PRODUCTION NOT REDUCTION

Is What the World Seeks

PRICES of some things have been temporarily reduced; prices of other commodities remain about as they have been for months past. So long as people leave the farms to flock to the already overcrowded cities, creating an acute shortage of housing facilities, prices for building materials are likely to remain about on the present level.

IF DEMAND continues to exceed supply, you will be able to build as cheaply now as you can later in the year. Whatever your problem may be it will pay you to come in and talk over your plans, to get estimates. Remember that our architectural service is at your disposal entirely free of charge. And we can at least get acquainted.

PRODUCTION is about the only thing that will bring prices of anything down to a permanent lower level. If you can foresee increased production in all industrial lines, you might wait: but if you can't see larger supplies for the future, don't take a chance. Come in today.

STATE SCHOLARSHIPS IN ENGINEERING COURSES

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS for the Department of Engineering, as well as for the College of Arts and Sciences, will be held in the Civil Engineering Building, Homewood, Monday-Thursday, September 13-16, 1920, beginning at 9 a. m. each day.

APPLICATIONS FOR SCHOLARSHIPS IN THE DEPARTMENT OF ENGINEERING established under the provisions of the Laws of Maryland, Chapter 90, 1912, will now be received. If there is more than one applicant for a particular scholarship, a competitive examination must be taken Friday, September 17, 1920, beginning at 9 a. m. Appointments will be made soon thereafter.

Each Legislative District of Baltimore City and each County of the State, with the exception of Harford, Talbot, and Worcester Counties, will be entitled to one or more scholarships for the year 1920-1921, in addition to those which have already been assigned. In the counties mentioned above, all the available scholarships have been awarded.

Under the provisions of the Act of Assembly, the County and City Scholarships in the Department of Engineering are awarded only to deserving students whose financial circumstances are such that they are unable to obtain an education in Engineering unless free tuition be granted to them. The scholarships entitle the holders to free tuition, free use of text-books, and exemption from all regular fees. One of the scholarships in each county and in each Legislative District of the City carries also the sum of $200.

Scholarships may be awarded to graduates of Loyola College, St. John's College, Washington College, Western Maryland College, Maryland Agricultural College, Mt. St. Mary's College, Rock Hill College.

REALM OF SPORT

Coach J. Thomas Kibler and Frank Baker played with Upland Saturday against a Philadelphia industrial league team. Upland won by the score of 11 to 5. Both Kiber and Baker hit the ball hard.

The Baltimore Dry Dock baseball team toyed with Greensboro Saturday and won by the score of 6 to 4. A number from Chestertown were present. Brittingham was on the mound for Greensboro and pitched a good game, but was given poor support at many stages of the game.

The Salisbury baseball team disbanded on Saturday and have had a good season. Gordy came back to the college Sunday night and the other boys arrived during the week. Several "independent" games were played by Salisbury during the past week.

Wherever the New York Yankees may happen to finish in the pennant race, they will close out the season with at least one notable record to their credit—the record of having displayed their "wares" before a larger number of fans than any other club in the 50 years of baseball history. Their turnstile mark for the year—both at home and abroad—will be closer to 3,000,000 than to 2,000,000. Only a few years ago less than 2,000,000 paid admissions were recorded for an entire league. When you figure this number for one lone ball club you can gather some idea of the great growth of the national game.

In the great baseball graveyard called the past lie most of the idols of the sport. A few years ago Lajoie and Wagner trod the boards, and the echoes of their work with the stick resounded around the world; then for a ten years the luster from the Cobb star gleamed on the baseball horizon, while Lajoie and Wagner grew dimmer and dimmer, until finally their stars went out, and only the record of the sport chronicles the fact that once they held the center of the stage. Then Cobb's star set, and the archives of baseball recorded the fact—that's all. Now the horizon is lighted again by another star—Ruth—whose fame takes the front page. Soon his star will give a last glowing flicker. Then Father Time, who shows no favorites, will write another name and another record in the archives.

With the opening of Washington College, last Monday, the eyes of all local lovers of football are turned toward the green sward in anticipation of the coming season. Coach Kibler will have better material this year with which to build a team than he did last year. The season this year will be short, only six games being on the regular schedule. Football always occupies an important place in the life of every college and this year will be no exception to the years of the past. The first game of the season will be Saturday, October 9, with Mt. St. Mary's at Homewood. The other games are: Drexel Institute, at Chestertown; Baltimore Polytechnic Inst., at Chestertown; Western Maryland, at Westminster; University of Maryland at College Park; Penn. Military Academy, at Chestertown.

"Gladys H," the fine racing horse belonging to Mr. Geo. E. Sutton, of Worton, was sold last week at the Wilmington Fair by the owner for $1000.

Baltimore won the pennant in the International League again this year. The attendance for the year was good, and it seems a pity to us that Baltimore should not have a franchise in a big league. Baseball lovers on the Eastern Shore pay very little attention to International League games, but if Baltimore was in either of the big leagues many of our fans would see the games.

MILLINGTON

Mr. Edgar T. Stevens is visiting relatives at Hillsboro this week.

Mr. Fred Marton, aged 30 years, died on Sunday last at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Corbett Jones, after a long illness. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. O. H. Connelly and interment made in Millington cemetery. J. A. Tobin undertaker.

