One of the children, a four year old boy, was hurled against a seat and his mouth cut, but not seriously. One man was killed.

Dr. Chas. Billingslea delivered a telling speech before the Republican Club of this city, on Tuesday evening last. His principal topic was the tariff, which he handled with decided ability, showing very clearly the immense advantages of Protection over free-trade. Mr. John Smith, of Wakefield, made a few effective remarks and Col. McKellip also spoke. The Club will meet again on next Tuesday evening.

We are indebted to the Secretary of the Republican Club of Freedom district for the list of the officers, as follows: President, N. D. Norris; Vice-Presidents, Wm. D. Slack, Luther M. The remains of Mr. Rosenberger were interred at the cemetery of the German Lutheran Church, near Smallwood, on Saturday.

Cooper and C. A. Reid, of this city. Mrs. Buffington leaves her husband and eight children surviving her.

Prof. F. Harvey Schaeffer, of Western Maryland College, who has been suffering for sometime with an obstinate and serious throat trouble, has placed himself under special treatment of Dr. Hartman, of Baltimore. Reports from him indicate considerable improvement. He had a long and refreshing sleep on Wednesday night and was able to take nourishment on Thursday. His disease is of an exceedingly dangerous and painful character, and great sympathy and interest is felt for him by the hosts of friends whom he has won by his noble and exemplary life. The intimation that there is a hope, even though it be a faint one, that he may ultimately be restored, or his valuable life prolonged, will be good news to many.

A week ago Dayton Senseney, a plucky youth at McKinstry's Mills, raised a Harrison pole, the top of which was accidentally broken off. Not deeming the emblem, in that condition, worthy of the cause, he applied the axe and felled the pole to the ground. To-day, assisted by the Republicans of the vicinity, he will have the pleasure of engineering another pole raising at the same place. A meeting will be held and speeches made on the occasion. Young Senseney, we are informed, is only about 16 years of age, but he is full of energy and patriotic ardor and is determined to make the pole raising enterprise a success. It is upon such youths that the country must depend for the future maintenance of the great principles of free government and the protection of the American system. The SENTINEL tenders him the heartiest wishes for the success of his undertaking.

A very pleasant Children's Missionary Jubilee service was held by the Sunday School of the M. P. Church, of this city, on Sunday evening last. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. J. T. Murray, D. D., pastor of the church. Those taking special part in the service were M. E. Grant, Blanche Dehoff, Lillie Woodward, Carrie Fowler, Nettie Zepp, Blanche Trumbo, Ollie Grimes, Clara Lewis, Mollie Shriver, B. R. Powell and an infant class, all of whose names could not be procured. The singing by the school was excellent under the leadership of Rev. Dr. T. H. Lewis, Harry M. Gernand, the regular leader, who had instructed the school in the music, having been incapacitated by a severe hoarseness. He, however, sang in a solo, duet and quartette, with Misses Annie and Mollie Shriver and F. K. Herr.

On Monday last a jury consisting of Lewis C. Trumbo, foreman; Edward L. Zahn, Frank W. Mitten, James F. Rinker, Thomas H. Bankard, F. H. Bankard, Jno. G. Shunk, Ezra Shue, Lovelace G. Gorsuch, Wm. H. Baer, J. Edwin Weaver and Charles H. Fowler, signed an inquisition declaring John N. Beach, of Sykesville, an insane pauper, and Judge Smith ordered that he be sent to the Maryland Hospital for the Insane, at Spring Grove, Baltimore county. Young Beach is a son of the late Rev. Dr. Beach. He has long been subject to epileptic fits and there is little or no prospect of his recovery. He has been at Spring Grove, for some time, under treatment at the expense of his friends, in the hope that he might be relieved; but as this is now improbable, they sought the assistance of the county to continue him at the institution.

The SENTINEL engine and presses have been carefully overhauled and thoroughly adjusted by John A. Shower, of this city, a practical machinist who has no superior in that distinctive line of mechanics. With a supply of handsome type, experienced printers, and abundant facilities, the SENTINEL office is now prepared to print anything from a visiting card to a large poster, in styles and workmanship that cannot be excelled, and at fair prices. Promptness, neatness and dispatch are guaranteed, and patrons of the office will not have have cause for complaint or regret. The SENTINEL gratefully acknowledges the kind and generous patronage heretofore accorded by its friends and respectfully solicits a continuance of the public favor.

