Fall Goods Are Here

NEW MILLINERY

Come and see our new Hats. The display, we feel sure, will delight you and the reasonable prices will please you. Remember, the first shoppers have the largest assortment to select from.

NEW SHOES

The prices of first-class shoes is the great problem this season. We have not sacrificed the quality in our shoes to make popular prices, but we do say that we prepared ourselves for this situation and are in a position to offer excellent shoes at only a slight increase of price. In fact, the shoes we had already in stock (up-to-date styles, too,) will be sold at original prices.

Prices $1.50 to $7.50 Pair.

NEW DRESS GOODS

We claim to have the largest stock of Fine Dress Goods in the county. Come and see for yourself.

H. F. JEFFERSON & BRO.,

THE LADIES' STORE,

CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND.

KENT COUNTY MILK PRODUCERS TO ORGANIZE.

Present Conditions Justify Higher Prices for Milk.

Since the milk stations were established here, the dairying industry has rapidly grown. There are now several thousand dairy cows in Kent county. But the milk industry is conducted without profit. Think of "a $200,000 industry conducted in the county without profit!"

We know that some of our milk producers tell us that they are clearing $5.00 to $10.00 profit per cow each month. That they are very well satisfied now. But, if they should consider the cost of feed and all the overhead charges, interest on investment, rent of pasture land, and 15c an hour for time and labor, they would in many cases find that they were not only making no profit, but were getting only 2c to 3c an hour for their work.

On the other hand, the dealers who handle their milk start on a small scale rapidly enlarge their plants, and in a few years are rated as millionaires.

The only possible way for farmers to improve their condition and derive a fair profit for their work, is by organization and cooperation. But we must bear in mind that the farmers of one community can do very little by themselves. They must cooperate with each other and with other communities.

A very important meeting will be held at West Chester, Pa., Oct. 7. In addition to addresses by prominent speakers, they expect representatives from at least six different county organizations, and will adopt plans for an organization which will anticipate the uniting of all counties that supply milk to the city of Philadelphia.

At meetings already held in Kennedyville it was voted to form an organization. Kent county will be represented at the West Chester meeting, and the following Saturday, Oct. 14, there will be a meeting at Kennedyville. At this meeting we shall adopt plans for a county organization, and also plans for affiliating with the Inter-State Milk Producers' Association to be formed at West Chester.

Every man who keeps a dairy cow should plan to attend this meeting and bring his neighbors with him.
