State Grange for Reforms.

Many important resolutions were adopted at the meetings of the Maryland State Grange at the Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, last week. Among them was one pledging the grange to the support of the Lewis Postal Express bill and urging the representatives of Maryland in Congress to align themselves in advocacy of the bill.

A State drainage law was advocated by the legislative committee, as well as a law authorizing the State to make provisions at the experimental station of the Maryland Agricultural College for the manufacure of serum for the prevention of hog cholera and selling of it at the cost of production to the farmers of the State.

A passage of a pure seed law in Maryland was also advocated, as was a law for the reduction by Congress of the duties on raw and refined sugar. The committee called attention to the meagre facilities at the Maryland Agricultural College in the manner of teaching agriculture. It recommended that an appropriation of $150,000 be made by the State for the erection and equipment of an agricultural building.

Mr. Turner in Philadelphia.

The friends of Mr. Guy Turner, a native of this county, who has for the past twelve years conducted a gents' clothing and furnishing store in Smyrna, Del., and Ridgely, Maryland, will be pleased to learn of his new connection with the well-known Philadelphia firm of Strawbridge & Clothier. Mr. Turner won a deserved reputation for dependable merchandise while in business on the Peninsula. Owing to illness in his family he decided to discontinue business and secure a position calling for less personal responsibility. To his Maryland friends who shop in the Quaker City he extends a cordial invitation to call upon him when in Philadelphia, assuring them that he will do all in his power to make their shopping both pleasant and profitable. The firm of Strawbridge & Clothier has for many years been better known to citizens of the Eastern Shore than any other Philadelphia concern. Mr. Turner is a brother of Mr. A. S. Turner, of Worton, and has been a subscriber to the TRANSCRIPT for many years.

One Hundred Chickens Burned.—One hundred chickens were roasted alive in the chicken house of Dr. Arthur D. Mansfield in the rear of his residence 1202 East North avenue, Baltimore, on Tuesday, shortly before noon. Dr. Mansfield was not at home at the time, and the first knowledge that the neighbors had of the fire were the terrified squawks of the fowls. They were valuable birds and Dr. Mansfield's loss is heavy. Dr. Mansfield married Miss Bessie Ball, of this town several years ago, and is well-known here.
