Twinkle March Sold.—Mr. Holt Woodall, of Galena, has sold his fast gray pacer, Twinkle March to Mr. Wm. L. Bull, of Melfa, Va. The sale was consummated in Wilmington, Del., last week, and the price is said to have been $600. Twinkle March is one of the speediest pacers ever raised in this county, and is six years old.

To Build New Road.—The contract for building 2.13 miles of State road from Chestertown towards Fairlee has been awarded by the State Roads Commission to W. B. Shafer Company of New York for $25,775.20. The road is to be of concrete and will extend from Radcliffe Mills bridge to the State road at Aldridge's gate. Work will begin shortly.

Sells His Fine Colt.—Mr. Robert J. McWhorter sold this week to Mr. Jacob Simmons, of Philadelphia, his finely bred and promising three year old colt, Main Fern, by Main Street. The price is said to have been $500. Main Fern has been raced on the Maryland Virginia circuit during the season and has not been behind the money once. He is a fine gaited trotter, and will be a 2.10 trotter before very long.

The County Commissioners Sued.—Mr. John Gale Usilton has brought suit against the County Commissioners to recover for work done on the public roads of Kent county under Mr. Isaac Gibbs, Jr. This is one of the bills which the present board of commissioners refused to pay because Mr. Gibbs had no money to his credit as engineer out of which to pay the bill, he having used all the appropriation allowed for the roads before this and other bills were presented. The law specifically states that the road engineer shall not spend any more money on the roads during the fiscal year than has been approated by the commissioners, unless the engineer secures the written consent of the commissioners to do so. This is, we presome, a test case as there are a number of other similar bills.

—An unusual piece of stealing occurred Wednesday night when Henry Harvey, colored, alias James Holly, who is employed as cook on a tomato boat that plies the river, visited the yard of Dr. Charles R. Twilley and cleared the line of table linen, cloths, etc. Justice Rogers held him for court.

Appointed Juvenile Judge.

It is both a compliment to him and a display of wisdome on the part of his associates that Judge William H. Adkins should be chosen juvenile court justice for this district. In the disposal of criminal cases, espicially those in which the defendants were young and unconfirmed offenders, Judge Adkins has always, while dealing impartially and staying strictly within the limits of the law, managed to "temper justice with mercy." That he should so view the administration of the criminal law is characteristic of one who has himself lived a high-minded, sincere, and kindly gentle man. It is therefore particularly fitting that his associates should choose him to preside over the newly established juvenile court of this district, to an office which demands for its full efficacy a man of broad humanitarian principles, who knows how to exercise these principles to the helpfulness of that pitiable element of every community, the criminal youth. It is constructive work that should be uninfluenced by the punitive motive which sometimes lurks behind the administration of the criminal law, when adults are defendants. Had we to choose from the whole State of Maryland a man for this position of juvenile judge, our choice should fall on Judge Adkins.

—Master Pryor Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Armstrong, caught a runaway horse belonging to Mr. William Clough, of Queen Annes, Thursday. Mr. Clough went into Davis & Satterfield's and left his horse unhitched. The horse became frightened and went on a run up Cross street toward High. Pryor, who is a Boy Scout, and who has been around horses considerably, ran in front of the horse and threw up his hands. The horse shied and slowed up and the boy seized its bridle and held it.

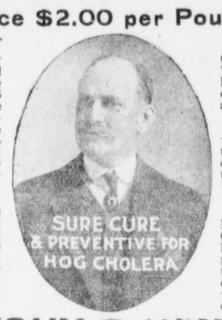
HOG CHOLERA CURE.

Price $2.00 per Pound.

Mr. Wm. Cooper, Jr., near Worton Station, came to me on Friday, Feb. 4, 1916, and purchased 1 lb Cholera Remedy. When he returned home, two of his 15 hogs were dead and four were down with the disease. He telephoned me Sunday that all were getting better, and wanted another package by mail. He called Tuesday and said all were better and eating. He did not lose any after giving the remedy.

Mr. Thos. Smith, Queen Annes county, near Chestertown, had 22 large shoats. Six were sick and refused food. Used 2 pounds of remedy, cured all but one. All are well and two left over for another year. I advise keeping Hog Cholera Cure on hand. Sure preventative and cure.



Mr. George Hatcherson, near Chestertown, had forty hogs. They all died but eight. When he began giving it to the jowelers, four were down. All are up and well now.

Mr. Frank Skirven, a few miles from Chestertown, says he had twenty hogs, lost ten. I heard of your remedy and tried it on the other ten. Lost one and the rest are all right.

I sent John Comegys of Black's Station, this county, Hog Cholera Cure free of charge and he came in and insisted upon paying for it, as he said it was the best he ever tried, and farmers should know about it, as hogs were the most profitable thing on the farm.
