GOV. SMITH NOMINATED

ROTARIANS MEET AT BETTERTON

Rotarians from Elkton, Chestertown, Centreville and Denton gathered at the Hotel Regbie, Betterton on Tuesday evening of this week at the annual intercity meeting. Approximately 160 Rotarians and Rotary Annes were present and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

The feature of the evening was an address by Dr. E. J. Cattell, of Philadelphia. The address was both entertaining and instructive and proved Dr. Cattell to be an outstanding after-dinner speaker.

Following the regular program a dance was held in the dining room of the hotel. Mr. Walter Brice, Proprietor of he hotel, served an excellent chicken dinner.

LOCAL TELEPHONE LINE TO BE IMPROVED

Pole replacements to the telephone toll trunk lines connecting the Centrevlile-Sassafras Junction, Chestertown-Middletown, and Elkton-Middletown central offices are included in an appropriation of $610,095 just authorized by the board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, of Baltimore, serving the state of Maryland, according to an announcement just made by Miss K. P. Smith, agent of the company. The specifications covering the work include the placing of 188 new poles and the removal of 210 old poles in Cecil and Kent Counties.

The appropriation also covers additions, betterments, and replacements to the telephone system in every section of the state, bringing the total amount authorized for such work in Maryland so far this year to $1,635,185. The facilities just approved include the construction of additional toll and exchange lines, wire, cable, underground conduit and the installation of switchboard apparatus, private branch exchange equipment, and new telephones in every section of the state.

WHEAT SMUT INSPECTION

Both favorable and unfavorable reports are coming in regarding the treating of seed wheat with copper carbonate for smut control. County Agent H. B. Derrick has inspected many fields and found good results as a whole, but some "breaks." The breaks, or treated fields containing considerable covered or stinking smut, have been found to be caused mostly by starting with seed wheet containing too much smut. Such seed wheat, even when treated, will not give satisfactory results, even though a large quantity of the smut spores are killed by the treatment. Late seeding is also favorable to the growth of smut, especially when the soil is wet.

The following report of wheat field inspections for covered smut has just been received by Mr. Derrick from Mr. F. W. Oldenburg, Extension Agronomy Specialist, who made the inspections.

Treated fields visited, total 47%
Free of smut 24 or 51%
Trace only 20 or 43%
Smut in 3 or 6%
Total clean enough not to be docked for smut 94%

Fields not treated, total visited 43%
Free of smut 7 or 16%
Trace only 10 or 23%
Smut in 26 or 61%
Total clean enough not to be docked for smut 39%

This inspection shows 94% for for treated wheat.

TRANSCRIPT'S MUSINGS

RICHES

Mine are the heavens of Glory and Wonder,
Dewfall and dawning on the hills of old;
The deep sea's strength, the treasures lying under;
How poor the wealth that only hands can hold!

Mine are the birds and all their happy goings;
Flowers nestling, sunshine playing in the grass:
My cup is full from all the overflowings,
All creations give me greetings as they pass.

—Spencer.

A wonderful Tabernacle that temporary one must be that houses the Democratic party. So big and made largely of sugar cane. And fans to cool the atmosphere 20 degrees. And ice coolers, one for every aisle. Of course, as they all ride on the water wagon these are very convenient. We are hoping that the sugar cane suggests sweetness of temper and that the juice will not ferment.

The Lancer seems to be worried at the paucity of the vocabulary of the Transcript.

But as "spades should be spades" the slogan is correctly quoted. The Lancer does not understand conditions, for:

When Dawes first to Washington came,
He was so full of fire:
He pranced up and down the rostrum Shouting, "Hell and Maria."

But after nearly four years of presiding over a turbulent senate, and by napping one fateful afternoon, thereby losing the nomination of Warren for his party, he has become quite lamblike:

When the Senators filibuster,
They no longer rouse his ire;
But he says in meek and dulcet tones
"Helen Maria."

In the Republican platform they seem to have covered almost every thing but have left out these, dear to the heart of every citizen, bobbed hair, short skirts, static and the price of golf balls. It is hoped that the convention at Houston will not ignore them.

To think of Reed coming out as dry. Can a leopard change his spots?

THE RED TAPE WAY

A colonel was transferred to a new command. On reaching his depot he found stacks of useless documents accumulated in the archives of his predecessors, so he wired to headquarters for permission to burn them.

The answer came back: "Yes, but make copies first."

Teacher (to class)—"Who can tell me what human nature is?" Bright Bill—"I can. It's people before they rise in society."— Life.

She ruled her world of Society,
Led Clubs with poise and propriety,
But the winning stroke that she never took
Was sadder than guests—without a cook.

