LOCAL MATTERS

Rural Carriers To Leave Earlier—Beginning Monday, Sept. 16, the local rural letter carriers will leave to serve their mail at 10 a. m. Mail must be in the Chestertown office by 9.30 to go out on this delivery. This change is made possible by the truck service.

School Notes—A meeting of all the school teachers of the county will be held at Chestertown on Sept. 10 and 11. The Kent county Board of Education has appointed Miss F. E. Kellog, of Delaware, Ohio, supervisor of rural schools of the county. Prof. R. S. A. Gladden, of Annapolis, has been appointed principal of Galena High School.

Buy Season Tickets—Here are five good reasons for buying "season tickets" for Chautauqua next week: 1, they are cheap; 2, they are transferable; 3, they admit to all sessions; 4, they enable our children to have a special week of wholesome pleasure; 5, they provide the only way for our people to support their guarantors.

Immigrants Pouring Into This Country—At least 25,000 immigrants a week are expected soon to begin passing through Ellis Island, according to F. A. Wallis, immigration commissioner. Steamship companies have reported, he said, that the incoming tide for the next few years will be limited only by the capacity of the westbound ships.

Fire Scare At Rock Hall—On Tuesday afternoon the apartment of Capt. James Downey, over the postoffice at Rock Hall, took fire from an oil stove. No one was at home at the time except the daughter, Mary, who upon discovering the fire called Mrs. Susan Carter, whose dwelling adjoins. The alarm was given and the volunteer fire department soon extinguished the flames, which threatened to do considerable damage.

May Play Dry Docks Again—Mr. Harry Graham, treasurer of the Chestertown Baseball Club, has about arranged another game with the Baltimore Dry Docks to be played here on September 18. If this game is scheduled another minor game will be played previous to this game to get the team in shape for the big game. This date falls on Saturday, and as the Kent county fans are anxious for another game between the two teams, a larger crowd than the one previous would likely be on hand.

Tomatoes Rotting In Kent Fields—Many farmers in Kent county are letting their tomatoes rot in the fields. They claim that the price offered will not justify the picking of them. Tomato growers in the vicinity of Buck Neck have entered suit against D. E. Foote & Co., canners, to recover $62,000, the appraisement of the total acreage in tomatoes contracted for by the farmers who are participants in the suit. Messrs. Linwood A. Sutton, J. Page Gale and Harry H. Legg have been appointed appraisers.

Wheat Field To Biscut Pan In 55 Minutes.—Transformation of wheat from standing grain to hot biscuits in 55 minutes is a record established in Kansas recently by Harry Huff, head of a local milling company. He drove into a field where a farmer was harvesting wheat with a harvester-thresher, which cuts and threshes the grain in one operation and took two bushels of wheat. This he rushed to the mill where it was ground immediately, then took the flour home and Mrs. Huff made biscuits. From the time the grain was cut to the first bite of biscuit was 5 minutes less than an hour, including 32 minutes spent on the road.

Kent County War Records—Does Kent county want to be left out? Does old Kent want the records of her boys in the Army and Navy left out of the Maryland History? The Maryland History is being written now. Many of the boys of the other counties of the state have given the records of their war service to the historical committee. Kent County is far behind! A new Historical Committee has just been formed in Kent. We want the name of every boy who went into the war from this county to be written in this history. The history will be published soon. Will your name be there? If your children or grandchildren look over this history and your name is not there, they will be ashamed and say my father or grandfather was a slacker. You owe it to your family to write your war service in this book. We want the names of all men and women, who stayed at home and worked hard for the war to go in this history also. Think about what you did to help win the war. We will call on you for this.—Historical Committee.

Kent Boys At State Fair—Kent Co. will be represented at Timonium by the following young men, who will be members of the Boys' Club Dairy Cattle Judging Contest: Stanley Sutton, Chestertown; Thomas Bonwill, Still Pond; and William Medders, Still Pond. County Agent Derrick has been instructing this team. Numeorus cows in the herds of Mr. N. V. Walters, Eugene Bonwill, Dr. Urie and John H. Clendaniel have been judged by the boys with good results. County Agent Derrick took the boys to Timonium Thursday. The judging was done yesterday.

LOCAL ITEMS OF INTEREST

—Delaware is said to be the "dryest" state in the union.

—The Tolchester Co. has a change of schedule in this issue.

—Washington College opens for the fall term on September 15.

—The season at Tolchester closes next Tuesday, September 7.

—Mr. H. F. Jefferson is now laying in his fall and winter stock.

—The season for tonging oysters in Kent waters opened September 1.

—Mr. Julian Coleman has been appointed one of the mail carriers of Chestertown.

—Monday next is Labor Day and a legal holiday. All banks and public offices will be closed.

—The state of Washington has shown the greatest population gains of any state in the union.

