SEED CORN SELECTION DEMONSTRATION APRIL 5, 6, 7 AND 8

EXTENSION CORN SPECIALIST TO BE IN KENT

Corn is "King" among our agricultural crops in Kent County and a good corn crop is fundamental to successful farming on our average farm.

The seed corn situation in Kent County this year is serious enough to demand very careful selection and testing in order to secure a good quality seed. Certainly the corn a farmer grows depends upon the seed he plants. Good seed, with favorable conditions, will produce a good crop, whie poor seed under the same conditions will produce only a poor crop.

In order to meet the situation this year, the Farm Bureau and County Agent have arranged the following Seed Corn Seection Demonstrations Meetings and for Mr. F. W. Oldenburg, Extension Agronomy Specialist, to give the Demonstrations.

MASSEY—Tuesday, April 5th, in Massey Hall at 9.00 a. m.

KENNEDYVILLE — Wednesday, April 6th, in the School House, at 9.00 a. m.

FAIRLEE—Wednesday, April 6th, at Farm Bureau Meeting, Fairlee School, at 7.30 p. m.

CHESTERTOWN—Thursday, April 7th, in the Court House, at 9.00 a. m.

ROCK HALL—Thursday, April 7th, in Mr. Biddle's Office at 1.30 p. m.

WORTON—Friday, April 8th, in Worton Hall, at 9.00 a. m.

Everyone interested is requested to bring a basket or more of his best seed corn which will be examined for him.
HORACE B. DERRICK,
County Agent.

H. F. JEFFERSON ACCEPTS POSITION

Acting in accordance with his doctor's opinion that a complete change is necessary for the restoration of his health, Mr. Harry F. Jefferson one of Kent County's best known merchants and owner of "The Ladies' Store' of Chestertown, has accepted a position with the Measuregraph Co., of St. Louis, Mo. Three years ago Mr. Jefferson began experiencing much difficulty with his right eye, the sight being seriously impaired. Several operations together with the pain and nervous strain during this time resulted in a physical breakdown which the physicians agree will be overcome more quickly if a drastic change is made.

The store will continue under the ownership of Mr. Jefferson with the same sales force and increased equipment. Mr. Hackett Emerson who has been associated with Mr. Jefferson in the business for over fifteen years will take entire charge and will keep on with the same present liberal policy. The name "Ladies' Store" will be changed to "The Woman's Shop" in keeping with the spirit of progress which dominates the firm.

Mrs. Jefferson and Miss Margaret Jefferson will remain in Chestertown where they will be joined over the week ends by Mr. Jefferson whose territory, being Maryland and Virginia will allow him to make the weekly trip.

DIRECTORS MEET

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce was held at headquarters on March 28 when final details of the first semi annual dinner of the organization were completed. Mr. Stuart S. Janney, Attorney for the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Company of Baltimore, and the Hon. Josiah Marvel, of Wilmington, will be the guests of honor Mr. Marvel will be the chief speaker of the evening. This will be the first get-together of the Chamber and marks the welcoming of a number of new members.

POULTRY CLUB MEETS

The Kent County Poultry Club, of which Mr. John H. Moffett is local leader and Martin Sutton president, met on Thursday evening of this week.

Letters were read from ten of the finest poultry breeders in the east offering the Kent county club a large reduction on their finest eggs. The boys decided to order 1,050 eggs from these firms and will borrow money from Kent county banks to finance the purchase of same.

W. H. Truslow & Sons offered to hatch eggs for club members free of charge and Metcalfe Bros., offered a reduction on all chicken feeds for club members.

Each club member has offered one day's work for the building of a brooder house for Martin Sutton to replace the one destroyed by fire this week in which [illegible] chickens were destroyed. [illegible] H. Moffett and Mr. Purse[illegible] have offered 50 and 100 re[illegible] of their best eggs.

BAY SHORE PROPERTY SOLD---$100,000 PAID FOR TWO FARMS

Kent county bay shore property took a real estate boom recently when two farms were sold for $100,000.