Paternal Advice

John Coolidge, on completing his college course will go into business.

As you enter life, my lad,
Heed a warning word from Dad:
Law is very bad.

Five times, probably, in six,
Law induces men to mix
In with politics.

Politics, although enthralling,
Is the meanest kind of calling;
Mostly bumps and mauling.

Congress never does a sbidden;
Your desires are overridden;
You are fiercely chidden.

Just when you are going well,
Half your party may rebel.
You can never tell.

As you choose your line, my lad,
Heed a warning word from Dad:
Law is very bad.

Next Wednesday the fourth will be a sane fourth, we hope. Let us have community fireworks, and save the small boys skin from being peppered with powder and his hands injured with toy pistols.

Oh passer by, have you noticed the court yard, how prettily it is kept these days and Lawyers Row garden and the Camp Fire Girls flowers on the old Fountain. All marks of beauty and boosters for our colonial old town.

MASTER FARM HOME-MAKER

MRS. L. A. SUTTON

Mrs. L. A. Sutton, of Chestertown is one of the first women in Maryland to receive the title of Master Farm Homemaker. The honor was accorded to only three of the women attending the Rural Women's Short Course at the University of Maryland and gold pins were given at the exercises held at the university on Friday last. Others to receive the title were Mrs. Chester R. Hobbs of Mt. Airy and Mrs. Annette W. Smith, of Westminster.

The title was conferred by representatives of the Farmer's Wife a national magazine, in cooperation with the home demonstration department of the university. To receive such an honor the name of some outstanding Farmer's wife and moter must be presented to representatives of the magazine by five of her neighbors. The Farm Wife magazine then sends her a detailed questionaire containing over five hundred questions covering the many different phases of her farm life.

On the basis of this information the judges together with the State Leader of Home Demonstration work in the extension service, Miss Venia M. Kellar, of Maryland, choose those whom they consider worthy of the honor.

It was pointed out that the recognition is not only an unique honor to the three women, through them for all farm women of Maryland, and beyond them to the rural homemakers whose contributions to their families, to their communities, and to society has won a tardy recognition.

Mrs. Sutton's many friends are congratulating her on this added recognition of her many kindnesses to others and her ever willingness to help out at any time and in any way possible.

The Rural Women's Short Course this year proved even more successful than was anticipated by Miss Venia M. Kellar, State Leader of the Home Demonstration Work. There were present 475 regular students and 135 who were registered as visitors, making a total of 610, almost a hundred more than were present last year. Visitors Day was observed in order that those who could not attend the regular five day course could be present for a short time in order to get acquainted with the work.

Mrs. Annette W. Smith, Westminster; Mrs. Chester R. Hobbs, Mt. Airy, and Mrs. L. A. Sutton, Chestertown, were the women to receive the Master Farm Homemaker honors. They had been nominated for the honor by five of their neighbors and were finally selected by a committee on the basis of their answers to more than five hundred questions. The title was conferred by the Farmer's Wife, a national farm women's magazine, in cooperation with the Home Demonstration Department of the University of Maryland.

PENINSULA NEWS

Edward Mansfield, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mansfield, of Easton, died in the Emergency Hospital Wednesday night from lockjaw.

Two weeks ago, young Mansfield shot himself in the left arm while playing with a cap pistol. He was taken to the hospital for treatment, but tetanus set in and medical aid was unavailing.

At a meeting of the Town Council of Easton last week the town tax rate was set at $1 on the $100.

Another Eastern Shore almshouse will shortly be closed permanently. Announcement is made by the Talbot County Commissioners that, following a lengthy conference with the Board of Trustees of the Poor, the county institution will shortly be abandoned and all financial obligations paid by the county board. There are only two inmates in the institution and they will be cared for by private individuals, it is said.

The newly-elected Town Council of Elkton, has made the annual levy and fixed the municipal tax rate for the ensuing year at 85 cents on the $100, which is the same rate as the past year.

An agreement for the Susquehanna Power Company and the Philadelphia Electric Company to pay to the Commissioner of Fisheries of Pennsylvania and the Conservation Department of Maryland $4000 each annually for the propagation of fish in the Susquehanna river at the Conowingo dam has been ratified by officials of both State, it was learned this week.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Thursday, June 21st, at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Pocomoke City, when Mr. Carl Henry Monsees, of Salisbury, was united in marriage to Miss Sydney Medora Tull, of Pocomoke City. Miss Tull was formerly a student at Washington College. Mr. Monsees was formerly connected with the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association and was well known in Kent County.