—While riding on the switch back at Tolchester on Monday three women and a child were injured when the same upset.

—Mr. Abe Cohen's big store at Sandy Bottom will be closed September 13 and 14 on account of the Jewish holidays.

—Mr. E. R. Anthony is having his home in Queen Annes beautified by a coat of paint. Mr. Frank Howard is doing the work.

—The local cannery is paying 40 cents per basket for tomatoes, while 20 cents per basket it being paid on the open market.

—Mr. James Allen will move to Chestertown and reside in his house on High street now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Bacon.

—Mr. Wm. G. Smyth has purchased the home farm of the late Geo. W. Hatcherson, situated near Fairlee, at a price said to be $18,500.

—Mr. and Mrs. Beauregard Lewis have purchased a building lot adjoining the property of Mr. Widups, at Betterton, and will erect a fine home thereon.

—Dr. F. Finehart, who is stopping at Pippin's Hotel, was knocked down by an auto in Queen Anne's the other day. The auto driver did not even stop the car.

—The Kent schools open September 13. Parents having children to begin this fall should have them vaccinnated now in order to be ready for the beginning of the term.

—The Rock Hall-Love Point Ferry is a big success and is growing more popular every week. The business of the Ferry has increased 400 per cent during the past few weeks.

—Mr. John Leager has rented the Travilla farm now occupied by Mr. Thomas White. Mr. Claude Blackiston has rented the Lockwood farm, near Massey, formerly tenanted by Mr. Mullen.

—You wont be satisfied unless you have a season ticket for the Chautauqua. So get busy and have your money ready. Junior tickets for the whole thing only cost a dollar and the adults may go to all sessions for $2.50.

—Mr. John Cox, a farmer residing near Locust Grove, this county, was badly injured on Tuesday by being run into by a large auto on the state road near Chesapeake City. He was taken to a Wilmington Hospital.

—Mr. Fred Pippin, of near Fairlee, one of the efficient salesman in Graham & Thomas' hardware store, brought in several baskets of the largest apples we ever saw this week. They resemble somewhat the York Imperial.

—Mr. Ollie Estes says the published report that he is making a fight for game warden of Kent county is absolutely unfounded. Mr. Estes says he did not even know there was such an office and would not have it under any considerations.

—The Maryland Conservation Commission has reappointed G. F. Akers, of Rock Hall, commander of the First District, power-boat Kent. John Anderson, of Cecilton, and Summerfield Tilghman, of Queen Anne's, were named as game wardens. John H. Thomas was appointed special oyster inspector at Kent Island.

—Kent county is enjoying a touch of real September weather. With the air crisp and the leaves falling, the autumn season appears to be at hand.

—A wagon load of fine peaches and Bartlett pears came to Chestertown Monday afternoon and its cargo sold at $1.25 per basket for the peaches and 75 cents a basket for the pears.

—The little son of A. C. Bradley ran into an automobile on his bicycle in Church Hill Saturday afternoon and was thrown from his wheel and badly hurt. He was taken to a hospital.

—Mr. George Baldwin has recently sold to the following Empire milking machines: Elwood Morris, Raymond Hudson, Walter Wright, of near town, and Wilmer Ford, of near Kennedyville.

—The Salisbury Baseball Team, coached by Dr. A. B. Burris, who helped to make the baseball history of Chestertown illustrous in past years, and made up largely of Chestertown players, is beating all the clubs down the shore.

—On page 8 of this issue there appears a full-page advertisement for Mr. C. A. Goodwin, dealer in Ford autos and Fordson tractors. Mr. Goodwin is offering a particularly attractive proposition to Ford owners in the way of a "Ford Owners' Super-Service Club." All farmers interested in tractors, as well as owners of Ford cars should read this adv.

—A large fish, weighing around 35 pounds, which is strange in these waters, was caught by Mr. H. C. Brown on Tuesday while fishing with a party of Chestertown gentlemen near Hail Point. Some think it is of the "Stingaree" species, having a large body, with side "flappers" like a seal and a round tail about 2 1-2 feet long about the size of a lead pencil. It required considerable effort to land the big fish.

—Charles W. Miller, of Millington, is another Kent boy who has made good. He passed the examinations held on Thursday, Aug. 26, for sergeant of the railroad police with an average of 96 1-2, which pays $2500 a year. Mr. Miller worked for the Maryland S. P. C. A. before going with railroad and has a record hard to beat. He is the youngest officer on the force, being but 26 years old. He will take up his new duties Sept. 15 and will be stationed at the Curtis Bay yards.

—An increase of $15 a ton in print paper prices was announced Thursday by the International Paper Company in its scale for the fourth quarter of the current year. The price for the current quarter was $115 a ton and the increase as announced will make the price $130 a ton for roll news print in carload lots, f. o. b. mill. The price of flat news print will be increased also. Contract prices for news print are adjusted each quarter by the International Company.

