POETRY.

"I'M A TWIN."

In form and feature, face and limb,
I grew so like my brother,
That folks got taking me for him,
And each for one another.
It puzzled all our kith and kin,
It reached a fearful pitch:
For one of us was born a twin,
And not a soul knew which.

One day (to make the matter worse,)
Before our names were fixed,
As we were being washed by nurse,
We got completely mixed;
And thus you see, by fate's decree
(Or rather nurse's whim,)
My brother John got christened me,
And I got christened him?

This fatal likeness even dogged
My footsteps when at school;
And I was always getting flogged,
For John turned out a fool.
I put this question fruitlessly
To every one I knew;
"What would you do if you were me,
To prove that you were you!

Our close resemblance turned the tide
Of my domestic life,
For, somehow, my intended bride
Became my brother's wife.
In fact, year after year, the same
Absurd mistakes went on,
And when I died, the neighbors came
And buried brother John.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Race Between a Locomotive a[redacted]
Prarie Fire.

George W. Bungay, who rec witnessed a prarie fire, writing t
Detroit ADVERTISER AND TRIBUNE,
of it:

About 7 o'clock at night I too
sage on the Dixon Air Line Railro
The train had proceeded but a few from the city of Chicago, when we took a fire on the prairie. It was ter night; the wind was blowing and the snow was falling, but the stiff dry grass of the prarie stood above the thin sheet of snow on ground, and the flames spread great rapidity. There was a margin between our track and the
of fire that swept before the wind.

The line of flame was about half a mile in length, and now and then it made such rapid progress it seemed to keep pace with the train. It was a pic- [redacted] the fiery cavalry in the distance, fighting with the wind and snow, and leaping over the creeks and ponds in its course—making bonfires of the lone haystacks that stood, like Lot's wife, within the reach of its innumerable spears of flame.

Before it was borne a crimson flag that lit up the heavens: behind it was a charred and blackened wake of cinders. Whether it swept away any human habitations in its path I cannot say, but it was a most attractive sight, and so full of suggestion I have been tempted to give a brief account of it.

☞A shrewd preacher, after an eloquent charity sermon, said to his hearers: 'I am afraid, from the sympathy displayed in your countenances, that some of you may give too much. I caution you, therefore, that you should be just before you are generous; and wish you to understand that I desire no one who can not pay his debts to put any thing in the plate' The collection was a rare one.

The Home Press.

We clip the following from the Chicago Republican, and commend it to the consideration of every person:

What tells us so readily the standard of a town or city as the appearance of its paper? And its youth and age can as well be defined by the observing, by a glance at its newspaper, as though a personal observation had been made. The enterprise of its citizens are depicted by its advertisements, their liberality by the looks of the paper. Some papers show a good, solid, healthy foundation, plethoric purses, and a well-to-do appearance generally; others show a striving to contend with the grasping thousands around them, trying hard to wrench out an existence from the close fisted community around them. An occasional meteoric display in its columns of telegraphic, or local, or of editorial, show what it can do if it had the means, but cannot continue in the expensive work until support comes, which ought to be readily granted. A newspaper is like a Church; it wants fostering at the commencement, and for a few years, then, as a general thing it can walk alone, and reflect credit upon its location — Take your Home paper; it gives you more news of immediate interest than the New York or other distant papers; it talks for you when no other will speak in your favor; when other localities belie you, it stands up for your rights; you always have a champion in your home paper; and those who stand up for you should certainly be well sustained. Your interests are kindred and equal, and you must rise or fall together. Therefore, it is your interest to support your home paper, not grudgingly, but in a liberal spirit, as a pleasure, not as a disagreeable duty, but as an investment that will amply repay the expenditure.

A Cuban Tragedy.

The Hormigo, published in the town of Las Tuna, Cuba, has the following paragraph: "A young man named Engel Rodriguez, 18 years of age, was very much infatuated with his cousin Adeline, who had merely completer her fifteenth year. On Christmas night he stole her from the house of her parents, and carried her to a little hut about six miles distant. The following day the young lady's father, who had been searching for them, found them and carried them home. When they arrived, about nightfall, and while the father left them for a moment to put up his horses, the young man proposed to the young lady that they should run away again, which she refused to do, when he suddenly drew a knife and stabbed her in the ab- [redacted] had vexed me so beyond all endurance, that, procuring a cudgel, and having got the cow well cornered, I proceeded to administer a most wrathful flogging. My father that moment made his unexpected appearance, and suspended the operation of castigation by saying:—'Harmon, my son, don't strike that cow again; never strike a cow; it never does them any good—never.'

About a week after this, my father was doing the milking himself, and the cow proved unusually troublesome, as I inferred from loud sounds in the direction of the barn-yard. Going to the spot, I arrived just in time to see the cow in a very close corner of the fence, and the boot of my paternal relative administering kicks of the heaviest kind, thick and fast. 'Father,' said I, very quietly, 'I thought you told me never to strike a cow.' 'Yes, that is true,' was the reply, while the punishment continued with unabated vigor; 'that's true; but did I say anything about kicking them? Striking does no good, but kicking seems to curl 'em right up.

Young America Surprised.