While passenger train No. 8, going East on the Western Maryland Railroad, was standing at the coaling station, a mile below this city, about 10 o'clock on Thursday morning, Harry M. Keen, son of John Keen, the well known green grocer and provision dealer, happened along with his gun, which in some inexplicable way was accidentally discharged, the load passing through a car window and taking effect in the right arm of Samuel Tarner, the news agent on the train, inflicting a very severe wound, which may necessitate amputation of the injured member. Tarner resides in Hagerstown with his parents. He is a youth of 16 or 18 years of age. He was taken to Baltimore and his wound dressed by Dr. Stuart at the City Hospital. The arm, it is reported, will be saved, but will always be rigid.

Found Dead in the Woods.

The dead body of a man was found in the woods along Deep Run, two miles east of Union Mills, last Sunday afternoon, by Jonas Lippy, while looking for chestnuts. Lippy hurried home and reported the news, which spread rapidly, and in a short time the country folk flocked to the scene in large numbers.

Emmanuel Yeiser went to Union Mills and notified justice J. Wm. Earhart, who, acting as corner, summoned a jury of inquest to make an investigation of the case. The following named gentlemen composed the jury: Jacob Zacharias, foreman; Edward Schaeffer, John Bemiller, Geo. Huff, Ephraim Yingling, Aaron Burgoon, Wm. A. Bankert, Edward Stoner, L. Lookingbill, Jno. Stansbury, Harvey Tagg, Dr. J. J. Stewart. The jury at once proceeded to the place where the body was found and after viewing the remains, went forward with the investigation and did not get through with their work till nearly midnight. A complete examination of the body was made by Drs. Stewart and Earhart, who discovered no mark of violence. The evidence before the jury was to the effect that the man had been seen at intervals, during the past month, roaming about the country, and that he was subject to something like epileptic fits, and the verdict was that death was brought about by natural causes. He was well dressed, wore no beard and was about forty-five years of age. In his pockets were found a box of matches, and a key-ring upon which were two small keys and a punched ten-cent piece. A variety of India ink tattooing was on his arms. At one place appeared three initials enclosed in a heart. They were, however, so poorly executed that only the first which resembled a "T" could be deciphered, and this slight clue to his name is the only one that has come to light at the present writing. It is quite likely that the corpse, from its appearance, had laid in the woods several days when it was discovered. It is remembered that the dog of Nelson Houck, who lives in the clearing a few hundred yards away, was in the habit lately of going towards the woods every evening and barking a long while. The remains were taken charge of by Martin Yingling, undertaker, who buried them next day at Silver Run Church.

Since writing the foregoing the body of the unfortunate man has been recognized as that of Sylvester Wolf, of Baltimore city. He left home some time since with the intention of visiting relatives at Frizellburg and Hampstead, this county, and his son, learning that he had not arrived at either place, started in search of him. Upon hearing that an unknown corpse was found near Union Mills, he went to that place last Wednesday, thinking it might be that of his missing father. In company with justice Earhart and undertaker M. Yingling he proceeded to Silver Run church and had the body exhumed. It was immediately identified by Mr. Wolf, as well as by a friend who was with him, as that of the elder Wolf for whom they were looking. Mr. Wolf concluded not to have the remains moved at present, and had the grave re-filled.

Annual Love Feast.

The annual Love Feast of the German Baptists was held at the Meadow Branch Church on Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning last, and was very largely attended. Fully five hundred persons participated and united in the sacred and impressive services. Many elders, or ministers of the church, were present, among whom were Jesse Roop, of Liganore, Frederick county, Md.; Joseph Lehman, of Illinois; Jacob Hetrick, of Virginia; J. F. Oller, Joseph Long, Benjamin Price, George Wyand, Lemmon Foutz, J. R. Foglesong, of Pennsylvania; also Adam Brown, of York county and Adam Brown, of Adams county, Pa.; Solomon Stoner, Joel Roop, Emmanuel Babylon, Ephraim W. Stoner, David D. Bonsack, Ephraim Stouffer, Greenberry Ecker, Wm. H. Franklin and Uriah Bixler, of Carroll county. On Sunday morning S. H. Nickey, of this city, was baptized by immersion in the stream near the church. About a thousand persons witnessed the administration of the rite. The interesting character of all the services connected with the Love Feast attracted many spectators to the scene, but the deserved respect in which the Brethren are held insured the greatest decorum on the part of all. It is said that the attendance of the membership, on this occasion, was the largest in the history of Meadow Branch Church.

