Breckinridge Mass Meeting.

The Breckinridge wing of the Democracy held a meeting at the Court House on Saturday last, in accordance with previous announcement in the Democrat, and by large posters circulated profusely in every part of the County. We almost shrink from giving an account of this meeting; it was so insignificant in point of numbers that we can safely say it was a complete failure. Indeed, we candidly believe there was not fifty Breckinridge men present. A long and imposing array of popular and talented speakers were advertised to be present and address the meeting. Every exertion was made to draw a large crowd, but they didn't come. The timely admonitions of our brother of the Democrat were not heeded—the faithful were not there—the legions so proudly marshalled in the past, at the call of the Democratic party, were absent, and a stillness, like unto death, reigned supreme. Indeed, so depressed were the spirits, so sad the countenances of all present, that they looked more like a lot of men come to pay the last sad rite to the memory of a deceased friend, than to extol the virtues of the living, or to infuse into the followers of a party enthusiasm to carry them forward into the battle with a hope of success. The speakers advertised to be present failed to appear, and all, all, seemed to be sadly exercised at the waning prospect of Breckinridge stock in this region. Such long, woeful, melancholy, countenances we never beheld anywhere. There sat our brother of the Democrat taking copious notes of the harmonious proceedings. No noise of any kind disturbed his labors. He would look now and then at the empty seats with a vacant stare, and again resume the task of taking notes of a five hours' speech delivered in a dry, uninteresting manner by an office-holder from Washington. Again he looks up, and with a voice of despair cries out:

"What next? I know not, do not care—
Come pain or pleasure, weal or woe,—
There's nothing which I cannot bear,
Since I have borne this withering blow."

The meeting went on, however. The speaking still progressed until for want of hearers, it closed.

We do not wish to do our opponents injustice, but to state fairly and honestly what we ascertained the number at the meeting to be. There was not over fifty Breckinridge men in the house, and the half of them from town. We applied to our friend of the Democrat to give us the modus operandi of counting assemblages, that we might apply it to this meeting in the same way he applied it to the Bell and Everett, meeting heretofore held, and ascertain how many there wasn't there. It was a complete failure, one of the most insignificant mass meetings in point of numbers that was ever held in this County.

We left about five o'clock. Mr. Gillett, the only speaker present, was reading from a mass of documents to prove that neither Douglas or Breckinridge were regularly nominated, and that, in the language of Jimmy Buchanan, every Democrat was at liberty to vote for whom he pleased.

Each countenance present seemed weary-worn with care, until in the bitterness of their soul they were ready to cry out:

How vain a task to wake our lyre
To rapture's thrill, with passion's fire
While sorrow o'er our heart-strings plays
With trembling touch, her saddest lays!

☞"SICH A PUMPKIN," weighing 114 pounds and measuring 6 feet 1 inch in circumference, each way, grown by JOB HIBBERD, of New Windsor District, is certainly a snorter, and made the burden of considerable sport at our expense, advising us to own up, acknowledge the corn, shut down the breaks and stop off stream, own ourselves up Salt River, and afterwards about christmas times look around and get a piece of real Yankee pumpkin pie. Z mounted his zebra and said with a zest though his share was the last yet he liked it the best, may appropriately be applied in this case; we will, however, carefully colonize the invitation and await acceptance until we hear from the "West End." It is said there is a Pumpkin growing out there requiring several stocks to afford it nourishment, and by the time it has attained its full size, will need an extra switch of the Railroad to wagon it down to our office. If it proves as large as represented, we have concluded to territorialize it, and with proper divisions, present it to the Guards and Infantry for armories.

Since the above was in type we received the following from a respectable and responsible source:

MYERS' DISTRICT, October 15, 1860.

Dear Sentinel: Yesterday, while walking about to while away the time, I happened to pass my old democratic friend's, PETER MASONHEIMER'S, and after spending some time in a social chat with the old Dutchman, we went to see a great curiosity in the Pumpkin line. There was twelve very large Pumpkins growing on one vine, three of which we measured. The largest was 91 inches in circumference, while the other two were 69 and 81 inches. These mammoth growth of Pumpkins can be seen at any time by calling on the old gentleman in Back woods, where he resides. If Uniontown can beat this, you, I fear, will have to cave!

Yours, in haste, LAZARUS.

West End not yet heard from. Our hopes yet rest there for the safety of the Guards and Infantry.

Sale Register.

The farm and tannery, known as the Old Fort, lying on the road from Westminster to Manchester, will be sold by A. F. CRANE, Trustee, to-morrow.

A very valuable real estate situated in Myer's District, containing 135 acres, will be sold by J. WILLIAM AIRHART, to-morrow.

The largest real and personal estate sale of the season will come off on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, by Messrs. MAUS and WIEST, executors of the late JOHN MAUS, decd.

☞The Circuit Court for Frederick County commenced its October term on Monday last.

A Tempest in a Tea-Pot.

