DRIVE FOR NEW DORMITORY

At the meeting of the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College on Monday, a committee was appointed to go before the Maryland Legislature, and ask for an appropriation for a new dormitory. Those acquainted with the living conditions at the college, know that the Board is asking for something that is badly needed.

OLD WOMEN'S HOME

A subscription card party will be held at the Armory, Chestertown, Tuesday next, June 12, at 2 p. m. and at 8 p. m. The proceeds will be for the Old Women's Home at Easton. We should not forget the old people because if we live long enough we will all be old some day. In these days of rush and rapid travel the old are not always given the thought and consideration they deserve. It is to be hoped this card party will be largely attended as the cause it represents is a most worthy one. A charge of 50 cents will be made for each person; if you cannot come it would not be amiss to send the subscription price as the home is badly in need of funds and the old ladies should not be allowed to suffer for the want of your 50 cents. Those intending to be present should let Mrs. James G. Beck know by Monday, June 11, 1928, so proper reservations can be made for you.

TOMATO PLANT SHORTAGE DELAYS PLANTING

Due to the cold wet weather, and the presence of the flea beetle, there is a general shortage of tomato plants and many farmers in the county, who have been raising plants for a number of years, have been compelled to secure plants from other sources.

However, two large community plant beds in the county have proved most successful and will supply 275,000 plants to local tomato growers. This entire crop has practically been sold and the growers were unable to supply th edemand for 400,000 plants from neighboring counties and states. These plant beds are owned by Stanley Sutton, of near Chestertown and W. I. Robinson, of Still Pond, estimates show that the Robinson bed will supply 125,000 plants while the Sutton bed will have 150,000 plants.

Stanley Sutton raised 6000 plants under cold?frames and these plants were set in the field about May 22nd. This experiment proved so successful that the cold-frames will be greatly enlarged next year.

Mr. L. M. Goodwin, tomato especialist of the Maryland Extension service was in Kent county on Wednesday, June 6th and, with County Agent Horace B. Derrick inspected the two community plant beds.

"FOOLS FOR LUCK"---A GREAT COMEDY.

A trip to Huntersville in the company of W. C. Fields and Chester Conklin, inimitable kings of mirth, is one of the finest bits of entertainment that could be found anywhere. Such a journey is afforded in "Fools for Luck," the Paramount comedy which shows at the Lyceum Theatre on Wednesday, June 13.

Sparkling humorous situations, worked through a logical and highly interesting story spiced with an appealing love theme, make this picture refreshingly different from the ordinary run of screen comedies. It is entirely devoid of burlesque and highly exaggerated characterizations but it is one laugh, varying in degrees from chuckles to hilarious roads, from beginning to end.

Fields and Conklin have given the public many laughs in their long careers as comedians but they have never before had roles which fit them as do their parts in "Fools for Luck."

Fields, as the glib promoter who invades the small town with a grip full of oil stock and his pockets empty, is a riot of fun. His characterization is so convincing that one feels sorry for the public should he ever tire of the screen and decide to take up promoting as a career.

Conklin is perfect as the leading citizen of the small town who loves his wife, is proud of his beautiful daughter, and almost as proud of his reputation as pool champion of the municipality. There are touches of pathos in the walrus mustached comedian's characterization that are truly masterful.

—There will be no 11 o'clock service at Emmanuel P. E. Church Sunday morning, June 10, but there will be the 8 o'clock communion service as usual.

TRANSCRIPT'S MUSINGS

INVITATION

Sweet summer comes with flying feet
To find me in the narrow street;
She woos me softly: Come away
Where grasses wave and waters play.

Beneath the woodland's odorous tent
Today delicous hours be spent,
Or on the sand—fringed shores that sweep
Mile after mile along the deep.

The whispering pines are full of rest,
And white with peace the billows crest,
And all the wide pervading calm
Like a fair cloud distilling balm.

O joyous Call! I go to find
The world's loud tumult left behind,
And lie awhile on nature's breast,
To drink that calm, and share that rest

—Kimball

"Knee deep in June" what does it mean to us? Abundance of dewy roses with the air laden with perfume; blue skies and sunny weather. Sparkling river with sun flecked waves; the songs of birds heard on every hand, the commencements for eager youths and sweet girl graduates; that and more is what June means. "Oh, what is so rare as a day in June, If ever come perfect days."

