THE TRANSCRIPT wishes all of its readers a joyous Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

IF YOU know of any one who is not so fortunate as you are in the possession of this world's goods, send them a substantial gift for Xmas and help to brighten and cheer their life.

THE President and Mrs. Wilson were married a year ago on Monday. The wedding took place Saturday evening, Dec. 18th, 1915, at 1308 Twentieth St., Washington, the home of the bride, who was then Mrs. Norman Galt.

REPRESENTATIVE Randell, of California, has had reported favorably a bill to close the mails absolutely to advertising of any intoxicating liquors and to deny mail-order houses the right to go into either "wet" or "dry" territory to solicit sales through the medium of the mails.

PRESIDENT WILSON has addressed a letter to the warring nations in Europe, asking them to state their terms of peace. This action, the President believes, will go a long ways towards opening the way for conferences looking to the settlement of the terrible struggle.

THE Congress of the United States will make a most serious blunder if it places any heavier burdens upon the people by excessive and unnecessary appropriations than they are already bearing. Much of the vast sum appropriated by Congress is an absolutely unnecessary procedure, and the practice should be stopped.

ONE of the strongest arguments in favor of the government control of the railroads of the country is the action of these roads in causing car shortages which permits them to place embargos upon the shipment of the farmers' grain and produce. The great railroads of this country have more cars lying idle in their yards than would be required to ship all the produce in the country, and yet the farmer can't get his wheat and corn to market because of the action of the railroads. In our judgment this is the first and most important cause of the high cost of living, and a condition such as confronts our farmers to-day would not exist if the government controlled the railroads.

THE federal government has spent enough money on Rock Hall harbor and Chester river to have erected one of the finest concrete bridges in the country across the bay, since it became the fashion to put so much money for this purpose in the federal "pork" barrel. It would be a good idea for the government to create a sinking fund of this particular appropriation and build a bridge from Bay Shore Park to Rock Hall as an inducement to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to extend its local line to Rock Hall. Such a scheme would be of far more benefit to the people of Rock Hall and Baltimore than the present method of expenditure. We offer this as a suggestion to the Merchants & Manufacturers Association of Baltimore, which is seeking closer communication with the Eastern Shore.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Dr. H. B. Martin and sisters, Mrs. Physick and Miss Lucy Martin, are located in their new quarters in the old Custom House.

Mrs. Carrie Perkins, of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Mrs. R. H. Collins for the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Barwick, mother of Mrs. Harry F. Jefferson, is quite sick at the home of her daughter. Mr. Wm. J. Elliott is also on the sick list.

Mr. Russell Wheatley, of Quebec, is spending the Christmas holidays at home. Rus' friends are glad to see him.

Miss Marghuerita Dodd, of Gloucester Point, Va., is at home for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Arthur Brown, of Wilmington, Del., and son, Julian Brown, of Eddystone, Pa., are spending Christmas with Mr. Brown's son, Mr. A. Leon Brown, and family.

Mr. Merritt Brown, of Altoona, Pa., is spending Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Boggs, of Oklahoma City, Okla., are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jefferson.

Mr. Olin S. Davis and Mr. Parks Rasin returned from their Florida trip Thursday evening.

We regret to state that Mrs. Wm. H. Lambert is quite sick again at her home on Kent Circle.

Mrs. Samuel E. Cooper is quite sick with pneumonia, a trained nurse being in attendance.

Misses Carmeta and Louise Russell, of Baltimore, are at home for Xmas, as is also Miss Eugenia Hynson.

Bankers Meeting.

A meeting of the Eastern Shore and Delaware Bankers was held at Easton on Monday, but owing to the storm was not largely attended. This meeting was intended as a climax to a number of conferences which had been held in various cities on the shore for the purpose of discussing important bank matters. Owing to the small attendance on Monday nothing was done except the drafting of a resolution and the appointment of a committee of three to lay the resolution before the various boards of directors and report at a later meeting.

THE TWO LITTLE STOCKINGS.

