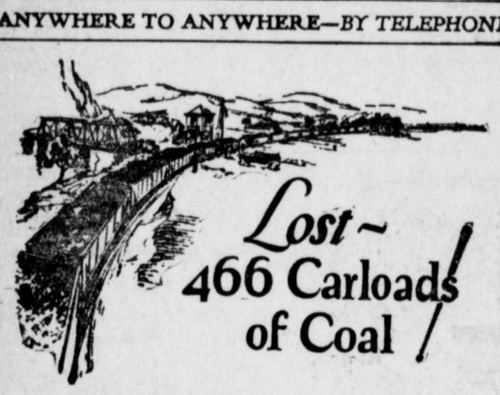
ANYWHERE TO ANYWHERE—BY TELEPHONE



A COAL COMPANY recently learned that two firms in Milwaukee were in the market for a large tonnage. Instantly it dispatched one of its best men to the Wisconsin city, equipped with favorable prices and terms.

But while their representative sped westward in a fast train, a competitor in Charleston, W. Va., learned of the situation. Immediately he called the two Milwaukee firms by long distance telephone and sold 466 carloads of coal! When the salesman for the first concern arrived the order was lost

The long distance telephone has become the right-hand man of modern business. In tracing shipments, in checking overdue accounts, in building better customer relations, and in direct selling, the magic of voice-to-voice communication is showing direct results on the business balance sheet.

An egg is graded according to the interior and exterior qualites. Its interior qualities are tested by candling, when the condition of the yolk, air cell and white are noted.

A fresh egg has a very small air cell. You can hardly see it.

The white of a fresh egg is firm. It does not appear watery before the candle.

The exterior qualities of an egg are easy to see. The five things to consider are: firmness of shell, cleanliness, size, color and shape.

The ration, to a considerable extent, governs the soundness of the egg shell.

The attention given the poultry house governors the degree of egg cleanliness. Size, color and shape are influenced by breeding.

Gather the eggs twice daily and keep them in a dry, cool cellar.

There will be fewer dirty eggs if you keep a light layer of straw on the poultry house floor. You will notice that the ordinary hen walks around considerably before she chooses her nest.

You will find farmers' bulletin No. 1378 Marketing Eggs, very interesting. Write to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

A good market egg, says the department, requires:

When you wash an egg you remove nature's protective coating. Bacteria can easily get in to do their destructive work then.

To get the highest market price, eggs must be graded. Grading rules vary in different cities. Write to the Mercantile Exchange in whichever city you wish to sell your eggs. It will send you its grading rules.

If you sell to local dealers, insist on their buying eggs on a "loss off" or quality basis. The fellow who produces poor eggs is penalized then.

Market eggs frequently&at least once a week, but preferably twice.

Farmers bulletin 1377 contains some interesting information on poultry marketing. Write to the United States Department of Agriculture.

BETTERTON

The fishing season has closed and while the prices have been fairly good, the season has been one of the poorest in years.

The past week end brought a great many people to Betterton for the Decoration Day holidays. All of the hotels had quite a few guests for the two days. The prospects are good for the summer boarding season.

Childrens Day service was held at the Methodist Church last Sunday evening with a very large attendance. A fine program was given and the children did credit to the faithful training of their teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Price attended the Conference Womens Foreign Missionary Society meeting at Federalsburg last Wednesday. The officers for the year were elected and three of the offices were filled from Betterton-Still Pond charge.

Mr. Thomas Dyott, of Baltimore, was the guest of Betterton, friends the past week.

Messrs. Reese and Walter Crew, of Philadelphia, and two friends were the week nd guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crew.

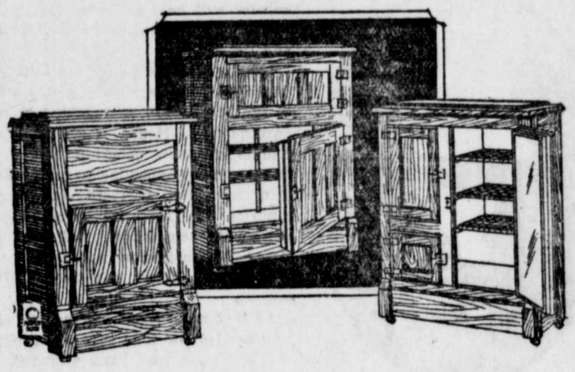
The Betterton Gun Club will hold their annual banquet at Bayside Inn, Thursday evening, June 9th.

Mrs. George Moore and Mrs. Violet Crew entertained the Womens Foreign Missionary Society at their home on Tuesday evening and the Ladies Aid Society on Friday afternoon.

Mr. John Owens, Jr., and Miss Virginia Owens, of Baltimore, spent the week end with their mother, Mrs. O. M. Owens at the Chesapeake House.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young entertained Mrs. Young's brother and sister of Baltimore, for several days last week.

Miss Margaret Crew, of Betterton, is among the graduates of Washington College this week.



Be SURE You Have a GOOD Refrigerator

Nothing can equal ICE in a good Refrigerator for keeping food fresh and retaining its flavor. But ice cannot do its best for you if you put it in a poor refrigerator—one that leaks air or is not well insulated, or is worn out with age. Don't blame ice for the faults of your ice box.

It will pay you to get a new refrigerator if your old one is not right. Among the reliable makes you can get a very good refrigerator at moderate cost. Or, for a few dollars you can get an efficient little ice chest, large enough to take care of Baby's milk and also food for a small family. If you would like advice in selecting a good refrigerator, ask us.

We have a number of the most wanted sizes and models on display at our store. These refrigerators are of the most reliable makes and prices range to suit every purse. We will be glad to have you call and inspect them.

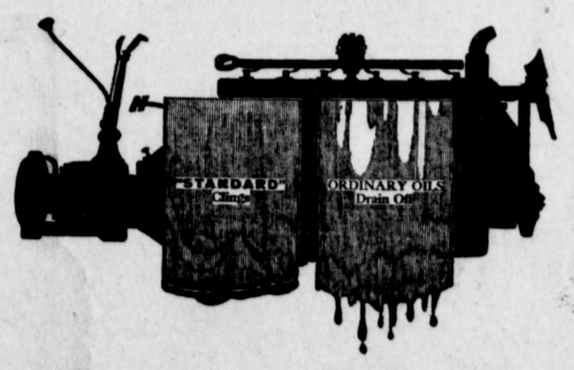
Oil that clings to metal surfaces when your engine is idle—is better protection than oil that drains off.



"Standard" Motor Oil clings tenaciously to cylinder walls and bearings for hours or days or weeks—ready to lubricate at the first thrust of your motor. It flows freely, resists heat and stays oily long after other oils thin out.
