POETRY.

THE SUMMER WINDS.

The low wind through my casement strays,
Between the jasmine's parted leaves,
Soft whispering through the morning rays,
And rippling o'er the golden sheaves.
I hear its low voice far away,
Where silver willows fringe the pool;
And from the forest still and gray,
Its murmur rises fresh and cool.

Leaving the sunny word below
The jasmine's starry buds to seek,
I feel it gently clasp my brow,
And lightly play upon my cheek.
That lingering hand sweeps round the room,
O'er dark recess and quiet nook,
Through loose leaves rustling in the gloom,
And wandering down my open book.

Nor voiceless doth it from me sweep,
To seek the bright free world again;
And in my bosom thrilling deep,
An echo answers to its strain,
That mocks the lonely toil of books,
And whispers me away—away!
Where waving leaves and rushing brooks,
Are glancing in the long birth day.

Away above the green earth's breast,
Away above the blue-deep wave,
Those billows, in the hoarse unrest,
Chant o'er the sailor's shroudless grave,
Where silver sails gleam far and white,
And beacon in the moon's cold ray—
The wild wind following on their flight,
Still whispers me away—away!

PHILADELPHIA LETTER.

PHILADELPHIA, August 18, 1860.

Editor Sentinel: Life in the City is dull at present, in consequence of the summer exodus of a large portion of our population to the fashionable watering places, or to the more retired enjoyment of country life. But our Hotels are all well filled, and our principal thoroughfares are thronged with strangers intent upon seeing all that is worth looking at in this "City of Brotherly Love." Among the first objects which attract strangers is Independence Hall, the Mecca of American liberty, where that illustrious band of patriots struck the blow which severed this, from the tyranny of the mother country, and made these colonies free and independent States. Around the walls are hung the portraits of the "signers," and other revolutionary heroes; at the East end is a magnificently carved statue of the immortal Washington, and on the South side raised upon an ornamental pedestal is the Old Liberty Bell whose merry peals proclaimed freedom throughout the land. Scattered over the room are many interesting relics of "the times that tried men's souls," the pew which Washington occupied when he attended services at Christ Church, and many valuable documents relating to the old colonial days.

It is customary after leaving this hallowed spot to ascend the steeple, where a full view of the city can be obtained at a glance. The Schuylkill river is seen in the distance winding its way like a silver thread, and the green banks of Fairmount look refreshing to the eye, as its cooling waters are to the thirsty pedestrian. Off in another direction is seen the Girard College, that classic structure in which marble, costing over two millions of dollars, an enduring monument to the liberality and benificence of its founder. There are many other objects that meet the eye, but to enumerate them would require more space than the brief limits of a letter would admit of.

Our politicians of all parties are active in favor of their several candidates, and all equally confident of success. The scattered remnants of the democratic party assume a vast amount of enthusiasm, and the claims of Breckenridge are advocated almost solely by government employees, who ever have an eye to the plunder.

The Douglas wing comprises the disappointed office seekers; and of course, a good proportion of citizens with the "rich irish brogue." They hold up the doctrine of "squatter sovereignty" as a paragon of perfection, but unfortunately it is like the colors in the druggist's show bottles, all very well to look at, but when you come to examine them they contain nothing but water.

The People's Party, it must be admitted, are largely in the majority, and their various clubs serve to keep alive the enthusiasm of its members. A new feature in these clubs is that the members are equipped in a drab glazed cap and cape, and are regularly drilled, so that on parade they march with a precision seldom seen on similar occasions, and the reflection of their torches on the capes produces quite a pleasing effect.

The Bell and Everett movement continues to grow, and is supported by a large portion of our respectable citizens who are influenced by no other motive than a devotion to the Union, but they have great obstacles to contend with; and they need not only the sympathy, but the active cooperation of every friend of the Union.