Fountain Valley Items.

The corn crop which farmers are now busy garnering is yielding from ten to twenty barrels per acre. The weather has been very unfavorable for out door work lately, and corn husking has been delayed. But good weather may be expected next month, so a little patience and it will be all right.

The persons in our section who have been for some weeks sick with typhoid fever are at this time improving slowly. On Friday of last week the remains of Samuel Beckwith were buried in the cemetery of the M. E. Church South, of Bethany, near Franklinville. Mr. Beckwith was in the 86th year of his age. On last Tuesday the remains of Samuel Elgen, the father of Jacob F. Elgen, of your city, were interred in the same cemetery. Mr. Elgen was aged 82 years 8 months and 19 days. The funeral services on both occasions were conducted by Elder Wm. H. Franklin. Many sympathizing friends and neighbors were present.

There has been made, during this fall, many thousand gallons of cider at the cider works of David W. Franklin, and the stream still continues flowing, apples being very abundant.

Wesley Dotson, one of our worthy colored citizens, has a patch of celery that will measure four feet high. Who can beat it?

Thomas Smith lost a valuable cow recently by bloating, and another very nearly died from the same cause. Mr. Smith had put his cattle on young clover and they ate too much.

The cabbage crop in our section never was finer. Sauer Kraut will be plenty this winter; and cider also.

Harney Items.

Miss Emma C. Erb, residing near here, died last week, in the 31st year of her age. Her funeral took place on Sabbath morning at St. James's, and was very largely attended, some persons having been unable to gain entrance to the church, which was overcrowded.

The foreman in the cigar factory left here last Monday very unexpectedly, and in consequence work has been suspended until a new foreman can be secured, which will be done at the first opportunity.

Miss Savilla Ritter, of Keysville, was here on a visit last Saturday and Sunday.

The Republicans of this neighborhood are manifesting a high degree of enthusiasm this season. They have erected a pole at Walnut Grove schoolhouse, another in Greenville, and talk of erecting one in Harney. The Republicans here have built a "log cabin" on Mr. Judson Hill's wagon, to be used in attending political meetings. Our drum corps will occupy seats in it. On Tuesday evening it was drawn in procession, by eight horses, to Littlestown. A live coon sat serenely on top of it and a barrel of cider occupied a place in its rear. It made a fine appearance, but owing to the inclement weather not many persons accompanied it. If the weather had been fair not less than 100 would have joined the procession from this vicinity.

Wedding Bells.

SCHAEFFER—REESE.

The marriage of Mr. Ferdinand D. Schaeffer and Miss Amanda E. Reese, both of Cranberry Valley, on October 24th, was a pleasant event, witnessed by a little company of friends, at the residence of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Rinehart, of this city. Music, beautifully rendered by Miss L. R. Nusbaum, as the contracting parties approached the bridal altar, and also during the ceremony, added sweet solemnity to the occasion. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. U. Asper, pastor of the Salem charge. Immediately after partaking of a bountiful dinner the happy couple, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart, departed for a tour through parts of Pennsylvania. While there the time will be occupied in visiting relatives and friends, and on their homeward route Gettysburg, with its historic battlefield, will prove an interesting point for sight-seeing. A reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs Daniel Reese, awaits their return.

DIFFENBAUGH—TIPTON.

Late papers from Logansport, Indiana, give interesting accounts of the marriage of our former townsman, Mr. J. Edward Diffenbaugh, at that place, last Wednesday at one o'clock, P. M. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride, Miss Bessie B. Tipton, a grand-daughter of Gen. Tipton, the first U. S. Senator from Indiana. About 50 guests were present, including some of the most prominent citizens of the State. Among those named were Gen. Superintendent Watts, of the Pan Handle R. R., and wife; Hon. Horace P. Biddle, late Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court; Kennesaw M. Landis, Deputy Secretary of State; Harry P. Johnston, of the State National Bank; S. Emmett Mulholland, of the First National Bank of Logansport; Charles Purcell and John Dodds, of the Pan Handle Offices. The ceremony was performed by Rev. The presents were numerous and costly.