The Commencement of Washington College, has come and gone: One notable feature of the exercises was the address by President Willard of the B. & O. not because he is president of that great Corporation, but because of the things he has achieved, rising from the position of brakesman to that of President. A smile passed though the audience when, as Dr. Titsworth was introducing him the incoming train blew long and loud. It seemed fitting to the occasion as the horse whinnies to the master whom he loves, so the iron horse seemed to be calling to the one who had done so much for its development.

There is a whole "C" of difference between Cal and Al. The first says "git" to that persistant puppy, "third term," that insists upon following him though Hoover and others are offering the pup tempting bones; whlie Smith is travelling down the presidential way with smiling face and hopeful heart. And yet one prophesies that both will be striving for the same goal on November next.

She had been striving to awaken patriotism in the heart of little black Jim. "When is the nation's birthday" she asked him, "Ah dunno," he answered. "What holiday do you have in July?" she questioned. "Aint had none. We aint had no funerals in our family for a long time."

Love with a Wallop.—Mother, ',Why' Bobby, I'm ashamed of you—to be fighting with your little cousin. I thought you loved Stephen."

Bobby—"Why, of course, I love him, 'cause he's my cousin, but I don't like him one bit."—Boston Transcript.

As soon as day begins to dawn
The meadow-lark starts singing.
As soon as evening comes, a star—
The angel's lamp—starts swinging.
As soon as I am in the tub
The telephone starts ringing!

His Own Representative

"You will want to enter something for the county fair, I suppose," said the chairman of the agricultural society to Mr. Timothy.

"Waal, yas," was the reply. "You may put me down for the biggest hog in the country."

Congress Is Over

The Congress comes to its departing day,
The madding crowd winds slowly o'er the lea.
The Statesman homeward plods his weary way
And wonders whom the voters choice will be.

Let not a Nation mock their useful toil,
For jocund did they lift a hand to swat
The pomp of power trusts, the boast of oil;
And income tax they lowered quite a lot.

But, oh! beneath you dome atop the grade,
Sunk are poor Wilbur's cruisers four miles deep,
The Farm Relief is for a season laid,
The Boulder Dam affair is talked to sleep.

Full many a scheme, of purest ray serene,
In Congress meets a mute, inglorious doom.
Full many a bill is born to blush unseen
And waste its sweetness in committee room.

WASHINGTON COMMENCEMENT OVER.

Largest Class in History Receives Diplomas at Appropriate Exercises B. & O. President Speaks

The 146th Commencement of Washington College is one to be long remembered. Blue skies and ideal weather added much to the enjoyment of the exercises, while the largest class in the history of the college made the exercises unusally interesting.

The program began on May 27th with the sermon to the Y. M. C. A. by Dr. B. M. Johns of Grace M. E. Church, Wilmington, Del., at the M. E. Church, Chestertown. In his sermon Dr. Johns stressed the great power given to man to overcome his limitations and also that the greatest thing that could be achieved is service to his fellow man.

On Wednesday, May 30, the debate for the Samuel Towner Rogers prize was held: Resolved that the President of the United States should be elected by popular vote: the Mt. Vernon Literary Society taking the affirmative, and the Adelphia Society, the negative side. The affirmative side won.

In the Declamation Contest for the Simpers medal which was held on Friday, June 1, at 8 p. m., there were nine contestants, Francis Louise Price whose subject was "The first Settler's Story" by Will Carlton, winning first honor and Catherine Dudley Urie, subject, Kentucky Belle, second honor.

The commencement ball which was held at 9 p. m., Friday evening was a very pleasant affair, and very well attended. The Alumni baseball game of Saturday was most interesting, a large crowd attending. The college winning 6 to 4.

The "May Pole Dance" on the campus was a beautiful scene. The graceful participants were trained by Miss Doris Belle and they did much credit to her training.

The President and Mrs. Titsworths annual reception to Visitors and Governors, Faculty, Alumni, and visitors, was very enjoyable. The Alumni Dinner, held on Saturday evening at 8 p. m., was as usual a real get together fraternal affair. It was held in the gymnasium, after which the annual meeting of the alumni was held.

Sunday, June 3, all the congregations in town assembled to hear the Baccalaureate sermon by the President of the college, Dr. Paul Titsworth. He chose for the his text: "And Some fell on Good Ground."

He began by telling of the erosion of the Susquehanna, what eons of time it consumed eating its way through mounains till with the aid of its sister river, the Delaware, it at last built up this fair fertile peninsula of ours; of our debt to our forefathers who did their best and won, coming from the cave men to the civilized citizens of the present day. And he, emphasized to the members of the graduration class their great duty to future generation by making of themselves the best men and women possible and letting the seed fall on prepared ground.