GOVERNOR TO CALL EXTRA SESSION

September 20 Decided Upon As The Date To Convene

Governor Ritchie has decided to call an extra session of the Maryland Legislature to enact laws to provide for registering the women of the state so they can vote in November. It is generally believed the two days allowed under the present law for registration would not give time to register the women voters and in order to extend the time it will be necessary to have legislative enactment. The Governor says: "In the counties there are two registration days of eleven hours each, or 22 hours in all. If one woman were registered every five minutes, then the total number registered in the two days would be 264. This is on the assumption of no delay whatever, with every woman ready and waiting her turn, and with the officials having nothing to do but register women; that is, no men to register and no transfers to be made out."

DEATHS

The death of Miss Annie Bramble, formerly of Kent county, occurred on Monday night at Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va., from paralysis, aged about 60 years. She was the daughter of the late Henry Bramble and spent most of her life on a farm near Fairlee, where she was known by nearly every one. She is survived by the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Geo. E. Noland, of Chestertown; Mrs. Bartus Wilkins, of Delaware City; Misses Lillie and Rose, of Baltimore; and Miss Ida, of Lynchburg; Geo. W., of Baltimore Co., and T. H. M. Bramble, of Fairlee. The remains were brought to Kent via Tolchester Wednesday and interred in Chester cemetery, Rev. Mr. West officiating. The bearers were: Robert Moffett, W. G. Smyth, Richard A. Smyth, J. F. Wheatley, G. R. Rouse, M. P. Lee. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Howard Dorsey, infant son of Edward T. and Olevia Dorsey, died at the residence of his parents, in Chestertown, Tuesday night, Sept. 1, aged 1 year. Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at 3 p. m., interment in Chester cemetery. Rev. Mr. Gibson officiated. C. L. Dodd undertaker.

Geneva M. Simpler, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Simpler, of Chestertown, died Thursday night, aged one year. Funeral Saturday at 10 a. m., interment in Chester cemetery. Rev. Mr. Gibson will officiate. Undertaker C. L. Dodd.

Summer Days

Beautiful day, with thy sunny smile,
Why wilt thou die so soon?
Linger, I pray thee, linger awhile,
Lengthen this summer noon.
Tomorrow a dreary day may be,
Tomorrow may bring pain,
Tomorrow may bring no joy to me,
But sorrow's chilling rain.
I hear thee laugh like a chime of bells;
"Ah, child, I cannot stay
For see the lengthening shadow tells
That I must pass away.
In the morrow's rain remember me,
And think of these bright flowers;
Let not this beauty be lost to thee,
Thinking of dreary hours.
Enjoy today; the past has fled
Ne'er to return again.
Dream not of future; of days long dead;
For learn: all dreams are vain.
Thy dreams are vain; the flowers must die;
Fade must the fair, green sod;
Go, bravely on with a song, not sigh;
Leave thou the rest to God."

Bezazian Hero of New Orleans Opera Fire

Famous Baritone Disinherited for Art's Sake

In the recent fire which destroyed the New Orleans Grand Opera House, one of the heroes was Torcom Bezazian, who will appear with the International Artists on the coming Chautauqua program.

Living near the building he was awakened by commotion, and together with the tenor, Periese, they rushed to the burning theatre, pushed their way inside hoping to get to the rooms where their costumes were kept. Defeated in their purpose by the flames they broke into the orchestra room and saved a number of valuable instruments and scores. By the time they were able to get outside the building they were nearly overcome by smoke. Bezazian's entire wardrobe was destroyed.

Bezazian is a native of France, and is a graduate of the University at Nancy, where he studied engineering. At the same time he took a course in clarinet at the conservatory of Nancy, where he also received a diploma. Discovering that he possessed a voice, he chose an artistic career for which he was promptly disinherited by his people, a wealthy and prominent family. Then followed devious wanderings, and Bezazian came to the United States. During the early part of the war he was invited to sing at a Red Cross meeting in Columbus, Ohio. He chose to sing "The Marseillaise," and on that occasion, says the Columbus Ohio State Journal, "two hundred able-bodied Americans, hard-headed business men, for the most part, had to wipe their eyes when Bezazian threw out the tremendous phrases of the great battle air with his big baritone voice." Any way, inspired by Bezazian's song, those unsentimental business men went down into their pockets to the extent of $60,000 for the Red Cross at that time.

With M. Bezazian will be Mme. Alberta Carina, famous coloratura soprano of the San Francisco Opera Company, Marion Jordan, exceptional flutist, and Edna Jones, pianist. Misses Jordan and Jones have a distinguished standing among the musicians who appear on the Lyceum and Chautauqua platforms.

Following their musical prelude, Edward Amherst Ott will give his stirring lecture, "Victory," in which he asks the question, "Re-construction or Real-construction?"
