LOCATION DECIDED

The route of the proposed bridge across the Chesapeake Bay has been moved approximately four miles northward, it was disclosed yesterday when the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Company asked the War Department to approve plans for the structure.

The new location will carry the bridge from Miller Island to the Tolchester Farm just above the present Tolchester amusement grounds.

The bridge will start from a point north of Bay Shore and will be built on a causway from that point to Miller Island and about two miles across the bay from which point the steel and concrete bridge will be built.

It is believed that actual construction will start as soon as the plans are approved by the War Department and State Roads Commission which is expected within a few weeks.

TRANSCRIPT'S MUSINGS

We just shake hands at meeting
With many that come nigh;
We nod our head in greeting
To many that go by.

But welcome through the gateway
Our few old friends and true;
Then hearts leap up and straightway
There's an open house for you.
Old friends
There's an open house for you!

The New York Times suggests costoming as a help to boost the various Candidates. Appearance may be deceitful but they influence the voters all the same. When our vice president went to New Mexico attired in the custom of 1840 the citizens were so impressed that he had his picture taken that he might also be impressed. Likewise the President appearing in chaps aroused the enthusiasm of the westerners, so it is suggested that Longworth come out attired as a Dutch Burger and Lowden as a Pilgrim Father with his foot resting on the Plymouth Rock.

Which wind would waft them to the Presidency?

The saying of Shakspeare "Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown" did not deter King Alphonso from taking a glass of beer at a public bar in Spain. There is no Anti-Saloon law in that country.

Three fishers went sailing to the Southwest.
To catch the fish they will do their best.
But alas, they took crab for bait, instead of worms.

We always think of the Benztown bard as thinking in rhyme and talking in rhyme, of nature and its beauties but his poem "Down Town in Summer" is a real bit of realism, so descriptive of the hot deserted city that one sees the picture before him as he reads. But even then he cannot keep his muse from dreaming of 'a far off land of Dawn with its mountains and its rivers and the ocean in its glee."

What a wonderful transformer is the letter 'C' It changes 'Al' to 'Cal'.

You naughty, naughty little wren,
You know that you should not,
Have chosen to have built your nest
In the watering pot.

On the back porch it hangs
Right by the kitchen door.
Where people are passing every day.
A hundred times and more.

We bought a little house for you,
Painted and made it fit,
And offered it to you rent free,
But you'd have none of it.

And now you scold and scold the cat,
And fly right in his face,
Though he has always had his way.
He now avoids the place.

And yet you wee brown coated bird,
With your self sufficient air,
In spite of inconveniences,
We are glad to have you there.

Poets are worrying because they find it hard to find a word to rhyme with Lindbergh. By adding er to it they might make it rhyme with Limburger or better still if they adopt the French pronunciation of the word "Lanbear" they will have care, mare, ware, bare and lots of others. Try it.

In reading of all the various feats in aviation we call to mind the sweet old song: "White wings that never grow weary."

Certanly the Indians who thought that Columbus had came to them on great white winged birds, were only four hundred years ahead of the times.

Tomato Jelly Salad

To contents 1 can tomatoes, add pinch all-spice and ground nutmeg, half a chopped onion, a bay leaf, 1 teaspoon brown sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt and little cayenne pepper; simmer slowly, pouring in little cold water if it becomes too thick, and strain through puree sieve, stirring into each pint of liquid 1 scant tablespoon gelatin that has been dissolved in 1-2 cup hot water; turn into small ring molds. When cold and firm, place in nests crisp lettuce leaves, fill center with mayonnaise and garnish with tiny stuffed olives.

ALFALFA QUESTIONS

ASK ME ANOTHER BY COUNTY AGENT, H. B. DERRICK

1. Why should I sow alfalfa this August when I have an abundance of fine clover and timothy hay?

Answer. The clover and timothy hay you harvest this summer will probably be fed during the coming winter, while a seeding of alfalfa this August is for a hay crop next summer and thereafter, and for feed the winter of 1928-29 and each year thereafter, as long as you have alfalfa.

2. What good is alfalfa hay this year when nearly everyone has a good mixed hay field?

Answer. Alfalfa hay contains 10.6 per cent. protein and a liberal amount of calcium, while mixed clover or timothy hay contains only 4 per cent. protein and considerable less calcium. The additional protein in alfalfa hay will reduce dairy feed bills. Ask the dairyman who feeds alfalfa.