On the night after the election in Baltimore last week a number of disaffected Americans joined the Republican association to avenge themselves on our party for the defeat of Hindes. This is now trumpeted throughout the country by the Breckinridge faction who now claim the State for him. The woolyheads are not too well pleased with their new associates, as may be seen by the following paragraph, which we copy from the American: "Leading Germans, having great influence among their countrymen, last night, on being informed of the character of the roughs who thus joined the Republican party, openly expressed their determination not to have anything more to do with it. Some of them had purposed stumping the city for Lincoln and Hamlin, but resolved not to affiliate with them in view of the rough element thus suddenly brought to their side."

The Clipper of Monday says:

The Minute men of '60.—Stimulated by the necessity for renewed exertion, and greatly indignant at the base attempts of certain unprincipled political adventurers to slur over their devotion to the cause of the nation, the gallant Minute Men of our city are working with redoubled energy and enthusiasm for the success of the Union cause, and for the consequent defeat of the Anti-National, Anti Know-nothing, German-fearing and Nigger-loving Black Republicanism, the respectable portion of the eight or nine who seceded in the first flush of their disappointment in the defeat of Hindes, have resumed their place in the line and are now working like beavers against the Union splitters, and daily accessions to the number of scores are being gained to their ranks, so that at the next parade there will probably be not less than 1,000 energetic young men—voters mark ye, bearing torches. God speed their noble exertions. Let every man be at his post.

☞Our townsman, Dr. Blacksmith WM. H. MOURER, purchased from the Executors, Messrs. WAMPLER & WINTERS, a small tract of the real estate of the late ABRAHAM WAMPLER, situated near Winter's mill, improved with a comfortable dwelling, &c., for $400 cash. The Dr. requests us to say that he has already opened an office for the practice of his profession, such as shoeing horses, sharpening agricultural implements, ironing wagons and mending things generally. All his old friends are requested to make him a visit, whether professionally or otherwise, perfectly assured that he will always have a slice of smoked Jew and a jorum of old Abraham on hand to invigorate the system, refresh the memory, and propel the idea-catcher.

☞The Smallwood Infantry have engrafted in their creed the sentiment "can't be outdone," which was exemplified last week. No sooner had they learned that the Guards had obtained their arms than they posted off Capt. Roberts at iron-horse speed to inform Gov. Hicks that they had as many stout hearts and strong arms as the Blue Guards, and would be equally as courageous in the defence of their country, but how could they do it without their arms? Sure enough, thought the Governor, the Captain is right—he must have the guns, and he got them. They arrived safely to the great delight of the Smallwood boys, and are really a first-class article. Every citizen can now lay his head upon his pillow at night, after saying his prayers, in perfect security. The country is safe—no doubting it now. The Smallwood's can thrash an army with banners at a mere onset, and put ten thousand to flight on sight.—Vive la Smallwood and the Guards.—Vivat Republica.

A New Political Sensation.

A special despatch to the New York World, (Rep.) of Saturday, contains the following very sensational but equally probable items:

"There is a widely prevalent rumor here, to the effect that successful efforts are being made for the withdrawal of both Douglas and Breckinridge from the field, and the concentration of the liberated democratic vote on Bell, or some other independent candidate.—Douglas and Breckinridge have been consulted within the last twenty-four hours.

The signs of the times indicate that Breckinridge and Douglas, seeing the utter hopelessness of their causes, will both withdraw and concentrate their forces upon the only actual opponent to Abe Lincoln—John Bell."

☞We invite the attention of our readers to the card of Messrs. REIP & WOLF, in another column. They have large and extensive facilities for conducting a general produce and provision business, and we heartily commend them to all who desire to make consignments of grain, tobacco, provisions and produce generally. They have made extensive arrangements for supplying all kinds of fertilizers, which may be obtained at the very lowest rates. These young gentlemen are favorably known in this community as honorable, polite and courteous to all.

Turnpike Officers.

A meeting of the Stockholders of the Westminster and Hagerstown Turnpike Company was held at Graceham, on the 6th inst., for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows; Col Noah Philips, Joseph Wilhide, John Seiss, John W. Miller, Jeremiah Martin, John Cover, Daniel Hoover, and Emanuel Gernand, Directors. The Directors subsequently chose Col. Noah Philips, President; Joseph Wilhide, Secretary, and Emanuel Gernand, Supervisor. The road is represented to be in good traveling condition, and the rate of tolls low.

Fall Business.

The heavy crops of all kinds of grain in this and the adjoining counties the present season, and the steady demand for produce abroad, are the harbinger of prosperous times, not only to the farmer, but to the merchant, the manufacturer, and the mechanic. The merchants of our town in anticipation of more than the usual demand, are laying in a large stock of goods for the fall trade. Now is the time for merchants to commence advertising, and we offer them through the columns of the Sentinel a medium superior to any in the county.

☞Spurious $10 bills on the Farmer's and Mechanic's Bank of Frederick, are in circulation, dated August 1, 1854.

☞Those of our friends wishing a first-class work on Book-Keeping, recommended by a number of practical accountants throughout the country, are referred to the advertisement of Messrs. BIDDLE & Co., in another column.