One of our friends was recently blessed by an addition to his household, which came "like a thief in the night." The next morning the happy father took his four-year old boy to the room, to see the little brother, who, having never perused Catlin's work—"Keep Your Mouth Shut,"—was quietly enjoying his first morning nap with his mouth open. All were quietly watching the elder brother, and desirous to catch his first observation. With eyes firmly fixed at the new comer, and with a countenance showing trouble within, after a few moments of silence, he defiantly exclaimed, "I should like to know who pulled out the baby's teeth."

Comparison Not Odious.

Several Southern papers have been running a parallel between George Washington and Jeff. Davis. Here is the idea advanced by the Butte Record in regard to it:

"George Washington—First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen.'

"Jeff. Davis—First in rebellion, first in petticoats, and last in the jail of his countrymen."

A Very Accommodating Justice.

'My friends you have been told that I have just been elected to the responsible position of Justice of the Peace; and that I have not been qualified to act. But, as this case is very urgent and not admitting of delay, and as I like to please all my customers, I have resolved to solemnize the bonds of matrimony for these persons in the following manner under my hand and seal:

'By authority of my election and the certificate to me from the honorable court and considering that I am not yet commissioned to do all things as Justice of the Peace I may do after being duly qualified, I do in the sight of God and man, and in the pursuance of the urgent request of the persons and their friends, and the necessity of the case, certify that John Smith and Sally Jones may and are hereby authorized to go together and do as married people does. And I hereby obligate myself, that when I get my commission, to marry them good and date 'em back to kiver accidents.'

Handsomely Done

Gen. Sheridan, says the New York Commercial, sent, a few days ago, to Miss Rebecca Wright of Winchester, Va., an elegant gold watch, and exquisitely wrought chain, a brooch and charms. The brooch is of gold, beautifully wrought into a gauntlet and set with pearls. One of the charms is a sword set with very valuable diamonds. Accompanying this magnificent gift was an autograph letter from Gen Sheridan, acknowledging Miss. Wright's services, which led to the General's success at Winchester in the battle of the 19th of September, 1864. Miss Wright was a young Quakeress well known for her faith in a united nationality, and understood to be willing to aid the cause at any sacrifice. When Gen. Sheridan was in great doubt how to act he sent a scout to the lady, who, writing upon a slip of paper which she enclosed in tinfoil, directed it to be placed in the mouth that it might escape the enemy's search, and thus furnished the information that enabled the General to achieve his victory.

Good for McCoy.

We find the following rich and racy advertisement in a Cincinnati paper, and reproduce it without charge to the fair Georgean. Corneal had better keep quiet

NOTICE.—Mr. Editor:—I observed in your issue of yesterday, a card signed by Corneal S. McCoy, warning all persons from trusting me on his account as I had left his bed and board without just cause or provocation.

I therefore take this method of informing the public that he never had a bed; the board has always been furnished by myself, and as to anybody trusting me on his account, I know of none who trust himself. His credit always has been below par, so much so that he could not get trusted for his own shirting, and now wears some of my underclothing on his back, slightly altered

GEORGEANN McCOY.

A Bargain.

Little Frank—'Great Cæsar, mother what a big apple!'

Mother—'It's wicked, Franky to say Great Cæsar. I've often reproved you for using this bad word, which you have learned from the boys in the street, but you keep on repeating it. Now I will tell you what I will do. I will give you five cents not to say 'Great Cæsar' any more'

'It's a bargain mother,' cried the little four year old, and the money was paid.

Two or three days afterward little Frank came running into the house from his play on the street, his eyes glistening and his cheeks red with excitement "Mother, mother, I've learned a new word from the boys. It's "Great Peter." Give me five cents more, and I'll quit saying that, too."

☞The other night when the thermometer stood at zero a prominent citizen was aroused by a violent knock at the door of his domicil. Supposing that something extraordinary had happened, he jumped out of bed and opened the door, when he found a boy who questioned him as follows: "Do you live here? Are you going to live here next summer? Do you own this house?" Upon receiving affirmative answers the boy further interrogated: "Well Mr ——, will you want your garden plowed next spring, because if you do, I want the job." The "prominent citizen" slammed the door and went back to bed with anything but a religious turn of mind.

☞'Come, Bob, get up,' said an indignant father to his hopeful son, the other morning; 'remember, the early bird catches the worm.'

'What do I care for worms?' replied the young hopeful; 'mother won't let me go a-fishing.'

☞'So you're going to keep house?' asked an inquisitive maiden of a bride

'Yes,' said she.

'Going to have a girl, I suppose.'

'I really don't know,' was the blushing reply, 'whether it will be a girl or a boy.'

SCARCE.—A young fellow boasting of the nice girl he was about to marry, said, she wasn't afeard to work; and wasn't used to being buggy rode, and sleigh-hawked around' That kind's mighty scarce these days.

☞'How does that look?' said old Mr Smith, holding out his big hand.

'That,' said Mr. Jones, 'looks like if you were out of soap.'

BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL.

BALTIMORE, MD.

ESTABLISHED AS A REFUGE FROM QUACKERY.

The Only Place Where a Cure Can be Obtained.

