Passes Bar Examinations

During the recent bar examinations held in Baltimore in November last, Morris Keene Barroll, Esq., of this town, was one of those who went up to stand the test. The city papers recently announced that 23 young men out of about 80 candidates had successfully passed and among the successful ones was Mr. Barroll. His friends are delighted to know of his success and he has received warm congratulations on every side. He read law in his father's office one year and during the past two years was at the Univ. of Virginia. He is the fourth one of his family to become members of the legal profession. His father, Hope H. Barroll, Esq., of this town; his brother, Lewin Wethered Barroll, of Baltimore; another brother John Wethered Barroll, who recently opened an office here; and himself. He will probably begin to learn the rudiments of his profession and its active practice under his father, along with his brother, John Wethered Barroll. Mr. Barroll is the ninth of his family name who have been actively engaged in the practice of law in Chestertown during the past 150 years. We predict for him a bright and successful career and his many warm friends, both here and elsewhere, wish for him every possible success.

BUCKEYE SINKS

Two Men Wade Through Knee-Deep Water After Midnight And Have A Hard Time To Get Ashore In Icy Waters—Boat Loaded With Oysters

The buckeye, "Maggie C," owned by Captain Thomas Gland, of Cliff City, Kent County, sunk at the Electric Light Wharf, Chestertown, shortly after midnight Thursday. The boat was loaded with 330 bushels of oysters for Mr. B. F. Titter, a Chestertown oyster dealer, which came from the oyster bars of the Chester River.

Messrs. Edgar Walbert and Laurence Kendall, of Cliffs, were asleep in the cabin of the buckeye when she began to founder. About one o'clock the men were awakened from a sound sleep by hearing the unusual noise of water rushing into the hold of the boat, and the queer sensation of it listing in an unusual manner. Upon investigation they found that water was in the cabin over their knees and they were compelled to make a quick exit from the fast-filling cabin in order to avoid being engulfed in the cabin or taking a swim in the ice-filled waters of the
