Betterton Notes.

Betterton, Kent Co., Md., June 27th, 1911.

Messrs. Editors TRANSCRIPT, Chestertown, Md.: As stated last week, hotels and cottages here are all ready for visitors. Quite a number have arrived, and your correspondent was ready to see some style being a constant reader of the Delineator. Our first arrivals have brought some of it and I note that it takes less to dress the girls every year, "I do not mean money" but material, but they look charming.

Your correspondent was surprised at the stores here and their stock of goods. Mr. W. Reese Young has enlarged his store and put in a good line of dry goods. Messrs. Chas. H. Brice and Owens & Co., both have things to gratify the needs and also much to interest strangers. Ice cream, soda and many other nice things at Moore & Co. on the beach, and then it is just far enough to walk to strike the new booth of our old friend Littleton Crew, where the goods on display are of the best. Also the refreshments to be found at Turner's and the pleasant things he has out on his pier in addition to his bowling alleys he has a picture show that is to be an advance over last year. All this with Col. Jack Owens and Mr. Clarence Newsomes autos, toot-honk-toot, late in the night, to be relieved in the early morning by Willis & Son in their new fancy dairy wagon, will let it go without saying that Betterton will be gay this summer. This article is getting too long to say much about crabs, fish and other good things. Come see us. DAESTU.

During July and August, beginning Sunday evening, there will be religious service on the Ericcson Pier, Betterton, at 8 P. M. There will be comfortable seats arranged by a committee, also special music and a sermon preached by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Beauchamp, or some visiting minister. Rev. Clifton Owens, a graduate at the Conference Academy, and pastor of Morgan Creek, will assist the pastor in the summer work at Still Pond and Betterton.

Georgetown Ripples.

Miss Mary Price, of Middletown, is being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lockwood.

Mrs. Charles H. Riley and daughter, Laura, have returned to Baltimore after a short stay at "Valley Cottage."

The handsome residence of Mr. James E. Woodall, Jr., on Green street is nearly completed and adds much to the beauty of our town.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lecates and son, William, of Baltimore, are visiting her father, Mr. A. W. Woodall, who is quite sick at this writing.

Miss Marie Jervis has returned home after attending the commencement exercises at Washington College.

Mrs. John Welch and sons, Mrs. J. E. Woodall and daughter, Marion, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griffith in Sassafras.

Miss Frances Wallis, Miss Anna Wallis, Master Russel True, Jr., of Washington, and Master George Everett Wallis, of Annapolis Junction, are visiting Miss Mary E. Wallis, at "Valley Cottage."

Regular services are held every Sunday morning at 10.30 a. m., at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Miss Margaret Griffith, of North Carolina, is the guest of relatives in town.

Miss Maggie Fowler is visiting her brother, Capt. Evelyn Fowler.

Mrs. John Manleve and son, of Ceciliton, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Homer Manlove.

It is rumored that we are to have another automobile in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wallis have been the guests of Mrs. M. E. Emory.

Mrs. Thomas Hopper and daughter, Alice, of Chesapeake City, are spending a few days as the guests of Mrs. A. W. Woodall.

Capt. J. E. Woodall made a flying trip to Baltimore Wednesday in his launch, "Josephine."

Millington Wins Race.

The Centreville correspondent, in the Baltimore City News, has this to say about Millington winning the Interscholastic League race:

By capturing the first two games of the championship series from Church Hill in the Interscholastic League of Kent and Queen Anne counties, Millington wins the League pennant and the silver loving cup offered the winning team. The final game was played at Millington last Saturday, when the team of that town defeated Church Hill by the score of 10 to 0.

Beck, Millington's crack twirler, pitched the first no-hit and no-run game of the season that day, and in view of the fact that the Church Hill batters have a reputation of hitting safely any and all pitchers they had heretofore been up against Beck is recognized as the champion pitcher of the League.

Burglars at Galena.

Burglars visited Galena last Sunday night. They forced an entrance through a back window to the home of Mr. L. R. Vansant and rummaged through the house, evidently looking for money. Mr. Vansant probably scared the strangers away before their visit was over as he arose to get some medicine in the night. A vase, some matches and articles of clothing were found in the yard. Nothing was missing but ten cents and a revolver.

The home of Mr. Jas. Hicks was also visited and some valuable silver spoons and some articles of clothing stolen.

Also the home of Mr. Chas. McKinley was broken into but nothing was missing.

Drownvd at Tolchester.—While tying to outswim a chum on Sunday afternoon in the Chesapeake bay, about a mile from Tolchester, William Kriening, 21 years old, a lithographer in the employ of the American Tobacco Company, Baltimore, was seized with cramps and was drowned before aid could reach him. The young man was the only support of his mother, who had forewarned him about swimming while on the day's outing.