A singular case occurred a few days since, which will serve to demonstrate the intensity of solar heat. The wooden steps of a building exposed to the direct rays of the sun were observed to be very hot during the day. At half past two o'clock, smoke began to rise from the steps and in a few moments they blazed up much to the consternation of the occupants of the house. The steps were of fat pine, and as no other solution of the origin is given, it must be inferred that it was a case of solar combustion. The ignition of matches exposed to the sun's rays has been assigned as the cause of one or two fires in this city lately.

LOCO FOCO CONSISTENCY!

The loudest Loco Foco yelpers about "Politics and the Pulpit," are utterly dumb concerning the public interference of Archbishop Hughes in favor of Mr. Douglas.—If Rev. Henry Ward Beecher had made a similar demonstration for the purpose of controlling a Presidential nomination, the whole pack would have set up a howl so loud as to resound all over the country.—My ox gored your bull, is a very different thing from your ox goring my bull. The Loco Foco party can elect a Lutheran Minister in Pennsylvania to the Senate, and it is all right. They can nominate the Rev. Dr. Dailey, who has been expelled from the Methodist Church for drunkenness and adultery, for Congress, in Indiana, and it is all right. They can elect Howard, a Methodist Preacher, to Congress, in Ohio, and it is all right. And Bishop Hughes, the Freeman's Journal, and the Boston Pilot, the most radical Catholic journals in the United States, can actually engage in Mr. Douglas' interest, because his wife is a Catholic, and it is still all right. But it is a desperately wicked thing for religion to interfere with politics, unless the Catholic Church, or the Loco Foco Party, is to be benefited. Such humbug is simply contemptible. ION.

For the Sentinel.

A SMART PARTY!

It must be admitted that the Loco Foco party is smart and ingenious. They have played so long and successfully at trickery, that they have become experts. Just now they are taxing their wits to exceed in cuteness all former efforts in this line. The Breckinridge faction are ferreting out all the Douglas disaffected, and are using various means to win them to the true fold of Loco Foco faithfulness. Some they endeavor to frighten by the assurance that Douglas is weak and powerless. Some they operate on by the assertion that Breckinridge is the only true friend of the South, and that Douglas is at least a chrysalis Republican; and some they effect by the positive and clinching declaration that their offices depend on their orthodoxy, which means their support of Breckinridge. This last move was made on last Monday week here, in one case, to our certain knowledge. In the Convention there was an office-holder, a Postmaster, who was inclined to the Little Giant. It was necessary to approach him gingerly. He was spirited. He was not exactly dependent on the small revenue of his Post Office. A sly fly-trap had to be set for him. His conscience, his principles had to be attacked gently. They did. Our friend Powder, who knows a thing or two, in the Chair, proved it. He got him appointed a delegate to the Baltimore Breckinridge Convention. Does any one doubt how he came back? No one but a ninny. The true Democracy knew how to work him. They did work him. He's all right now, an eloquent, faithful Breckite. He wont be turned out of his Post Office—until after the election. Intrigue, smartness, triumphed, and while the wire-workers laughed in their sleeve, the poor, innocent victim of their toils was persuaded he was one of the great men, and is satisfied. So are we. Vive la bagatelle! If Breckinridge is elected, about which there is just now some slight reasonable doubt, we'll sign a recommendation for the present occupant to hold his office another term. Go it boots! With Jacob in the Chair, and Jacob to be reconciled, concileated and satisfied, it's all right. As soon as he would halloo for "Dug," off goes his head. So much for R——p (Buckingham.) Great is Loco Focoism, and Jacob is its prophet.

NIX.

Day is Dawning.