3. What is the value of a liberal amount of calcium in alfalfa hay for dairy cows?

Answer. Calcium is an essential element in the production of milk by a cow; also in building and maintaining bone tissue. Milk is manufactured by a cow out of a fairly definite proportion of elements, the lack of any one becomes a limiting factor which prevents the manufature of a normal amount of milk by the cow. plenty of alfalfa hay insures plenty of calcuim.

4. What is the comparative value of alfalfa hay and timothy hay for milk purposes?

Answer. The Iowa Experiment Station found that when alfalfa was $15.00 per ton, timothy hay would be worth $.85 per ton for milk purposes.

5. What is the best form in which to furnish calcium to a cow?

Answer. Legumes (like alfalfa) furnish lime or calcium in its best form to livestock.

6. Is alfalfa hay a good feed for calves?

Answer. No, not or young calves. Clover hay is much preferred to alfalfa for young calves.

7. When should alfalfa be cut for hay?

Answer. When it is in full bloom. At this stage, there will be numerous young shoots coming out of the crown.

8. How many of mixed timothy and clover hay would be equivalent to ten pounds of alfalfa hay?

Answer. Twenty-six and one-half pounds.

9. What makes alfalfa turn yellow in the field while growing?

Answer. Lack of inoculation, soil too wet, soil not fertile enough, but the most common reason is sour or acid soil.

10. Is barnyard manure good to top-dress alfalfa?

Answer. Barnyard manure increases the growth of alfalfa by the nitrogen in it and by adding humus to the soil, however, the manure is likely to introduce more weeds. Such manure top dressing will oten save or improve a fair or poor stand of alfalfa, but for a good stand of alfalfa, top-dressing with commercial fertilizer is recommended.

ALFALFA SLOGAN WANTED—FIVE DOLLAR PRIZE

The Alfalfa Campaign in Kent County is getting under way in fine shape, however, a Slogan is needed. Can you think of a good slogan? Try your talent along this line. Five Dollars will be given by the Kent County Farm Bureau for the winning slogan, and the rules follow:

1. Any resident of Kent County, Maryland, is eligible to send in one or more slogans.

2. The slogan should carry the idea of the importance of alfalfa to agricultural prosperity in Kent county.

3. The County Alfalfa Committee will select the winning slogan.

4. In case more than one person submit the winning slogan, the prize money will be divided equally among those submitting the slogan.

5. All slogans must be received by County Farm Bureau Secretary, Wm. G. Smyth, or County Agent Horace B. Derrick, by 1.30 p. m., Saturday, July 30, 1927.

Send them in, they will be appreciated.

A CLIPPING

The following editorial appeared in the Evening Sun of July 18. This editorial was based on two lines that appeared in "Transcript Musings."

Civic Pride

"Civic pride has many manifestations, some silly and some sillier. Once in a while, however, community consciousness gives rise to a thought or two that brings a healthy blush of shame to the cheeks and then something is accomplished that is worth while.

'Something of the kind may be observed in Chestertown. The Chestertown Transcript, more in pity than in censure, remarks:

It is an insult to our beautiful town to have such dirty streets.

'There, if professional boosters will pardon the comment, is better evidence of real civic pride than 472 glaring billboards shrieking preposterous claims to unexampled beauty, unfaltering progress, commercial supremacy and all the rest of the blather that passes nowadays for community spirit and enterprise. It was a sad day for towns and cities when go getters substituted buncombe for honest self-inspection; loud and baseless boasts for active self-improvement.

'Dirty streets, discourteous police, architectural monstrosities, slovenly conditions generally are ignored by your professional booster or certainly spoken of in whispers behind closed doors. They work on the theory that the world is inhabited by boobs who wouldn't notice such things if their ears were kept busy absorbing alliterative slogans and grandiloquent "boloney." Probably right now the boosters in and about Chestertown are grinding their store teeth in rage and fury at the thought of anybody publishing an admission that the streets are anything but lily-white and shining.

'Let 'em rave. As for us we see a healthier state of mind in the sense of shame that comes to the Chestertown Transcript at sight of littered thorough-fares. And greater promise. You can't bring about the improvement of an unlovely condition by ignoring its existence."

Buick Uses Radio To Announce 1928 Models

Residents of Chestertown and vicinity are cordially invited to visit the showroom of The N-B-R Motor Co., local Buick dealers, tonight, and hear the famous Arthur Pryor and his Band, Roxy and his gang, and the rest of the Buick Motor Company's special announcement program, which is being broadcast from coast to coast, also to see the new 1928 Buick Models, now on display. The three broadcasting networks of the National Broadcasting Company have been engaged, for an hour each, to span the continent with special music heralding Buick for 1928.