Two little stockings hung side by side,
Close to the fireplace, broad and wide.
"Two?" said St. Nick as down he came,
Loaded with toys and many a game.
"Ho, ho," said he, with a laugh of fun,
"I'll have no cheating, my pretty one!
I know who dwells in this house, my dear—
There's only one little girl lives here."
So he crept up close to the chimney place
And measured a sock with a sober face.
Just then a little note fell out
And fluttered low like a bird about.
"Aha! What's this?" said he, in surprise,
As he pushed his specs up close to his eyes
And read the address in a child's rough plan.
"Dear St. Nick," so it began,
"The other stocking you see on the wall
I have hung for a poor girl name Clara Hall.
She's a poor little girl, but very good,
So I thought, perhaps, you kindly would
Fill up her stocking, too, to-night
And help to make her Christmas bright.
If you've not enough for both stockings there
Please put all in Clara's—I shall not care."
St. Nicholas brushed a tear from his eye,
And "God bless you, darling," he said with a sigh.
Then softly he blew through the chimney high,
A note like a bird's as it soars on high,
When down came two of the funniest mortals
That ever were seen this side earth's portals.
"Hurry up," said St. Nick, "and nicely prepare
All a little girl wants where money is rare."
Then, oh, what a scene there was in that room!
Away went the elves, but down from the gloom
Of the sooty old chimney came tumbling low
A child's whole wardrobe from head to toe.
How Santa Claus laughed as he gathered them in
And fastened each one to the sock with a pin!
Right to the toe he hung a blue dress—
"She'll think it came from the sky, I guess,"
Said St. Nicholas, smoothing the folds of blue
And tying the hood to the stocking, too.
When all the warm clothes were fastened on
And both little socks were filled and done,
Then Santa Claus tucked a toy here and there
And hurried away to the frosty air,
Saying, "God pity the poor and bless the dear child
Who pities them, too, on this night so wild."
The wind caught the words and bore them on high
Till they died away in the midnight sky,
While St. Nicholas flew through the icy air,
Bringing peace and good will with him everywhere.

NUPTIAL EVENTS.

We are indebted to the Carroll Record for the following account of a wedding of much interest to Chestertown folks. "One of the social events of the year in Taneytown was the marriage, on Wednesday morning, December 20th, 1916, at 9 o'clock, of Mr. Carroll C. Hess and Miss Olive P. Pennell, in Trinity Lutheran church, by the pastor, Rev. L. B. Hafer. The church was beautifully decorated, and a large number of friends were present to witness the ceremony. Immediately before the wedding march began, with Mrs. Dr. C. E. Roop at the organ, Miss Nellie B. Hess, a sister of the groom, sang 'O Promise Me.' At the first strains of the wedding march from 'Lohengrin,' played by Mrs. Roop, the pastor entered at the front of the church and into the chancel, followed by the groom and the best man, Mr. Wilbert N. Hess, a brother of the groom, to the front of the alter where they waited to meet the bride. From the rear of the church came the ushers by two's, Mr. Clyde L. Hesson and Mr. Verle E. C. Snider, Mr. Lester Angell and Mr. Norman Baumgardner, followed by the maid-of-honor, Miss Dorothy Elderdice, of Westminster, and the bride, each walking alone. The ring ceremony was used. When the party left the altar Mrs. Roop played Mendelssohn's 'Wedding March.' The bride wore a dark blue traveling suit, with velvet hat, and carried white roses. The maid-of-honor, who was a classmate of the bride, wore a seal brown traveling suit, with light hat, and carried carnations. The groom and best man were attired in the conventional black. Immediately after the wedding the happy couple left for a visit to several eastern cities and the former home of the bride at Chestertown, Md. Mr. Hess is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hess, and is among the most excellent young men of the community. The bride has for several years been a teacher in the public schools of Taneytown, where she has been very successful, and has won the esteem of the commnnity, as was shown by the many useful and valuable gifts received. They will make their home near Taneytown. The bride is a Chestertown young lady, and many friends here extend hearty congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Miss Clara M. Coleman, the attractive and popular and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Coleman, of Chestertown, became the happy bride of Mr. Harry P. Wilson, of Baltimore, proprietor of the Art Sign Co., of Baltimore, and a cousin of the Mr. J. B. Cosden, the "Oil King," who was formerly of this section, at the home of the bride's parents, Monday evening. Rev. T. F. Beauchamp made the young couple man and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left on the train Tuesday afternoon for Baltimore where they will reside in the future.

Mr. Charles Clendaniel, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Clendaniel, of near Kennedyville, and Miss Reba Wilson, a popular young lady of Annapolis, were quietly married at the home of the bride on Saturday evening. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Clendaniel left for a wedding trip to Washington and Philadelphia. They returned to their home, the Clendaniel home farm, near Kennedyville, on Monday evening and were tendered a small reception.

Capt. James T. Thompson and Mrs. Anna L. Wright, both of Chestertown, were married at the M. E. Parsonage by Dr. T. F. Beauchamp Monday evening.

A marriage license was issued Monday for John Fithian, of Queen Annes, and Anna Ireland, of Kent.

The wedding of Miss Pearl Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Neal, to Herman Hilyard, occurred at their home near Millington last week.

IN THE CHURCHES.

Beautiful Christmas carols will be rendered with full orchestra accompaniment and appropriate recitations will be given. The annual Christmas exercises featured by "Gifts to the King" will be held next Wednesday evening, Dec. 27th.

Miss Merle White was the leader of the Christian Endeavor Society in Christ M. P. Sunday school lost Sunday evening. Prof. Louis C. Robinson delivered an interesting address.

Revival services will begin in the Chestertown M. E. Church with the watch night services on Sunday evening, Dec. 31.

Owing to the inclement weather, Rev. J. L. Ward and Rev. Dr. J. M. Gill did not exchange pulpits last Sunday. The exchange will be made later.

