PRODUCTION NOT REDUCTION

Is What the World Seeks

PRICES of some things have been temporarily reduced; prices of other commodities remain about as they have been for months past. So long as people leave the farms to flock to the already overcrowded cities, creating an acute shortage of housing facilities, prices for building materials are likely to remain about on the present level.

IF DEMAND continues to exceed supply, you will be able to build as cheaply now as you can later in the year. Whatever your problem may be it will pay you to come in and talk over your plans, to get estimates. Remember that our architectural service is at your disposal entirely free of charge. And we can at least get acquainted.

PRODUCTION is about the only thing that will bring prices of anything down to a permanent lower level. If you can foresee increased production in all industrial lines, you might wait: but if you can't see larger supplies for the future, don't take a chance. Come in today.

CHRISTMAS SEALS ON SALE

As Many As Possible Will Be Sold This Year To Help The Good Cause Along

Organization has already been begun in the towns and counties of Maryland for the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals. Already, prominent women in every community are making preparations to sell as many of these as they can, by personal solicitation. The stores have announced their willingness to help by placing them on sale; the women's clubs all over the state are eagerly lending their aid to the good cause, and even some of the school children have announced their intention of contributing their mite by investing their pennies in the brightly colored seals and urging their companions to do the same.

Heretofore, the little stamps have been known to many people as Red Cross stamps, and they have been bought and used with the idea that in doing so they were helping that great international organization. This year when they see the stamps they will find that instead of bearing the Red Cross they are adorned with a double-barred cross, the insignia of a work that touches every home and is of first importance to every individual in the state.

The money secured from the sale of Christmas Seals forms the only source of income of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, that wonderful society which seeks to protect every man and woman and child among its inhabitants from the most insidious danger with which they are confronted in their daily life.

The funds so obtained pay the salaries of the tuberculosis nurses and of the industrial workers who co-oprate with the factory and mill to see that they are healthful for the workers; they help to support the sanitoria to which very sick tuberculosis patients are taken; help in many ways, indeed, to reduce the appalling mortality from this most prevalent of diseases.

During other Christmas seasons the people in the counties of Maryland, appreciating the work of the state's Tuberculosis Association, and seeing the necessity for the raising of more money for its use, have bought generously of seals. If the preliminary preparations for the work this year are any indication, the sale of Christmas Seals will be greater than ever before.

The Association is sending workers to the counties to assist in organizing for the sale, and in any neighborhood where assistance is needed these persons may be depended upon to render first aid or last aid as the case may be. Their services may be had by applying to the headquarters of the Maryland Association at 704 North Howard Street, Baltimore.

It goes without saying that a sum sufficient for the needs of the state in this work may be secured if everyone in it invests even a few dimes in seals. After the first of December one of these should decorate every letter, every bill, every package which goes through the mails.

Why?

Why because of these facts: Last year in Maryland 2361 persons died of tuberculosis.

The chief victims of tuberculosis are producers, men and women between the ages of 15 and 45.

Each penny which is spent for a Christmas Seal is used to finance the fight against this awful disease, and helps to stamp it out.

The sale of seals is held at Christmas because each one bought by an individual is a Christmas gift to the community in which he lives; one of the cheeriest and merriest Christmas gifts he can possibly contribute to his town.

The active work of selling seals will commence on the first of December, but from this date on orders may be placed for them, by forehanded persons who wish to get their Christmas packages ready for mailing, or by merchants who wish to brighten a corner of their bills by stamping them with a seal.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of my dear mother, Emma L. Newcomb, who fell asleep in Jesus three years ago today, November 18, 1920.

You are not forgotten, mother dear,
As you rest beneath the sod,
For my thoughts will always linger
Around the grave where you are sleeping.

No one knows how much I miss you,
No one knows the tears I shed,
But in Heaven I hope to meet you,
Where no farewell words are said.

DAUGHTER IDA.

In memory of my dear grandmother, Emma L. Newcomb, who departed this life three years ago today, November 18, 1920.

My heart today is sad and lonely,
And my thoughts are always of you,
How I love you and how I miss you,
No one but God in Heaven knows.

It is a beautiful belief,
That ever around our head,
Are hovering with noiseless wings,
The Spirit of the dead.

BERTHA.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Thedford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.— The efficiency of Thedford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr Parsons describes —valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes.

Always ask for Thedford's. E 68
