OYSTERING PROHIBITED

STATE FORBIDS TAKING BIVALVES IN SOME SECTIONS, CLAIMING THAT THEY ARE UNFIT FOR FOOD

Although but few know it, there are some sections of Maryland Waters that are unsanitary and oysters are not allowed to be taken there in. As a consequence, the Conservation Department has issued a notice to tongers, dredgers and dealers in oysters in which it gives explicit notice of this fact.

It says that typhoid epidemics during the last oyster season have resulted in a demand and requirement for better santitation in the handling of oysters. The oyster producing areas of Maryland are being surveyed. The completion of the survey will require considerable time owing to the wide extent of the oyster beds. The following area has been restricted as being unsafe for the production of pure oysters:

Choptank River—That portion of the Choptank River within the lines extending from Triangulation Stations "Command" to "Hambrooks Bar Beacon" to "Ferry."

"The taking of oysters from the above area is prohibited and in violation of the law, and officials of this Department have been instructed to arrest any persons found taking oysters from said areas.

"All tongers and dredgers are urged to observe the following precautions:

"Boats should be kept clean so that there will be no danger of contamination. They should be ceiled so as to prevent any contact of bilge water with the oysters. Bilge water should be removed promptly and not be allowed to accumulate. Only clean and unpolluted water should be used for washing the decks and other parts of the boats. If the washing is done while the boats are at the docks, care must be taken to see that pure clean water is available: The polluted harbor water must not be used.

"In order to facilitate the production of clean, sanitary shucked oysters, it is necessary to have clean shell stock. All tongers and dredgers are required to remove excessive mud from shell oysters at the time they are caught and culled.

"Shell oysters should be stored under such temperature conditions as keep them alive. They should be delivered promptly to market and not held for an excessive time."

—Maryland oysters must now have health certificates before they can emigrate to Canada. But Canadian liquor sneaks over here with no character certificate at all.

This is "HUNCH"
—one of the most famous characters in advertising history. Recognized all over the world as the Prince Albert man. You can find his prototype in any town. He's up on politics, baseball and horses, and has the real low-down on pipe tobacco. Name's "HUNCH."

Play this hunch and you can't lose

GET out that little old jimmy-pipe. Fill the bowl to the brim with Prince Albert and light up! Will you like it? Man, man! Does a kid like ice cream? Can a bullfrog dive? You bet you will like it, like you never liked anything before.

Because, what a man's smoke-appetite hankers for, Prince Albert's got nothing else except! Yes, sir, you can bet your life on that. You'll fire-up right after breakfast and stay with it till the blue stars wig-wag "Good night."

Never was a pipe tobacco like old P. A. Sweet and soothing, the smoke rolls from the stem, bowling over your system and filling your system with joy. And how kind it is to your tongue and throat. That's because the Prince Albert process cuts bite ab-so-lute-ly!

Then, off to top-speed and head for the store where they hand out joy in tidy red tins. If you don't have a jimmy-pipe, get one now. Throw a match and you're all set for a smoke experience!

PRINCE ALBERT tobacco

It's the tobacco I like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Look at the U. S. revenue stamp—there are TWO full ounces in every tin.