Not only from our exchanges of all political hues, but from reliable correspondents in every section of the country we perceive clearly indications that before the beginning of September, it will be apparent to the most casual observer, that the defeat of Lincoln and Hamlin and the election of Bell and Everett are absolutely certain. We have assurance that New York will go against Lincoln, and there is every prospect that Pennsylvania will do likewise. Simon Cameron, hitherto the wheel horse of the Republican, or rather the so-called People's party, in Pennsylvania, has not yet joined the ranks of the rail-splitter, and it is expected that he will, in disgust at the tergiversations of the Chicago platform and the odious Dutch plank, declare himself for Bell and Everett. Massachusetts is certain for the Union ticket, and Lincoln will not have a shadow of a chance in New Jersey and Connecticut. The shrewdest politicians already admit that as things now are, the election will go to the House of Representatives, when Bell will unquestionably be elected, or failing in that, Everett will be beyond any doubt elected by the Senate, but if the progress of the Union party continues in anything like the ratio in which it has progressed till now, its candidates will be elected by an overwhelming majority in the electoral college. The skies are everywhere brightening, and the Union men have only to work to be successful.

☞ The Richmond Whig says: It is even now almost absolutely certain, that Bell and Everett will carry, at least, five or six Northern States, or enough electoral Northern votes to ensure their triumphant election by the people, provided they recive, as they undoubtedly should do, the undivided electoral vote of the South. Indeed, the Southern States must vote as a unit for Bell and Everett if we would prevent the election of Lincoln and Hamlin. Every sane man knows that the whole contest is between Bell and Lincoln, and that every vote given to Breckinridge is equivalent to a vote for Lincoln

With the whole Southern Electoral vote given to Bell there can be little or no doubt of his election by the people, and the consequent certain defeat of Lincoln. The entire Electoral vote of the South is 120. Of the Northern States, we set down as almost certain for Bell the following, viz: Massachusetts 13 Electoral votes; New Jersey 7; Connecticut 6; Rhode Island 4; California 4; which makes 34 Northern Electoral votes in all, which, we think, will almost surely be cast for Bell and Everett. Add to these 34 Northern votes the 120 Southern votes, and Bell and Everett will have 154 votes, or two more votes than are necessary for their election—the whole number of Electoral votes being 302, and 152 being necessary to a choice.

Terrible Effects of Drought in Texas.—A letter from San Antonio, Texas, dated July 21st, says: "The weather continues perfectly dry, and besides the failure of the crops is causing great inconvenience by hindering transportation between the coast and San Antonia.—Freights have risen so much that flour, within a week or two, has gone up from $10 to $20 per barrel, and corn is now selling here for $3 per bushel Water, brought from the Mississippi river, is selling in Indianola and Lavaca for twenty-five cents per gallon."

☞ President Buchanan has been writing a letter in which he styles himself as among the last of a race of men who have been the guardians of the Constitution and the Union! Old Buck is getting more modest every day.

Five of the States of the New Grenada Union have seceded, because they would not submit to the rule of the majority in the Federal Government. The rebellion of minorities has always been and still is the curse of Mexico and the South American Republics.

☞ Organization, always beneficial and productive of success, is now more than ever important. In 1856, when the friends of the Union and of conservative principles attempted to stop the progress of sectionalism with Filmore and Donaldson as their candidates, they were weakened continually by the "no chance" cry and defections from their ranks to all the other parties. Now, the case is altogether different. The "no chance" cry applies only to our opponents. Our strength is daily and hourly increased by the presence of the conservative masses from every direction. Our numbers are continually increased by recruits from every other organization. The skies are everywhere brightening for us. We have only to be true to ourselves, to our principles, and to our country to achieve a glorious victory over all the enemies and false friends of the Union and the Constitution.

Organization is what we need. We are strong here. We are confident of success, but Maryland is looked from abroad as the "banner State," and others wait her action. The counties are fully aroused. Scores and hundreds of lifelong Democrats are now ready to push on the Union movement Hundreds of Old Line Whigs, who were whilom beguiled into the Democratic camp, are anxious to take part in the advocacy of the election of Bell and Everett. All that is needed is organization. Public meetings have been ordered, and the formation of Union clubs suggested by the State Executive Committee. Let it be done at once. If 'twere done 'twere well it were done quickly. The work should be begun at once. There may be few at first to take part in it, but their numbers will increase. They will be only the nucleus around which thousands will gather, and the result will be a Union victory in Baltimore and Mayland, and, we now firmly believe, in the Union, that shall gladden the hearts of patriots and make and preserve us still, one country with one Constitution and one destiny.