☞The summer session of the Westminster Male and Female School, F. R. BUEL, Principal, will close on Friday next, and the fall session open on Monday, following. The session about to close has been successful in an eminent degree, and it is our pleasure to commend the school to a yet more extended encouragement.

Useful and profitable employment may be obtained of Messrs. LEARY, GETZ & Co., who wish to employ Agents in every County of the United States to engage in the sale of some of the best and most elegantly illustrated books published. See advertisement in another column.

Large Beet.

Brother PRESS, we've stolen the march on you by receiving from ISAAC SHRINER, in your section of the DALLAS country, a Beet which measures 2 feet 7 inches in circumference, and weighs honestly 7½ pounds. Now, if you can beat that beet, pitch in!

Suicide of a County Man!

On Tuesday last, Dr. B. KENNEDY, residing at Frizellsburg, this County, committed suicide by shooting himself with a double-barreled gun. The act was done near his residence, but we have not learned the particulars. He was a young man of family, enjoyed the confidence and respect of the community, and had a good practice.

West End, Bad End.

Not a bad end in a general sense, but only in a special way. There is one or more rascals out there who richly deserve a free pass to the penitentiary for thieving almost any and every thing movable. We noticed some of their operations last week, and now we have to record the stealing of a new horn quilted morocco cover saddle from the stable of EMANUEL GERNAND, for the return of which $5 will be paid and no questions asked. Go on a little longer, boys, there's a room being prepared for you down in the work house.

☞Our townsman, Dr. HERING, met with an accident on Sunday which might have proven very serious in its consequences. He was driving in a sulky, when the axle-tree broke, and the horse took off at full speed. He ran kicking and snorting until he perfectly demolished the wagon, and becoming disengaged from the shafts, ran into a shed, where he was secured free from harm. The Dr. jumped from the vehicle, more frightened than injured.

☞Our friend and neighbor, John Roberts, Esq., has an Egg Plant, which he raised in his garden this season, measuring 27 inches by 25 inches, and weighing 4 lbs. 10 oz. Mr. Thomas F. Shepherd brought one to our office 27¼ inches by 23, weighing 5 lbs. We are not much versed in the Egg Plant business, but we think these are pretty hard to beat.—Press.

We have a stalk of blondes around us which furnish us with the real material, and we are sure it is always preferable to imitation!

The Cattle Show.

Our Baltimore exchanges inform us that a large number of workmen are now engaged in renovating and fitting up the Show Grounds of the State Agricultural Society for the approaching exhibition, which commences on Tuesday, October 30th. The work is doing under the direction of the President of the Society. From the number of applications already made for stalls, &c., there is a flattering prospect of a very excellent exhibition.

☞The Hon. Mr. Hill, Member of Congress, of Georgia, is out in favor of Colonel Bell, because, says he, he "knows he is as sound on the negro question as the Charleston majority platform is." Mr. Hill talks like a sensible man. Indeed, we notice that the friends of Colonel Bell in Georgia are beginning every where to place him right before the people.

☞The Hon. W. Crump, President Tyler's Minister to Chili, T. Rivers, who would not go for Letcher because he was not sound on the "goose," Francis E. Rivers, Ex-M. C., and several other prominent Democrats, have declared for Douglas. If they go on so, Bell will capture the Old Dominion, provided his friends stand firm.

☞The Breckinridge democracy will hold meetings at Middleburg and Uniontown to-night, and at Manchester to-morrow.

☞The Democrat says Mr. John Abbott has a stalk of cabbage which has borne thirteen heads, one of which is quite large, another as large as a man's two fists, the rest still smaller but are all solid and perfect.

Interesting Incident.

An interesting incident has occurred in Washington city—the baptism of the child of J. H. Heath, Esq., an officer in one of the Departments. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. G. Caruthers, and the water employed on the occasion was taken from the River Jordan by Lieut. Rainbow, and thence taken to Jerusalem and consecrated on the Holy Sepulchre.

☞At an impromptu meeting of the Republicans in front of the Tribune office, in New York, on Wednesday, a motion was put and carried instructing Lincoln, in case of his election, to appoint Horace Greely Postmaster General.

A Ship Destroyed by Fire at Sea.

The fine steamboat Connaught, from Galway, Ireland, took fire when about 150 miles from Boston, on Sunday last. There were 591 souls on board, all of whom were saved! The passengers saved nothing but the clothes in which they stood.

☞A good time may be expected at Frizzlesburg to-morrow afternoon. The Bell men intend to raise a pole, and speeches will be made by Messrs. Webster, Christ and Smith. Let all attend who wish to spend a pleasant afternoon.

October.

October, beautiful and bright! we have watched not longingly, but lovingly for thy presence, and bless thee that thou art here!

