A hundred Republican clubs have been formed in this State and a State League formed. There appears to be an excellent prospect for unusual Republican activity throughout the State. Every club will be the centre of forces working in the right. Mr. Cleveland's plurality in 1884 in this State fell a trifle short of 8,000. With the bitter opposition that has been aroused to the Gorman ring, and the strong independent movement against that machine, the hope expressed by the Republicans of carrying the State is seen to rest on tolerably substantial foundations. A great deal can be done by hard work and thorough organization; and that is just what the clubs and the State League are for. In this county there are a number of clubs already formed and others will be. Let the good work go on

Mr. Cleveland decline a renomination? Why should he? He suits the Democratic party. It is for Free Trade and he is for Free Trade, and to aid Free Trade he has brought the business and manufactures of the land under a cloud by opening a Free-Trade agitation with his message. The party believes in using public office as party rewards, and he believes in the same thing and practices it. Southern Democrats want pensions for the South, and Cleveland signed the Mexican Pension bill giving service pensions to every man who had served in that war, whether in want or not, and vetoed the Dependent Pension bill giving a pension only to those who had served in the last war who were in want. Lastly, the party wants the show of reform for the country and public patronage for itself, and Cleveland gives that.

It is said that notwithstanding Mr. Blaine's letter, declining to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Presidency, leading Republicans in New York are actively at work in his interest and will see that the delegation from that State to the National convention is for him, if possible. The same is said to be true in Indiana and there is a movement on foot to secure the second place on the ticket for Senator Harrison, of that State. It is certain that the Blaine element in the Republican party is very active and watchful and it would not be surprising to see the Maine statesman again at the head of the National ticket.

There can be no doubt as to the position of the Republicans of Maryland. The resolutions adopted by the State League at Baltimore are uncompromisingly in favor of protection and favor large reductions in the internal revenue taxes. This expression doubtless embodies the general Republican sentiment of the State. There is one point in the resolutions that is worth heeding wherever registration is a necessary condition of voting. It is that special efforts should be made to get every Republican voter on the registration rolls. This is a duty no less pressing than that of voting. It should be neglected or forgotten by no one.

The political battle of this year will be the most important that has been fought in the United States for years. The struggle will not only be for supremacy in the White House and in Congress, but it will also decide our future economic system—whether the Republican principle of protection, which has caused such an unparalleled development of our country in every possible line since its adoption, shall be continued, or whether we shall plunge the nation into financial depression, great labor troubles, bankruptcy and poverty, to carry out the theories of a stubborn and unstatesmanlike President.

Senator Gorman plainly declares that in this state Republicans have been removed from office because they were Republicans, and Democrats appointed to their places because they were Democrats. The Senator's frankness is creditable to himself and refreshing to the public. His policy stands in pleasing contrast to that of Mr. Cleveland, who has removed Republicans without assigning any reason, leaving them rest before the public under the cowardly imputation of inefficiency or dishonesty.

This is a Presidential year, and no one is more fully alive to that fact than Mr. Cleveland. The turning down of General Banks in the appointment of a marshal for the Eastern District of Massachusetts is a direct slap to the President's mugwump followers. It shows an appreciation of the fact that the St. Louis Convention will be a Democratic gathering at which no independent spirit is desired.

Hon. Stevenson Archer, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, is taking a lively interest in the promotion of the political fortunes of J. Fred C. Talbott. In so doing he is following the example of his illustrious predecessor, who, as chairman of the state committee and senator of the United States, stood ever ready to interpose in behalf of his Baltimore county protege.

Things will probably go on in their present course until the Democrats take out an injunction to prevent Republican conventions from electing any more delegates for Blaine on the ground that the latter is too ill to stand it. Our friends the enemy are not stupid enough to ignore an opportunity to put in one lick for Blaine and two for themselves at the same time.

The Free-trade Democrats in Congress are so much opposed to haying money taken out of the Treasury except for the benefit of English manufacturers that to be consistent they ought to vote against appropriations to pay their own salaries.

All the Republican State Conventions for the appointment of delegates to Chicago have been called or held, with the exception of Delaware. Most of them will meet during the first two weeks in May.

The Dependent Pension bill has little hope for a hearing during the present session of the House. The measure is to be pigeon-holed in the interest of Mr. Cleveland's personal comfort.

The "independent" papers are printing Mr. Cleveland's pledges to civil service reform. The stool-pigeon and decoy always has a fascination for the tricked taken and plucked.

