The Longest Speech on Record.

From Atlantic Constitution.

Long speeches are common. A Philadelphia lawyer will frequently extend his remarks through three or four days. In the Georgia Legislature, when the question of expelling the negro members was up Aaron Alpeoria Bradley spoke four days. The Tichborne trial brought Dr. Kenealey to the front with a speech running through 140 days. But these speakers did not talk continuously. Adjournments for dinner and over night and for Sunday made their work easy.

The longest speech on record is probably the one made by Mr. DeCosmos, a member of the Legislature of British Columbia, some time ago. A bill was pending which, if passed, would deprive many settlers of their lands, and the temper of the majority made it certain that it would pass. The Legislature was within a day and a half of the hour of its final adjournment, and the vote was about to be taken.

At this juncture DeCosmos arose to address the body. It was ten o'clock in the morning, and the members thought that he would finish in an hour or two. The clock struck eleven, twelve and one, but the speaker kept right on.

How long would he speak? The members in a spirit of fun omitted to adjourn for dinner, but DeCosmos spoke on without a break. At six o'clock he was still on the floor. He was forced by the speaker to stick to the question, and was not allowed to pause except to take a drink of water. The majority decided to continue the session through the night, slipping out in small parties to eat and sleep. Still without faltering, the orator poured forth his torrent of words. This was the situation at midnight, and also when the morning sun flooded the hall with the light of day. As the hour-hand of the clock pointed to twelve the limit prescribed by law for the session had arrived, and the Legislature soon adjourned sine die. As the last stroke of twelve the brave DeCosmos stopped in the middle of a sentence and fell fainting in his seat.

He had spoken, standing on his feet, 26 hours. His eyes were bleared and red, and his parched lips were cracked and running blood. He was nearly dead, but he had prevented the bill from becoming a law and had saved the settlers their homes.

An Elephant Bon-Bon.

A tiger hunter in India describes a little feast which he and his companions held at the end of one of their trips. One feature of it, at least, will be appreciated by the youngest schoolboy: "Sheep were presented to our followers, and the elephants were treated to great blocks of 'goor,' which is brown sugar in one of its earliest stages. As my own elephant raised her trunk and opened her queer-looking mouth in expectation of the usual donation of a few pieces of the size of one's fist, I carefully adjusted between her back teeth a lump larger than a man's head. I shall never forget the expression of her little eyes as she received the delicious morsel. She kept her head raised aloft, to prevent the juice from running out, and then directed her eyes down to me, beaming with elephantine pleasure. She could not swallow the prize; it was too big. Nor could she divide it; it was too sticky. All she could do was to hold it tight and roll her eyes, till it melted. These were doubtless the happiest moments in her life."

FROZEN WATER PIPES.

The season for frozen pipes is here, and the Southern Lumberman's answer to an inquirer is worthy a trial. "If the pipe is underground, or covered by a wooden conduit, place a bushel or more of unslaked lime over the point where the pipe is known to be frozen, put water enough on the lime to slake it, and cover with old sacks, canvas, sawdust or anything that will keep the heat the slaking of the lime generates from going off in the air. This is a better plan than to dig up the pipes and apply fire by burning coke or wood, but will require more time. Where water pipes are conveyed only a few inches underground, as is customary in the South, the lime process might be superseded by the burning of slabs and refuse over the line of pipe. But the best plan is to prevent the pipes freezing, on the broad principle that an ounce of prevention is worth more than a pound of cure."

A mixture composed of two drachms of camphor, half a drachm of pure saltpetre, half a drachm of muriate of ammonia and two fluid ounces of proof spirit, placed in a glass tube or a narrow vial, makes an excellent barometer. In dry weather the solution remains clear; stormy weather is indicated by a very disturbed condition of the chemical mixture, and on the approach of a change, minute stars will rise in the liquid.

FALL AND WINTER

ANNOUNCEMENT.

DEVILBISS' RACKET STORE,

NEW WINDSOR.

THE TARIFF QUESTION

May stir the country from centre to circumference. It may agitate the minds of Statesmen of all parties, who may argue pro and con upon the beauties of Protection and Free-Trade. But regardless of political beliefs, we stand firmly upon the policy of giving to individual rights, securing for mankind a freedom from the emoluments of credit exaction, protecting them from unjust discriminations—loadstones, which tend to make the poor man poorer and the rich man richer. We believe in a Protection that gives the consumer merchandise deprived of credit valuations, placing in your hands the finest selection of DRESS GOODS that can be made in the New York market, where our full stock was purchased. Our styles and prices must please you. Best $1.00 Black Silk in the world. Henriettas in all colors and prices. It is our express purpose to be Headquarters on Dress Goods and Fancy Trimmings as well as on everything else. Others may Puff and Blow, but they don't get to the top. We get there! We get there quietly and efficiently—but oh, my! we can smile at the criticism of our methods; at the denial of our claims; at the slandering of our goods. We are liberal minded, and also believe in

PROTECTION

FREE-TRADE.

This is a glorious country, a very land of freedom as designed by the framers of the constitution. But are you not held in shackles by monopolies and combinations? Are you not enchained by the exactions of a system that will forever hold you in bondage? Free-Trade, indeed! Call it slavery to men, who, from the divine right of self-protection in their business losses, place the whole weight upon your shoulders. We have no faith in this Free-Trade; but in giving you our cash valuations, we quote good Calicoes 4 and 5 cents per yard; good Ginghams 5 cents; good Canton Flannels 7 cents; Tickings 9 cents; best Rag Carpet for 25 cents, and all other goods correspondingly low. We also stand upon the plank favoring

A TARIFF FOR REVENUE ONLY.

This gives the consumer blessings that only are vouchsafed by cash transactions. Our object is not how much we can get for an article, but how cheap we can place it on the counter. One reasonable profit and stop, marks the measure of our due. To cut the selling price more would be to cut into the cost price, and that would be digging the ground from under our own feet. Here we offer you Men's Solid Boots at $1.75 and $1.99 per pair. The Snag-Proof Rubber Duck Boot beats all others. We have the agency for the Douglas $3.00 Men's Fine Shoe and Slesinger's Tender Feet Shoes for Women. Pebble Button Shoes at $1.00. Best Women's Rubber Shoes for 25 cents. A large line of Cassimeres. Thompson, our tailor, stands on top. He guarantees a fit or no money. Try some of our good Chewing Tobacco at 29 cents per pound. We carry the largest general line of Merchandise in the county, and would be glad for you, who are looking around for bargains, to give us a call.

Yours Respectfully,

FRANK J. DEVILBISS,

Agent for Longman and Martinez Paints.