The Gresham farm, located just south of the Tolchester resort, and being on the left side of the public road leading to Tolchester pier was sold for $70,000. This property belonged to Mr. William H. Brown, of Baltimore, and has been owned by his family for a number of years. It was purchased by Wilmington interests. Mr. Albert Groves has been living on this farm for about nine years and succeeded the late Mr. Ayres who lived there from 1908 to 1917.

Mrs. Isaac H. Dixon purchased the Handy point farm this week from Mr. Walter Wood for $30,000. This property is on Chesapeake Bay and Worton Creek and is opposit Gale's wharf. Mr. Wood has been raising hogs on this farm for a number of years.

A LITTLE TALK ON THRIFT

By S. W. Straus, President American Society For Thrift

What is thrift for one person may be thriftlessness for another. Each family has its own distinct problems in household economics.

The writer of this article often is asked to give suggestions to persons with regard to their individual budgets. For example, a letter was received a day or two ago asking for advice regarding the apportionment of expenditures that should be made by a family consisting of father, mother and three young children living in a small southern town and having an income of $175 a month. Generally speaking, a family in a small town should be able to save a respectable amount from such an income, while the same family living in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco or any other large American city, would have to do considerable scriming. But no formula will fit all cases.

Some time ago the United States Government Savings System issued a statement that a thrifty man should spend 50 percent. of his income for living expenses; 10 percent. for education; 10 percent. for giving; 10 per cent for recreation and save 20 per cent. The Treasury Department has stated that a family of three with $2,000 income should save $200; a family of four with $3,000 income should save $300; a family of four with $4,000 income should save $400; a family of four with $6,500 income should save $1,400 and a family of five with $10,000 income should save $2,400.

While it may be true that the average man in America should save 20 per cent of his personal income it does not follow that a man who under certain circumstances only saves 10 per cent. or even 5 per cent of his income isnot just as thrifty as some other man who might save 50 per cent of his income.

Thrift essentially is self-discipline; strength of character; efficiency and a common-sense administration of one's affairs.

BARCLAY GETS REVENGE

The Barclay Checker Club, after suffering defeat at the hands of Mr. Joseph N. Wheatley, of Chestertown, last week at Barclay, challenged the latter for a return game on Wednesday evening of this week.

The contest was staged at Barnett's tonsorial parlors and Mr. Wheatley again played the four men at the same time, that is, going from one board to the other after each move.

The Barclay Club, composed of Messrs. Nicherson. Phillips, Stevens and Dr. Metcalfe showed signs of secret practice and took Wheatley into camp by a score of five to two. Nickerson won by a score of two points, Phillips won 2 points, Stevens lost 1 point and Dr. Metcalfe broke even winning 1 point and losing one point.

A number of Chestertown checker players took exception to the statement that Wheatley went to Barclay alone, as he did not want to be handicapped with inferior partners. However Wheatley played alone again on Thursday, evening, showing the numerous protests did not convince the champion that his team would be strengthened with the assistance of other players.

The playing of the Barclay team showed that they had been doing considerable practicing to overcome the humiliating defeat handing them last week. Their game was different and they played with a great deal of caution. A third game will have to be played to decide the contest.

DELMARVA SUMMER SCHOOL

WASHINGTON COLLEGE TO HOLD SESSION FOR TOWN AND COUNTRY PASTORS

The second session of the Delmarva Summer School for town and country pastors will take place at Washington College from Monday, August 29 to Saturday, September 30, next inclusive.

The school found such approval last year that the authorities of the College have been urged to continue and extend somewhat the program of 1926. While last year's session was four days the coming session will be six.

Dr. M. A. Dawber, of Philadelphia, the superintendent of rural work of the Board of Home Missions of the M. E. Church, will again act as dean. It is expected that an even stronger faculty than last year, made up of experts in bible study, social science, religious education and pedagogy, community work, and church work, will be secured. The session of 1926 was characterized by strong evening programs. The management of the session of 1927 contemplates increasing the value of this feature.