Thou hast bound up fragments from the "rolling year;" bird's notes, that dancing Spring left behind her; a handful of roses not yet afraid to expand their delicate petals, with Summer's quivering sheen. Thou hast bearded wheat, and bending rye, golden corn and grasses innumerable,—valued souvenirs that nestle in the glory-wreath that binds thy gracious brow! The farmer's doubts and fears are banished, his bright hopes realized. Night tucks her curtain around earth sooner than of yore; we have tea earlier, and the little folks are allowed a precious hour all their own, in which their desires reign, and supper is settled with a game of "blind man's buff," "puss wants a corner," or "tagg," in the hall, while the dishes are cleared away in the kitchen, their clatter to be succeeded by the "whir" of the apple parer.

Startling Facts.

How any national man can view the encroachments of the Republican party without alarm is strange, indeed. All such may repeat a thousand times that the country will be safe under the rule of Lincolnism, but facts are made public every day that show the fallacy of relying upon expressions of a conservative kind that fall from the lips of a portion of the Republican orators.

A short time ago the Brownites of Massachusetts nominated for Governor a man named Andrews, who, during the Harper's Ferry excitement publicly defended the course of John Brown!

At the last session of the Legislature of New York the Republicans passed an amendment to the Constitution of the State to allow universal negrodom to vote in that State, and the people are to vote upon the question at the next election!

In Massachusetts, a negro, owning a certain amount of property, can vote after a residence of six months. A white man of foreign birth must remain in the State two years to vote!

Do not such acts show plainly the design of the Republican party?

All is NOT lost! Let not the despairing thought be uttered by Union lips. To be sure Indiana and Ohio and Pennsylvania have been foully betrayed into the hands of the Republicans by the Breckinridge Democracy; but Indiana and Pennsylvania at least may be redeemed in November, and will be, if the South but prove loyal to herself by trampling into the dust the betrayers of her rights and of the common peace, whilst, governed simply by the same condition, New York stands ready with her unaided arm to save all! Away then, Unionists, with the dark thought of despair. We have still a firm and bright hope of victory. Men of the South in this solemn crisis of our country, be true to yourselves, and in spite of demagogues at home and of traitors abroad, the North will not desert you. Let us henceforth in the brief hot strife that remains implore you in every possible form of entreaty to be true to yourselves.—Louisville Journal.

☞The friends of the Union electoral ticket in New York held a monster mass meeting in and about Cooper Institute, last week. Four meetings were organized, and speeches made outside as well as inside the hall. The report of the committee appointed at the union meeting held at the Cooper Institute on the 17th of September was adopted, and the names therein presented as electors were ratified. The proceedings were harmonious and enthusiastic, and at its conclusion the various Breckinridge, Bell and Douglas clubs, discarded all their respective party mottoes and devices, formed in line and had a magnificent torchlight procession. Both the Herald and Journal of Commerce estimate the number of persons present at 30,000, while the republican journals say about 15,000, but admit it to have been a very imposing demonstration on the part of the mercantile, manufacturing, mechanical and laboring interests.

☞It must long have been evident, even to the most superficial observer, that the great danger which threatens the country is not the slavery question, but the use of it which is made by scheming politicians for their own selfish purposes. The very diversity of institutions and interests in the United States constitutes a real idenity, and if permitted to work out its natural results, would harmonize the people of all sections and strengthen the common Union. But the real evil of the land is the demagogues, who ride every hobby that presents itself, in order that they may ride into power, perfectly reckless of the result to the country. The intense selfishness and corruption of the political aspirants of our country are the prolific fountain of all our woes, and are among the most ominous signs of the future.

The Issues Presented.

Hon. W. H. Seward, the very embodiment and soul of black republicanism, has recently been making an electioneering trip to Maine, where he made a number of speeches. In Boston, on his way, he had a very handsome reception, and addressed a large crowd from the balcony of the Revere House. His speech was extremely radical on the slavery question, enough to suit Garrison and Philips. He thus set forth the issues upon which the black republicans are fighting the present campaign:

1. That they have nominated Abraham Lincoln as their standard bearer, "confessing the obligations of the higher law."
2. That they are contending "for weal or woe, for life or death, in the irrepressible conflict between freedom and slavery."
3. That "we are now in the last stage of the conflict, before the great triumphal inauguration of this policy into the government of the United States!"
4. "With this victory, comes the end of slavery."

☞A letter from Lima says a tailor, who said in Court that he thought he could recognize the assassin of Gen. Castro, was waylaid in the street at night by four men, who told him, "We will not kill you, but we shall make you harmless." They then rubbed his eyes with vitriol, which completely blinded him. The unhappy man has received a pension from the President.

English Volunteers for Garibaldi.

Three detachments of "Excursionists" have started from Liverpool to join the fortunes of Garibaldi. They were in high spirits, and were greatly cheered, their bands playing "Will you remember me?"