The commencement exercises were most interesting. The procession of graduates consisting of manly sunbrowned young men, and lovely sweet maidens, marching behind the Faculty, and Visitors and Governors, was most impressive. One unique feature of the occasion was that two sisters, Miss Diantha Roe and Miss Elizabeth Roe won the first and second honors. The audience was fortunate in having Daniel Willard President of the Baltimore and Ohio R. R., to address them. He told them that they were more fortunate than he as he had never had the advantage of a college education, and of the trained mind that such an education gives one. He urged upon them the duty of using their right of suffrage and of reaching up and not down.

The order of Exercises were:

1. Academic Procession.
2. Invocation, Reverend Robert E. Roe, Trinity Church, Vineland, N. J.
3. Meditation, "Melody of Peace," Martin, Orchestra.
4. Second Honor Oration and Salutatory, "The Great Adventure," Elizabeth Roe.
5. First Honor Oration and Valedictory, "Imperialism," Diantha Roe.
6. Instrumental Solo, Selected.
7. Address to Graduating Class, Daniel Willard, President Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.
8. Selection "Rio Rita," Tierry, Orchestra.
9. President's Report.
10. Song, "Old Washington," Atwater, Orchestra and Audience.
11. Conferring of Degrees and awarding of prizes.
12. Benediction, Reverend Robert E. Roe.
13. March, "Lucky Day," Henderson, Orchestra.

TRAIN JUMPS TRACK AT LAMBSONS

The Kent county freight train jumped the track at Lampson's Station at noon Tuesday of this week and tore up a large section of the track.

A wrecking crew was put to work immediately and the afternoon northbound passenger train was compelled to transfer passengers and perishable goods to a special train.

The south-bound evening train did not arrive in Chestertown until 10 p. m.

BETTERTON SCOUTS TAKE A CANOE TRIP

Scouts George E. Brice and Charles Clark have just returned from a fifty mile canoe trip under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster Howard B. Owens, of Troop 1, Betterton. The Scouts left Betterton at 11 p. m. Friday night. At 2 a. m. they arrived in Georgetown, where they spent the remainder of the night. A storm came during the night but the scouts were prepared for it and it did not bother them. Early the next morning they departed for the end of the Sassafrass River. After paddling through several miles of beautiful waterways they arrived at the end which proved to be a small marsh. After exploring around a bit they made the return trip down the river and arrived at Camp Cedars, Stonton, at 7 p. m. The majority of the trip was made against both tide and wind, but very good speed and endurance were shown. After staying at Camp Cedars over-night the Scouts returned home at about noon on Sunday. During the Summer months it is hoped that Scouts all over the Eastern Shore will engage in camping and hiking, it is a very healthful exercise, and those participating in it have a chance to break some of our previous records.

HONORED AT U. OF M.

WILLIAM WALTER CHAPMAN

TWO KENT BOYS GRADUATE AT UNIVERSITY OF MD.

W. Walter Chapman, Jr., son of Mr. and W. W. Chapman, of Chestertown, is a member of the graduating class of the Universit yof Maryland. He has received honorary mention for his scholastic work throughout his four years, and for his interest in extra curricula activities. In his four years he has been a leader, as shown by the fact that he held offices in Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, and Sigma Phi Sigma, social fraternity.

His four years at the University have served to cement his friendships with faculty members and the students, while his efficiency in all branches of work and his utter dependabiltiy have made him exceptionally well liked by all.

Among his other activities during his four years he was manager of the football team, captain in the R. O. T. C. Phi Knappa Phi Omicron Delta Kappa (both honorary fraternity) and was an overseer in the grange. He also was Student Representative in his Junior and Senior years.

Henry C. Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Matthews, of Worton, Maryland, was among those who received their diplomas at the joint Commencement exercises of the University of Maryland in Baltimore. He will receive the degree of B. A. in the College of Arts and Sciences.

"Andy" has made a national name for himself through his track work at the University and has broken three records and tied another. He holds records for the 220 yard dash in 21 and 2-5 seconds, the High Jump at 5 ft. 10 in., the Broad Jump at 22 ft. 8 1-2 inches. He has tied for the 100 yard dash with Curley Byrd with a record of 10 seconds.

Matthews captained the Track team for this year and ran Anchor on the Relay team.