One of the plans of the New Hampshire Democrats includes the nomination of ex-soldiers for all the prominent places on their state ticket, and for congressmen also.

Blaine men in New York say that another letter from him will be forthcoming at the proper time announcing his willingness to be nominated.

MARYLAND NEWS.

Daniel Baker, Sr., of Frederick county, is dead, in his 77th year.

Peach buds in the vicinity of Frederick are said to have been killed by the cold weather.

John W. Bennett, who swallowed muriatic acid at Frederick, died from the effect of the dose.

Ex-Sheriff Walker of Harford county killed eight of his hogs by feeding spoiled canned corn to them lately.

The tax rate of Baltimore county for 1888 has been fixed at 61 cents on the hundred dollars, which with the State tax, will make the total rate the same as last year.

Perry K. Barnes, of Carpenter's Point, Cecil county, caught at one haul of his seine last week 75,000 herring and 657 shad. The fishing in the Susquehanna has been exceptionally good.

The stockholders of the Maryland Agricultural College elected five trustees, Prof. Henry E. Alvord, the new president of the college and also of the experimental station, being in attendance.

Matthew J. Granger, one of the oldest tobacco manufacturers in Baltimore, died Monday at his residence, No. 312 North Howard street, of consumption, aged 66 years. He had been sick for two months.

Between fifty and one hundred acres of mountain land about five miles west of Frederick have been burned over by fire of incendiary origin during the past week. Much valuable timber is reported to have been injured and destroyed.

As things now appear there will be an increase at this session of the Legislature, in expenditures, of from $150,000 to $200,000 over that of 1884. This is an alarming difference and especially for these hard times that now oppress the taxpayers of the State.

The suit of James Hodges against Messrs. A. S. Abell & Co., publishers of the Baltimore Sun, for $20,000 for alleged libel, resulted in a verdict for the defendants in the Superior Court on Saturday. The trial began on Friday, April 13th, and occupied six days of actual trial.

The monthly meeting of the Western Maryland board of directors was held Wednesday and after the transaction of some routine business resolutions were adopted in memory of Thomas W. Johnson. T. Edward Hambleton has been appointed a director on the part of the city to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Johnson's death.

An injunction was issued by the Circuit Court at Frederick Tuesday restraining the sheriff of Frederick county and Messrs. John H. Ohler and George W. Boyd from ejecting Louis Bollinger and his wife from a farm situated near Emmittsburg, which they had rented from Boyd in April, 1887, for a period of one year, paying the rental in advance.

Dr. Frank T. Shaw, member of Congress from the second district of Maryland, delivered a speech in the course of the tariff debate Wednesday night. He gave an interesting historical sketch of the rise of the protective tariff, which, he claimed, was based upon an unconstitutional stretch of power by Congress, confusing the right to regulate commerce with the power to regulate manufactures.

Rev. A. B. Stoner, who for the past four years has been pastor of Trinity Reformed Church in Mechanicstown, Frederick county, tendered his resignation on Saturday of last week, with the request that it be considered at once. It was accepted and Mr. Stoner will, on May 1st, enter upon his pastorate of the Reformed Church of Landisburg, Cumberland county, Pa., to which he has been elected.—Clarion.

Barnum, the irrepressible showman, will exhibit his collection of animals and his circus in Baltimore on April 30 and May 1. Although Barnum has suffered heavy losses by fire at five different times, Phœnix-like the show has risen from ashes and been better each time. The show will include Japanese performances, dens of savages, all kinds of wild beasts, and everything else to make a circus "the greatest on earth."

The engineer corps of the Western Maryland Railroad has about completed the re-location of the old Tape Worm Road line, projected and partially completed by Thaddeus Stevens about 50 years ago, when it was intended to connect a system of roads in Pennsylvania with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad near Hancock. When the Western Maryland railroad company purchased the Hanover and Gettysburg System, now known as the Baltimore and Harrisburg railroad, it secured control of the unfinished Tape Worm Road. The road runs from Blue Ridge to Ortana, a distance of about 15 miles. As almost one-half of the line has already been graded, and as the right of way upon that portion is owned by the company, the cost of completing the road will be light.

Reminiscences of Old Taneytown.

Cleveland's Beautiful Streets—Jimmy McKellip and His Boys—Literary Society in '55—Hugh Thompson and His Sons.