The election in Charleston, S. C., resulted in the return of the Hon. William Porcher Miles to Congress, and in the choice of the entire State Rights ticket, included in which is R. Barnwell Rhett, Jr. The Mercury thus referred to the election:

TO DAY'S ELECTION.—We regard the present and near future as very critical to the civilization and institutions of the South. If Lincoln be elected in November, as seems highly probable, and none of the States of the South move to resist and withdraw from the domination of a hostile sectional majority, our condition will be dangerous and humiliating in the extreme. Property of every description must fall, and insecurity and alarm extend from Harper's Ferry to the borders of Texas. Nor can we perceive any overt act of aggression that would be potent enough to arouse the South from a speedy decline, to establish her safety and independence. At any rate, delay must require a compound and usurious interest of blood.—Therefore is it important to-day for the people of South Carolina to choose such a body of men as will see that, so far as they are empowered, the State receives no detriment from their incapacity or timidity.

Robert Breckinridge Warning John!

During the past winter, we all noticed the able and lengthy letter going the rounds, addressed to John C. Breckinridge by his uncle Robert J. Breckinridge, an able Presbyterian Minister.—He cautioned his nephew against the heresy and error of Disunion. At the time, we all wondered why the uncle should write the Nephew such a letter. It now turns out that he understood the young man better than any of us. He seems to have known that the young man could be used by a traitorous South, to "precipitate the Cotton States into a revolution," in order to establish a southern Confederacy!

Our Government on the Stump.

Old Buck opened the Presidential campaign with a regular stump speech in Washington in favor of Breckinridge. Secretary Cobb followed with speeches in Georgia. Attorney General Black seconded the motion in Pennsylvania. Breckinridge followed it up in Kentucky. The Government has mounted the rostrum—not with a view to enlighten the people, but to retain power, so as to keep the people in the dark, as to the stealing, extravagance and profligacy of the most corrupt party that ever held and abused power in this country.

American Catholics for Garibaldi.

The last number of Brownson's Review, in an article on the "Rights of the Temporal," joins in the aspiration for the "unity of Italy" and the success of the pending revolution, urging the Pope, for the good of his native country, to leave the ranks of temporal rulers. The Freeman's Journal has also spoken in the same tone; so that the leading Catholic weekly and the only Catholic quarterly of the country, seem to be virtually batting with Garibaldi against the head of the Catholic world.

Note the Difference.

"Humanity to the slave, not less than justice to the master, recommends the policy of extension and diffusion into any new Territory, adapted to his condition; and the reasons are too obvious to be misunderstood by the dullest intellect."—JOHN BELL, 1850.

"I am connected with no party that has for its object the extension of slavery. * * The Democratic party is not a pro-slavery party."—JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE, 1856.

Giving it Up.

Senator Slidell, the shrewdest and most sagacious of the Breckinridge leaders, has issued an address to his friends in Louisiana, in which he says: "Although many of our most sanguine friends still entertain hopes of Missouri and Kentucky, I fear they are doomed to disappointment."

Massachusetts.

The Hon. George T. Curtis and the Hon. C. B. Allen, two of the ablest and most prominent men in Massachusetts, have written letters to a distinguished Tennessean, in which they declare that the Bell and Everett party have good hopes of carrying the Bay State, founded on reasonable grounds.

The Dumb Candidate.

John C. Breckinridge has not yet answered those important questions put by Douglas, at Norfolk. Is a candidate who sings mum on matters of such transcendant moment worthy the suffarges of a frank and free people! As one of Mr. B's hearers at Ashland cried out, "Open your mouth wider, Major!"

Perilous Feat.

The top of a Lincoln pole, 205 feet high, in Henderson, Ill., having blown off, a man named Charles Clark climbed to the top, 180 feet, and spiked on a flag staff.

A Fellow Feeling.

A Mr. Wilson, who is a Lincoln elector in Indiana, made a speech at a Republican meeting in Jeffersonville, on Thursday night last. He urged strongly the election of Lincoln, and in reply to the question who was his second choice, he replied with emphasis that his second choice among the present candidates was John C. Breckinridge.

Gov. Letcher predicted that unless a fusion of the Douglas and Breckinridge forces was consummated in Virginia on the 5th that State would go for Bell. The attempt on the 5th to fuse was a failure. The State may therefore be set down as sure for Bell.

A man named Fagan, of Northampton county, Pa., has been found dead with his neck between two pickets of a fence, over which, it is supposed, he attempted to climb while in a state of intoxication.

Desirous to be Annexed.

The Jamaica papers are discussing the policy of annexing that colony to the United States as a remedy for the social and political evils under which it is suffering. The papers of the United States are discussing the policy of reducing this country to the condition which renders Jamaica desirous to be annexed to the United States.—Savannah News.

☞A great Douglas demonstration was held in New Orleans on Saturday evening last. The procession was estimated to be larger than that of the recent Clay statue inauguration.

☞During our visit to Lowell we were shown through the Laboratory of our celebrated countryman, DR. J. C. AYER. Scarcely could we have believed without proof what is seen there beyond disputing.

