THE TRANSCRIPT

Entered at the Postoffice at Chestertown, Md., as Second Class Matter.

THERE are seven avowed candidates for Register of Wills in Cecil county.

THE announcement of State Comptroller E. Brooke Lee that he will not be candidate for re-election as Comptroller of the State, was a big surprise to the Democratic leaders and Mr. Lee's friends. Mr. Lee made this statement at a large and enthusiastic banquet given by the Junior Democratic Club of Frederick county, at Frederick, Md., Thursday evening. It will be hard to find a candidate that will appeal to the Democratic voters of this state as strongly as would Mr. Lee.

FOR the first time in the history of the world, armies have invaded German territory without resistance at arms of that country. The Allied armies this week took possession of several of Germany's large cities without a shot being fired. This action on the part of the Allies was to compel Germany to conform to the terms set forth by the League of Nations. Orders have been served on Austria by the Allies to surrender at once all military material and it is understood the Austrian Cabinet has agreed to comply with the demand unreservedly.

A PROPER MOVE

Federal Government To Take Control Of Crabs and Fish

To all who have been interested in crabs and fish have observed for some years that it would be necessary for the government to take control of this industry, if our crabs and fish are to be protected. Congressman Charles J. Linthicum has introduced a bill in Congress looking to the protection of crabs and fish. The following article appeared in a recent issue of the Baltimore Sun:

"Considerable interest is being manifested in Crisfield concerning the migratory fish bill which Congressman Linthicum has introduced in Congress, and which would place the crab and fish industries of the Chesapeake bay under control of the federal government. The intent of the bill is to conserve crabs and fish. Representative Linthicum's reason for his belief that federal control is necessary is that there is a lack of concurrent legislation between Maryland and Virginia. The female crab is being destroyed and Chesapeake shad is becoming extinct as a result, it is said.

It is said the crabbing business of Maryland has lessened 50 per cent in the last five years, because of the taking of the female crab during hibernation in the waters of Virginia. The female crab resorts to the waters around the capes during the winter season, where she hibernates until she moves north again in the spring, but the male crab remains in Maryland waters. The Virginia crabbers for some years have been catching the femal crab by dredging during the winter, it is said.

The proposed bill would place under control of the Department of Commerce all those kinds of fish which travel from one state to another, so that no state could be so destructive to the seafood industry as to affect the other states.

CLIFFS

MARYLAND DAY

NOTICE

IMPORTANT TO ALL RESIDENTS OF KENT COUNTY

Department of Roads and Bridges

KENT COUNTY, MARYLAND

Maryland Day, a legal holiday, Friday, March 25, has been set aside for Good Roads Day in this county. Owing to heavy automobile traffic that we have, now that good weather is here, it is necessary that the road and bridges be gotten in first-class condition, so that the traveling public will get advantage of good roads and bridges to travel over in safety. Therefore, the roads engineer asks all Kent County residents to lend him a helping hand and devote one day to work on the roads and bridges throughout the county. It is impossible for the roads engineer and his forces to fix all the bad places at once and will take some time to get them repaired, and by devoting one day each year in the spring to roads and bridges the public will be doing a big thing towards helping in the upkeep of the traveled roads and small bridges.

Wherever you know of a bad piece of road or a small trunk that is in bad shape go to that particular place on Good Roads Day and do what you think is best to repair it. Use your own good judgment and you will find that lots of good work will be done and by everybody taking a hand in the work the results will be surprising.

The roads engineer will be glad to explain the plan in general to everyone, and will in person drive over the roads on Goods Roads Day and give any advice he is able to.

Good Roads Day has been successful in lots of other states and has been successful here in Kent County, as shown by the people that turned out on Maryland Day last year.

The traveling public will be more than pleased with the results and will look forward each spring to the one day that will be set aside for Good Roads Day in this county.

Would suggest that the women make up nice lunches for all and carry the lunches out to the men that are doing the work, which will greatly increase the efficiency of the plan.

Particular attention must be paid to all ditches and now is the time to open up that particular ditch that you have always thought should be done in order to properly drain that bad piece of road. Wherever you can find sand haul it to the clay sections and spread. Put gravel in the holes and they will hold. On the necks where shells are available plug the holes with shells. Through roads where there are woods cut around the curves so as to make the road safe for travel. Fill the low place good and high. Put your teams on for the day and haul material.

Use any kind of drag that you can get and drag the roads good.

I respectfully ask the full co-operation of the Automobile Club of Kent County and they can help by going out on the roads with a shovel and do their bit.

In case Maryland Day is rainy and unfit for work take the next good day.

GAULT APPLEGARTH,
Roads Engineer.