Breaking all records for Maryland state banking institutions, the board of directors of the Sudlersville Bank of Maryland on Thursday morning reached the decision to increase the semi-annual dividend from ten to twenty per cent—or 40 per cent. a year.

Gifford W. Holmes, first vice, president of the Aircraft Corporation of Maryland, was in Centreville Tuesday and Wednesday and interviewed numerous local business men relative to the advisability of establishing an Airport in Centreville.

Total reductions in the tax rate aggregating 13 cents on each $100 of real and personal property in Queen Anne's County were announced Tuesday, following the regular weekly meeting of the Board of County Commissioners.

Two Eastern Shore shipyards, which figured prominently in the construction of submarine chasers and other small craft for the government during the World War, were sold at auction at the front door of the Court House in Salisbury Saturday afternoon—the yards of Smith & Williams, Salisbury, and those at Sharptown, formerly the Eastern Shore Shipbuilding Corporation.

The Salisbury plant was bid in by Attorney F. Leonard Wailes, representing Salisbury interests. The shipyard was struck off at $33,500. The plant is to continue operation on the same type of marine construction, it is said.

The yard at Sharptown brought $455 but the purchasers, the Marvel Package Company, Laurel, Delaware, assume an $1860 mortgage.

WEST KENT CIVIC LEAGUE TO OBSERVE FOURTH

The newly organized community organization, known as the West Kent Civic League, which draws from the territory, Worton Point to Chestertown, and off from this road to the north and south, will observe the Fourth of July together in a community picnic. The picnic grounds will be that shore on Worton Point, now occupied by Milton Blades and family, known formerly as the Hartlove, or Harris place. A program of activities will be provided by a committee, headed by Mr. Sewell J. Lee, that will fill a day from ten in the morning until the shadows fall. All those dwelling in this area are urged to join in the occasion which is aimed to enlarge a Community Spirit. Bring a basket lunch, sufficient for the entire day, and stay til the end. Whatever you do, come along for a while. Even an hour together is better than not at all.

APPOINTED TO W. C. POST

Mrs. John C. Moore, of Greensboro, has been appointed matron of Reid Hall, Washington College, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Miss Anna Brown.

Mrs. Moore was formerly Miss Lottie Wickes, of Chestertown, and is a sister of Mrs. Hope H. Barroll. She has many friends and relatives in the county.

SHORE ARTIST GETS FAVORABLE NOTICES

The June number of the musical monthly magazine "The Metronome" published in New York City, carries an interesting article about Dale Wimbrow, of Salisbury and his song, "The Good Old Eastern Shore" in which it sketches the rising popularity of the song which is unique in that it is said to be the only song written about a definite locality that has gained as much fame. It speaks of Mr. Wimbrow's efforts of two years ago to get it published and of his complaint that publishers seemed to think the good old Eastern Shore was about the size of somebody's back yard.

COW KILLS FARMER

Elisha T. Harper, 73, residing near Brookview, Dorchester County, was instantly killed Friday by a west bound passenger train on the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railroad. The accident occurred at ten minutes after eight o'clock and was witnessed by the dead man's son. Mr. Harper was grazing his cow on the right of way of the railroad and, apparently, the sound of the approaching train scared the cow which ran across the track dragging Mr. Harper after it. Mr. Harper seems to have become confused at the approach of the train as he could have avoided the accident by letting go of the chain with which he was holding the cow.

SILO MEETING HELD HERE

A meeting in the interest of silo construction was held in the Court House, Chestertown ,on Friday of last week.

Nineteen interested farmers and dairymen and farmers attended the meeting and heard talks by Mr. McLain of the Dairy Division of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and Mr. J. A. Conover, Maryland Extension Dairy Specialist.

One of the outstanding results of the meeting was the almost unanimous endorsement of the concrete silo. After the meeting the ground or pit silos of Messrs. Wm. Walter Morris and Walter Bramble were visited. Indications are that a number of concrete silos will be built in the county shortly.

NEW CLUB HOUSE AT GREYS INN

The contract for building a modern club house on the Greys Inn Point Farm was awarded to Mr. Walter Pippin on Tuesday of this week by the Greys Inn Point Ducking Club, and work started immediately.

The club house will be built as an addition to the present farm house and will include bed rooms, baths, club room and an electric lighting plant.

A slag road will be built from the end of the Piney Neck concrete road along the county road to the club house, the club furnishing the slag and the county to build the road.

The membership of the club includes Messrs. Miller and Howard Strong, owners of the property, and a number of prominent men, of Baltimore.

