Betterton's Big Season.

What promises to be the most successful season in the history of Betterton, the popular head of the bay resort, opened last week with the largest crowd ever seen there. Every hotel, cottage and private home was crowded, and some were not able to obtain accommodations. The Fourth was celebrated in the usual way, the strong breeze from the north making it a most pleasant day.

The crowd already there was increased by a number of excursion, automobile and yachting parties. The harbor was filled with many smart yachts and launches, wh'ch were gaily decorated in their colors. Several boats raced during the day. The beach was thronged with bathers all day.

Dancing, skating, bowling, fishing, crabbing and horseback riding are now the daily diversions of the guests. Dances are held each evening in the Casino. Farson's orchestra is again furnishing the music. Skating and bowling on the Beach Amusea Pier are a continuous pastime, and the old, as well the young, enjoy the skates.

Turner's New Pier was opened Saturday night, and is a creditable attraction. On the pier are moving pictures, picture gallery, rest room and refreshment stands. Camping is still very popular in that vicinity. Parties are arriving daily. The Delaware Industrial School of Wilmington is located on the Stonton grounds. The entire school held a dance in the Betterton Casino Friday morning. There are 100 young ladies of the school in charge of Mr and Mrs. Jackson and a corps of teachers of Wilmington. The Eastern Pennsylvania Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp have pitched their tents on Chesapeake Haven, across the Sassafras. These boys are in charge of Mr. R. M. Honeyman, general secretary, and number 150.

Idlewhile Park, under the able management of Col. A. H. Supplee, has many attractions, and is one of the most delightful spots at the pretty resort to enjoy the day. Betterton is prettier and more popular than ever this year, and the town commissioners have begun the concrete walks and other improvements which will make Betterton a thoroughly up-to-date summer resort. The hotels and cottages under their able management are offering excellent accommodations, and the boatmen are vying with each other to show the visitors a good time. Betterton's stores are also well equipped with the things needful for summer wants and pleasures, and altogether Betterton is on the move, and everybody has the spirit of hustle and "pull together" which counts so much towards the success of the resort.

Chapter of Accidents.

Master Belt Townshend, son of Sidney P. Townshend, Esq., fell from a tree while playing the other day and severely sprained his arm at the elbow. He is doing well.

Mr. Harry Haddaway, private secretary to Lewin W. Wickes, Esq., strained a ligament in his leg one day this week while running and has been limping since. He is able to be on duty.

Mr. Edgar P. Beck has been nursing an injured limb this week, due to a severe strain. He has been compelled to use a cane.
