SPORTING NOTES

THE FAMOUS OLD CHESTERTOWN TEAM OF LONG AGO—STARS OF THE MIGHT HAVE BEEN —MR. GRAHAM PREPARING FOR BIG CONTESTS

Mr. Harry Graham, the hustling treasurer of the Chestertown baseball club, is arranging a strong string of contests for the summer team, which will play its initial game on Thursday, June 30. Perhaps the first game of the season will be with Havre de Grace, but Mr. Graham has not made the definite arrangements for it yet. Perhaps the most interesting bit of information regarding baseball of the week is Mr. Graham has booked the Baltimore Dry Docks for two games on July 4th here—one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. The Baltimore Dry Docks team has been reorganized recently under the management of Sam Frock, who had the team in charge here last year. Frock knows baseball and is organizing a team that will be able to compete with any independent team of the country. The Chestertown-Dry Docks game here last year is one of the really big events in the history of baseball in Chestertown and will be long remembered by the fans. The two games with the Dry Docks on July 4th next will, without a doubt, be another milestone in local baseball and every fan in Kent county will likely see one of the contests. The Dry Docks will have almost as fast a team as last year; our team is, perhaps, faster. Why not two of the greatest games in the history of baseball!

In this column we have been running a series of articles entitled the "Stars of the Might Have Been." We are concluding this article this week, not because there are not sufficient number of stars to keep us writing concerning them indefinitely, but rather because our horizon has narrowed until we are unable to bring them to mind. It has given us considerable pleasure to chronicle what might have happened to these athletes and it is with some regret that we can not go on indefinitely about some others, who, while we do not know them, yet, nevertheless, exist throughout the county. Many have disagreed with us concerning the ability of many that we have made special mention of. It would be extraordinary if they had not. "What Might Have Been" is an alluring topic to write and to think about. "What Might Have Been" has made the millions of pages of fiction charming to countless numbers of readers wherever language of any kind is spoken. "Les Miserables," "Romola," "The Crises," and all the monuments which stand out like beacon lights in the broad field of fiction are but products of the "Might Have Been," while nearly every story which thrills the brain of the youth and charms the imagination of the elder reader the world over is a product of the same source. We can imagine almost anything if we try hard enough, and it has not required much effort to figure out how some we have mentioned and chronicle today could have reached the crowning heights in baseball. Among them we want to write large the names of Capt. Carey Jarman, John E. Barnes, John Rolph, Price Rolph, Charles Wheatley, Philip Wilmer, Walter Hill, Charles Nickerson, Harry Johnson, Harry Fallowfield, Barber Bartley, Ned Westcott, Tony Bell, Garrett Bradley and Nesbitt Trenchard. There are many others. We cannot call them to mind, but the ones we mention today and have mentioned in the past stand out as bright lights on the baseball canvas of the past.

We often get inspiration for the future by taking a glimpse into the past. This is as true in the realm of everyday living as it is in baseball. We had a mighty fine team here last year; it looks to us like we will have a better one this summer. Back in 1896 and 1897 we also had a mighty strong outfit—some contend better than our team of the present. We take our statistics from the files of "The Transcript" of the above years, which show the following: On June 23, 1896, Chestertown fans met and elected the following officers: Pres., W. F. Russell; Secretary and Treasurer, L. Bates Russell; F. G. Usilton, Harry Rickey, T. H. Cooper, Advisory Board; Thos. D. Bowers, manager. This was a fairly good team, and the schedule shows they made a fair record, as follows: Chestertown 18, Bijous 2; Chestertown 4, McDonough 6; Chestertown 7, McDonough 3; Chestertown 2, Greenmount 3; Chestertown 16, Unions 0; Chestertown 7, Marylands 2; Chestertown 1, McDonough 3; Chestertown 16, Brown 9; Chestertown 20, Salisbury 7; Chestertown 17, Atlantics 1; Chestertown 6, Smyrna 7; Chestertown 1, Dover 4; Chestertown 4, Salisbury 5; Chestertown 2, Salisbury 5. It seems that disaster overtook this team toward the close of the season and they lost four in a row. But the next year Chestertown had a team which was evidently, from the results, the best team ever gathered together here for over 25 years. This team was organized June 22, with the following officers: President, T. H. Cooper; Sec., R. Snowden Thomas; Treasurer, L. B. Russell; Manager, Spencer Hurtt; W. H. Lambert, C. W. Whaland, T. H. Cooper, R. S. Thomas and L. Bates Russell, Directors. This team won 13 games during the season and never lost a contest. Stevens was the mainstay in the box and won most of the games, with Latimer getting the honors in the three most important contests. This team was as follows: W. Trenchard, cf; Deakyne, 3b; Bader, c; Boston, lf; T. Trenchard, 2b; Dill, 1b; Brice, rf; Usilton, ss; Stevens, p; Latimer, p; Harry Cannan, umpire. The team made the following scores and remained unbeaten: Chestertown 14, McDonough 4; Chestertown 8, Y. M. C. A. of Baltimore 2; Chestertown 10, Lafayettes 1; Chestertown 12, Harlems 2; Chestertown 8, Millington 1; Chestertown 7, Cambridge 5; Chestertown 7, Unknowns 1; Chestertown 10, Cambridge 0; Chestertown 9, Yannigans 0; Chestertown 8, Yannigans 2. It will be interesting to note that only 18 runs were scored against the old Chestertown team in a whole season. The Yannigans, of Baltimore, supposed to be the best independent team of the state (like the Baltimore Dry Docks last year) were our chief opponents but we defeated them twice and won the independent championship of the state from them. The old team was a mighty good one. It was about twenty five years before Chestertown produced another one that could compare with it. What will we do this year? Will our team make a record [illegible] will cause the famous old team [illegible] derful record to grow dim by comparison? Only time can answer that question.