Taneytown Correspondent of the SENTINEL.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, April 16th, 1888.—My Young Friend:—I suppose you will think in this that I am a "Wandering Jew," for, as you see by the date of this, I have again changed base, which occurs with me nearly as often as it did with Gen. McClennan during his peninsular campaign. I am now on the shores of Lake Erie, in the second city of the great State of Ohio, and a very beautiful one it is, too. There are no great buildings of note, but the streets are very finely laid out and some of them handsomely improved, notably, Euclid Avenue and Prospect street. The former is certainly the most beautiful avenue that I have ever seen in any city. It is not encumbered by street-car tracks or business houses; is paved with asphaltum as smooth and clean as a parlor floor; vehicles run over it perfectly noiseless; it is lined on both sides with magnificent private residences, with large lawns in front covered with stately old forest trees, giving it a cool, inviting appearance in summer and a quiet homelike aspect in winter. In the public square is a fine statue of Commodore Perry, who won the great victory over the British during our last war with England, and it is inscribed with his celebrated despatch, which will ring down the ages as long as time shall last: "We have met the enemy and they are ours." I don't know whether this city was named after our present president or whether he was named after the city, but I do know that in after years this city will make a very large black spot on the map of the United States, while his name will require a very small page to record his history.

I am very much gratified indeed to know that these rambling and disconnected letters have interested my friends of the old town. I hope they may enjoy the perusal of them as pleasantly as the writer in referring to what will always be a green spot in his memory. My daughter rather discourages me by saying "Pa, you are making yourself perfectly ridiculous in those letters, and people will think you are real old, when you are scarcely past—" My dear girl, don't mention it. I feel just as young while writing of these precious memories as if they had occurred but yesterday, and I can scarcely realize that nearly a half century has passed since their occurrence; but I insist that I remember everything I have recorded destinctly, and if I am not old enough to account for them, my memory must be elastic, and runs a little back of the record, that's all, for I won't give up but that every word is true.

Next below Levi Buffington's, on York street, lived Jimmy McKellip. He was in the drug business, and was also the county surveyor, and knew more perhaps of the superficial area and typography of the county than any man in it. He was a very kind-hearted man, a fine conversationalist, of fine education, and devotedly attached to his children. He had three boys, and very bright, intelligent, good boys they were, too. John succeeded him in the drug business, and Bill, as we familiarly called him, had considerable oratorical ability, was a very keen, shrewd, intelligent young man, and I have no doubt but that he has made his mark in the county, or wherever else he may be located. He was the founder of a very prosperous Literary Society which was inaugurated a few years before I left the town. I do hope it has been faithfully kept up by the young generation who followed us, for it was certainly one of the best institutions for the young men that ever was inaugurated in the old town. The instruction I gained while a member of that society, has always been beneficial and inspiring to me. I would like to give a pen picture of the young men who composed its membership at that day, and the devices we used to keep up its financial status, how we accumulated books, &c., but I presume there are many of its old members still among you to encourage and instruct those who are now conducting its affairs. My fondest hope is that it has never been allowed to decline, or die.

Just above the school-house, on Hanover street, lived an eccentric old character, Hugh Thompson, a familiar name, better known and worried more by the noisy school boys, perhaps, than any other inhabitant of the town. His life always seemed a burden to him, in my mind, because of the annoyance by the noisy and sometimes impudent boys, and it soured his whole disposition. There wasn't a boy in the whole school that wouldn't leap at one bound the five-foot picket fence between Thompson's lot and the play ground, if he was sighted by the irate old gentleman while in his lot to capture a truant ball. When at a safe distance they would get revenge by calling him one of the Bladensburg racers, but I have no authority for attesting the truth or falsity of the accusation, as he was always very reticent on the subject. He had two sons, and very fine young men they were, too. Thomas D. was well built, athletic, of fine physical appearance, with a very deep, commanding bass voice, and always performed the dramatic parts in our theatrical performances. He had fine qualities for a great tragedian, but whether he adopted the stage or the pulpit as a profession in after years, I have no means of knowing. He would have been an honor to either.

Delegates to Chicago.

The name of William T. Malster is to be added to the list of candidates for delegates to the Chicago Republican Convention. The candidates in the Third district are W. W. Johnson, W. T. Airy, D. P. West, and McAfferty. In the Fourth district a contest is in progress between General Adam E. King and Wesley J. Ober. J. Reese Pitcher has no opposition. In the Fifth J. Wirt Randall and James A. Garey are mentioned. In the Sixth H. Clay Naill, of Frederick, and Mr. Lincell, of Garrett, have been suggested. Marine and Ensor are mentioned for delegates from the Second. For delegates at large Walter B. Brooks is being urged by leading Republicans all over the state. W. D. Bruchinal, of Kent; George L. Wellington, of Allegany; J. Wirt Randall, Anne Arundel; are also named as delegates at large.

