BONES AND BAGS.

On account of the war many of our supplies of Bones have been cut off and in order to get all the nice dry country bones possible, we have determined to pay about twice as much for dry bones as we used to pay, if they are delivered at our factory.

The country boys should pick up all they can and bring them to us instead of selling them to the junk dealers.

We will also pay the highest market price for good second hand Fertilizer Bags. Please communicate with us.

Very truly yours,

CHAUTAUQUA WEEK A BIG SUCCESS THIS YEAR

The Chautauqua has been a big success—one of the most successful since the beginning of the entertainments in Chestertown. The singing was good, the musical instruments well handled, while the lectures were up to the standard. Good crowds attended and all seemed to enjoy every performance. The Chautauqua is one of the principal events of the year in Chestertown and we are glad to be able to state that it will be here again next year.

On the first afternoon (Saturday) the Chautauqua Superintendent delivered an interesting series lecture, while the Kerry Singers entertained the crowd with a good concert. Their work was entirely Irish—Irish costumes, Irish folk lore, Irish ballads, Irish songs and Irish medley. Anyone who loved Irish wit and humor would have enjoyed the program. A heavy downpour of rain threatened to break up the Chautauqua altogether in the evening, but by eight o'clock the rain had stopped and a fair crowd attended. The Kerry singers again entertained, while Dr. Carolyn E. Geisel, a noted female lecturer, entertained the crowd with a brilliant lecture on "Miss Columbia, M. D." Dr. Geisel is very popular here, because of her lecture last year, and the crowd enjoyed her lecture again this year.

On Sunday evening, Dr. Geisel preached a sermon to the largest crowd of the week, estimated at about 1400. The Methodist churches did not hold their services in the churches, but held a union meeting in the Chautauqua tent, Drs. Beauchamp and Ward participating in the services. Miss Clara Usilton presided at the piano. Dr. Geisel preached a good sermon, which was enjoyed by the major part of the audience. The Kerry Singers entertained with sacred music that was well rendered.

On Monday afternoon the Chautauqua Superintendent gave another part of his series lecture, while the Conrad Company, consisting of artists work, singing and instrumental music, delighted the audience by their work. In the evening the audience heard a strong lecture on "Children in War Time," delivered by Charles H. Lovejoy. Mr. Lovejoy is General Secretary of the National Child Labor Committee and he delivered a good lecture. He depicted the horrors of child labor in many forms and in many places and prescribed education as the remedy for the evil. Mr. Lovejoy seemed to have a keen knowledge of his subject, a large outlook and a sense of humor that gave a spice to his lecture. The Conrad Company again entertained the audience with a good program of cartoon work and music. Everyone enjoys a good cartoonist, and Mr. Clayton Conrad's talk about the war, while he illustrated it with the crayon, was first-class.

On Tuesday afternoon the Chautauqua Superintendent entertained the audience with his series lecture, while the McDonough-Baird Co., styled "The Girls From The North And The South" strikingly costumed, told charming negro stories and sang plantation songs, gave impersonations and readings that were enjoyed. Both Miss McDouough and Miss Baird possess talent and skill. In the evening the four-act comedy entitled "The Fortune Hunter," written by Winchell Smith, attracted considerable attention. The work was done by "College Players" and it was one of the best plays of its kind ever shown at a Chautauqua in Chestertown.

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Geo. H. Turner, a former Chestertown Chautauqua Superintendent, delivered an interesting lecture on the subject, "Humanity's Last Reserves." His lecture was enjoyed by all. The Ongawas, Japanese actors,did well and were well liked by the audience. In the evening they rendered a playlet entitled "The Mirror." This was a comedy of Japanese life, in characteristic setting and costuming. They presented Japanese melodies altogether.

Dr. George L. Parker delivered an interesting lecture entitled "Russia in Revolution," on Wednesday evening. Dr. Lawrence was stationed in Russia several years and seems to understand conditions there. Dr. Parker takes an optimistic outlook of Russian conditions. Mr. Wm. G. Smyth introduced him with a very appropriate speech.

On Thursday afternoon the Superintendent continued his series lecture, while the Berkeley Sextette, a very popular orchestra, with expensive costumes, did good work. They rendered both instrumental and vocal music. The opera, "Pinafore," took up the whole evening, and like all Chautauqua affairs of the same character, was very pleasing to all who enjoy good singing.

On yesterday, Friday, afternoon (the last day) the Junior Chautauqua presented a beautiful pageant ("Liberty's Torch"). The affair was an immense success and was a delight to all who saw the young folks of this section take part in the pageant. The Batting-Kenniston Company, two well-known female artists, also pleased the crowd with monologues, songs, impersonations and sketches. They were real entertainers. The closing event of the season was held last evening when Capt. Leslie Vickers, of the Royal Scotch Fusileers, delivered a lecture on "Life in The Trenches." Capt. Vickers has a wide reputation as a speaker, has endured all the horrors of modern warfare and was twice wounded. We went to press before his lecture, but have no doubt that all who went came away impressed by seeing and hearing a man who has seen war depict[illegible] in its most horrible form. The Batting-Kenniston Company also entertained in the evening with some good music.

Dr. Robert Sutliffe has been the Superintendent of the Chautauqua and his lectures have been interesting during the week. He has made a splendid superintendent.

The Chautauqua guaranters for 1918 were as follows: A. Parks Rasin, M. Wilber Thomas, C. N. Satterfield, R. G. Nicholson, Charles L. Dodd, E. R. Pennington, Bordley & Sons, John C. Davis, M. A. Toulson, R. H. Collins, John N. Bennett, Fred G. Usilton, C. J. Seney, M. Elwood Baker, H. F. Jefferson & Bro., W. R. Huey, Lewis H. Wood, Joseph Wheatley, R. S. Thomas H. B. Simmons, Charles E. McKee, L. C. Robinson, M. E. Newsome, H. H. Klinefelter, W. B. Copper, A. H. Covey, Merrick Clements, Mark Creasy, R. F. Elburn, E. J. Clarke, J. D. Bacchus, J. D. Urie, F. V. Simpers, J. W.