The attendance of 1926 was 47 pastors representing with one exception the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula and its three major denominations and one Methodist Protestant pastor from Pennsylvania. This year it is expected that there will be a considerable increase in attendance and it is hoped that pastors from off the Peninsula may more largely avail themselves of the opportunities of this unique school.

COMMITTEES APPEAR BEFORE COMMISSIONERS

A large committee composed of members of St. Paul's Church and farmers in that locality appeared before the Kent County Commissioners on Tuesday of this week and petitioned the Commissioners to furnished slag to be put on the unimproved road from McClain's corner to St. Paul's Church, a distance of about seven eights of a mile.

The proposition put before the commissioners was: will the commissioners furnish the slag at Shipyard landing if the farmers will haul it and build the road. The committee left the office to make arrangements for hauling the slag.

A committee of four men from Delaware appeared before the Kent County Commissioners on Tuesday of this week with reference to building a hard-surface road from Massey to Clayton, Del. The distance of this road is eleven miles, seven of which is in Delaware and four in Maryland.

Messrs. James P. Pryor, of the Delaware Legislature; John Walton, David Bamberger, and Walter L. Marker composed the committee and they assured the commissioners that Delaware will build seven miles of hard surface road to the Maryland border if Maryland will build the remaining four miles. They pointed out that this will make a thoroughfare from Delaware, through Kent County to Baltimore.

BALTIMORE WASHINGTONIANS FEAST

Dr. J. M. H. Rowland, Dean of the college of medicine of the University of Maryland, gave an unusually suggestive address last Saturday evening at the Hotel Rennert on the occasion of the annual mid-winter banquet of the Baltimore Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association. Dean Rowland was in a fine fettle as the main speaker of the occasion. About thirty-five members of the Chapter were present to hear him.

This banquet of the Baltimore Chapter was presided over by James W. Chapman, Jr., who made an unusually able and pleasing toastmaster for the occasion. Besides Dean Rowland he called on John I. Coulbourn of Philadelphia, Professor William R. Howell and Dr. Frederick G. Livingood of the College, Mrs. Melvin Stewart of Annapolis, and Dr. Titsworth for short talks.

The banquet was held in dining room I at the Hotel Rennert which afford ed a most appropriate setting for the occasion. After enjoying one of the Rennert's best meals the guests finished off the evening at Bridge and Five Hundred.

Due to an illness extending over nearly a year the president of the Baltimore Chapter, R Loran Langsdale, was unable to attend. The committee on arrangements composed of Mr. Langsdale, Dr. W. Houston Toulson, Claude Griffin and Henry H. Sasscer did a splendid job in setting the stage for this banquet of the Baltimore Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association.

TEACHER TRAINING PROGRAM OF SUDLERSVILLE GROUP STARTED

Conference of all Sunday School workers at Millington to discuss forward steps. Separate departments for Beginners and Primary children beginning April 10 Conferences for training teachers in worship and teaching methods for little children to be held the week preceding similar conferences for teachers of older classes to follow in near future.

Similar conference for teachers of beginners and primary children at Galena. Teachers from Locust Grove will also be present. Both places planning for separate children's departments.

Another interesting development at Millington is the week day classes of Religious Education that started on Friday, March 18, after school. These classes are primarily for the thirty-five children and young people taken into the church during the recent revival service. The course will be planned to fit them for Christian living and church membership.

AUTOMOBILE LAW VIOLATOR GETS 60 DAYS

Tom Jones, colored is spending sixty days in the Kent county jail in default of a fine of $105, imposed for violating five automobile laws. Jones was arrested when he drove his car into the new Chevrolet Lando sedan of Mr. Randolph Waddell which was parked in front of Mr. Waddell's home. Jones was charged with having no registration card, displaying ficticious markers, reckless driving, having no drivers license and having no brakes on his automobile. He plead guilty to every charge with the exception of reckless driving.