Never before has an automobile manufacturer utilized broadcasting facilities in connection with his announcement, and never before, except in the case of presidential addresses and the homecoming of Lindbergh, has any feature, commercial or otherwise, monopolized the great nationwide broadcasting network. Buick's action in engaging the three great broadcasting chains was consistent with Buick's leadership in the automobile world, a leadership which charges any Buick announcement with unique interest.

Those who prefer may tune in at home on any or all of the three Buick special programs. The Blue network, through its key station, WJZ, New York, will go on the air at 9 to 10 p. m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, 8 to 9 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, or 7 to 8 p. m., Central Standard Time, with a program by the famous Authur Pryor and his Band. The Red will follow, one hour later, with that Radio listeners' favorite, Roxy and His Gang, over WEAF and affiliated stations, and the Pacific network will start at .....broadcasting a concert orchestra program, also specially arranged for the Buick announcement event. Each program will last one hour. Since many of the stations of the three chains have overlapping territories of reception, it will be impossible for thousands of listeners to tune in on all three programs.

In listening to all or any of the three great special musical hours sponsored by Buick, the public will in a sense participate in the making not only of automobile history but radio history too, for tonight's evening of broadcasting, like the Buick for 1928 which it heralds, is entirely without precedent.

What promises to be an epoch making conference to the sweet potato industry on the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula is scheduled for Tuesday, August 9th, at 9.30 a. m., at Pocomoke, Maryland. The conference, called by Dr. F. B. Bomberger, Director of the Marketing Bureau of the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association, will have under consideration all phases of the sweet potato industry as it affects the Eastern Shore.

RESOLUTIONS

Unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Official Board of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Chestertown, Md., held July 17th, 1927.

Shortly after the close of the day on July 16th, a pall of sadness settled down over the entire community of Chestertown, when the sad news of the death of Milbourn A. Toulson was heralded through the streets of the old town.

It was Saturday night, and after a busy week of toil the people as is their usual custom thronged the streets, but it was noticeable that they did not have their usual spirit of mirth and glee, for a familiar figure of the town for more than 50 years was not, for God had called him. Perhaps no man in our community would be missed more by so large a number of people than M. A. Toulson. Over a long period of time, Bother Toulson has been actively identified with the business, social and religious life of this community. By his upright Christian life, has spirit of brotherly kindness he has endeared himself to all classes of society. Brother Toulson will be missed in all these varied fields of his activity, but his place in the Church will perhaps be hardest to fill. For here his loyalty and devotion seem to have reached their highest degree of perfection. To the Methodist Episcopal Church, he not only gave liberally of his means, but was constant in his attendance upon all the services, and took a deep interest in all that pertained to the welfare of the Kingdom. His advice was always sought by his fellow officials in the Church.

As he grew in years, his interest in the Church also deepened. He was intensely interested in the rebuilding programme of our Church, and one of the sad things about his going is that his end came before our new church was completed.

Therefore, We the Officials of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Chestertown, Md., realizing most keenly our loss sustained in the death of this our brother beloved, and whereas our hearts go out in deepest sympathy for his devoted family,

Be it resolved, That we do hereby express our appreciation of his useful life among us, and extend our sympathy to the members of his grief stricken family.

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, that they be spread upon the official records of the Church, and also a copy be sent to the press for publication.

JOHN W. BARNES,
ROBERT MOFFETT,
A. HOWARD COVEY,
Committee.

The Sunday School of Chestertown Methodist Episcopal Church poignantly is saddened and mourns with the other departments of the Church, the social and financial institutions of the Town and County, the family and whole community the demise of Mr. Toulson.

His high and noble character, exemplary life, the honorable place in the confidence and esteem of the community was clearly visible to his associates of the Sabbath School, of which he was for so long a time a regular attendant and valable worker, serving at one time in the capacity of Superintendent.

As observed by us, his daily life among others clearly and quietly testified to the presence and power of Divine influences; and in a very marked degree in his commingling with others they would readily perceive that he had been with God and learned of him, as he frequently in his public prayers prayed, that it might; and the God fearing man he was, has always abounded in the work of the Church and the Lord.

"Life's labor done, as sinks the clay,
Light from its load the spirit flies,
While heaven and earth combined to say,
How blest the righteous when he dies."

Therefore be it resolved, That we of the Sunday School, by and through the undersigned Committee, do hereby attest our loving esteem and regard for; and keen sense of sorrow and loss in the death of our beloved.

