What the Preparedness Commission is Doing.

Report of work done in Kent county submitted at the monthly meeting of all the chairmen of the State in Baltimore, on Thursday, June 7th.

The Woman's Preparedness and Survey Commission of Kent County after the monthly meeting in Baltimore sent out thirty letters to all the ministers, black and white, in the county, asking them to make Mother's Day this year a Preparedness Day, as it is the mothers who must give their sons, the mothers who must conserve the food of the household and the mothers who must do the caring. We also asked the ministers to urge planting and to have a flag in their pulpits. Many ministers responded to this appeal. We then called a meeting of all the charity organizations of Chestertown and elected a chairman to look after the poor of the community that might be affected by the war. We also elected a red cross chairman for the county. We invited the Governor to visit Kent and chose the day when all the county school children and teachers and parents met in Chestertown to have their athletic contest.

The Governor viewed the parade and afterward delivered a stirring address in the gymnasium of the college to about five hundred people. Prof. Simonds and Prof. Richardson also delivered addresses. The Governor and party with the Men's and Women's Preparedness Commissions and others were entertained at a buffet luncheon.

The following week the Federated Club of Chestertown had invited the clubs of Elkton and Cambridge to luncheon to be followed with toasts and speeches by ladies from Baltimore and Washington and this was made occasion to bring out some of the social evils that followed the boys on the Mexican border and are already developing around the camps of boys now. An appeal was made to all women to help in every way to guard against this.

Our Navy League Chairman, Miss Bacchus, is doing excellent work. Units for knitting have been formed in the county at Kennedyville, Betterton, Rock Hall, Worton and Millington. She has collected $25.00 and invested in wool to start these various workers. Units have also been formed in the four churches of the town. The M. E. Church has collected $28.50 and have finished a number of sweaters and other garments. The Woman's Literary Club will soon take up the work.

Some of the young girls have an organization called the Needle Work Guild. These girls are investing about $25 and are working comfort bags. Other units are being formed.

The Red Cross work in the county was started by one of the oldest ladies in the county, Mrs. Hynson, who has had dozens of surgical shirts made. Units have been formed, Mrs. Wood, chairman. At Galena and Betterton the Federated Club is starting on Monday to make the surgical dressings with Mrs. Robinson who attended the girl's camp in Washington, as instructor.

Mr. Burrel, the County Demonstration Agent, has been doing good work by constantly preaching the planting and making farm work prominent.

Through the Extension Department of the Government he has been furnishing seeds at wholesale price, and in cases where it was needed, extending time for payment. He has been visiting the granges. The Pomona Grange started planting lectures in May. Other granges doing the same.

The Farm Labor Committee of Baltimore has started an experiment in Kent called the Farm Army, consisting of about forty boys, many of them are originally sons of farmers who had gone to the city. Many had enlisted and been rejected, and as a patriotic duty are going back to the farm and working for $1.50 per day. They live in tents and board themselves. They wear the same uniforms as the enlisted men and have officers. One sergeant gave up a salary of $25 per week and is working for $21 per month. The lieutenants and sergeants arrange where they will go. The National Government is watching this experiment.

Talks have been given at the annual meeting of the W. T. C. U. of the county on preparedness.

Through Miss Comstock, the County Demonstration Agent, with the assistance of Mrs. Ames, of Betterton, units have been formed for canning demonstration at Golt, Massey, Worton, Millington, Galena, Cliff City, Betterton, Fairlee, Kennedyville, Still Pond, Locust Grove. The County Commissioners have given $200 to equip these schools for demonstration work. This will buy oil stoves, ovens and all the equipment for canning and drying. Mrs. Harris acted as a committee of one to secure this fund.

Our commission has sold $13,000 worth of Liberty Bonds.

Wasn't It Splendid? That Registration!

There is no uncertainty about where the young men stand. Now for the lenders—the investors—not contributors.

What is the money for?—It is to prepare those young men for the front—to clothe them, to feed them and to furnish them with weapons to fight.

Is it too much to ask one man to subscribe for every man who registered for service? It is too little. Had you rather go to the front or buy a $500 bond? $500 will keep a man at the front for a year.

It is not a contribution; it is an investment—the best in the world, better than cash. It grows day by day at the rate of 3½%, free of all income or property tax.

The length of the war will depend upon the length of your purse. Open it, quick! Buy a Liberty Bond. The banks will help you!

THE STAY AT HOME VOTE.

Evil Effect of Neglect of Duty by the Indifferent Citizen.

Our most important elections are often decided by the stay at home vote. The course of the government, its policies, our entire administration of public affairs, turn in effect upon the indifference of the citizen. The evils that flow from his neglect of those primary duties may be said to be the beginning of all those evils that seem ever to accompany free government. If the people were as vigilant about choosing their public servants as they are about choosing their corporate officers or their trusted employees it would be virtually impossible for extravagance or graft or the many evils of bossism to exist under our form of government.

We have given much attention of late to what is called a movement for popular government. We have considered the advisability of incorporating into our system of government the initiative, the referendum and the recall. We have at times become violent in expressing a desire for what we choose to call more effective instrumentalities of government. Apparently we have coveted greater obligations and more manifold and complex duties.

Putting aside for a time the question of any benefits to be derived from adopting and using such instrumentalities of government, the questions remain: Would we use them if we had them? Would they not lie like tools by our side, rusting and cumbersome? —Senator Borah in Youth's Companion.

Let Him Say Something.

"I'm just waiting for my husband to complain about my extravagance this month."

"Ready to give him an argument, eh?"

"You bet I am. By mistake his golf club checks came to the house, and I've got 'em."—Detroit Free Press.