Mr. Diffenbaugh and his bride arrived at Fern Rock, the home of his father, John T. Diffenbaugh, on Friday evening, and spent several days there. During their stay they received numerous calls and handsome presents from friends here. Baughman, Jesse Sharrer, Charley Cassell, James Cassell, Fred. Miller, John Cunningham and Prof. Rinehart, of the College, waited upon them in a body. Prof. Morelock's orchestra was present, and, after some hours spent in dancing, refreshments were served, in the midst of which Mr. Chas. H. Baughman, on behalf of the company, gracefully presented the happy couple with a magnificent silver tea service. The neighbors were entertained at dinner at Fern Rock on Monday at one o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. John Galt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Geiman, Miss Geiman, Elder and Mrs. D. D. Bonsack, Mr. and Miss Royer were among the guests.

Mr. Diffenbaugh is chief clerk in the Maintenance of Way department of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, located at Radford, Va. He is always a social favorite wherever he resides. His bride is beautiful and stylish, and by her grace and sweetness of manner won the hearts of all our people who met her. Both have the best wishes of this community for continued prosperity and happiness.

Woodbine Items.

The pole-raising at Day, coming off on the 27th inst., promises to bring out a large number of persons. The committee of arrangements requests us to extend an invitation to all, irrespective of party affiliations and including the ladies.

The Republican flame has been so fanned that it seems all ablaze throughout the country, and the indications now are that Cleveland will become just what he was when first elected, "a one-term man."

Revival services are being held in the churches of this vicinity, with good results. But a habit prevails at some of the places of worship which is very annoying to the ministers and congregations as well. Numbers of persons stand around the door until the text is announced and the sermon commenced, and then come stamping into the church, making as much noise as a full-rigged mule team. It is a rude and irreverent practice and should be corrected.

Mrs. J. H. Conoway raised, this season, a radish weighing twenty-four pounds and measuring twenty-seven inches in circumference. This was a Republican radish and we have never seen a beet that could beat it.

Eden Items.

The frosty weather has been beneficial to typhoid fever sufferers in this vicinity, who are now recovering.

Seeding time is pretty well over and farmers are now securing their corn, which is a good crop.

The sale of Margaret Spitler's personal property was well attended and good prices were realized. The farm was not sold.

Manchester Items.

Since my last, two of our well known and aged citizens have passed away. On Friday afternoon, after a short illness, Jesse Shultz, the oldest native resident of Manchester, departed to the spirit land. He lacked less than two months of fourscore, having been 79 years 10 months and 14 days old. He was born and lived all his long life in this town. He was for many years constable and collector and was known to everybody in the community. He was a member of the Lutheran Church and always a faithful attendant on its services, and he remembered it with a perpetual bequest in his last wishes. He was buried on Sunday afternoon, Rev. C. M. Eyster officiating and preaching the funeral discourse. A large concourse of citizens followed his remains to the grave.

Early Saturday morning Rev. Jacob W. Boring died at Cottage Home, Germantown, of heart disease and dropsy, aged 73 years, 9 months, 4 days. Mr. Boring was a highly esteemed citizen. His father was instrumental in the establishment of the United Brethren Church at this place, and in 1840 he connected himself with it and soon became an active, zealous member, and subsequently a local minister. Through his efforts the original frame chuch was replaced by the present substantial brick structure, the indebtedness on which was cancelled at the cost of much effort, time and money on his part. His life was full of good works and his death peaceful and serene. His remains were interred on Monday afternoon, and the funeral services were attended by a large number of relatives and friends. Rev. Jones preached from the text "Where is He?" Job. XIV, 10. Rev. J. R. Jones, a former pastor of the church assisted in the services.

A reunion will be held by the members of Daniel and Jacob Lodge, No. 23 I. O. O. F., at their hall, on Saturday evening next, in honor of the anniversary of the organization of the Lodge. An oyster supper, which will be furnished by "mine host" Stonesifer, of the Franklin House, will be a pleasant feature of the occasion.

