Amusing price cuts in Spring and Summer Goods. It isn't a surprising thing that our various lines this season are better in every way than they were last season. The surprising thing would be if they were not. Some merchants seem to think that when they reach a certain point in their stock it is well enough to stop. This is not my policy. I can truly state, I seem to be everlastingly pushed to bring better stock, more up-to-date in quality for less money than previous seasons.

The absolute certainty of satisfaction in Shoe value for the whole family. No old stock, everything new, fresh, up-to-date in style and quality in High and Low Shoes for the whole family. GROWING GRAPES FOR PROFIT.

Messrs. Benj. F. and George Rash Take the Lead Among Kent Farmers in Growing the Fruit for Market.

Since the days when the luscious peach was a source of great revenue to the farmers of Kent, attention has been diverted by some of our more progressive agriculturalists toward the cultivation of other crops which would in a measure supply the deficiency in the farmer's net revenue for his year's work caused by the failure of peach culture. There was a time when a peach crop meant thousands of dollars in the pockets of our farmers, and the man who had a large peach orchard could in years agone feel himself swell with pride when he beheld his orchard ladened with gold and silver dollars. But alas, this peach Millennium seems to have become a thing of the past, and to atone for this great financial loss to the farmer, experiments have been made by some of our farmers with other fruits in the hope that something would be found that would take the place of the peach. Messrs. Benj. F. and Gerge Rash, two of our most progressive farmers, are well on the way to this discovery, in the cultivation of a large and beautiful grape vineyard, the first, so far as we are aware, ever attempted in this county. Some two or three years ago these gentlemen purchased a farm near Worton Station, and they conceived the idea of making a fruit farm, laying out a part as a vineyard, another in an apple orchard, another in pears and still another in peaches. They have nursed their vineyard with great care through its period of infancy until the present season when it has reached the age of maturity and in full bearing, producing large and luscious grapes. The Messrs. Rash have been busy for the past two weeks shipping carloads of 25-pound carriers to different points, testing the markets and experimenting with the shipment, in order to bring the culture of the fruit to the highest possible perfection. They have been shipping as many as 900 and 1000 carriers per day, Chestertown and Buck Neck being the principal shipping points, though they loaded several refrigerator cars from Stewart's siding to the Stewart Fruit Company in Baltimore. They have been receiving from 40 to 60 cents per carrier, which is regarded as a good price for the fruit. Baltimore has proven to be the best market. The expense of gathering the crop is a consideration, the Messrs. Rash employing as many as 30 hands at one time harvesting the crop. There is also considerable labor attached to the cultivation of the crop, and we are informed by the Messrs. Rash that while the crop has been a profitable one, yet it has not reached the point, so far as their cultivation is concerned, where the grape can take the place of the once profitable peach. The Messrs. Rash are to be congratulated upon their progressiveness. They have demonstrated that they are wide awake to a situation which now confronts the Kent county farmer, and that their experiment in grape culture has proven a great success this year. They will harvest from 2000 to 3000 carriers from their vineyards on their farm at Worton Station and on the Worrall farm. This is regarded as an excellent yield for the first year's bearing, and as the vines increase in age, they will become so much more prolific. The vineyard presents a beautiful sight either from the main road or from the cars.

WORN COINS LEGAL TENDER.

Shopkeepers and Others Must Take Them at Full Value.

As everybody is frequently possessed of "slick" or smooth dimes or plugged, mutilated and battered nickels, and either of these coins might be the last in his possession, awkward results might follow; so is it wise to learn if the common carriers have any legal right to refuse such coins. Most people, says the Atlanta Constittion, have had them refused at one time or another, and have never questioned the right of the person to whom they were tendered to reject them.

But no one has any legal right to reject such coins. The law of the land strictly defines what coins are to be rejected and the reason for the rejection, and the nickel and the dime are not included. So long as the coin—whether it is a dime, a quarter, half dollar, dollar or a nickel or cent—is distinguishable as a genuine United States coin and its denomination can be ascertained, the fact of its being slick or worn smooth doesn't count; it is good, lawful money, is a legal tender, and no good citizen who respects the law should refuse it.

Are "slick" silver coins good money and legal tender? Yes. Is the objection that they are worn smooth a legal objection to accepting them? No. Do shopkeepers who refuse them offend the law? Yes, for ignorance of the law is no excuse is a well-known legal maxim.

The idea of these shopkeepers that the dime or quarter worn smooth is no good is just contrary to the decision of four courts—the Jury Court, the Supreme Court and the Court of Errors and Appeals of the State of New Jersey, and later the Supreme Court of the United States.

Coin.—The United States copper half-cent, authorized by Act of April 2, 1792, originally had a weight of 132 grains, which in 1793 was changed to 104 and in 1796 to 84 grains. Its coinage was discontinued by Act of February 21, 1857, and amounted to a total of $39,926.11.

Old Coins.—All bright and perfect copper cents up to 1857 are at a premium. Those of 1793, at $2 to $6; 1799, $4 to $15; 1804, $3 to $10; 1796, 1809 and 1811, 25 cents to $1; 1795, 1806, 1808, 1813 and 1823, 10 to 50 cents; other dates, 2 to 25 cents. The eagle nickel cent of 1856 is taken at $2 to $4. Of dimes, those of 1796, 75 cents to $2.50; 1797, $2 to $5; 1798, $1.50 to $4; 1800 and 1802, $2 to 4; 1801, $1.50 to $3; 1903, $1 to $2.50; 1804, $4 to $10; 1805 and 1808, 50 cents to $1.25; 1809, 30 cents to $1; 1811, 25 cents to 75 cents; 1822, $1 to $2; 1828, large date, 20 to 75 cents; 1846, 10 to 30 cents.

Delightful Social.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel H. Smith entertained a number of friends at a delightful social gathering at their home, near Edesville, on Saturday evening last, in honor of their cousin, Miss Genevieve Kennard, of Baltimore. Music was rendered by Mr. Adam Smith, after which all were invited into the spacious dining room where the table was fairly groaning beneath the heavy weight of fresh and up-to-date refreshments. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joel H. Smith, Mrs. Wm. E. Sutton, Miss Mattie Ringgold, Miss Genevieve Kennard, of Baltimore, Mr. Adam Smith, Miss Virginia Nickerson, of Woodbury, N. J., Mr. Andrew Sutton, Miss Pearl Short, of Kenton, Del., and Misses Blanche and Unity Sutton. All returned to their respective homes at a late hour, wishing the host and hostess many happy returns of the day.