They make a barrel of solid Pills, about 15,000 doses, and three barrels of Cherry Pectoral, 120,000 doses, per diem. To what an inconceivable amount of human suffering does this point! 170,000 doses a day!! Fifty millions of doses per year!!! what acres and thousands of acres of sick beds does this spread before the imagination! And what sympathies and woe!—True, not all of this is taken by the very sick, but alas, much of it is. This Cherry Drop and this sugared Pill are to be the companion of pain and anguish and sinking sorrow—the inheritance our mother Eve bequeathed to the whole family of man.—Here the infant darling has been touched too early by the blight that withers half our race. Its little lungs are affected, and only watching and waiting shall tell which way its breath shall turn. This red drop on its table is the talisman on which its life shall hang. There the blossom of the world just bursting into womanhood is stricken also. Affection's most assiduous care avails not, she is still fading away.—The wan messenger comes nearer every week. This little medicament shall go there, their last, perhaps their only hope. The strong man has, planted in his vitals, this same disease. This red drop by his side is helping him wrestle with the inexorable enemy; the wife of his bosom and the cherubs of his heart are waiting in sick sorrow and fear lest the rod on which they lean, in this world, be broken.

O, Doctor! Spare no skill, nor cost, nor toil to give the perishing sick the best that human art can give.—Galveston, Texas, News.

☞AS EACH MONTH rolls around the demand for Lindsey's Blood Searcher increases, owing to the fact that a single trial at once removes the doubts of the most incredulous, and fully satisfies them that it is the only preparation now before the people that will in all cases do all that is claimed for it. The worst cases of Cancerous Formation, Scrofula, Erysipelas, and Tetter Affections give way to its potent influence. Thousands of persons who are now alive and well, must thank the discoverer of this preparation that they have not been swept away by the unseen hand of death. The best evidence of its real value is, that the best physicians in the land recommend it highly, and acknowledge the claims of the Blood Searcher upon the community.

Sold by all the Druggists in this county.

Reduced by Dyspepsia to a mere Skeleton.

CURED BY "BŒRHAVES' HOLLAND BITTERS."

Mr. A. Matchett, a trader probably as well known as any man in Western Pennsylvania, states as follows: "I met with a farmer in Armstrong county who was reduced by Dyspepsia to a mere skeleton.—I persuaded him to buy a bottle of Bœrhave's Holland Bitters, believing it would cure him. Meeting him some months after, what was my astonishment at finding him a hale, hearty man; he told me he now weighed 200 pounds, and that this wonderful change had been produced by Bœrhave's Holland Bitters, to which he attributed solely his restoration."

IT IS A COMMON OBSERVATION that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS." The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines.—But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who would not give it a trial?

To Consumptives.

☞THE Advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge,) with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a SURE CURE for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, &c. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

Parties wishing the prescription will please address REV. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings County, New York. oct. 5.

A Card to Young Ladies & Gentlemen.

The subscriber will send (FREE OF CHARGE) to all who desire it, the Recipe and directions for making a simple VEGETABLE BALM, that will, in two to eight days, remove Pimples, Blotches, TAN, FRECKLES, Sallowness, and all impurities and roughness of the Skin, leaving the same—as Nature intended it should be—SOFT, CLEAR, SMOOTH, and BEAUTIFUL. Those desiring the Recipe, with full instructions, directions, and advice, will please call on or address (with return postage,) JAS. T. MARSHALL, Practical Chemist, No. 32 City Buildings, New York. se7-3m

☞We would advise our readers who may be attracted to the city by the Cattle Show, Institute Exhibition, or business, not to neglect paying a visit to the extensive Furniture Establishment of A. MATHIOT & SON. They will find in their Fall Stock the grandest assortment of Household Furniture ever manufactured in any establishment in the country, consisting of Rosewood, Mahogany and Walnut Parlor, Chamber and Dining Room Furniture, together with a splendid assortment of plain, well made articles, suiting the most extravagant or economical tastes.—As the Messrs. Mathiot are always pleased to exhibit their stock, an invitation to call, if merely for the gratification of curiosity, is extended to all. FURNITURE WAREROOMS, Nos. 25 and 27 North Gay Street, near Fayette, Baltimore. o12,5t.

Going Under.

Breckinridge papers seem to be "going under" all over the country. They find that the support of the disunion ticket don't pay. The Southern Era, published at Opelika, Ala., has handed up its checks and retired from the field. The Dunkirk (N. Y.) Press and Argus goes out of existence, having been scared to death by the establishment of a Douglas paper in the town. The Brownsville (Texas) Flag has hauled down the Breckinridge ticket and leaves the cause to take care of itself.—So they go.

The Pope and Garibaldi.

The steamer Arabia, from Liverpool on the 6th, brings intelligence that it was reported from Naples that Garibaldi had obtained a victory along the whole line of the royalists, and also repulsed a body of them from Caserta, (17 miles northeast of Naples,) and had taken two thousand prisoners. This, however, lacks confirmation.

A Naples dispatch of the 2d states that the royal troops had been repulsed from Caserta, and surrendered, and that the Garibaldians had made two thousand of them prisoners.

It is reported that Garibaldi has invited Victor Emanuel to Naples to assume the government, and stating that he would retire to his home.

The Pope has issued an allocution condemning and protesting against the sacreligious attack of the King and government of Piedmont on his dominions, and calls on the Catholic powers for assistance. He deprecates the policy of non-intervention, expressing his conviction that the Catholic Princes would come to his assistance.

