as high as a man's waist.

—Mrs. Carolene L. Hynson purchased from Mr. B. Romie McCauley on Thursday, his pair of finely matched and valuable driving horses four and five years old. The price paid is private, but Mr. McCauley is satisfied.

—The "Stars" will journey to Church Hill to-day to play the strong team of that town, and with Wilmer in the box and Bramble behind the bat, the "Stars" expect a victory. They have played 4 games and lost 1 this season. Not so bad, is it?

—Mail driver, Mr. W. B. Ashley on last Monday morning met with quite an accident on his way down to the Gratitude postoffice. The front wheel of his buggy come off which caused him to fall from his team. He received several bruises on his face and arms.

—A large delegation of patrons and tax-payers from Quaker Neck and Pomona appeared before the School Board on Tueseay in reference to closing the schools Nos. 1 and 2, and erecting a school in the village of Pomona. The Board is holding the matter under consideration.

—The Chestertown Aggregetes went to Millington in Collins Brothers' launch last Saturday and defeated the Millington second team in an exciting game of ball. Score 12 to 4. Jarman and Harris proved a winning battery for the Aggregates, with Jeter and Davis for Millington.

—Messers Thos. D. France, J. E. Ferguson, J. Hydie Thompson, J. H. Sides and Mr. Horn attended a special communication of the Smyrna Lodge A. F. & A. M. in Smyrna, Del., on Thursday evening making the trip in Mr. Sides' big touring car. Mr. A. L. Sparks took Messrs. Wrightson, McDonald and Dr. Hughes in his car. They had a delightful trip.

—If the tail of the comet struck us, nobody in Chestertown felt it. Probably 1000 people sat up until one o'clock to see the celestial phenomenon Thursday night but not one, except Mr. Harry Boyd, who went out to the old depot to get a look, saw it. Mr. Boyd says it was the most beautiful heavenly sight he ever saw. Five hundred people stood on the bridge at midnight, but they didn't see a thing.

—Just for fun, a man living near Middletown, Del., set off a quantity of sky rockets last Thursday night about the time the tail of the comet was thought to be passing through the earth. Some of the residents thinking that the display was caused by the comet hitting the earth, began to pray, others went down in their cellars and remained there until they learned the cause of the display, and then they went to bed and slept soundly.

—Officer Cooper arrested William Waters on Monday on the charge of violating the local option law. The officer made a raid on Waters' house and found nearly a barrel of whiskey, numerous beer bottles, etc. Waters, besides serving a term in the penitentiary, has been sent to the House of Correction several times for selling intoxicants. He is held for court, and it would be a blessing to the community if he could be sent somewhere where he could never return to Chestertown. Waters kept a club book, which contained the names of 300 of his patrons, whom, by a unique scheme, he accuses of buying as well as selling liquor from and to him.

—Mrs. Thomas D. France has one of the most beautiful flower yards in Chestertown. She has three clematis vines, one white, one pink and one lavender, and we have never seen a more beautiful display in Chestertown. Mrs. France's roses are also gorgeous, and she is justly proud of her bower of beauty. Others who have equally as pretty yards are Mrs. George B. McWhorter, Col. Wm. J. Vannort, who had the first sweet pea bloom in town, Mrs. J. T. Twilley and Mrs. Hope H. Barroll, whose grounds, lovely flowers, and rare shrubbery, are always objects of the greatest admiration.

—At the last meeting the Board of Town Commissioners passed an ordinance requiring that all pavements hereafter laid in the town shall be of cement. The new walks from College avenue to Culp's factory and from High street to the Meteer house on Front street will be of cement. This is a commendable move on the part of the commissioners, and evidences the fact that they mean to improve the town. The ordinance will be published next week.

OBITUARY.

MR. WILLIAM E. JARRELL.

Mr. William E. Jarrell, one of our most prominent citizens and one of Kent county's most highly esteemed business men, died at his home on Washington avenue on Saturday morning, after an illness of several months, of heart failure, aged 64 years. Mr. Jarrell had been feeling somewhat improved in health early last week, and had expressed a desire to see several of his tenants. On Saturday morning he felt much better, and after reading the county papers, he got up for a few moments. Just after returning to his bed he breathed a deep sigh and his spirit took its flight as quietly and as peacefully as if he had laid him down to sleep. The deceased was born in Caroline county but removed to Kent many years ago, and engaged in farming on what is known as the "Home Farm," near Chesterville. By close attention to business and that keen business foresight and discernment which enables men to amass wealth, he accumulated some of the finest landed estates in this and adjoining counties, to which he devoted the best energies of his life. Mr. Jarrell was a frugal man, but far from parsimonious. He helped others while helping himself, and in his business contact with his fellowmen he gave every man his due, and yet never exacted impossibilities of his fellows. In disposition quiet and unpretentious, of a manner as lovable and tender as a child, it is no wonder that it could be said of Mr. Jarrell "none knew him but to love him, none named him but to praise." He was indeed a most lovable character. During the years of our acquaintance, we learned to admire him for his fine business ability, for his gentle disposition and for the warmth and glow of his genial conversation. He was one of the most charitable men in the community, and the beauty of his charity was its lack of ostentation. He lived the principles of the Christian religion in his daily walk and conversation, and when the time for his departure arrived, he was able by the force of a strong character and an implicit confidence and faith in God to say "I am ready." With his departure a void has been made in our social life that always follows the passing of a good man, and while the world may be better for the life of a man like William E. Jarrell, yet we can ill afford to lose such men from a community where his influence has been so strongly felt for good. Mr. Jarrell was one of the organizers of the Chesterville Southern Methodist Church and for years prior to his death he was a most liberal contributor to and ardent supporter of its interests.