Nat Powel, the well-known violinist, was partially paralyzed on Saturday evening, at his home in Germantown. The disease affected his mind. At this writing his condition is somewhat improved.

Our people would like to dispose of their surplus apples and potatoes, but are loth to part with them at the extremely low prices prevailing. There are thousands of bushels in this section ready for market.

The N. E. corner of the square will be embellished with a Democratic pole, on Saturday next, of the old Jackson variety.

[The N. E. corner is the place for a Democratic pole.—ED. SENTINEL.]

Mr. Lambert, of Hampstead, has sold his saw-mill to Mr. Levi Hoff, of Melrose, for $250. Mr. George Zepp will have charge of it.

Mrs. John J. Lynerd has been quite ill for several weeks with cold and neuralgia.

DECIMUS QUINTUS.

For the SENTINEL.

Is There a Revolt in Myers'?

MAYBERRY, Oct. 23d, 1888.

Editor Sentinel:—The Democrats of old Myers' district are not as happy and harmonious as they once were. At least they don't seem to feel as kindly toward a prominent voter of the district, who holds a nominal residence there for voting purposes, but lives elsewhere, as they used to do. And it's all about a flag and a pole that should have been raised last Saturday, but still lies prone upon the ground. The story goes, as it was told to your correspondent by a Myers' Democrat, that the prominent Democrat spoken of above presented the pole and also proposed to furnish the flag to be raised upon it. That he ordered it to be taken to a point in the village of Silver Run that was objectionable to many of the Democratic citizens, who, when they saw it unloaded at the place, on Friday, immediately conferred together and determined to get another pole and raise it at another place in the village. Between Friday and Saturday afternoons a handsome pole, about 100 feet in length, was procured, material purchased and a flag manufactured, and when the aforesaid prominent Democrat appeared and proffered his flag it was indignantly declined. Incensed at this cavalier treatment he retired from the scene and returned to his home. The new pole was raised, the new flag thrown to the breeze, and now, as the story goes, the first pole lies unhonored on the cold, cold ground, and the flag is to grace a hickory shaft in Hampstead. Well, the donor of the discarded pole will probably find consolation, after the election, in the reflection that his gift was not exalted to meet, after all, only the fate of a landmark on the route to Salt river.

OLD MYERS'.

Winfield Items—Pole Raising, &c.

Saturday last was an interesting day at Winfield. A splendid Harrison, Morton and Lang pole was erected by the Republicans and the Stars and Stripes, the glorious banner of liberty thrown to the breeze. A very large and enthusiastic gathering participated in the proceedings and were afterwards addressed by Harry M. Clabaugh and Jos. D. Brooks, Esq's., of Westminster, and Col. Theodore F. Lang, of Baltimore county, the Republican candidate for Congress. Col. Lang made a very favorable impression, both as a speaker and as a gentleman. As a reasoner he is clear, forcible and logical, and his arguments were cogent and convincing. In dealing with the questions involved in the canvass he used no offensive language, but addressed himself to the reason and understanding of the audience. The Republicans have cause to be proud of their Congressional candidate. A band of music enlivened the affair with some choice airs.

Rev. Wm. J. Thompson, of Hampstead, preached to a large congregation at Ebenezer church, on Sunday. His hearers were entranced with his eloquence, and held spell-bound as he spoke to them with wonderful effect.

Pole Raisings To-day.

Poles will be raised and Republican meetings held to-day at Taneytown, Gamber, Day, Mckinstry's Mills and on Union street, Westminster. Large gathering are anticipated at all these places. The people are becoming thoroughly aroused to the danger that threatens the welfare and prosperity of the country through the free-trade tendencies of the present administration and the Democratic party generally.

Tyrone Items.

Benjamin Yingling, a well known and esteemed citizen of this vicinity, died on Saturday last aged 65 years, 8 months and 16 days. He was a carpenter by trade, but since the war had been engaged in farming. He leaves a widow and ten children who sincerely mourn his death. He was a good man, kindly and cheerful of disposition, a devoted husband and loving father. In early life he connected himself with the Reformed Church of which he was a consistent member till the day of his death. His remains were interred at Silver Run cemetery on Monday, after a funeral discourse by Rev. J. G. Noss from Revelation, 2nd chapter, 11th verse.

