LOCAL MATTERS

Miss Richmond to be Retained.—The State Board of Education, at a meeting Thursday of last week, decided to retain Miss Sarah E. Richmond as principal of the State Normal School for another year. The board at an early date will elect a treasurer and superintendent of school buildings, who will relieve Miss Richmond of her most burdensome duties, thus permitting her to devote all of her time to the curriculum.

Guaranto s Meeting.—An important meeting of Chautauqua guarantors will be held at the Kent County Savings Bank next Wednesday evening, July 28, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Katherine L. Heyser, representing the Chautauqua association, will be present, and will have some interesting things to say about "The Best-Yet Program," and progress elsewhere over the circuit, with practical suggestions for this season's campaign All guarantors should be present.

Interesting Relics.—Mr. Harry Nicols is remodeling the residence on his Thomas farm preparatory to moving there January 1. Mr. Nicols brought to the TRANSCRIPT office on Monday morning five hand-made nails taken from the house which was built in 1747. Every nail in the house, even the numerous lath nails, was made by hand, and is 169 years old. The lumber in the house is of the best material, and even to-day can be used to advantage.

37,000 Autos in Maryland.—Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Baughman has announced that the number of automobiles that have registered so far this year exceeds the number registered in the whole of last year by more than 5,000. The number of motorcycles has also increased by about 500. It is probable that the number of cars used in 1917 may exceed this year's supply by 50 per cent. The present number is 37,000.

A Fine Showing.—We desire to call the attention of our readers to the condenced report of the Third National Bank of Chestertown, which will be found on the first page of this issue. The report is a most gratifying one for the ante threshing and tomato season, showing total resources amounting to $895,181.93. The deposits of the bank have increased $93,813.94 in one year, and $191,629.73 in the past two years. The surplus and undivided profits amount to $47,064.75, within $2,000 of the capitalization, and largely because it is the only National Bank in the county, safeguarded by the National Government and treating everybody alike. The Third National Bank uses the TRANSCRIPT exclusively as its advertising medium, which accounts in a large measure for its financial success. The paper circulates where the money is, and the money owners see the bank adv. in the paper. Thats what tells.

Assessors Appointed.

Kilbourn; Seventh District, Walter S. Field; Chestertown, William H. McKee; Millington, James E. Moore, Jr.; Galena, Wm. Steele; Betterton, Alexander Mair; Still Pond, J. Taylor Baxter; Rock Hall, William Camp.

BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST

240 people enjoyed the M. P. picnic to Queenstown to Wednesday.

A fisherman in the Northeast river caught two tons of fine rockfish in his nets one day last week.

A fisherman remarked the other day that it is too wet to haul seine. That is almost the real truth.

Mr. Joseph Lewis has invented a very ingenious fly trap, which does the work to perfection Mr. Lewis should get a patent.

It rained on St. Swithen's Day, and skeptic ones are watching to see if it rains every day, as the old adage says it will do.

It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Hudson, who have been living on the W. M. Clendaniel home farm will oversee the Jarrell Dodd farm, near town next year.

Mr. Harry Willis, of Betterton, has purchased of the Kent County Land Company the Shallcross farm of 167 acres on the Sassafras river. It will be tenanted by Mr. Willis' son.

Mr. H. N. Baldwin, proprietor of the Chestertown Cannery is making extensive repairs to the plant, and when the season opens it will be one of the most up-to-date canneries on the shore.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture warns the farmers of the country that the army worm may make its appearance about the last of this month or August 1. There is an unusual abundance of the moth of this destructive pest.

The quarterly meeting of the Pomona Grange was held in Still Pond, on Thursday. The meeting was held in the lecture room of the M. E. Church, and was a successful and enjoyable occasion. The Queen Anne's Pomona Grange will be held in Church Hill, on August 16.

The street signs for the free delivery of mail have been shipped from the factory, and the work of putting them in place, and numbering the houses will begin as soon as they arrive, about August 1. Postmaster Bowers hopes to have free delivery in operation by October 1.

Mr. Robert J. McWhorter has traded his fine Pacer, Pony Boy, 2.17¼ to Mr. Pat Dougherty, of Virginia for a speedy pasing mare with no mark, six years old, which Mr. Dougherty now has in his fine stable at Radcliffe Park. Pony Boy is entered in the races at Radcliffe Park next week.

Next week is Fair week. There will be something doing every day that will be worth seeing. Make your arrangements to visit the Fair and see the big cattle and farm exhibits. Mr. J. E. Kirby, of Baltimore, will have charge of the amusements, and it is to be hoped that there will not be a catchpenny or gambling concern allowed on the grounds.

We hear that one farmer in Quaker Neck section thresher 300 bushels of wheat from 55 acres. Another brought 25 or 30 heads to the store of Graham & Thomas this week and scarcely a grain of wheat could be found in the bunch. These corditions indicate a poor yield of wheat in Kent this year. It has also been so wet that instead of cultivating, some of our farmers have been compelled to use hand sickles in their corn fields to prevent weeds from choaking the growing corn.

Here are some of the changes among tenants: Mr. James Nickerson will likely rent the Aug. Money farm, next year, and Mr. Money will take the Wilmer Ford farm. The Lamb Bros., of near Tolchester, will tenant the Wilmer-Nickerson farm, near town. Mr. Albert Dickerson will tenant Col. Vannort's Broad Neck farm, on which Mr Ben Williams lives. Mr. Hicks Loller will tenant the George Brice farm Mr. Kendall will succeed Mr. Coleman, who goes on the Nichols-Vickers farm. Col. Wm. J. Vannort has rented his Butlertown farm to Mr. Samuel Willison.

All roads will lead to Radcliffe Park next week. The racing promises to be the finest ever held at the fair, and the exhibits of fine cattle and farm implements will be the finest ever seen. Gov. Harrington will be present on Wednesday. Tuesday is children's day.

While at the Kent and Queen Anne's Fair make it a point to see the Briscoe automobile at their exhibit tent. This car is manufactured by a $6,000,000 company making every part of it—the third largest automobile plant in this country. Time payment may be had if desired. See adv. elsewhere in this issue.

Prof. R. H. Ruffner, in charge of the animal husbandry department at the Md. State college, will speak at the fair grounds on stock raising July 28.

Roy Barnett was seized with cramps while in swimming at Queenstown on Wednesday and was probably saved from drowning by Arthur Coleman, a boy scout, who went to his rescue.

The rain on Saturday was the heaviest seen in this county in years. In Broad Neck and Quaker Neck sections the downpour amounted to a cloudburst, and in places the water in the main roads was hub deep, and yet, at Mr. Lewin U. Skirven's place, near town, there was scarcely any rain. Growing crops are said to be injured, and if it does not soon get dry enough to cultivate, the tomato and corn crops will be choked out with mud.
