LOCAL MATTERS

Athletic Meet.—The parade and field meet of the public schools of the county was held yesterday. The pupils of Rock Hall and vacinity were unavoidably prevented from attending. The field sports were held on Washington College athletic field and were not finished at the hour of going to press. We shall give a full list of the contestants, winners and officials next week.

School Board Reorganized.—The Board of County School Commissioners organized on Tuesday. Mr. C. Romie Skirven, the new member, succeeds Mr. John N. Bennett. The Board is now Democratic. Mr. John P. Ahern was elected president, Mr. Skirven vice-president, and Prof. J. L. Smyth was elected county school superintendent. The board now consists of two Democrats, Messrs. Ahern and Skirven, and one Republican, Mr. John D. Urie.

Another Chestertown Boy Makes Good.—Mr. William Stafford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Stafford, of this town, who for sometime past has been employed with the Du Pont Powder Company, of Wilmington, has made so good in his employment that the company has sent him to Seattle, Washington, to be the foreman of one of their plants at a salary of $9 per day. Mr. Stafford's brother, Mr. Neavitt Stafford, will accompany his brother, and also receive a fine appointment. This is but another illustration of what a Chestertown boy can do when he tries.

Fine Farms For Sale.—William McKenney, William L. Holton, Clayton Wright, Thomas J. Keating and J. Frank Harper, trustees, will sell nearly three thousand acres of land, consisting of four farms belonging to the estate of the late Gen. William McKenney, in Queen Annes and Talbot counties, during the month of May. The first one sold will be the Hackers or Davis Farm, situate in Talbot county, with a mile of water front on Wye River. It will be offered in three tracts. This farm contains nine hundred and fifty-nine acres and is located on the State Road near Wye Mills. The sale will take place at Easton on Tuesday, May 23rd. 1916. See another column for particulars.

Decoration Day Plans.—The management of the Kent and Queen Annes Driving Association is not only arranging for a fine matinee at Radcliffe Park on Decoration Day, Tuesday, May 30th, but it is arranging to have a big automobile parade and demonstration in Chestertown at the same time. Four prizes in gold will be offered for the best decorated auto from either Kent or Queen Annes. First prize is $20; second, $10; third, $5, and fourth, $2½. A committee has been appointed to arrange all details of the parade, and competent judges will be on hand to determine the winners. Everybody is invited to participate in this parade, and surely the inducements are sufficient. Fuller particulars will be given later.

A Fine Lecture.—Rev. Dr. John G. Bacchus, one of the most prominent Protestant Episcopal clergymen in Brooklyn, N. Y., who with his son-in-law, are guests of his brother, Mr. Jefferson D. Bacchus, gave a most delightful lecture in the rest room of the Hotel Imperial, under the auspices of the Woman's Federated Club, on Thursday evening. Dr. Bacchus' lecture was purely of an impromptu character, but was so full of fine rhetoric and splendid thought that we wish everyone in Chestertown could have heard it. Dr. Bacchus has a high ideal of woman, and his lecture portrayed this exalted ideal in a most forceful manner. It would be a most happy thing if Dr. Bacchus could be secured for a public lecture sometime in the near future.

¶The college commencement exercises will be held this year in the gymnasium.

¶The 49th annual meeting of the State Teachers' Association will be held in Ocean City, Md., June 27 to 30. The address of welcome will be delivered by Senator John Walter Smith. Gov. Harrington will deliver an address.

¶Those who travel the Quaker Neck road will note great improvement in the property along the drive. Hedges have been cleared away, the marsh has been cleaned, and the appearance is altogether a decided improvement to that pretty drive.

¶One of our well-known asparagus growers received his returns from his commission merchant last week for a shipment of the grass. He received 75 CENTS a bunch for it. That is the highest price reached in this section so far as known.

¶Mr. Charles W. Kibler, the hustling grain buyer, has purchased a fine little Saxon runabout. The Saxon is one of the best cars on the market for the price, and Mr. Charles W. Kibler, Jr., the local representative, can explain all of its fine points.

