DUCKING SEASON OPENED

The ducking season opened on Thursday, November 1st in this district which includes all of the state of Maryland.

This is a great event for sportsmen living along the Chesapake Bay and tributaries and especially in Kent county where every possible ducking shore is owned or rented by duckers.

Tho two days a week law which affects the upper Kent shores of the Chester River did not permit the shooting along this stretch until Friday.

The shooting in Kent waters for the next few weeks will be confined mostly to marsh duck as very little point shooting is expected until colder weather.

LOCAL MATTERS

—Clerk of the Court, Robert A. Schallcross, has issued 476 county gunning licenses and 97 state-wide licenses.

—The soccer team of the Chestertown High School played Galena yesterday afternoon in the schedule for the Kent county interscholastic championship.

—Included in the excellent program at the New Lyceum Theatre for Thursday and Friday of next week, Pathe News will show pictures taken at Baker's Maryland Turkey Farm.

—A clinic for diseases of the chest will be conducted in Health Center. Chestertown, Monday, November 5, 1928, at 9.00 a. m. Individuals desiring to attend the clinic should see their family physicians and obtain permission to attend at the place announced above.

—The Pathe News spent half a day this week taking moving pictures at Baker's Maryland Turkey Farm which will be released to moving picture theatres on the Shore on November 12th. These pictures will be shown with other Del-Mar-Va pictures at Easton on November 13th, and will probably appear in Kent county that same week.

FOUR CROSS MARKS

There are only four cross marks necessary to vote for all Democratic candidates at the electon next Tuesday. A cross mark after the name of T. Alan Golsborough, a cross mark after the name of William Cabell Bruce and a cross mark after the names of Smith and Robinson will mean a vote for the entire Democratic ticket. It is not necessary to vote for the electors as a cross mark after Smith and Robinson means a vote for all the 8 electors.

DREDGING SEASON OPENS

As the Maryland crabbing season closes Thursday morning another branch of the seafood industry will swing into full action with the opening of the oyster-dredging season.

The crabbing season, the most successful in the last ten years, has furnished the watermen of Chesapeake bay and its tributaries a lucrative oc- opened, according to Swepson Earle opened, according to Swepson Eare, Conservation Commissioner. The oyster season, however, does not promise the same bumper crop, he asserted.

A large dredging fleet has assembled this week in the Potomac river to inaugurate the dredging season.

BOY SCOUT RIFLE CLUB

The Betterton Boy Scout Rifle Club opened their new Rifle Range Saturday. There was a good groop of riflemen out and under the adult supervision of Mr. Arthur Newsome, a member of the Board of Review, who is the Senior Rifle Instructor, some very good scores were shot. Mr. Newsome made the highest score of the day, but among the Scouts, Scout Bonwill ranked first. The Club is to be affiliated with the National Rifle Association, and shooting for medals will begin soon. A team will also compete against other Rifle Clubs.

USE NEW PHONE BOOK

In contradiction to an artcle published in ths paper last week urging telephone subscribers to use the old book, Mr. Robert Harris, district manager, states that the old telephone book should be discarded and only the new book used.

While there has been some changes in phone numbers, the new numbers appearing in the new book, the subscriber should use the new number and the operator will take care of the change at the telephone exchange. The changing of the numbers at the telephone office will be completed by Monday and by using the new fall issue telephone book there will be no confusion.

PROF. HOWELL ON TRADE BOARD

Professor William R. Howell, of Washington College, has been appointed to represent the Kent County Chamber of Commerce on the committee of Trade Relations of the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

Professor Howell attended a meeting of this committee in Baltimore on October 16th at which time he stated that the building of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge was the key to the building of trade relations between the Eastern and Western shores of Maryland.

The Association pledged their support of this project and that they have and will do everything in their power to hasten the construction.

As an outcome of the meeting a letter was received by the local Chamber dated October 24, stating that in a recent interview with Mr. Stewart S. Janney, of the Bridge Company, he stated that he expected the final approval of the plans from the State Roads Commission within a week, in the meantime the work is going ahead.
