A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Chestertown people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mrs. Romie E. Patrick, of High St., endorsed Doan's four years ago and again confirms the story. Ask your neighbor. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

"I was in a bad way with a run down condition of my kidneys," says Mrs. Patrick. "My back ached and my kidneys were too free in action, causing annoyance. It seemed as if weights were tied to my back and were pulling me down. I felt tired all the time and was in a miserable condition. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in our family for several years, so I started to take them. I used about one box and the trouble was entirely gone. Since Doan's cured me, I can recommend them highly. I generally bought this excellent remedy at Toulson's Drug Store." (Statement given Aug. 16, 1916.)

On January 26, 1921, Mrs. Patrick added: "I never miss a chance to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, since they cured me of kidney complaint several years ago. I have had no return of the trouble. I know there is nothing better for anyone having weak kidneys than Doan's."

In Some Town Not Far Away

You have friends—folks you care for a great deal—folks you often think about.

You don't see them as frequently as you would like to.

Why don't you TALK to them—by TELEPHONE— once in a while?

Call them up by long distance. They'll be just as glad to hear from you as you will be to talk with them. There's double satisfaction in a telephone trip.

The rates are very reasonable.

Your telephone directory tells all about long distance calls and how to make them. Ask the operator the rates to any place.

Mr. J. S. Kreeger attended a meeting of the Jewelers Association at Milford Tuesday.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE NOTES

Prof. C. Woodman, of the English Department, has created an organization which he calls "A School For Actors." The creation of such a school has naturally implicated the collegiate playwrights as well as actors, and numerous budding dramatists have come into the limelight with their plays. The following plays have already been submitted to the professor: "A Slice of Housecleaning," a comedy in one act, by John E. Davis and Emory T. Roe; "The Fisherman's Wife," a drama in one act, by Stanley G. Robbins; "The Revolution of 2776," a farce-fantasy in three acts, by Morris Levy; "The Long Arm," a drama in one act, by William D. Gould, Jr.; other one-act comedies and farces, of some cleverness, in verse and prose, have also been volunteered by other students. The object of these activities in the drama is best explained in a statement by Prof. C. Woodman: "The encouragement of these attempts looks both towards the trying out of students in various dramatic roles and the creation of originality, the awakening of a sense of humor, fancy imagination, and a confidence in the use of the native language in writing." There is at least a possibility that all the plays named above may be staged for the approval of the students, and may be given at the college to the general public. Work has already been started on Morris Levy's play, which will be presented at the Adelphia Literary Society's open meeting on Wednesday, April 27. The cast includes the Misses Ermine Jewell, Dorothy Woodall, Louise Leaverton, Mary Simpers, Helen Jones and Messrs. Conrad Wingate, E. R. Reed, S.M. Jenness, A. P. Wheeler, A. E. Goodirch and J. F. Blake. A prologue in verse has been prepared by Prof. Woodman and will be recited by Mr. H. H. Rash.

The baseball team has returned from a six day trip over the Western Shore and Virginia. Of the games it played it won two and lost two.

While the first team was out of town, or figuratively speaking, while the cat was away, the mice came out to play. The second team, fired with the same enthusiasm that held the first team, decided that there should not be a single team in the state who had not tasted the Collegians' metal, and started out to clear up every minor team that came in its way. Its first victim was the Chestertown High School. Despite the fact that the High School put up a splendid fight, it could not withstand the Colegians and fell with a score of W. C. 22; C. H. S., 2. Elated over this victory, the Second Team chose Hurlock's B. B. team for its next victim. Here, however, the unexpected happened, and the Collegians lost. The score was W. C., 0; Hurlock 2. This defeat, however, has only added more insistance to the Collegians' claims that they can beat any minor team in the state who thinks otherwise and is willing to prove it. There is a challenge! The second team includes: McAllister (captain), c; Bankard, c; R. Bounds, p; House, p; H. Russell, 1b; Blake, 2b; Lohran, 3b; Howeth, ss; Bennett, rf; Hitchcock, cf; Vineyard, lf.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which griped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."

Thedford's
BLACK-DRAUGHT