It is reported that the Emperor Napoleon replied to the Pope, sustaining the policy of non-intervention.

The Patriot Candidates.

The Alexandria Gazette says:

"Let the issue of the present contest be what it may, we are quite sure of one thing—and that is but a short time will elapse before most of those who have been busy in maligning and traducing Mr. Bell and Mr. Everett will be heartily sorry that partisan prejudice and party feelings ever induced them to do injustice to these distinguished statesmen and patriots. In or out of power, they will gradually descend to the grave, accompanied by the admiration and respect of their country. Men will hereafter regret that any party, or any portion of a party, should have ever attempted to blur the fame of two of the most conservative, most excellent, most deserving, and most worthy citizens of the republic. Those who, at this day, represent in an odious light the characters of Bell and Everett, will, in all probability, after a few short years shall have rolled around, find it necessary to excuse and palliate the course they at present pursue."

☞Another abolitionist has been detected in Charleston, S. C. A man named J. O. Battie, hailing from Maryland, was suspected by the Charleston authorities. A detective was set to watch him. The officer resorted to the lowest artifice to accomplish his purpose. He made Battie believe that he too was an abolitionist, thereby inducing the unsuspecting man to confess his sentiments, after which the detective turned around and arrested him.

☞It is a sign of the times that the members of the royal family of England can travel where they please, and that at the present moment so many of them should be pursuing their journeys.—Thus, the Queen is in Germany, the Prince of Wales in the United States, and Prince Albert at the Cape of Good Hope.

"Ion," the intelligent Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, writing on the 15th, says New York is not yet surrendered to Lincoln. There is to be a contest, at any rate, and a very close one. The business men of the city, governed by the interests of trade, as well as of patriotism, have determined to make a great effort for the defeat of Lincoln. They are to supply the sinews of war, without stint, for that purpose. It is resolved, as I learn, to raise a fund of a million of dollars to secure the election of the Cooper Institute electoral ticket, the only conservative electoral ticket now in the field. The subscription to this fund was commenced on Saturday, and a considerable portion of it was raised at once, and without calling upon many of the merchants.

☞A despatch from Washington states that information has been received from Mexico to the effect that the Government of Great Britian contemplates an entire withdrawal of diplomatic relations with Miramon; and it is asserted that the Spanish Minister at the Mexican capital has received the most urgent advice from the authorities at Havana to treat the Liberal Government with the greatest respect. It has already been announced that another proposition on the part of the British Government to mediate for the restoration of peace has been rejected by the Liberals. All these facts seem to indicate that the position of the Juarez Government is becoming stronger, and that the struggle now in progress for the supremacy will soon be decided in its favor.

Political Complexion of Congress.

The United States Senate, which assembles in December and closes on the 4th of March, consists of 36 national or administration democrats, 27 republicans and 2 Douglas democrats, and with one vacancy from Oregon. The new Senate will also consist of a majority of national democrats with a strong probability that in the House they will also have the controlling power for the next two years. The House which meets in December and adjourns on the 4th of March contains an anti-democratic majority.

☞Col. Hugh Forbes, whose name figured extensively in the papers during the John Brown excitement, and whose letters, has been in the employ of Garibaldi as commander of Mezzana, in Sicily, is said to be out of office once more. He was found to be incompetent and impracticable, a disturber of the peace, and an oppressor of the officers under him, therefore, he has been superseded, and now goes about Sicily denouncing Garibaldi and Victor Emmanuel.

☞"Occasional," speaking of Mr. Buchanan's appearance in the columns of the New York Ledger, says that the President has repeatedly intimated his determination to write a memoir of his own time, after he retires to private life. It is not his intention to print it during his life time. He is a man of singular order, and has preserved a vast mass of MSS., which, if he should put into shape for publication, would, no doubt, be a rare bonne bouche for the political and the general reader.

☞Mr. Frederick Augustus Davies, whose extraordinary forgeries upon the Bank of England will be remembered, has been sentenced to six years' penal servitude. The learned Judge said it was no mitigation of the offence that the prisoner intended to have taken up the forged bills.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

JOURNAL OF THE AMERICAN PATENT COMPANY, a new work, to be published on the 1st and 15th of each month at Cincinnati, Ohio, at $1 per annum. It will be devoted to the industrial interest of the great and growing West, and will afford to the Inventor, the Artisan, and the Farmer, a convenient and faithful chronicle of the world's progress in scientific research and practical discovery. Subscriptions recived at this Office.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for November is chaste in style, beautiful in sentiment, noble in thought, and is well calculated to call out all the ennobling virtues of the human heart. It contains a heavy list of excellent articles, and sixty-five engravings in all. Of Godey, it is true, that

No cottage is furnished, no palace complete,
Unless there the ladies the Lady's Book meet;
No bride of discernment looks placidly on
The home that contains not the sine qua non.