Given Linen Shower

Misses May Griffith, Marian Woodall and Helen Comegys entertained a number of friends at a linen shower at the home of Miss Griffith near Sassafras last week in view of the approaching marriage of Miss Frances Johnson to Frank Huey of Massey. The guests were Mrs. Wills Lusby, Mrs. George Padley, Mrs. William Coale, Mrs. John Welsh, Mrs. Charles Crowford, Mrs. James Woodall, Jr., Mrs. James D. Davis, Jr., Mrs. Edward Scott, Mrs. Richard Lockwood, Mrs. Irving Spry, Mrs. Charles Burns, Mrs. Andrew McCauley, Mrs. Isaac Gibbs, Mrs. Mary Woodall, Mrs. Wilson Cochran, Mrs. Anthony Johnson, Mrs. John R. Ernest, Mrs. Nellie Lockwood, and Misses Henrietta Oldham, Laura Morgan, Louise Jervis, Mary Scott Woodall, Charlotte Beverly, Lucile Carrier, Elizabeth Gibbs, Helen McDowell, Frances Davis, Lucy Griffith, Elizabeth Lindley, and Agnes Cochran.

In Memoriam.

Mrs. Harriet R. Crew, widow of the late J. Lewin Crew, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Horsey, early Wednesday morning, Nov. 29, of Bright's disease, aged 77 years. Funeral services were held at her late residence on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. R. P. Nichols officiating. The bearers were her sons and grandsons. The deceased was the daughter of the late Samuel A. and Rachel W. Hurley, of Virginia. She leaves seven daughters and five sons to mourn her loss; also a brother, Obadiah R. Hurley, of Virginia. The floral tributes which were both numerous and beautiful, testified to the tender love and thoughtfulness of her many relatives and friends.

Her fondness for flowers amounted almost to a passion, and it was most fitting that she should be carried to her last resting place amid the beauty and fragrance of these silent messengers of God. Mrs. Crew had been an invalid for six years and for the past 2 years was confined to her room. During this time she had the loving services of her faithful children, especially those of her daughters, Miss Dolly and Mrs. Horsey, who were untiring in their efforts to alleviate her suffering and comfort her last days.

Mother is gone! The home seems so lonely without her; yet how comforting it is to know that she has gone to a land where there will be no more suffering and no more sickness. Fain would the angel of death have claimed her for his own long ere before this; but loving devotion and fond attention warded him off from time to time. But the tired spirit longed for rest and as calmly sinks the setting sun, so her weary spirit winged its flight to God.

Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep,
From which none ever wakes to weep;
A calm and undisturbed repose,
Unbroken by the last of foes.

A FRIEND.

CIVILIZATION

The Most Remarkable Photo-Spectacle Ever Preduced

COST $1,000,000 50,000 People Employed

"Nothing so Stupendous Ever Before Created by the Brain of Man," says the New York Journal.

Graphically Depicting the Horrors of War, it Furnishes the Most Potent Argument Ever Presented Against the Autocratic Power of Monarchial Rulers—a Compelling Plea for Universal Peace and the Brotherhood of Man.

"Civilization, that gigantic, thrilling masterpiece of cinema history, was written with the invisible ink of women's tears. Women's heart-beats punctuate it and the immortal tragedy of motherhood is threaded through the maze of horror, human anguish, devastation, love, hatred and ultimate good, which forms its back-ground.

Universal love, through the ineffable, untiring devotion of women, is the divine hand to point humanity from its chaos of common hatred to the brotherhood of man.

War in its most tragic, soul-racking, hideous, cruel aspects, from the wreck of a single home to the near debacle of a kinghom and the menace of a nation's annihilation, is detailed upon the screen. Battles, land and naval, marvelously realistic all of them; air-raids destroying towns and scattering desolation with appalling verisimilitude, trench, bayonet, gun warfare, every fiendish invention of hate is pictured for our horror. Finally, through the tender influence of a woman, and the Godhead transmitted to a soldier by the Christ, as shown in some wonderfully imaginative spiritual scenes, peace brings happiness once more to suffering humanity—and THE LESSON IS LEARNED."

"The title is an irony. The purpose indutiably is high. A king sends his people to war. Of all his agents the most powerful is a young officer who has invented a deadly submarine. This young officer hears the message of the Mothers of Men, and sooner than torpedo a passenger vessel he opens the sea valves of his craft and dies with her. Into his body enters the spirit of Jesus Christ and the man-clothed spirit walks among mankind until peace has been brought.

"Certainly it is a sermon. But it is pictured in fire and blood. There is no escape from its utter drama. It rushes you on and on, breathless for the sequel. It takes you miles away from the four tight walls of a theatre. A whole vast country is the stage—fields, roads, villages and cities, the sea and down in the deeps of the sea, and far into the air above in biplane and gas ship."
