
A Common Sense Planter

One of the things you will like best about the INTERNATIONAL CORN PLANTER is the practical, common sense way it goes about its work.

When you see it in action, you note the accuracy with which the kernals are dropped, how they are placed in the bottom of the furrow, how easy it is to adjust the tongue for teams of different heights, keeping the boots level and making the hills easy to cross cultivate.

The change from checking to drilling can be made at any time by pressing down a small foot lever. Fertilizer attachments if you want them.

These are features that make a corn planter valuable and desirable. There are other good features, too, that we can show you if you will come in and see us before you buy your planter this year.

A GREAT EVENT

AMERICAN LEGION CARRIES OUT WELL-ARRANGED PROGRAM, WHICH WAS A NOTABLE MEMORIAL DAY CELEBRATION AND A FITTING TRIBUTE TO THE NATION'S HEROES

In a spirit of thoughtful reverence, Memorial Day was observed last Monday in Chestertown in a manner which was a fitting tribute to the nation's heroes of the past. The celebration was the largest event of its kind ever held in Kent county and was arranged by the Frank M. Jarman Post of the American Legion, which is composed of the soldiers and sailors who took part in the World War, whether they were in the camps or on the firing lines. And so, for a day, the people of this section celebrated the fact that we who are now enjoying a full measure of unrestricted liberty are doing so because the spirit of democracy has been emplanted on this continent and has been maintained here, at the point of the sword, in the hands of our nation's valiant sons.

The Memorial Sermon

On Sunday morning Rev. Omar E. Jones, pastor of Chestertown Methodist Episcopal Church, himself a member of the American Legion, having participated in the late war as an army chaplain, delivered a Memorial Day sermon to the American Legion. Forty of the members of the Legion attended in a body and heard the pastor deliver a thrilling and patriotic sermon, taking as his subject, "The Sons Are As Brave As The Fathers." Rev. Jones said, in effect, that while the heroism of our fathers was hardly paralleled in the history of the past, yet their sons, in the late war, had displayed every bit as much heroism. His sermon was to the point and he made many statements which induced feelings of patriotism and loyalty to the country.

Services At The Cemetery

Monday morning was ushered in cold and gray, with a wistful wind from the east, threatening to flood the earth with showers and put a damper on the events of the day, but the sun soon broke the shackles of the clouds and shone intermittently throughout the day.

At eleven o'clock, khaki-clad men, many of whom had been on the firing line across seas, who had seen the devastation of war, and felt the sting of bullets and had been on the borderland of the future many times, and others, who had served for months in the tiresome training camps, began to assemble at the quarters of the American Legion in the Eastern Shore Inn Building and, shortly afterward, led by the Chestertown Band, with standard bearers carrying the American Flag and the flag of the State of Maryland, under the direction of Captain J. Thomas Kibler, Post Commander of the American Legion, Frank Jarman Post, marched in columns to Chester Cemetery. A large crowd accompanied them in autos and on foot.

At the cemetery impressive services were held in honor of those who died in the late war and in other wars, under the direction of Rev. Omar E. Jones, Chaplain of the Legion, who after a few remarks, introduced Rev. N. O. Gibson, pastor of Christ M. P. Church, who made a most appropriate prayer; Mr. John Davis, of Washington College, then read President Lincoln's famous "Gettysburg Address"; this was followed by a short address by Dr. Clarence P. Gould, President of Washington College,also an ex-service man, who delivered a patriotic oration, which did honor to our country of the past, the present and the future; Col. Joseph H. Ford, who is visiting in this section, was then introduced and spoke of the perils of Bolshevism and urged that our people cultivate love of country and of our flag; Rev. C. L. Atwater, pastor of Emmanuel P. E. Church, followed this with the benediction. After these impressive services and the band had played fitting patriotic music, the graves of Sergeant Frank M. Jarman, Private T. Kemp Bordley and Private Ivens were decorated by the members of the American Legion.

The Automobile Parade

Shortly after one o'clock the automobile parade began to assemble, and when they were all in line, led by the Chestertown Band, they numbered about twenty-five. The red, white and blue bunting was almost universally used and the parade presented a gorgeous and a brilliant pageant as it filed down High street.

The judges, Mrs. E. W. Corwin, Mrs. Thomas Massey, Prof. Owen C. Blades and Mr. W. B. Copper, awarded the prizes as follows:

First Prize, $20.00 and a Half-Barrell of Flour—Mrs. S. Scott Beck, of Chestertown. Mrs. Beck's car and its occupants were symbolic of the Japanese and presented a unique appearance. Upon receiving the prize, Mrs. Beck immediately returned the same as a present to the Legion.

Second Prize, $10 and a Spotlight—Mr. John Sparks, of Sudlersville. Mr. Sparks' car was decorated with red, white and blue and typified America.

Third Prize, $5—Mr. John E. Barnes, of Chestertown. Mr. Barnes' car was typical of the occasion, being decorated with the colors of the country, with a big picture of Uncle Sam conspicuously displayed.

There were a number of other good cars in the parade.

The Track And Field Meet

After the parade the track and field meet was held at Washington College and over a thousand people crowded into the grounds to witness the events. Some good marks were made. Charles Bright, of Centreville, carried off more honors than any other. The result was as follows:

Open Broad Jump—William Willis, Charles Bright. Won by Charles Bright, distance, 19 feet, 2 inches.

