WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

SATURDAY, MAY 12, 1888.

E. S. Tuley, who has been an employee in the Louisville postoffice since 1854, has been asked to resign. Mr. Tuley, it is scarcely necessary to remark, is a Republican.

It is announced from New York that Mr. Blaine has assented to an aggressive movement for the nomination for President and given the assurance that if nominated he will accept.

A tariff for revenue only, the banner imposed by Kentucky upon the Democratic party, is a synonym for free trade, and when practically enforced, produces like negative results by withdrawing all protection or encouragement for the creation or maintenance of any industry whatsoever.

It seems that Mr. Melville W. Fuller is not to have such an easy time in securing the favorable action of the Senate on his nomination for the Chief Justiceship. It was thought at first that there would be no difficulty about the matter, but present indications point to a delay that will probably be quite exasperating to the President's nominee.

There are indications that some of the Democratic papers, fearful of the tariff issue, are trying to switch off and fight the campaign on what they call "the fraud of 1876." The Presidential battle of 1880 was fought on that issue, and in the election of Garfield the people of the United States expressed their detestation of the efforts of Tilden's managers to buy an electoral vote in Oregon, and Barnum's famous "seven mules."

The great Presidential battle of 1888 will be fought on the tariff issue. All other points of difference between the two great parties will be subsidiary to the great question, whether our economic system shall be changed, and this country be made a mere producer of raw material for Europe, or whether the policy which has made her a great nation, industrially independent of the world, wealthy and prosperous, shall be continued.

The wages of laboring men, beyond all dispute, are far greater in the United States than in any other country in the world, and the cost of subsistence here is only increased by its higher grade and more generous amount. Undoubtedly it is more difficult for our sixty-two millions of people to find profitable employment in 1888 than it was for thirty-five or thirty six million in 1861, and the difficulty would be greatly augmented should free trade or the policy of non-protection ever become dominant in tariff legislation.

REGISTER.

Remember that on Monday and Tuesday of next week the officers of Registration will sit in the various Districts to register our voters. Let any one who yet lacks this prerequisite of citizenship avail himself of this opportunity. If any young man has come of age since last Fall, or will come of age before next election, hunt him up and see that he is placed upon the books. And you who have removed to new Districts, see to it that you are tranferred. "Take time by the forelock, remember he is bald at the back of his head."

The Congressional Contest.

A singular feature in the congressional contest in the Second district is the announcement by J. Carroll Walsh in a Harford county paper that he is a candidate for the nomination, if there is to be a contest. Stump was believed to be the only Harford county candidate, but now it is announced that Walsh and Hopkins may in certain contingencies also be in the field. Stump, it is said, is in the field to beat Talbott. The "boys" still claim that Talbott will be the man; that the Harford county delegation will find a way to break from their candidate and go over to Baltimore county's choice. Cecil, Harford and Carroll will go into the convention against Talbott. United they can beat him. A delegate claims that at the proper time the delegates from these three counties will combine, and nominate one of the anti-Talbott candidates. The workers are all for Talbott, and so are the boys.—Baltimore Sunday American.

Blaine the Favorite.

Republican congressional district conventions were held in Maryland Wednesday to select district delegates to Chicago and district presidential electors. From the third district contesting delegates will go to Chicago. While all the conventions did not formally express presidential preferences, individual expressions of opinion showed that Blaine is the favorite of the majority.

SECOND DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The second district convention, composed of Baltimore, Cecil, Carroll and Harford counties, met at Sinclair's Hall, Waverly, Baltimore county, and was called to order by John T. Ensor, of Baltimore county. A committee on credentials and permanent organization was elected as follows: Wm. F. Warburton, of Cecil county; David N. McCauly, of Baltimore county; Isaac E. Pearson, of Carroll county, and Wm. B. Baker, of Harford county. The officers elected were Dr. J. J. Weaver, Jr., of Carroll county, president, and W. Ellwood Hany, of Harford, secretary.

John T. Ensor, of Baltimore county, Saml. Roop, of Carroll county, Wm. F. Warburton, of Cecil county, and Wm. M. Marine, of Harford county, were nominated as delegates to Chicago. The first ballot resulted in each candidate receiving ten votes. On the 196th ballot Carroll, to honor Cecil and Harford counties, which have not been represented in a national convention for a long time, dropped Roop and voted for Warburton instead. The vote then stood: Warburton, 15; Marine, 12; Ensor, 8; Roop, 5. The chairman declared Messrs. Warburton and Marine as the choice of the convention. Charles W. Lee, of Baltimore county, and Isaac E. Pearson, of Carroll county, were unanimously elected alternates. Samuel Roop was unanimously elected district elector.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Chairman Cooper expresses his opinion that Blaine will be the nominee.

Presidential politics have been very lively for a week past. Conventions have been held in about one-third of the States of the Union.

Marching clubs with drum corps will be a prominent feature in the coming campaign. One Chicago firm has already sold 10,000 drums principally for that purpose.

Senator Voorhees apologized to the Senate, but probably in a Pickwickian sense. According to reports, he doesn't feel sorry for what he said, by a large majority.

A movement has been put on foot in New York looking to the nomination of General Sheridan for President. But this does not appear to be a good year for military heroes.

The Pennsylvania delegation to the Republican National Convention is said to stand thus: Non-committal, 27; for Blaine 19; against Blaine, 5; Cameron, 4; Fitler, 2; Allison; 1, and Sherman 1.

Robert G. Blaine, a brother of James G., has been removed from the position of Curator of the Agricultural Department, to make way for a Democrat. This is not civil service reform, but it is politics.

The Baltimore American remarks that it has been passed along the Democratic line to the men who run conventions to "give Cleveland a general endorsement, but avoid particulars." The pill is a bitter one, but down it goes.