FIRE AT SUTTON FARM

A fire destroyed the large chicken house on the farm of Mr. Linwood Sutton on the Hanesville road about two miles from Chestertown, on Tuesday evening of this week.

It is thought the fire started from an oil-burning brooder store, and when descovered had gained such headway that it was impossible to save any of the chickens.

Only due to the hard work of Mr. Sutton's family, neighboring farmers and the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Co., were the dwelling and neighboring outbuildings saved from destruction.

The fire destroyed a large quantity of poultry and about four hundred bushels of potatoes which were in the basement of the building.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS ENTERTAINED

The Ochotomaquath Camp Fire Girls attended the official dinner given by Theodosia Chapman and Ann Kreeger the decorations and favors being in honor of St. Patricks Day. Mr. Walter Chapman has given the group the loan of one of his farm houses known as the Hunter House, where the girls and their guardian, Miss Doris Bell will camp out over the week ends cooking their meals out of doors and roughing it in general.

Last Saturday the group were guests of Mary Woodland Westcott, a member of the group, on a trip to Daffodil Island, belonging to Mr. Edmund Hurt. They came back and loaded with the beautiful yellow blooms which in spite of the cold were opening. LUCILE RASIN, Scribe.

FARM PROBLEM A BUSINESS PROBLEM

"The so-called farm problem," says R. W. Dunlap, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, "is one of pure economics, and that, almost entirely of marketing. Here is where the farmer is seeking to establish himself on a new foundation, where he can partake of our natonal prosperity in his just proportion and derive his profits on the same equality with the industrial man, the transportation man, the manufacturer, and the laborer.

"He is beginning to have a group consciousness for the first time in American history—he is following the example set by the business man, and has organized his fellow farmers into associations for their own advancements. He is studying his problems, and by means of a thorough understanding of the economic laws of supply and demand, production and distribution, marketing, surplus, etc., is the farm problem going to be solved. When a great basic industry like agriculture finally operates as a unit, guided by the immutable economic laws, and becomes stabilized to the same degree of self-understanding as now found in industries, then and only then will agriculture have come to its proper place in our national economic scheme."

WILMINGTON CONFERENCE ADJOURNS

WILL MEET AT UNION CHURCH, WILMINGTON IN 1928

Seventy-five ministers of the Wilmington Conference are preparing to move, some of them because of routine others "for the good of the service." The conference, which has been in session at Asbury Church, Salisbury adjourned shortly after noon on Monday of this week.

It was thought that there would be very few changes made in the apointments at this sesssion but at the end of the session showed seventy-five changes.

A large number of the members of the Chestertown M. E. Church attended the session in Salisbury on Sunday.

Following will be found a list of the appointments in the Middletown district and a few in other districts that will be of interest to our readers. Indicates new appointments.

CONSTRUCTION TO START JUNE 1

Now that the Chesapeake Bay bridge bill has passed the Senate and the House and has the assurance of Governor Ritchie's signature all Kent county is eagerly waiting for the actual construction to start.

The permit, as passed by the Legislature, permits construction June 1st, and according to statements made by the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Co., work will start about that time.

The company plans to start survey work at once so that every thing will be in readiness to start the actual construction by June 1st and the work will be pushed rapidly during the summer and fall months.

The exact location of the Eastern Shore end of the bridge has not been made public but Kent county watermen, who are familiar with depths of water and condition of the bottoms believe that the most practical location is at Hodges Bar.

THE ROMANCE OF GOLD

Discovery of gold in Nevada will have the far-reaching effect of starting printing presses far from Weepah, turning out bundles of colorfully embossed and engraved gold mine stock according to Oscar H. Morris, head of the Association of Commerce Better Business Bureau.

"Watch out for gold mine stock from now on," warns the bureau. "With the Weepah rush following that in the Red Lake district in Canada, it is certain that the gold mine sharks will revive the old swindle plans and flood the country with fake stock."—Milwaukee Journal.
