THE J&K SHOE FITS THE ARCH

Millington Items.

Our town is not going backward, but improving every day, as our Town Commissioners commenced to break ground for the new street on Friday of last week. The new street will be called Hurtt's avenue, as Mr. C. M. Hurtt was the only one to give the ground that the new street passes through.

In about ten days the building committee will be ready to report on the new school building which will be erected on the four acre lot which was recently purchased from Mr. J. E. Hurlock at the cost of twelve hundred dollars. The amount appropriated for the new school, including the lot, was nine thousand dollars. The new high school building will be built of red brick, fifty by sixty, with basement, four recitation rooms and an assembly hall. No doubt the new structure will be a big improvement on the old dilapidated building which we now have.

The new company will manufacture shirt and overall goods and convert them into ready-to-wear garments. They will sell them direct from loom to wearer. The new company will employ about one hundred hands.

The Quaker City Dairy Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., who owns the milk cooling station, has just completed putting in a new cooling system. Heretofore they have been cooling by cold water process. The plant at Millington is in charge of Mr. Sutton, of Black's.

Mr. Olan C. Duling has already made arrangements for a building lot on the new avenue, and he is going to build a bungalow of the latest style as soon as the new street is finished. Four other new homes are under consideration and will be erected on the avenue as soon as arrangements can be made.