And resolved, That we extend to his family our deepest sympathy, that these Resolutions be spread on the minutes of the Sunday School Board, same to be published in the County papers, and copy sent to his family.

M. E. NEWSOME,
JOHN C. DAVIS,
HERBERT E. PERKINS,
Committee.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Kent County Savings Bank held on Wednesday, July 20th, 1927, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That by the death of Milbourn A. Toulson the Kent County Savings Bank has lost a careful and conscientious President after a faithful service as its official head for more than eighteen years, and a courteous and loyal member of its Board since the organization of the bank in 1893; while Chestertown and Kent County sincerely regret the passing away of such a good and useful citizen.

Resolved, That most of Mr. Toulson's life was spent in his home with unbroken confidence and love, and in his pharmacy serving cheerfully and well the people of this community. Affable of manner and true in the qualities of manhood we cherish the hope that the recollection of his services and virtues may remain as the years come and go.

Resolved, That as an evidence of the high esteem in which he has always been held by his fellow Directors, and of the painful loss sustained by this bank, and of our profound sympathy for the members of his family in this dark hour of their bereavement and desolation, it is hereby directed and ordered that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this bank and published in our country papers, and that a copy be sent to his family.

EASTERN SHORE NEWS

Farmers' Night was observed by the Federalsburg Chamber of Commerce at its regular July meeting, held on Tuesday night in the Woman's Club Room, the meeting being open to farmers and all interested in agricultural matters.

The pea crop, which has just been harvested by the farmers, has yielded most gratifying returns, being one of the best and most profitable crops they have had. The prospect for melons, corn and tomatoes is good, though they are reported as very late this year, due to the cold weather during the early summer. Caroline county.

Concessions for the Salisbury Fair, August 16, 17, 18 and 19, sold at the Courthouse door brought $600—the highest figure since the present system of disposing of the privileges has been in vogue. Those in charge take the spirited bidding as presaging an unusually large attendance at the nineteenth annual exhibition.

One of the landmarks at the entrance to the Chesapeake Bay and the sandy capes and shore offer few of them—passed Saturday night when the old Cape Charles lighthouse, one of the highest masonry structures on this coast, toppled over.

A number of canneries on the Eastern Shore, have begun operations, packing string beans. The crop is reported to be a good one, and the season will last about a month. The pea packing season has about closed, and the pack this year is reported to be large.

Electrical storms, accompanied by winds and a heavy downpour of rain, played havoc with telephonic and telegraphic communication and electrical service on the lower art of the Del-Mar-Va peninsula. The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company reported that the storm temporarily put out of order 291 lines, 750 stations and 42 trunk lines. The trouble was from Salisbury south including also Princess Anne, Crisfield, Snow Hill, Sharptown and Delmar.

Crabbers at St. Michaels are reporting crabs very scarce in Miles River. Scarcely very few if any are being caught at this time, and one of the largest crab houses on the shore, located at St. Michaels, is purchasing crabs from Virginia and lower parts of the Bay to fill their orders.

The people of Tilghman's Island have the real spirt for progressiveness. They are alive to the needs of the county in many respects, and recently when it was announced in this paper that an airplane field was desired, they got busy right away and offered ten acres free of all cost to the county or to anyone who would fit it out for such a project.

The indications are that Talbot's wheat crop will average around twelve bushels to the acre. This is the prediction of several well known growers who base their figures on the returns from the threshes up to date.

Upwards of eighty couples applied for marriage licenses at Elkton last week, six of whom failed to obtain them under the age limit. Twelve couples, one or both applicants residing in Maryland or Delaware were among those granted licenses.

Many new attractions will be in progress this year for the annual pony penning event on Chincoteague Island, which has been announced for Thursday, July 28, when hundreds of Shetland ponies that feed on the waste marsh grass throughout the year will be rounded up in true Western ranch style, and offered for sale during the day. Shetland ponies have run wild and inhabited Chincoteague Island's marshes for centuries. They are thought to have originated there from a wrecked vessel off shore, and to have swum to the Island, and are known to have been on the island since 1634.

About two hundred members of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society toured Delaware and the Eastern Shore counties last week. The members spent Tuesday night at Ocean City, and on Wednesday visited the Harrison nurseries at Berlin and the Allen orchard at Salisbury.

Bel Air authorities were busily engaged during the past week end rounding up violators of the Local Option Law in different parts of the county. At least nine violators have been caught in the drag net and a number of them heavily fined by Magistrate Williams, of Bel Air.
