IF it is true, as has been stated, by a representative of the Conservation Commission, that the revenue from the oyster industry of Chesapeake Bay has decreased a $1,000,000 a year for the past two or three years, by the depletion of its beds by dredgers, it is plain to be seen that some necessary legislation to protect these beds is needed, otherwise one of the state's largest industries will soon be destroyed.

CONSIDERABLE opposition has developed in the Maryland Legisalture by some of the county representatives to giving Baltimore City the increased representation in that body that the city is asking. Should Baltimore's representation be increased to such an extent that by joining with one or two of the counties it could control the rest of the state, it would bring about a serious condition to the rural sections of Maryland. It is a question for serious consideration by the county delegates, for when once control is given to Baltimore it will most probably never be gotten away. The Democra[illegible]c platform pledged additional repre[illegible]nation to Baltimore. We contend the pledge should be carried out, and Baltimore given additional represen[illegible]ation, but not sufficient representa[illegible]ion that by joining with one or two counties the city would have absolute political control of the entire state.

MEN'S CLUB MEETING

Large And Enthusiastic Gathering In The Parish House of Emmanuel Church, Chestertown

[illegible]e Men's Club of Emmanuel P. E. [illegible]rch, Chestertown, had as their [illegible]ests Thursday evening members of the Men's Clubs of Massey, Shrewsbury and St. Paul's Churches. Mr. Swepson Earle, of the Conservation Commission of this state, gave a delightful illustrated lecture on Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries. The pictures shown represented many old and historic churches, homes and shores located along Chesapeake Bay and it tributaries. Views were also [illegible]presented showing large areas of oyster grounds and fisheries. Mr. Earle [illegible] well posted as to the value of the [illegible]ster industry of this state and gave [illegible]gures that astounded his hearers of the immense revenues derived from the oyster and fish industries of these bodies of water. His lecture was a [illegible] to those present. Mrs. Francis Ellery Fitch sang several selections. Mrs. Fitch has an unusually sweet voice and her selections were enthusiastically received. A delightful luncheon was served by several ladies of the congregation. The following is the programme:

Lecturer, Mr. Swepson Earle, Baltimore; soloist, Mrs. Francis Ellery Fitch, Chestertown; accompanist, Mrs. David Barr Ford, Chestertown; Hymn 507; prayer; Solo, The Cry of Rachel, Salter, Mrs. Fitch; lecture, Six Hundred Miles Along Chesapeake Bay, Old Homes, Churches and Fishery Scenes, Mr. Earle; solo, The Year's at the Spring, Beoch, Mrs. Fitch; buffett luncheon.

The officers of the club are as follows: William Salisbury Collins, Pres.; Dr. H. Childs Hughes, V. P.; Eben Francis Perkins, Sec.-Treas., Executive Committee: Alan A. Harris, R. Hynson Rogers, Thos. W. Perkins.

WEDDINGS

The Presbyterian Manse of Ken[illegible] was the scene of a beautiful [illegible] Thursday evening, Jan. [illegible] contracting parties being Mary Louise, popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Archibald, and Mr. William Albert Green, a prosperous young farmer of Church Hill. The bride was attended by Mrs. Linden Archibald, as matron of honor, while the groom had as his best man Mr. Linden Archibald, brother of the bride. The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling suit of midnight blue velour, with hat and gloves to match, while the matron of honor was gowned in brown canton crepe with hat and gloves to match. The groom and his best man wore the conventional black.

After the ceremony the happy couple left for Church Hill, where they will be at home to their many friends after Feb. 9. Only the immediate families of the couple were present.

Mrs. Lottie O. Parker, of Philadelphia, was married to Mr. Wm. T. Northamer, chief train dispatcher of the Md. and Pa. R. R. on Saturday evening, Jan. 28. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. C. Gabriel, pastor of the United Evangelical Church, at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Charles Nagel, 3024 Guilford ave., Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Northamer will reside at 726 E. 21st Street, Baltimore.

[illegible]ms For Schools—If the de[illegible] educational institutions [illegible]re granted by the General [illegible] this session, nearly four [illegible] millions must be provided [illegible] and teachers. The amount [illegible] by the Governor in his bud[illegible],614,500, as compared with $2,-[illegible] the previous session. In addi[illegible] this, $740,000 is being asked [illegible]ormal schools, three of which are [illegible]blished institutions and a fourth [illegible] state is to construct at Salisbury, [illegible]at in round figures $1,500,000 more [illegible]ded than the budget calls for.

DEATHS

Mrs. Lewis B. Truitt, wife of Lewis B. Truitt, of Fairlee, died at her home on Jan. 24 of a complication of diseases, from which she has been a sufferer for several years. She was 63 years of age. Suplee was a man of a loving and kind disposition, never speaking unkindly of any one. He was everybody's friend and every body liked the genial colonel. For many years he conducted Idlewhile Hotel, at Betterton, located on a beautiful bluff overlooking Chesapeake Bay. Funeral services will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church By-the-Bay, Betterton, today at 1.30, conducted by Rev. S. S. Hepburn, interment in Still Pond cemetery. The pall bearers will be Joseph H. Warren, James M. Sutton, Wm. F. Sykes, Capt. Thomas Brice, Calwell Crew and Charles Joiner. Undertaker B. R. Fellows, of Still Pond.

A Terrible Disaster

One of the most horrible accidents for years occurred Saturday night, in the Knickerbocker Theatre, Washington, D. C., when the roof of the theatre caved in, killing 108 people and injuring 132 more.

It seems that the theatre was giving its performances as usual when suddenly the roof collapsed, playing fearful havoc with those who were inside of the same.

Reasons for the collapse of the building are varied and numerous, but the consensus of opinion prevails that the collapse was due to improper construction, aided by a tremendous amount of snow upon the same.

—Congressman T. Allen Goldsborough has vegetable and flower seed at his disposal, which he will be very glad to send to all those who will write him at Room 384, House Office Bldg., Washington, D. C.

Farmers' Meeting—The County-wide Farmers' Meeting scheduled for last Wednesday, but called off on account of the weather and roads, will be held next Friday, Feb. 10, in the Court House, at 1.30 p. m. sharp. Farm labor conditions will be discussed and a scale of wages for 1922. The County Agent will also speak on the "Inoculation of Clover."