The weather continues wet and cool, retarding the farmers with their fall work. Husking corn is now claiming their attention and an excellent crop is reported.

Pole Raising at Middletown.

The Republicans of Uniontown, Union Bridge, New Windsor and Middleburg, raised a magnificent pole at Middletown, on Saturday last. The pole was about one hundred and forty feet in length, large and of beautiful proportions. Three or four hundred persons were present, but some apprehensions were felt, in consequence of the high wind that prevailed, that the effort to raise it might not be successful. The fears were groundless, however, and the raising was not only accomplished successfully, but in the most handsome manner. Mr. Jos. L. Haines directed operations and with steady, constant motion the pole soon stood erect, bearing the banner of Harrison, Morton and Lang, and the glorious flag of the Union. A meeting was then organized, with Joseph L. Haines, President; Moses Hollenberry, Wm. Catzendafner and Ephraim Bowers, Vice Presidents: J. Hamilton Shue, Secretary. Speeches were made by Wm. L. W. Seabrook and Dr. J. J. Weaver, Jr. The Union Bridge Band enlivened the occasion with some very fine music, and the affair was altogether a splendid success, highly creditable to the Republicans of the community in which it occurred.

"A lovely flower, nipped in the bud,"
We are sure will bloom in heaven above.
Beneath the shades of twilight,
In the narrow casket bed,
We gently laid our darling
To sleep among the dead.

No more we'll watch thee in thy play,
While the golden hours flee swift away;
No more the echo of thy voice,
Our lonely spirits will rejoice;
But we will strive and daily pray,
To meet thee in eternal day.

—BY HIS PARENTS.

Near Franklinville, October 21, 1888, Samuel Elgen, aged 82 years, 8 months and 19 days.

We would not call thee back, dear father,
Anchored safe where storms are o'er;
On the border land we left thee,
Soon to meet and part no more.

When we leave this world of changes,
When we leave this world of care,
We shall find our missing loved one,
In our father's mansion fair.

Near Harney, October 19th, 1888, after a long and painful illness which she bore with Christian fortitude, Miss Emma V. Erb, aged 30 years, 6 months and 21 days.

Mournfully, sadly, we laid in the tomb
Her form, though her spirit had fled
To Jesus, her Saviour, who's taken her home,
While sad hearts are saying, She's dead.

But Jesus has told us there isn't a death
To those who are born of the Lord,
But only transformed and passed on before;
And surely we doubt not His word.

The most of us plan how our lives shall be spent,
And of what the morrow will bring,
Forgetting that Jesus has promised to lend,
If only to Him we will cling.

But natures like ours are hard to be taught
Why death takes the fairest of flowers;
But why, when 'tis Jesus that's calling them home
To dwell in His heavenly bowers?

Thus 'tis in the case of dear Emma that's gone.
Why was it God took her, we pray?
Why did He not spare her, to gladden our hearts,
And death's message longer delay?

Our friend Emma is gone. Oh, tears will start,
Nor can we stay their flow;
'Tis hard, 'tis hard, from thee to part,
But God has willed it so.

We would have kept thee with us still,
But, oh! that could not be;
For 'tis our Heavenly Father's will
That we must part with thee.

But, Emma, in that land on high,
Where parting is no more,
We hope to meet thee, by and by,
When this brief life is o'er.

—BY HER FRIEND, H. W. S.

Near Taneytown, October 20th, 1888, Benjamin Yingling, aged 65 years, 8 months and 16 days.

Husband, thou art gone to rest,
We will not weep for thee;
For thou art now where, oft on earth,
Thy spirit longed to be.

—BY HIS WIFE.

Father, thou art gone to rest,
Thy toils and cares are o'er,
And sorrow, pain, and suffering, now
Shall ne'er disturb thee more.

We shall meet, but we shall miss him,
There will be one vacant chair;
We shall linger to caress him,
While we breathe our evening prayer.

When a year ago we gathered,
Joy was in his mild blue eye;
But a golden chord is severed,
And our hopes in ruin lie.