DR. JOHNSTON HAS DISCOVERED THE most Certain, Speedy, and only Effectual Remedy in the World for Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Trembling, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach, or Bowels—those Terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—SECRET and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song of Syrens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible,

YOUNG MEN

Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of Young Men of the most excellent talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call upon me with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

Married Persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, being aware of Physical weakness, organic debility, deformities, &c., speedily cured

He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS

Immediately Cured and Full Vigor Restored.

This Dreadful Disease—which renders Life miserable and Marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived the pleasure of healthy off spring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise.—The system becomes Deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions Weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, a Wasting of the Frame, Coughs, Consumption, &c.

Office, 7 South Frederick Street,

Left-hand side going from Baltimore street, a few doors from the corner. Fail not to observe name and number.

☞No letters received unless postpaid and containing a stamp to be used on the reply. Persons writing should state age, and send portion of advertisement describing symptoms.

The Doctor's DIPLOMA hangs in his office

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with a derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE!

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgences and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

THESE are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsy, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption.

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded—Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

THOUSANDS of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated; having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

By this great and important remedy, Weakness of the Organs is speedily cured, and full vigor restored.

Thousands of the most nervous and debilitated, who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All impediments to Marriage, Physical or Mental Disqualification, Nervous Irritability, Trembling, Weakness or Exhaustion of the most fearful kind, speedily cured by Dr Johnston.

YOUNG MEN

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man the hope of his country, the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons MUST, before contemplating reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisities to promote connubial happiness Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholly reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability can alone befriend him He falls into the hands of ignorant and designing pretenders, who, incapable of curing, filch his pecuniary substance, keep him trifling month after month, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despair leave him with ruined health to sigh over his galling disappointment; or, by the use of that deadly poison, Mercury, hasten the constitutional symptoms of this terrible disease, such as affection of the Head, Throat, Nose, Skin, etc., progressing with frightful rapidity till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings by sending him to that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveller returns.

ENDORSEMENT OF THE PRESS.

The many thousands cured at this institution within the last eighteen years, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. Johnston, witnessed by the reporters of the "Sun" and many other papers, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a gentleman of character and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

Skin Diseases Speedily Cured.

Persons writing should send that portion of the Advertisement which describes Symptoms; also, be particular to enclose a Postage Stamp to be used on the reply and direct in the following manner Dr. J. M. JOHNSTON, of the Baltimore Lock Hospital, Baltimore, Maryland May 28, '66.—

Shriver's Bitter Wine of Iron.

AN exquisite combination of Calisay Bark, Citrate of Iron and Dry Spanish Wine. It has a Vinous flavor very grateful to the palate, with very little chalybeate taste, and will not discolor the teeth, it excites feeble appetite, improves digestion, increases the strength, removes the pallor of debility, gives firmness to the action of the nervous system with power to endure fatigue and resist disease

Calasay's Bark has no equal as a strengthener or restorative, nor rival as an anti-periodic—and in this preparation all the virtues of the Bark are preserved in an eminent degree. Sold at SHRIVER'S West End Drug Store, Westminster, Md. June 21.

ATTENTION! The War to be closed! The Country saved, and a grand lot of late style Carpeting just received at Joshua Yingling's.

The Great Destroyer has come!

Appearance of the Asiatic Cholera in the United States!

THE ZINGARI BITTERS

The Only Sure Antidote for Disease!

As a Preventative it is Infallible!
As a Cure it is Certain!

The appearance of the Asiatic Cholera in the United States has given rise to the just apprehensions of all classes. The National Congress has appointed a special committee to ascertain what means are necessary to insure the proper quarantine at all the ports on the Atlantic coast, while the authorities in the great commercial cities on the sea-board are actively engaged in enforcing such sanitary measures as will secure the cleanliness and promote the healthfulness of the communities in their charge. These proceedings are all laudable. Cleanliness and temperance are the first great essentials necessary to safely guard against attacks from the Cholera, but greater than all these efforts of Congress, more potent than the proceedings of municipal bodies, and infallible beyond all doubt is the Great Zingari Bitters,

as a sure preventative of Cholera. The discoverer of the component part of this Bitters, an eminent Egyptian physician had much experience in Egypt, where the Cholera rages with tremendous virulence. He had long seen and felt the want of some remedy which would strike at the root of the disease, and so prevent much of the suffering which the human family has been compelled to endure from this scourge. The result of his thoughts and labors at length presented themselves in the production of the wonderful

ZINGARI BITTERS.

It was not long before this Bitters was recognized and accepted in all parts along the Mediterranean coast, in the south of Europe, among the semi-civilized tribes of Africa, and by the ablest practitioners of the old world, as the only sure and certain preventative or cure for the Cholera. The ZINGARI BITTERS acts on the organs of excretion and secretion, keeping up a perfect balance between them. It is composed entirely of roots and herbs, so nicely concocted that every organ is acted upon and put in tone. Its taste is pleasant and its effects prompt and lasting.

For travelers who are subject to all the changes of climate and water the ZINGARI BITTERS is a companion that should never be left behind. It is for sale by all the druggists in the United States.