A Presidential Dinner.

"Occasional," in his last letter from Washington to the Phila. Press describes a dinner at the White House as follows:

"The hour is generally fixed at six o'clock, P. M., the time when millions are taking their supper. You receive a card about the size of an ordinary playing card, and if you are invited by the President the dimensions of the card are double, and generally as follows:

"The President requests the honor of your company to dinner, on Friday, April 6, at 6 o'clock P. M. An early answer is requested."

If you go to the President's you are expected to dress in your best clothes, and to wear white gloves. You are introduced into the small reception room, where you find the President, Miss Lane, Mrs. Judge Roosevelt, James Buchanan, Jr., and the rest of the household.—After being duly presented to them, you wait the arrival of the other guests.—The private secretary Mr. Buchanan, Jr., quietly informs you that you are to escort to the dinner table such a lady, whom he now introduces to you, and the lady in your company is presented to another gentleman, who is to be her companion during the feast. The hour having arrived, the company move into the large drawing room, where they are dazzled by the gorgeous display of plate and gas-light, and see a number of graceful waiters, also in white gloves, whose business it is to attend to the guests.—The President takes his seat, not at the head of the table, but on the side exactly, midway, Miss Lane acting as his vis-a-vis. You find your name beautifully written on a card laid upon the plate, before the seat you are to occupy, and the entertainment begins. The cooking is generally French cooking, the wines costly and rare; and you will soon have an opportunity of hearing "the great man" talk. You need not be informed that Mr. Buchanan is one of the most agreeable diners in the world. He has a fund of small talk for the ladies, a variety of old fashioned anecdotes, and, as he is by no means sparing of the juice of the grape, he grows more easy and more affable and more agreeable as the repast goes on, calling out one after the other of the company, and paying compliments to the ladies, occasionally taking wine with them. You never ask the President to take wine with you, but wait to be invited by him. After remaining in this delightful society for several hours, at a given signal from the President the company rise, return to the reception room, where they are served with coffee and liquors, or, if they prefer it, with brandy, after which you take your leave and go home to remember the hospitalities you have enjoyed.—Some of these dinners are dull and stately enough, but I have known them to be as delightful as the most genial could desire.

☞ The best sign that we have yet seen that Tennessee will go for Bell and Everett, is General Foot's declaration in favor of Douglas, in a twelve column speech, to the people of Nashville. The General will play havoc with the Breckite ranks. He is after the Disunionists with a "pocket full of rocks."

☞ Mr. Buchanan says there is no regularly nominated Democratic candidate for the Presidency, and no doubt he is right. Such being the case, why shouldn't all patriotic Democrats, who cherish a great respect for regular nominations, abandon both Breckinridge and Douglas, and go in for Bell? He was not only regularly nominated, but he will be regularly elected too.

☞ All five of the candidates for the Presidency, Bell, Houston, Douglas Breckinridge and Lincoln live in the great valley of the West and Southwest, or contiguous to its borders, and in the last twenty years Taylor and Harrison, from the same sections have been elevated to that high office.

New York, September 3, 1858.

I have analyzed a sample of Chesnut Grove Whiskey, received from Mr. Charles Wharton, Jr., of Philadelphia, and having carefully tested it, I am pleased to state that it is entirely free from poisonous or deleterious substances. It is an unusually pure and fine flavored quality of Whiskey.

JAMES R. CHILTON,
Analytical Chemist.

Boston, March 7, 1859.

I have made a chemical analysis of commercial samples of Chesnut Grove Whiskey, which proves to be free from the heavy Fusil Oils, and perfectly pure and unadulterated. The fine flavor of this Whiskey is derived from the Grain used in manufacturing it.

MOFFAT'S

Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters.