We will furnish to any person the Sentinel and Book, one year, for $3 in advance. See Prospectus. We have already opened our club list for the new volume commencing in January, and want to send GODEY twenty new names at $1 each. Come now, all you gentlemen of refined taste who wish to please your wives, daughters and children—and young gentlemen who desire to make a useful and a treasured present to the star of your hopes, and give us your names. It will only cost you a dollar, which could not be better expended.

THE PHILADELPHIA WEEKLY UNION is a lively, spicy, family newspaper, published at $1 a year. Send for a specimen copy and be convinced.

The State Elections.

From additional returns received from the elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, there appears to be no doubt that the Republicans have a majority in each of the three States. They claim about 20,000, majority in each of the States of Pennsylvania and Ohio, and 5,000 to 10,000 in Indiana. The Democrats have probaly gained four members of Congress in Ohio, and one or two in Pennsylvania. The Indiana delegation appears to stand as before. The Republican majority in Pennsylvania a year ago was 17,290 on one candidate, and 18,312 on another. In Ohio the Republican majority for Governor a year ago was 13,236. In Indiana two years ago there was a Democratic maj. of 2,581. The new Legislature of Pennsylvania is overwhelmingly Republican. The Senate appears to stand 24 to 9; the House about 65 to 35, or perhaps 70 to 30.

☞The Keystone State has just given a tremendous vote for a Republican Gubernatorial candidate. What of it? We have always counted the State sure for Lincoln. Ohio has proved that she will cast her vote the same way next month; but we have expected nothing better of her. It will do Mr. Lincoln no good if he loses New York, where the fusion of his enemies is cordial and complete. Four years ago New York gave a majority of over forty-four thousand against Fremont, who had the largest vote of the three candidates. In 1858 the combined Republican and Abolition vote at the Governor's election was nearly forty thousand below the Democratic and American, though the Republican nominee had a plurality. So if anything can be proved by reference to the past, it is demonstrated that Mr. Lincoln is to retire to the shades of private life, if New York is necessary to his election.

Let us gird on our harness and go at the work before us with a will. The friends of Union, of the Constitution and the Laws, are in the majority, and can give the vote of Maryland to John Bell, if they will do their duty.

Holloway's Pills.

Fever and Ague.—The preparations of Quinine and Calomel prescribed by the faculty for this disease, are more destructive in their ravages on the human body than the complaint itself, verifying the old adage—"a remedy worse than the disease"—Holloway's Pills possess no mineral poison, and are more speedy and efficacious in promoting a permanent cure. Sold by all druggists, at 25c., 62c., and $1 per box.

☞The Comptroller of New York city gives $550,078,778 as the valuation of taxable property, upon which a tax of $2,108,635 32 is to be levied.

Mayor's Election in Baltimore.

The election for Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, on Wednesday week, resulted in the complete triumph of the Reform party. Geo. Wm. Brown, the candidate of that party for Mayor, has a majority of 7,991 votes over Saml. Hindes, the candidate of the opposition. The same party has also carried every ward, for both branches of the City Council.

Mr. Brown, the Mayor elect, is a strong friend of Bell and Everett, and no one will say that our National affairs do not need considerable reform, and if Mayor Brown can only influence the people of Baltimore to carry out reform principles in all branches of our government, we shall look upon him as even a greater man than his most ardent friends and admirers have claimed for him.

Appeal for the Washington Monument.

Mrs. King, President of the Ladies' Washington National Monument Society, has published an appeal for contributions on election day in aid of the Monument enterprise. She suggests that boxes be provided at all the polls, and that each voter deposits his mite therein. On the day after the election, the persons so receiving the amounts contributed are requested to transmit the same by draft, or in postage stamps, to Mrs. Anna M. Cosby, Secretary of the Society at Washington, who will acknowledge the receipt.

The Danisteo Valley Journal, hitherto a Republican and Lincoln sheet, published at Hornellsville, Steuben county, New Jersey, has "tacked ship" and come out for the Union ticket.

We learn from the New Orleans Bulletin that the Louisiana Staats Zeitung, (State Gazette,) of that city, an old and influential journal, published exclusively in the German language, has raised the Bell and Everett flag, and entered with spirit into the canvass. This is another of those cheering signs of the times which give us hope for the country yet.

☞A nice little home property belonging to LEVI HAIFLEY, situated in Frizzellsburg, improved, and containing 11 acres, was sold a few days ago to JOHN RINEHART, for $1,500.

☞The Breckinridge fizzle on Saturday ended in a free fight—after which, all hands watered and made friends, more firm and fast than before the row.

☞A small tract of land adjoining the town of Hampstead, was sold by Jno. E. Smith, Trustee, on Saturday last, to Dr. Drach, for $37 50 per acre.

☞Our Baltimore exchanges are a unit in the expression of the sentiment that the municipal election of last week was not a party victory.

☞It is stated that there is a grand emancipation scheme now in embryo in Western Virginia, which will develop itself in the course of the coming winter. The movement is to have for its leader "a distinguished gentleman from Eastern Virginia, not regarded as particularly sound upon the slavery question for many years past."