In losing Matthews the University wil lose one of its most valuable athletes.

SECOND GRADE STAGE COMMUNITY DAY

The pupils of Miss Hanna Bell, the second grade of the Chestertown Elementary School, held a Community Day on Wednesday, June 6.

Each pupil represented some profession or trade and worked together for the good of the Community. The program was well carried out. The class was conducted by one of its members, Charlotte Russell, as teacher. Stories were read by the children and were the work of members of the class. The account given by them of their recent visit to Chestertown's Blue Ribbon Bakery was extremely well done.

Parents were invited for the afternoon and a number availed themselves of the opportunity to see the small folks at work. They were served refreshments at the end of the exhibit which closed on a high note of sentiment by the children that they are proud of Chestertown and want to make Cheserown proud of them. The lesson in citizenship and cooperation was well grounded.

The country received a shock last week when the fact was disclosed that Tammany was not a political organization but a patriotic one. It owes a debt to the memory of Kelley and Croker one time leaders for thinking other wise.

PENINSULA NEWS

Miss Aline Wilkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wilkins, of Salisbury, was winner Saturday in the First Year School Novice Typewriting Contest held at Wicomico High in which several Eastern Shore counties were represented. Miss Wilkins typed 52 net words for 15 minutes.

The test was in competition for the International Typewriting contest in California in October.

Reports that Montgomery Ward and Company intends opening a branch store in Salisbury were confirmed today by H. A. Brannock, a representative of the big mail order house. Mr. Brannock stated his company has leased the store building, formerly occupied by Farmers-Planters Company on W. Main St., and will as soon as possible install one of the Montgomery Ward and Company's stores.
test was in competition for the International Typewriting contes in California in October.

At 280 feet petrified clams and oysters, also sea shells of unknown varjeties were brought up when a gusher was struck Saturday by the Shannahan Artesian Well Company, which has been drilling at Snow Hill since May 14, to replace the shallower of the two towns wells, which has recently gone practically dry. A flow of a hundred gallons a minute was brought in with a 20 foot gusher.

The strawberry growers of Somerset county and the Peninsula are facing the most serious condition that has confronted them for years. With an unusually poor crop the market, which from the beginning had been most discouraging, dropped on Monday afternoon in anticipation of the Decoration Day holiday to a point below the cost of production and has not yet rallied. Large quantities of berries were sold for a price which was less than the cost of crates and picking.

The possibility of a rate war among power utilities on the Eastern Shore was indicated Thursday, when the Maryland East Coast Utilities, Inc., notified the Public Service Commission that it had voluntarily reduced its rates for consumers in Pocomoke City, Deals Island and vicinity.

Disaster overtook a whiskey laden truck on the Delaware highway about two miles from Delmar Thursday of last week when it crasned into a tree. No one was injured but the occupants of the truck fled, one, a negro, being captured later. He refused to give police any information.

Police arrived at the scene of the mishap in time to prevent the loading of the cargo on another truck. Examination disclosed that 150 bags, each containing a dozen quart bottles of whiskey, were concealed within a load of crated strawberries.

Authorities believe the truck which carried a Virginia license plate had received its load of liquor from a vessel in Virginia waters and was bound for Philadelphia or New York.

Miss Florence Waters, has resigned as Superintendent of Emergency Hospital, Easton. Her resignation was tendered on Monday to the Board, and it was accepted with great regret. Miss Waters was asked repeatedly to reconsider her resignation but she declined to do so and asked that it be accepted as soon as convenient, assuring of her willingness to remain until her successor was chosen.

TO CHANGE WASHINGTON COLLEGE ATHLETIC FIELD

Washington College is planning to change the Athletic field so the base ball diamond will not be on the foot ball field. The present plans are to move the baseball diamond back toward Mr. Schaubers property and let the track and football field remain where they are. These changes will be considered in selecting the site of the new bleachers.

The students at the college contributed $1000 toward new bleachers this year after the burning of the old stand last fall. The alumni has contributed a $1000 and the board of Visitors and Governors have appropriated $1500, making a total of $3500 which they think will be sufficient. The bleechers will probably be of permanent steel construction.

DOLLAR DAY IN CHESTERTOWN JUNE 20

Plans are going forward in preparation for Dollar Day in Chestertown on Wednesday, June 20th.

Dollar Day will be under the direction of the Mercantile Section of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce and real shopping inducements will be offered. Watch for the values offered in this paper next week.