Mrs. John T. Slaughter spent last week with relatives at Conshohocken, Pa.

Mrs. Sallie Nickerson (nee Hazel) died on Tuesday at 3 p. m. at her late home in Millington after a long illness. She is survived by two sons, Howard and William Nickerson and one daughter, Mrs. May Hopkins. Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon and interment made in Millington cemetery.

Miss Mary E. Numbers left last Saturday morning for Northampton, Mass., where she resums her duties as teacher in Clarke School.

Miss Mollie Everett left for Wilmington last week where she has accepted a position as trained nurse.

Our cannery filled all its cans and closed last week, making a very short run and closing the local market for tomatoes.

Mr. Joseph Hyde, Mr. Horace Platt and two daughters, Misses Charlotte and Isabelle Platt, of Philadelphia, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Everett last Sunday.

Services tomorrow, Sept. 26, at Trinity M. E. Church, South, will be as follows: 2 p. m., S. S.; 3 p. m., preaching by the pastor Rev. G. W. Staples. Thursday evening, at 8 p. m., prayer meeting. All are cordially welcome at these services.

—As the time for frost approaches, the tomato market has begun to rise and growers are receiving 25 cents a basket at the wharves. Mr. W. W. Baldwin continues to pay 40 cents. By so doing he has saved Kent farmers thousands of dollars, at a great loss to himself. While Mr. Baldwin's loss is likely to be well up into the thousands of dollars, he has gained the respect and unbounded confidence of every man in Kent county.

Out Where The West Begins

By Arthur Chapman

Out where the handclasp's a little stronger,
Out where the smile dwells a little longer,
That's where the West begins.
Out where the sun is a little brighter,
Where the snows that fall are a trifle whiter,
Where the bonds of home are a wee bit tighter,
That's where the West begins.

Out where the skies are a trifle bluer,
Out where friendship's a little truer,
That's where the West begins.
Out where a fresher breeze is blowing,
Where there's laughter in every streamlet flowing,
Where there's more of reaping and less of sowing,
That's where the West begins.

Out where the world is in the making,
Where fewer hearts with despair are aching,
That's where the West begins.
Where there is more of singing and less of sighing,
Where there is more of giving and less of buying,
And a man makes friends without half trying,
That's where the West begins.

DEMOCRATS EXPECT TO GAIN

Believe They Will Greatly Increase Their Representation In The Next Congress

Democratic managers of the Congressional campaign, working independently of the party's national committee, report that conditions are favorable for greatly increased Democratic representation in the next Congress. At present the Democrats hold 190 seats in the House and the Republicans 234, while there are seven vacancies and four members classed as independents.

Representatives Henry D. Flood, chairman of the Congressional committee, returned recently from a trip in the south and middle west. He said that the Democrats would increase their representation in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, New Jersey and Illinois, and would not lose more than half a dozen seats now occupied by Democrats.

Reports which have come to the headquarters indicate that large industrial centers, which in times past have returned Republicans, were strongly swinging to the Democratic party. The Democrats, it is believed will benefit by voting among labor union members and liberals in the communities. The Democrats do not expect so strong a drift in the distinctly agricultural sections.

In the opinion of Mr. Flood the Democratic chances of increasing their vote in the House are not being affected by the general situation. He declined to explain just what these conditions were aside from saying that they were local and represented disaffection with the attitude of Republican Congressmen on recent legislation.

As to reports coming to Republican headquarters that the Democratic prospects in certain Southern States, such as Maryland and Kentucky, were being threatened by a registration of negro women greater than that of white women, Mr. Flood said that investigation made by his committee showed that this was not true. Negro women, he said, were being registered and thereby qualified to vote in the same proportion as negro men.

In the next few weeks Secretaries Colby, Baker, Wilson and Attorney-General Palmer will join the Democratic campaign speakers.

Kent County School Notes

The films shown in the Lyceum last week of views pertaining to life at the State Normal School were so attractive that it is hoped that many not acquainted with this institution will get acquainted with it.

The Athletic Association began its work last week by the annual election of officers. The following were selected: Pres., Norman Crow, class of 1922; V. P., Walter McGinnes, class of 1921; Treas., Mark Creasy. Practice has begun and it is hoped to make this a banner year in the history of the school.

The colored schools of the county will open October 4.

Miss Mary Rouse has been appointed teacher of Millington high school.

Mr. George A. L. Jones, secretary of the Henry Watson Children's Aid of Baltimore, also secretary of the State Children's Aid Society, made an address at the Chestertown High School on Monday in the interest of the children of the county and explained the manner of organization and likely some steps will be taken to form a society in this county. The object of the organization is to increase attendance.

Found Whisky Buried—One of the biggest hauls in a whisky raid ever known in lower Delaware was pulled off Monday afternoon by Federal Officer Howard and Chief of Police Lane, of Dover, with the assistance of William Cassons, of Dover, and Caesar Rodney Comegys, of West Dover, who provided the officers with automobiles. The raid was on the farm of Angelo Dorutto, near Hartley, Del., where more than 400 quarts of liquor were found in many hiding places, in bottles bearing well-known labels, besides two cans of "dope" used in making a preparation with a "kick" in it. Many of the bottles bore seals as if coming from bonded warehouses. The farm had been under suspicion for some weeks.
