The Origin of Petroleum.

Professor Medelejef has advanced the theory that petroleum is of mineral origin, and that its production is going on and may continue almost indefinitely. He has succeeded in making it artificially by a similar process to that which he believes is going on in the earth; and experts find it impossible to distinguish between the natural and the manufactured article. His hypothesis is that water finds its way below the crust of the earth, and then meets with carbides of metals (particularly iron) in a glowing state. The water is decomposed into its constituent gases. The oxygen unites with the iron, while the hydrogen takes up the carbon and ascends to a higher region, where part of it is condensed into mineral oil, and part remains as natural gas, to escape where it can find an outlet, or to remain stored at great pressure until a bore-hole is put down to provide it a passage to the surface. Oil-bearing strata occur in the vicinity of mountain ranges; and it is supposed that the upheaval of the hills has sufficiently dislocated the strata below to give the water access to depths from which it is ordinarily shut out.

A bushel of corn distilled will make four gallons of whiskey. Government tax on four gallons of whiskey, $3.60. The whiskey made ripe and old by the new Jay Eye See rapid process, sells rapidly for $4 per gallon, making $16 for four gallons. Of this $16 the farmer gets 25 cents; the Government gets $3.60; the railroad gets $2; the manufacturer gets $4; the vender gets $6.25; the user gets the "devil"; while the tax payer and producer foot the bill from the earnings of honest toil not connected with the whiskey trade.—Exchange.

In the course of advice to small dairymen a writer says that butter made from perfectly sweet cream will not retain its keeping qualities as well as that where the cream is allowed to become slightly acid. It should be kept thoroughly stirred while gathering enough for a churning, and churned at a temperature of 60° in winter and 58° in summer.

The old method of salting the asparagus bed is not now approved of by our best gardeners. The salt kills the weeds but does not really benefit the asparagus. One of the best special fertilizers is soapsuds, which, being in liquid form, find their way to the roots of the plants. Soapsuds are also excellent for celery.

1888.

THE MORNING HERALD.

$3.00 a Year.
$1.65 Six Mos.
30c. a Month.

Postage Paid.

The rapid advance made by The Morning Herald during the past year, has been a marvel to all familiar with the subject. Not only has the volume of advertising been immensely large, but the increase in circulation is without a precedent in the history of Baltimore journalism. The cause of this is apparent. The Morning Herald was a better paper in 1887 than in the preceding year. It will be a better paper in 1888 than in 1887. It will continue to be the cheapest of the dailies—one cent being the price. It publishes all the Associated Press News. It has a complete corps of correspondents throughout Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Southern Pennsylvania and other States, thus being able to promptly furnish the news for a widely extended region. Its LOCAL NEWS is preeminently the fullest and most accurate of any Baltimore daily. Its Washington Correspondence is bright, and covers the vast field of National Politics which center at the National Capital. It proposes to publish the most exhaustive and comprehensive reports of legislative doings at Annapolis. It is absolutely independent in politics. Its utterances upon public topics are impartial and fearless. It is cheap, able, bright. These are the reasons for the constantly increasing popularity of The Morning Herald.

THE SUNDAY HERALD.

$1.50 a Year.

Postage Paid.

There is no Sunday paper in any city of the Union, the pages of which are more replete with news, with bright contributions, with able articles especially prepared by writers of national distinction, and with letters on engrossing topics from the leading literateurs of the day. The Sunday Herald is acknowledged to be the gem of Baltimore journalism. Its special cable reports are more complete than those of any paper south of New York. It is the only Baltimore paper that publishes a regular letter from Richmond, the only one that publishes full reports of Society events throughout Maryland and Virginia. Its sporting news is noticeably superior to that of all rivals, and it excels in all the elements that go to make up an attractive, able and readable Sunday journal.

THE WEEKLY HERALD.

50c. a Year.

Postage Paid.

EIGHT PAGES.

The Weekly Herald is indisputably the cheapest weekly published in the United States. It consists of eight pages almost entirely devoted to reading matter. Each issue contains a whole page of Maryland news. A full synopsis of the debates in Congress, the laws passed, Senate and House proceedings, and the cream of the news from the National Capital. It will, as usual, publish each week the Talmage sermon, together with a long list of contributions from leading writers. Its market reports are unexcelled for completeness and reliability. Its literary department is bright: It is the paper for the home and the shop, the farmer, the merchant, the lawyer, the artisan, and for all who want the best paper for the price ever published.

At great expense, a complete Art Department has been added to the equipments of the Herald Publishing Company, and, beginning the fourth week in January, the pages of each edition of the paper will be replete with illustrated articles and sketches. The illustration of the important news of the day has grown to be a necessity which has been promptly recognized by The Morning Herald without regard to outlay.
