WASHINGTON DOWNS DREXEL

Dashing Attack Of Local Collegians Proves Too Much For Philadelphia Aggregation Friday Evening—W. C. Loses To Temple University Saturday Evening

With the basketball season nearly over, Washington College's quintet has developed into a fast aggregation. Coach Kibler started the season under great difficulties with Baltimore City College on December 12 with only one experienced player on the team—Robbins—and he has built a quintet that can make any team in the country hustle to defeat. Perhaps the strongest asset of the team is its tremendous scoring power. This was demonstrated clearly on Saturday night, when W. C. piled up 26 points against Temple University—one of the fastest teams in the country—which defeated Dartmouth by eight points recently. Robbins has been the man around whom Coach Kibler has built his team. All through the season Robbins has been a power in attack and defense. Gordy—who is known in Kent chiefly for his good work on the twirler's mound last summer—has also developed into a powerful player. The acquisition of Usilton was another factor in building up the machine. Usilton is an athlete of recognized ability and he has developed into a basketball player of ability. Ballard's work as guard all through the season has been of a calibre that stamps him as a good one, while Gray, who recently came into the lime-light, is a fast, aggressive guard of great promise. Individually and collectively, the team is a good one, and, if it can be held together next year, will make any team in the east go some to win from them.

Drexel Institute went down before the powerful attack of Robbins, Usilton and Gordy on Friday night to the tune of 32 to 31. At one time during the last half Washington College was 13 points in the lead, but Umpire Day had his eyes on W. C.'s players only, and called so many fouls on them that they were hardly able to move the ball without his whistle sounding. The guarding of Ballard and Gray was also a contributing factor to the victory, their work being of a top-notch calibre. Drexel scored 17 of their 31 points on "called fouls," only making 14 points by goals, while W. C. scored 28 points by goals and only 4 points by fouls. In fact, the Drexel man established a record here for foul shots, getting 17 out of 22 chances. W. C. led all through the game. The first half ended with W. C. having a four-point lead, which they steadily increased, until near the close of the game when Drexel drew up on them by the many foul shots given them. The work of Usilton, Robbins and Gordy was easily the feature of the game, Usilton's dribble from one end of the floor to the other and then caging the ball being easily the best individual feature of a good contest.

Before this game, the fastest preliminary game ever staged here took place between the Chestertown team and the Chestertown High School team. The game was a good one, first one team leading, then the other. Chestertown took the lead at the start and it looked like a runaway for them, as they made eight points before the High School boys scored a goal. The half ended with the score standing 7 points in favor of the Chestertown team. Chestertown High School soon oversome this lead after the second half opened and when the time was up the score stood 19 to 19. After five minutes more play Chestertown won the game, the final score being 21 to 19. Umpire Kibler made a good official.

Temple University brought the fastest team that has played here for several years on Saturday night and defeated Washington College by the score of 40 to 26. The score does not indicate how evenly the two teams were matched, as only four points separated them up to a few minutes before the game ended, when Temple University jumped into the lead. The visitors held a lead, the score being 19 to 13, when the first half ended, and while the visitors looked a trifle better, it was anybody's game up to this point. Toward the close of the contest, however, the visitors unloosened an attack that W. C. could not solve. Umpire Raby was the best official that has umpired a scheduled game here this season.

The preliminary game on Saturday night was between the young ladies of the Eleventh Grade and the Eighth Grade of the Chestertown High School. The former were victorious, the score being 10 to 6. The game was fairly interesting. Misses Woodall and Peacock were perhaps the stars of the game.

The following games are on the W. C. schedule for this week: Blue Ridge College at New Windsor; Feb. 13, Mt. St. Mary's at Emmitsburg; Feb. 14, Loyola at Baltimore.

A Birthday Surprise

Saturday, February 7, was Mrs. Willie Redmile's seventy-fifth birthday! Her sons, daughters and grand children wanting to surprise their mother and grandmother, they decided to meet in the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Johnson, at Kennedyville, and the immediate families spend the afternoon together with Mrs. Redmile. As guests of honor those present were: Mrs. Rachel Redmile, Mrs. Harry Bacon, Mr. John Silcox, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Redmile, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Redmile, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herzog, Mr. and Mrs. Wattie McKnett, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, Miss Adeline Herzog, Miss Edith Herzog, Miss Palmer Redmile, Miss Clara B. McKnett, Mr. Walton Redmile, Master Thomas Johnson, Master Howard Johnson. After having a happy reunion together, a splendid turkey was served; this was followed in the evening with refreshments. A large pound cake, decorated with seventy-five lighted candles, was the attraction in the center of the table. Mrs. Redmile received many gifts of various kinds. After spending the afternoon and evening happily together, they bid Mrs. Redmile good night, wishing her many returns of the day.

There was an epidemic of Chicken Pox in the Chestertown Primary school. A number of cases detected and excluded from school; one patient taken to Easton hospital; took charge of Health Exhibit, December 9-10-11th which was held in connection with the Farm and Home Exhibit; Met the Colored County Teachers when school lunches and health work was discussed. While in Baltimore visited a patient who was formerly placed at Rosewood State Training school; Work is being done toward federating Charities in which the Red Cross is taking the lead.

JANUARY REPORT

Patients: New 6; old 58; Discharged 5; died 0.

Number of visits to patients homes, 91; number of co-operative visits, 56; one patient went to Easton hospital; cases of tuberculosis and suspicious tuberculosis being carried, 14; Dr. W. A. Bridges, Medical Representative of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association held a clinic at which 4 patients were examined. Three of these were found negative for tuberculosis and Sanitorium treatment was recommended for the 4th. The latter was taken to Eudowood Sanitorium January 28th, 1920; an outdoor shack is being erected for a colored patient; visits to schools, 13; follow up visits in homes of school children, 12; school children examined, 118; number found 7 per cent. or more underweight, 41; number having enlarged tonsils, 47; number with defective eyesight, 33; number with teeth in poor condition, 70; number complaining of ear troubles, 4; attended a conference of the Md. Public Health Nurses' Association in Baltimore, January 29-30th. In the morning of Jan. 29th a most interesting session was held in which all of the County Nurses' took part, giving an account of their problems. The most serious common problem seems to be the care of the colored tuberculosis patient. A colored crippled child was brought home from the Mercy hospital where he had been for six months. When he went there he was unable to walk, at present with the aid of a brace he is walking very well; seven meetings were attended, two in the interest of federating Charities and two in the interest of hot lunches at the Chestertown Primary school; hot lunches have been started with much success in the school mentioned above and also the Pomona school.