The Legion Defeats Massey

The baseball game between Massey and the American Legion boys was the last event on the program and was the centre of a great deal of interst. Mr. Edward Blackway was on the mound for the Legion, while Bush Wright, of the Washington Colege pitching staff, did the honors for the Massey team. Both twirlers pitched good ball, but Wright was given much poorer support than was Blackway. The Legion won easily, 8 to 3.

Massey was the first to score, when in the second inning they pushed two runs over. The Legion boys did not allow them to hold the lead long, and in the third inning they scored four times, giving them a lead of two runs, which they maintained throughout the game. The teams were made up as follows:

American Legion—Bounds, ss; Kibler, 2b; Derrick, cf; Davis, c; Usilton, 1b; Seigenfuse, lf; Jarman, 3b; Wilmer, rf; Blackway, p.

Massey—Newnam, 3b; Cumerford, rf; Jones, 2b; Moffett, ss; L. Newnam, lf; Gibbs, 1b, c; Tobin, c; Wright, p. Sutton, cf. Umpire, Horsey.

Our Flag—Freedom's Symbol

When the American Legion unloosened the Flag to the breeze in their march to the cemetery, it was particularly noticeable that but few of the many who lined the streets stood uncovered as the Flag passed by. This was more of an oversight than a lack of honor or respect for the Colors. The Legion Commander noticed this, as well as many others who have been in places where th Flag is frequently on parade. It is the duty, as well as the privilege of every American to stand with uncovered head when the Flag is on parade. And it is also a homage all of us are glad to pay. Every honor is due our Flag—the Flag for which heroes fought and died, for it is the symbol of all we are, of all we hope to be. The Flag means this continent has been dedicated to Freedom; it means universal education and equal rights for all; it means that our government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed; it means there shall be a legal remedy for every wrong; it means that every one should share the public burdens; it means protection for every citizen, at home and abroad. The Flag is the emblem of the nation's power. It represents the sufferings and the glories of the past. The Flag was given to the air in the Revolution's darkest days and waved in the face of an unjust and tyrant king; it was carried on the seas and they became safe to the American sailors; it was interposed in behalf of the weak, and Texas became free; beneath its folds pirates were swept from the seas of the world and they became safe for the mariner; it was bathed and sanctified by civil strife and carried up bloody parapets by unparalleled heroes on a hundred battlefields; it offered protection to Cuba and the Philippines and was finally carried to European battlefields, where it waved in triumph over storm devastated areas until it received the homage of mankind. The Flag represents the standards of America, which are as dear as life. The people of Kent are second to none in patriotism, as well as valor, and they will be willing and glad to pay every honor due the grandest banner that waves beneath the stars.

The Legion Expresses Thanks

DEATHS

Mrs. Emma Malmguist, nee Boulter, died at the home of her brother, John Boulter, Skinner's Neck, on Friday, May 20, aged 84 years, 7 months and 6 days. She was the daughter of the late James and Amelia Boulter, and was born in England, coming to Kent when a young girl.

Mr. George Faulkner, a former resident of Kent county, died at the home of his brother, near Wilmington, this week. His remains were interred at Crumpton on Tuesday.

Dela Gertrude,the 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry George, of near Kennedyville, died on last Tuesday afternoon, following a short illness of membraneous croup, which developed into diphtheria, causing her death. She was a bright, cheerful and obedient little girl and much thought of in both the day school and Sunday School, where she was to have taken a prominent part in the Children's Day exercises on last Sunday, but her illness prevented. Services were conducted at the grave in Galena cemetery on Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Wooden, of the Kennedyville M. P. Church; interment took place there. Undertaker W. H. Krusen.

Frances Louise, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lipscomb, of Kennedyville, died on Wednesday afternoon of abscess of the brain. Funeral Saturday at 1 o'clock at the home of the parents, Rev. Mr. Wooden, of Kennedyville M.P. Church, officiating, interment at Cecilton cemetery. W. H. Krusen, undertaker.

Died at her residence, 1302 McCulloh St., Baltimore, on Friday, June 3, Harriet L. Westcott Hill,aged 84 years. Mrs. Hill was the daughter of the late George B. and Mary Anne Hynson Westcott and until her marriage lived in Chestertown. At an early age she married the late Thomas Hill, of Baltimore and has since made her home in that city. She is survived by two sons, Malcolm W. Hill and Norman A. Hill, and seven grandchildren.

In the death of Mrs. Hill the world has lost a beautiful type of a "lady of the old school," a sincere Christian and refined and cultured in the highest degree. She was possessed of a brilliant mind and until enfeebled by age wrote a great deal and took a great interest in all that pertained to the uplift and advancement of her country. For many years she was Regent of the D. R. of Maryland and did much historical research. Kent county is indebted to her for giving to the present generation many of the interesting events of its past history. She was one of the most active workers in the erection of the monument at Caulk's Field and the tomb of Philip Reed at I. U. She gave the tablet in St. Paul's Church containing the names of the original vestry of that parish. She always retained the deepest interest for her native county and town and leaves here many friends who will feel deeply her loss. Her life has been one that should stand out as an example to the present generation.

Her funeral will take place at her home on Monday next at three p. m., interment in Greenmount cemetery.

—Messrs. W. S. and A. M. Culp have sold to Mr. Bonwell Dukes and his mother the house on College avenue recently occupied by Dr. A. S. Hall. The deed was signed at 10 a. m. Thursday and Mr. Dukes moved and ate dinner in the house between 12 and 1 o'clock. Quick work.