He leaves a large landed estate, a monument to his industry and wise business methods, but above all he leaves to his family as an additional heritage the glory of an upright Christian life, spent in deeds of kindness and helpfulness to his fellow-man. He is survived by a widow, who was before marriage a Miss Clements. She it has been who for lo! these many years has been a most devoted helpmate, sharing his trials and joys, and througout all his illness ministering unto him with a devotion that was beautiful in its bounty. He also leaves one son, Mr. W. Frank Jarrell, who has assisted the father in business, cared for him lovingly in sickness, and who has been a dutiful and faithful son. He also leaves four brothers, Messrs. Joshua, of near Kennedyville; Robert, Wesley, and Charles Jarrell, of Caroline county. Impressive funeral services were held at the residence on Tuesday at 12 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. Rood, of Chesterville M. E. Church, South, assisted by Revs. Drs. F. T. Little and L. E. Barrett, of Chestertown, and Rev. A. P. Prettyman, of Galena. A great concourse of sympathetic friends and relatives attended the services and Mrs. Merrick Clements, Mrs. Fred. G. Usilton, Miss Eva Hurlock, Messrs. Fred. G. Usilton and Thomas D. Bowers sang favorite hymns. The pall-bearers were his four brothers, his brother-in-law, Mr. Alday Clements, and Mr. James Brice. Interment was private in Chester Cemetery. The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Helen Russell, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Atkinson, died Sunday afternoon. Funeral was held Tuesday at 4 P. M. Services were conducted by Dr. H. B. Martin; interment in Chester cemetery. Messrs. E. W., and Robt. J. Emory, uncles of the little girl acted as pall-bearers. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson had charge of arrangements.

The four-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hyland died at their home on Queen street, Chestertown, last Sunday morning of whooping cough. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Dr. F. T. Little. The interment was in Chester cemetery. Undertaker Charles L. Dodd in charge.

The remains of Marie M. Dadds, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dadds, were brought to Kent from Baltimore, via Tolchester Monday and interred in Chester cemetery. Services at the grave were conducted by Dr. L. E. Barrett. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson in charge.

They're After You, Mr. Guest.

The following clipping was taken from the New York Mail in reference to the oldest horse in America, based upon a recent account of the annimal in the Baltimore American from Chestertown:

"Mr. Joseph Guest, of Chestertown, Md., owns a horse which is one of the oldest, if not the very oldest, creature of his species in America. The animal celebrated the forty-first anniversary of his birth on May 6 by cavorting joyously around in a beautiful pasture and performing a few unstudied stunts in high kicking that a yearling colt might have envied. On the day that Samuel J. Tilden was nominated for president, in 1876, this horse, a big, sleek sorrel, then called Stonewall, was driven to a town 25 miles away, where his owner, a great admirer of the Democratic nominee, changed Stonewall's name to Samuel J. Tilden in honor of his party candidate, and under that name he is still living in ease and comfort.

"But there have been, and possibly still are, older horses than this Maryland veteran. At the horse show here in New York three or four years ago there was exhibited a horse once used in the street car service that was said to be 43 years old. Perhaps some reader knows of one still more aged. If so, his record would be gladly received at 'The Office Window.'"

To Appear Next Week.

In order to do it full justice, a very interesting article on the "Rich Neck Farmer's Club" meeting at the home of Mr. James B. Newnam, of Queen Annes county, by Mr. Rider Haggard, is held over for next week. Mr. Haggard was an honorary guest and got a good opportunity, which he enjoyed, of seeing what Eastern Shore men look like and act like, at home. Unlike Agamemnon, who was field marshall at the siege of Troy, he says: "I came, I saw and I was conquered," by the good nature and good fellowship of the occasion.

Horse Notes.

Mr. J. R. Brown, of Queen Annes has a mare named Nancy, which gave birth to twin horse colts last Saturday. The colts are by Capt. Wm. C. A. Thompson's fine horse John B., and both are doing well and are in fine condition.

The track men of the Fifth District held their first series of races at their driving park last Monday. Some fairly good records were made by the colts and the older horses showed some nice work, too.

Died.

MATTHEWS.—On May 16th, Robert Franklin, beloved husband of Julia M. Matthews, and son of Vaughn and Josephine Matthews.

Safe in the arms of Jesus.

Interment at Rock Hall, Kent county, Md., Wednesday, May 18th, 1910.

CHRISFIELD.—Wright S. Chrisfield died Monday morning, May the ninth.

He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss,
He has gone from his dear ones, his children his wife,
Whom he willingly toiled for and loved as his life;
Oh, God! how mysterious and how strange are Thy ways,
To take from us this loved one in the best of his days.

WIFE AND CHILDREN.

Had he asked us, well we know
We should say, "O spare the blow,"
Yes, with streaming tears should pray;
Lord, we love him, let him stay.
In love he lived in peace he died,
His life was asked, but God denied.