It becomes clearer every day that Mr. Blaine will be nominated for President at the coming Republican National Convention. The work of the Convention will be shortened after a few ballots have been taken by the mere mention of the Maine Statesman's name.

The assertion of John P. St. John that the Prohibition candidate for president will poll 1,000,000 votes is conclusive as to one thing: It means that the Prohibition candidate for president this year will be some other man that Mr. St. John.

The preparations for the two great national political conventions which meet next month go on apace. The Republicans are much further advanced with their work than the Democrats are, notwithstanding the fact that the St. Louis Convention meets two weeks before the Chicago Convention does.

If it is the purpose of our friends the enemy to force Mr. Blaine into the field as the Republican nominee for president they are certainly to be congratulated upon the shrewdness of their present tactics. If, on the other hand, their kindly attentions to Mr. Blaine are mere artifices designed to conceal the terror with which they contemplate the possibility of his candidacy, any school boy can tell them that they are overdoing the business shockingly.

The National League has adopted a resolution thanking Senator Ingalls for his defense of the Republican party and for his "powerful arraignment and exposure of Senator D. W. Voorhees and his Copperhead allies." In view of the severe criticisms to which the Kansas Senator has been subjected for his recent performances in the Senate, this endorsement from the League will doubtless serve as a most opportune crumb of comfort.

Government taxation, like city, state or town taxation, cannot be avoided. It can be changed from one thing to another, but all the same must be paid for by the people. The Free-traders demand a reduction of our country's taxation in such a way that it certainly increases our country's taxation. It will reduce home production and send away our country's gold to pay for the flooding of our country with foreign goods. Thus new foreign taxation will be added to our government expense, which is the same under low revenue duties and the protected wages system.

The Democratic party has always been a political fraud and a sham. With loud pretensions as the friend of the people, it has been their enemy, the friend of caste and class legislation. The untenable theories held by the Democratic party led directly to the civil war. The slave power of the South made the Democratic party its tool in the attempt to perpetuate and extend its own authority. The doctrine of "state rights" was extended and made the cover for secession, that a new government might be set up of which slavery should be the corner stone. The Democratic party claimed that "sovereign states could not be coerced" under the constitution, and was willing that the Union should be split in two rather than that this absurd theory should be abandoned; and when the Republican party came into power in 1861, it found the South in armed rebellion; the authority of the nation defiled in nearly one-half of the Union; it was opposed by a hostile and rebel government; the army and navy of the Union were dispersed; the arsenals were depleted; the treasury was beggared; the credit of the government was destroyed, and all this was the work of the Democratic party. The Republican party proved equal to the perilous situation.

Protection Against Seed Frauds.

An act passed by the late legislature provides that it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, company or firm, or any agent of any person or person, company or firm, to sell or offer for sale or traffic in the State of Maryland, any variety of new or novel seed, such as wheat, oats, rye, corn, cloverseed, grass seeds, or other agricultural products, or any variety of the same, claimed, or represented to be new under false representations as to the products or quality or value of the same, without first filing with the Clerk of the Circuit Court for the county in which such sale or sales or traffic of such seeds, or any of them, or other agricultural products, is proposed to be made, a written statement of the kind of seed or agricultural product offered for sale or traffic, with a full description of the same, and the advantages claimed for the same over other seed or products of the same variety, to which written statement shall be attached the name and place of residence of the person or persons, company or firm offering for sale or traffic such seeds or products. A violation of this act is declared to be misdemeanor, and a Justice of the Peace may try the case and impose a fine of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail from three to six months.

When the sheep-farmers of this country ask what they are to do with their flocks, if they are compelled to stop raising wool by the abolition of the wool tariff, they are told "kill your sheep for mutton and buy foreign made cloth." Thomas Eggleston has just departed this life at Spurlockville, W. Va., at the venerable age of 112. Mr. Eggleston was a remarkable man in many respects. He never passed a morning without his dram, and at 107 was vigorous enough to run a foot-race with a neighbor of 98, whom he easily distanced.

Chicago's Corner in corn is designed, it is said, to keep corn well up to 60 cents till the new crop comes in. This will be welcome news to such farmers as have held on to their crops, but to speculators it will be a sad announcement. Three gentlemen, believing that corn was worth more money than the market price, began buying early last winter, and now nearly all the available corn is in their hands.

FERTILIZER

—FOR—

CORN and POTATOES

We have heard so many good things said about what our Fertilizer has done on Corn and Potatoes, that it has become quite a pleasure for us to recommend it for these crops. We want to keep it before the farmers that we have been for years, and are to-day, headquarters for cheap and good Fertilizers. Several years ago, while other houses were selling Fertilizer at $35 per ton, we had manufactured from our own formula a DISSOLVED RAW BONE PHOSPHATE that we sold for $25 per ton. That same goods, although material in the past year has advanced, we are now selling at

$23.00 PER TON,

AND OUR

Alkaline Bone at $18.00 Per Ton.

We invite everybody to come and examine the Analysis of our Fertilizer, which is stamped on each and every bag. We intend to continue to be headquarters on Fertilizer and all kinds of Guano, and in order to make a market for HAY and RYE STRAW we have added the packing of that to our business. You will find us headquarters on Hay and Rye Straw, as well as everything else in our line.

The season is late and we would suggest the use of 100 POUNDS OF OUR DISSOLVED RAW BONE PHOSPHATE ON CORN. If it makes a half barrel more Corn to the acre it pays for itself, and that is a small increase. It will be more apt to make three additional barrels of Corn to the acre.

As for POTATOES, everybody knows Fertilizer pays well there and our CHAMPION BONE is the goods to use.

☞ We make terms satisfactory, as we do everything else in our business.

☞ We solicit a call.

Very Respectfully,
N. I. GORSUCH & SON,