THESE Medicines have now been before the public for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the globe for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES are well known to be infallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Heartburn, Headache, Restlessness, Ill Temper, Anxiety, Languor, and Melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

COSTIVENESS, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

FEVERS of all kinds, by restoring the blood to a regular circulation, through the process of perspiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The LIFE MEDICINES have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and GOUT in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

DROPSIES of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder; they operate most delightfully on these important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of GRAVEL.

Also WORMS, by dislodging from the turnings of bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.

ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION, by relieving the air vessels of the lungs from the mucous which even slight colds will occasion, and which, if not removed, becomes hardened, and produces these dreadful diseases.

SCURVY, ULCERS, and INVETERATE SORES, by the perfect purity which these LIFE MEDICINES give to the blood, and all the humors.

SCORBUTIC ERUPTIONS and BAD COMPLEXIONS, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all eruptive complaints, sallow, cloudy, and other disagreeable complexions.

The use of these Pills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of SALT RHEUM, and a striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. COMMON COLDS and INFLUENZA will always be cured by one dose, or by two even in the worst cases.

PILES. As a remedy for this most distressing and obstinate malady, the VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES deserve a distinct and emphatic recommendation. It is well known to hundreds in this city, that the former proprietor of these valuable Medicines was himself afflicted with this complaint for upwards of THIRTY-FIVE YEARS; and that he tried in vain every remedy prescribed within the whole compass of the Materia Medica. He however at length tried the Medicine which is now offered to the public, and he was cured in a very short time, and after his recovery had been pronounced not only improbable, but absolutely impossible, by any human means.

FEVER AND AGUE.

For this scourge of the western country these Medicines will be found a safe, speedy, and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease—a cure by these medicines is permanent.

Try them, be satisfied, and be cured.

BILIOUS FEVERS AND LIVER COMPLAINTS.

GENERAL DEBILITY, Loss of Appetite, and Diseases of Females—these medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description: King's Evil and Scrofula, in its worst forms, yields to the mild yet powerful action of these remarkable Medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Palpitation of the Heart, Painter's Colic, are speedily cured.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.

Persons whose constitutions have become impaired by the injudicious use of Mercury, will find these Medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparations of Sarsaparilla.

Prepared and sold by Dr. W. B. MOFFAT, 335 Broadway, N. Y. For sale by all Druggists.

JOHNS & CROSLEY'S

IMPROVED GUTTA PERCHA CEMENT ROOFING.

IS THE CHEAPEST AND MOST DURABLE ROOFING IN USE.—IT IS FIRE AND WATER PROOF. It can be applied to NEW and OLD Roofs of ALL KINDS and to old shingle roofs without removing the shingles.

THE COST IS ONLY ABOUT ONE-THIRD THAT OF TIN, AND IS TWICE AS DURABLE.

GUTTA PERCHA CEMENT for preserving and repairing TIN and METAL ROOFS of every description.

From its great elasticity, is not injured by the contraction and expansion of metals, and will not crack in cold nor run in warm weather. These materials have been thoroughly tested in New-York and all parts of the Southern and Western States, and we can give abundant proof of all we claim in their favor.

They are readily applied by ordinary laborers, at a trifling expense.

"NO HEAT IS REQUIRED."

These materials are put up ready for use, and for shipping to all parts of the country, with full printed directions for application.

Full descriptive circulars will be forwarded on application by mail or in person, at our principal offices, 510 BROADWAY, (opposite St. Nicholas Hotel,) N. Y., 349 FULTON ST., (opposite City Hall) BROOKLYN.

LAW OF NEWSPAPERS.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their newspapers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspapers from the office or place to which they are directed, they are responsible for them until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers from the office, or place where they are sent, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facia evidence of intentional fraud.

5. The United States Courts have also repeatedly decided that a Postmaster who neglects to give reasonable notice, as required by the Post Office Department, of the neglect or refusal of a person to take from the office newspapers addressed to him, renders the Postmaster liable to the publisher for the amount subscription.