CONSIDERING FUND OF $200,000

Bishop Davenport and a number of prominent churchmen of the Diocese of Easton, were in conference this week in reference to a recent recommendation of the Bishop that an endowmnt of $200,000 be raised for work in the Diocese. This suggestion, made at the recent convention in Easton, has met with a wide response in the interest it has occasioned, and the letters and verbal expressions have led the Bishop to take up the initial steps to this end.

It is believed that the fund can be raised within the next few years. It is not intended that a drive for funds be made, but rather that an educaional program of the needs of the Diocese be attempted and that this program be brought to the attention of former members of the Diocese who have made successes in the outside world. It is thought that the inclusion of bequests for the Diocese in wills, if the needs are properly put forth, will result in a fund in a few years that will go far towards the ultimate goal.

One of those interested in raising this fund is Ex-Governor Goldsborough, who has sent assurances of his deep interest.

TO GET $30,000

ALEXANDER H. SMITH, OF NEW YORK, LEAVES ABOVE SUM TO CHURCH AND CHILDREN'S HOME

At the death of Mrs. Alexander H. Smith, of New York, St. Micheals Parish and the Children's Home of Easton will be the beneficiaries of an estate estimated at from $60,000 to $75,000.

Mrs. Smith was a Miss Marshall, of Church Neck, and her husband was a New York business man. He had little interest in this section save as it was reflected in the mind of his wife. He was not a native here but was an admirer of this country.

It is said he had not been in St. Micheals for many years and that he had never visited the Children's Home though Mrs. Smith had furnished a room in the remodeled Home. Mrs. Smith's family had been for many years devoted members of the St. Michaels Episcopal Church and the family burying ground is adjoining the Church.

He died recently and his will, just probated, devises his entire estate to his wife for life time and at her death to be divided equally between St. Micheals Parish and the Children's Home.

With this bequest, when it ultimately comes, St. Micheals Parish will be the largest endowed parish in the Diocese of Easton and the Children's Home invested funds will be increased to a point where the maintenance of the Home will not be the burden that it now is.

CAN ANY BODY BEAT IT ?

Golf is having a wonderful vogue, courses spring up everywhere and the number of players growing with astonishing rapidity. Time was when only the well-to-do could afford the expense of clothes and clubs and fees, but in this day the sport has been brought within the reach of those of very moderate means. This is not to say, however, that the rich do not still have the best of it even in golf.

Once a "nineteenth" hole was customary at all private courses. And while, thanks to Mr. Volstead, those days are gone temporarily if not forever for the general run of golfers, we note that the rich find a way to worry along under the handicap. Thus, wealthy men from Boston and Montreal have established a golf club that lies partly in Northern Vermont and partly across the Canadian border. And they have taken pains to see that the clubhouse is on the Canadian side, where American members may sing "God save the King" and enjoy the "nineteenth hole" until the cows come home.

It doesn't seem quite fair, but one would predict that a very successful enterprise has been set afoot. Hoot mon! Who knows but that in years to come Canada and the United States will be linked wih golf courses on every available acre from New Brunswick out past Saskatchewan to British Columbia? And what an example to the world in internationalism that will be!

"TELLING THE WORLD" WITH BILL HAINES AT LYCEUM

"Telling the World," which shows at the Lyceum Theatre on Friday, July 6th, is perhaps the best of the line of starring pictures with which William Haines during the past two years has periodically convulsed and thrilled these United States.

The story concerns a youthful ne'er-do-well who when ejected into the cold world by his wealthy father gets a job on a newspaper with his first assignment to interview his parent on the subject of why he kicked him out.

With that hilarious opening, the tale moves rapidly through Haine's period as a "cub" wherein he solves a night club murder and incidentally rescues a little cabaret girl (Anita Page—and what a beauty she is!) from the clutches of the police.

Unfortunately, Haines' ideas of acquaintance with the girl do not include matrimony and she, rather than cause them both unhappiness by yielding, joins a theatrical troupe en route to the Orient. Haines, awakened too late to what he has lost, follows her and by means of a news story sent outfrom the interior of China that arouses the entire world, rescues her from the vengeance of a Chinese war lord who has ordered her execution.

Sam Wood, who handles the director's megaphone, has achieved a great success with a story that moves with marvelous rapidity from start to finish. Anita Page, who makes her first screen appearance as the girl, looks like the best bet of the year in screen newcomers.

The rest of the cast are all that they should be—and then some. Polly Moran, Eileen Percy, Frank Currier, Bert Roach, Mathey Betz, William V. Mong—all are excellent in their parts.

—Mr. Allan Urie, of Rock Hall, received his commission of reappointment as postmaster at Rock Hall on Saturday of last week.
