Entered at the Postoffice at Chestertown, Md as Second Class matter.

PRESIDENT WILSON, in his message to Congress, outlined a strong program for the short session, which began on Monday. The President received an ovation from the members of Congress when he appeared before the joint assembly to deliver his message.

THE court sitting in Easton this week acquitted Mrs. Marshall of the charge of criminal treatment of her stepdaughter, Grace Marshall. This case had assumed a nation-wide interest because of the publicity given to the harrowing disclosures of the girl's treatment.

PREPARATIONS are being made for the community Christmas tree exercises around the fountain in the square again this year. It is hoped that everyone in the town and county will make it a point to be present and take part in a celebration which should enliven the spirit of Christmas.

PROMINENT Democrats in Washington gave a big dinner to Hon. Wm. J. Bryan on Wednesday evening. The great Commoner was in his happiest humor and made a fine speech outlining a number of policies which he urged the Democrats to endorse in the next four years. Among them are national prohibition by federal amendment and another is woman suffrage. President Wilson sent a letter thanking Mr. Bryan for his activity and influence in the recent campaign and extending his best wishes.

HON. L. H. FISHER, secretary of the Fourth Civil Service District, was in conference with Postmaster Bowers and Mr. R. F. Elburn, secretary of the local Civil Service Examining Board, Wednesday relative to the establishment in Chestertown of an examining bureau for applicants in stenography and typewriting. There is at present only one such branch of the service on the Eastern Shore—at Salisbury, and the move to establish a second branch at Chestertown will be made in order to divide the shore into north and south stations. There is an active demand for male stenographers and typewriters at good salaries in the Government service, and just as soon as a class can be organized here an examination will be held. Applications should be made to Mr. R. F. Elburn, secretary of the local Civil Service Examining Board.

A committee of Bankers from the tri-County Bankers Association which comprises the counties of Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester were guests of the local Bankers at a fine luncheon at the Eastern Shore Inn on Tuesday evening. The meeting with the committee was held for the purpose of discussing important matters pertaining to the banking business and an exchange of views upon the same. The members of the committee present were:

Preceding the speech making in which many of the visiting as well as local representatives participated a splendid feast was served by Mrs. Bassett the proprietress of the Inn, ably assisted by Mrs. Wilbur W. Hubbard. The menu was as follows:

The meeting at Chestertown will be followed by another important meeting at Easton shortly.

Outbuildings and Stock Burned

The outbuildings at the home of Hope H. Barroll, Esq., at the north of Chestertown, were destroyed by fire Tuesday morning between 1 and 2 o'clock, together with two horses, three dogs, two of which were rabbit beagles and the other a small terrier, which were sleeping in the buildings, a new buggy and a lot of farm and garden implements, tools, etc., which were used about the premises. The fire started in the stable loft, which was filled with hay, and made rapid headway. Constable Jack Jester, who had been in the upper part of Chestertown on official business, while returning home discovered the fire and rushed to the scene giving the alarm as he went. He was soon followed by Mr. Edward Robinson and his son, Lee, who succeeded in cutting the halters of the horses and cattle and getting them all out of the stable except the pony and one horse, who refused to leave the stable. The fire company and a large crowd from the town soon arrived. The fire company's hose was not long enough to reach from the nearest fire plug to the fire so the hose was rendered useless.

The most sympathetic feature of the fire was the burning of the pony, which was a great pet of the entire family and especially Mr. Barroll. He used it more, perhaps, than any of his other horses in going to and from his office. The pony would answer him when he would call or talk to it by nickering and would often take hold of his clothing with its lips when he would start away from it and pull him back.

The direction of the wind prevented the flames from catching to his beautiful residence and it remained safe.

Mr. Barroll estimates his loss at about $2,200, upon which is about $1,000 insurance.

Mr. Barroll's two automobiles were saved by his two sons, Hope and Jack. One of these cars is a Chalmers and had just been bought a few days before.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but is believed by Mr. Barroll and many others to have been incendiary.

Plan To Wipe Out English Sparrow.

The League of American Sportsmen, whose object is the preservation of wild life, is considering the question of inaugurating a nationwide campaign for the destruction of the English sparrow. Its officers say this bird has made such headway here that it is driving out the smaller song and insectivorous birds, and that it has become a question of whether we shall have only the English sparrow to represent our bird life or destroy it and regain some 50 species of useful and beautiful birds that used to inhabit cities, farms and countryside all over the land.

The league intends to ask the Governor of each state to issue a proclamation declaring war on the English sparrows and setting aside a week, possibly in April or May of next year, to be devoted especially to destroying nests of this pernicious pest. Printed instructions as to the plan of the campaign will be sent to the Mayors of all incorporated cities and villages, to the heads of the school systems in every county, to college Presidents, to Principals of preparatory schools, to the Boy Scouts in each state, and to other organizations which might be expected to extend sympathy and aid.

Four principal methods of action will be employed: Tearing down the nests, trapping the birds, shooting them under police supervision and under licenses issued by the police authorities, and, in cities where water pressure is available, turning the hose on the birds at night after they have gone to roost
