Rock Hall Items.

We are glad to report to the many readers of the TRANSCRIPT that the prospects of this oyster season are the best or better from a remunerative view point than any for a number of years past, and we have no doubt that if conditions continue to improve as they have for the past few weeks many of those who have left temporarily will be glad to get back to old Rock Hall as fast as steam or motor can bring them. While the pay at the different munition plants and large manufacturing centers of so much per hour appears at first dazzling, the uncertain and more expensive way of living makes the final results look slim alongside of the hearty healthy, well fed oysterman when he goes home with a five spot, as his day's reward.

In political circle here, the slogan of let well enough alone, takes precedent over everything else, for many of us are certain that had there not been a powerful hand at the helm of the ship of state, that a number of us today would have been actors in the theater of war now starving the other continent. The executive committee of the Wilson Marshall, Lewis and Price club here are very active and are anticipating a good crowd at the mass meeting to be held this Friday night at Mechanics Hall.

We are sorry to report Capt. Jos. B. Downey and Messrs. B. Frank Legg and Medford Taylor on the sick list, each of whom have been reported as dangerously ill during the last week, but at this writing are resting well and somewhat improved.

The festival held by the lady patrons of our public school was well attended and quite a tidy sum realized.

Last Tuesday (Holloween) night the streets were thronged with young folks in various costumes. It was hard to tell boy from girl in some instances.
