DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President:
WOODROW WILSON.

For Vice-President:
THOMAS R. MARSHALL.

For United States Senator:
HON. DAVID J. LEWIS, of Allegany County.

For Congressman from First District:
HON. JESSE H. PRICE, of Wicomico County.

WE'LL win for Wilson.

FORMER JUDGE James Alfred Pearce is contributing a series of articles to the Sun on the need of a Budget System.

PRESIDENT WILSON will address the Baltimore Grain Dealers' Association the latter part of September. As usual it will be an intellectual treat.

THE Prohibition party of the First Congressional District met in convention in Easton on Tuesday and nominated Mr. James T. Anthony, of Queen Annes for Congress by Aclamation.

BY THE passage of the eigh-hour law by Congress at the suggestion of President Wilson, the threatened railroad strike has been settled. The New York Herald, one of the strongest supporters of Mr. Hughes in the country, declares that the credit for the settlement of the strike is absolutely due to the influence of President Wilson.

IN THEIR desperate efforts to find an issue in this campaign the opponents of Davy Lewis are endeavoring to take from him the credit of the authorship of the Parcel Post Law. Suppose he was not the author of the bill, who did more for its passage than did Mr. Lewis, and who has been its chief sponsor since its passage?

PRESIDENT WILSON'S peaceful settlement of the threatened railroad strike and his wonderful speech of acceptance at Shaddow Lawn last Saturday have spiked the guns of the Republicans. If Mr. Hughes dares to say again that Mr. Wilson is weak and vacillating, he will become a laughing stock in the eyes of the American people.

DR. GREEN, in discussing the Mexican situation in his masterly Chautauqua lecture on Wednesday evening, said: "Mexico, with its mountains of silver and its hills of gold, Mexico, with all of its great resources, Mexico, from the Rio Grande to the sea, is not worth one Maryland boy," and "especially," he said, "if that boy is your boy." Dr. Green riddled the false cry of "preparedness," and said that it is a lot of noise about nothing.

A noble life has passed to its reward by the death of this good woman. Her life was one of self-sacrificing devotion to the interests and welfare of family and friends, and it may truly be said of her that she was a servant for the sick, a friend to the needy, and a christian who displayed the noblest and highest ideals of her religion in her devotion to and love for humanity. BEING a native of Kent county, Maryland, I naturally feel an interest in the Kent county boys and girls. It affords me pleasure to recommend to these boys and girls the Beacom Business Colleges of Wilmington. This school does more for its students and graduates than any other school that I know of. Its courses are thorough, practical, and conducted by men who appreciate the high responsibilities resting with such schools. I attribute my success in a large degree to the opportunities the training received at the B. B. C. afforded me.