In searching the files of The Transcript of 25 years ago the other day we were interested to read that bicycles were a very important feature in the news columns. At this time Chestertown was preparing for a big bicycle parade, which occupied a full column in the following issue. Bicycles galore were in the parade. They were gorgeously trimmed and presented a beautiful appearance. There was a regular craze over them, with women and men vieing with each other for the honors. In another column we read of where a bicycle rider beat the fastest express train over the New York Central Railroad in a race.

The "championship" game between the Christ M. P. Sunday School team of Mr. Harry Fallowfield and the team of Mr. Wm. F. Russell, Jr., was decided on Monday afternoon at the High School grounds. After an exciting contest, with each team in the lead at times, Mr. Fallowfield's team finally won by the score of 9 to 7.

Baseball men declare that baseball is gradually getting back to the place it occupied before the war, when it was at a low ebb. The high-water mark of baseball was in 1914.

Carpentier and his boosters are making a lot of claims—all of which won't make any difference after the gong sounds on July 2. Then the ques- will be, "Who is the best man?" The answer will be easy then, as it is easy now.

The Chestertown baseball team won an exciting contest from Centreville on the High School grounds on Saturday afternoon, the score being 8 to 5. McGinnis was on the mound for Chestertown. Centreville scored three runs in first inning. Chestertown came from behind and tied the score in the fourth inning.

Mr. Hanson Horsey, manager of the Centreville Baseball Club was in town on Wednesday, making arrangements for games with Chestertown. Mr. Graham was in consultation with him for quite a while. Chestertown and Centreville are, geographically, natural rivals for baseball honors. The towns being close affords an opportunity for fans to travel back and forth to the games, while the size of both towns makes the rivalry keen. We look forward to some good games between Mr. Horsey's team and Chestertown during the summer.

The Dempsey-Carpentier fight is causing more interest in Chestertown than any fight in recent years. This is due to the fact that while the champion is an American, the challenger is a war hero with an air of mystery about him, plenty of science and a good punch. Dempsey has a fearful wallop. The day before the Willard-Dempsey affair in Toledo a young writer asked the champion if he had ever tested his punch on a punching machine. Dempsey said he had and the bell rang for half an hour. The day afterward he hit Willard and they rang for the wagon.

Gordy, Washington College's crack twirler, left Chestertown Wednesday morning to report to the Washington team in the American League. Gordy is a good pitcher and a good twirler and we hope he will make a name for himself in baseball.

Mr. Albert Biddle won the championship in the pool tournament at Bringman's Pool Parlor. $5 was the trophy the players worked for.

The athletic management of Washington College has scheduled perhaps the greatest college team which has played here since 1896 for next Wednesday afternoon at 3.30. The baseball team of the University of Pennsylvania is the club scheduled for that date. This team has defeated a great many of the leading college teams of the country, among them being Penn State, who won 33 straight victories and was said to be the champion team of the year in college circles. A great deal of interest is being manifested in the game and every fan on the Eastern Shore ought to see this big game. On the above-mentioned date, 1896, Harvard College consented to stop here and play a game. They had a great aggregation of players, who hammered Burris and Townsend, Washington's star mound men, to all corners of the baseball field. It will be interesting to see just how strong our team this year will show against this aggregation from the Keystone state. If W. C. can defeat them, or play them close, it will show that Washington's team ranks among the big college teams of the country.