¶The new home on the corner of Front and High street being built by Contractor C. W. Price, of Baltimore, for Mrs. Joseph A. Wickes, is nearly completed. It is a great improvement to that section of the town. It will be occupied by Prof. and Mrs. Mark Creasy.

¶In the Tom Thumb Wedding little Miss Henrietta Newnam will be the bride, Master Clifton Slaughter the groom, and Master Calvin Copper will tie the knot. There will be bridesmaids, maids of honor and other attendants, all in fancy costumes. Get your tickets now. There's going to be a crowd.

¶The handsome water dog belonging to Mr. Thos. H. Skipper and the one belonging to Mr. George Chaires were run over by autos and killed last week. Wonder why there are so many accidents on the Queen Annes State road. Is there no inspector over there to arrest the speed fiends. Something should be done to prevent so many accidents happening over there.

¶Rev. A. Parkes Cadman, D. D., the noted Brooklyn divine, will lecture in the Lyceum Theatre on Monday evening May 22, at 8 o'clock. The subject of his lecture will be "The Puritan in Two Worlds." The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Young Men's Club of Christ M. P. Church. Don't miss such a treat as this.

¶A mare belonging to Mr. J. E. Ferguson, of Quaker Neck, while attempting to cross the creek that separates Mr. Ferguson's farm from the one of Mr. D. W. Ingersoll, stuck in the mud, and when Mr. Ferguson found her the tide had covered the animal, only her head being barely above the water. The next morning the mare dropped a fine colt, and both are doing fine.

¶Sheriff Hadaway and Deputy Perkins have in their custody two little colored children who have been the victims of brutal treatment by their parents who live in Butlertown. The children bear marks of a severe beating, one of which is a gash in the head. The children would be tied hand and foot and mercilessly beaten for the slightest offence. They will be placed in a home. What a pity there is not a whipping post law in Kent county.

¶It is announced by Henry E. Warner, Director of the Tour, and Reuben Brigham, Assistant State Agent in Charge of Boys' Club Work, that their preliminary trip over the route of The Home State Tour for Maryland Corn and Potato Club Boys, under the auspices of The Baltimore Sun, will be made during the third and fourth weeks of June, instead of the second and third weeks of May, in order to complete the details in connection with the local meetings.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Jackson, of Have de Grace, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ester O'Neill Jackson, to Dr. John Gorden Smith, of Florida. The wedding will take place in June. The bride elect is a niece of Mrs. H. Benge Simmons of this town.

Mr. Harvey Wood, who is in the United States Navy, serving on the ship Florida, spent several days of this week with relatives and friends here. Harvey is gradually rising to the top in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Hope H. Barroll attended the funeral on Wednesday of Mr. H. Irvine Keyser, who died at his home in the Green Spring valley on Sunday night. Funeral services were held from Grace and St. Peters P. E. Church. Baltimore.

Mr. William Wright and wife, of Baltimore, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Wroth, a part of the week.

Miss Carrie Hughes, of New York, is visiting Mrs. Annie H. Stam.

Mrs. Robert McNutt, of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mrs. George M. Parkes, of Baltimore are visiting their aunt, Mrs. S. A. Copper. It is the first time Mrs. Copper has had the pleasure of seeing her niece, Mrs. McNutt.

Election in Rock Hall.

A spirited contest for the election of five members of the town council of Rock Hall took place last Saturday. Two tickets were in the field, and the result was as follows:

TAX-PAYERS TICKET.

J. T. Taylor	37
J. R. Lewis	40
Frank H. Mariner	36
Millard Glenn	37
John W. Downey	36

OPPOSING TICKET.

Wm. P. Durding	24
Geo. P. Ashley	25
John R. Dowling, Jr	24
John J. Scoone	17
Herbert A. Urie	24

The report that the opposing ticket was being backed by the Driving Association is an error, as this association had nothing to do with its makeup. The association was not supporting nor opposing either ticket.