Unusually cold weather is reported in South-western Virginia, and great damage to the fruit is feared. Ice and heavy frosts are reported from Norfolk and surrounding country.

Sons of Temperance.

Through the energy of Dr. Charles Billingslea, Grand Worthy Patriarch of Maryland, this town and county had a short course of lectures by Jonathan Parsons, Past G. W. P. of Nova Scotia, the agent of the National Division of North America. Mr. Parsons is a lawyer by profession and has been in the South the past four months enjoying a mild (?) winter and aiding the old order of the "Sons". After visiting the Eastern Shore of Maryland for a week he came to Westminster on Friday of last week and has been busy each day since. He gave brief addresses to the M. E. and M. P. schools Sunday morning; addressed a mass meeting at 3 P. M. the same day in the M. P. Church, and at 7.30 spoke in the M. E. Church.

Monday at 2 o'clock he visited the Western Maryland College and by invitation of the President addressed the assembled students. Then, accompanied by the G. W. P., he drove to Uniontown and visited the public schools and spoke to the pupils. In the evening he addressed a large audience in the Lutheran Church. The three resident clergymen, Revs. Delp, Valiant and Seilhamer, were present and participated in the services, also Rev. Mr. Cross was present. Dr. Billingslea also addressed the audience in this his native place, and at the close of the meeting ten persons signed a requisition for a charter to institute a new Division S. of T. Tuesday the G. W. P. drove Brother Parsons to Taneytown and gave him an idea of this fine portion of Maryland, and in the evening a crowded house (the Lutheran Church) gave earnest heed to the thoughts, arguments and illustrations advanced by the lecturer. Rev. O. C. Roth, pastor, presided. Wednesday they drove to Mechanicsville and the meeting was held in the M. E. Church. The G. W. P. presided, and, after choice music by the choir, opened the meeting in a brief address and called upon the agent of the National Division, who for an hour interested, instructed and amused the large audience. At the close of the lecture twelve persons came forward and were initiated into a Division S. of T., taking the name of Mechanicsville Division, No. —, with night of meeting Tuesday. Lewis H. Knox, Joseph Parrish, Grant Harden, Dr. S. Gorsuch and William Putnam were some of the charter members. Thursday morning they returned to Westminster and Mr. Parsons left for Gettysburg, en route to Philadelphia and his northern home.

I sat me down aweary, aweary,
By the firelight's ruddy gleam,
And the past, with all its brightness,
Seemed to me a fitful dream.

As I sat thus with my sorrow,
Suddenly to me there came
A vision of my absent loved one,
Called me softly by my name.

Then the form of the departed
Entered at my open door;
The beloved, the true-hearted,
Came to visit me once more.

Takes the vacant chair beside me,
Lays her gentle hand in mine;
And she sits and gazes at me
With those deep and tender eyes;
Like the stars, so still and saint-like,
Looking downward from the skies.

FERTILIZER

—FOR—

CORN and POTATOES

We have heard so many good things said about what our Fertilizer has done on Corn and Potatoes, that it has become quite a pleasure for us to recommend it for these crops. We want to keep it before the farmers that we have been for years, and are to-day, headquarters for cheap and good Fertilizers. Several years ago, while other houses were selling Fertilizer at $35 per ton, we had manufactured from our own formula a DISSOLVED RAW BONE PHOSPHATE that we sold for $25 per ton. That same goods, although material in the past year has advanced, we are now selling at

$23.00 PER TON,

AND OUR

Alkaline Bone at $18.00 Per Ton.

We invite everybody to come and examine the Analysis of our Fertilizer, which is stamped on each and every bag. We intend to continue to be headquarters on Fertilizer and all kinds of Guano, and in order to make a market for HAY and RYE STRAW we have added the packing of that to our business. You will find us headquarters on Hay and Rye Straw, as well as everything else in our line.

The season is late and we would suggest the use of 100 POUNDS OF OUR DISSOLVED RAW BONE PHOSPHATE ON CORN. If it makes a half barrel more Corn to the acre it pays for itself, and that is a small increase. It will be more apt to make three additional barrels of Corn to the acre.

As for POTATOES, everybody knows Fertilizer pays well there and our CHAMPION BONE is the goods to use.

☞ We make terms satisfactory, as we do everything else in our business.

☞ We solicit a call.

Very Respectfully,
N. I. GORSUCH & SON,
mch-10-3m Westminster, Md.
