The loss is about $7,000; insurance $4,600 in Agricultural Company of Watertown, N. Y. Mr. Reiman was formerly a citizen of Westminster.

Thursday, 14th inst., was St. Valentine's day. It was observed in a measure by the transmission, through the mails, of comic, fancy and sentimental pictures and missives, but there are indications that the custom is declining and may fall into "innocuous desuetude." The SENTINEL's devil received a dozen or more, of the comic variety, with which he has adorned his quarters.

Readers of the SENTINEL will remember an account of the celebration of the centennial anniversary of the venerable Abner Prugh, of Ohio, published in the issue of September 29th. The real anniversary was anticipated, Mr. Prugh having been born in Carroll county, Md., January 1st, 1789. A dispatch, dated at Dayton, Ohio, 13th inst., states that he died at midnight of the 12th.

Mrs. Matilda, wife of the late I. Wedding Bells.

FOUTZ-ZEPP.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zepp, near Westminster, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, 13th inst., the contracting parties being Miss Ada A., youngest daughter of Mr. Zepp, and Harvey G. Foutz, of Baltimore. Punctually at the appointed hour, 12 M., the bridal party, led by the ushers, Chas. E. Hesson, of Baltimore, and Frank Grumbine, of Westminster, entered the parlor, and was met by Rev. J. T. Murray, D. D., pastor of the M. P. Church, Westminster, who performed the marriage ceremony. The bride was dressed in a travelling costume of terra-cotta broadcloth, braided, with hat and gloves to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The wedding march was played by Miss Ida F. Lockard. The presents were numerous and valuable. A reception was given from 1 till 4 o'clock, with lunch, consisting of cold turkey, chicken, ham, chicken salad, and delicacies of varied and appetizing character in abundance. The wedding guests were numerous. Among them were Mrs. Foutz, mother of the groom; Thomas F. Mullan and daughter, Milton Senft and family, of Baltimore; Mrs. Norris, of Baltimore county; Wesley Zepp and family, Miss Alverta Lamotte, of Finksburg; Thomas Buckingham and family, Miss Emma Hesson, of Littlestown, Pa.; Henry Zepp and family, of Mt. Pleasant; Emory Zepp and family, Covington Zepp and family, of Howard county; Miss Nannie Fessler, Tannery; Mrs. Kate Looney, of Baker City, Oregon; Dr. Leonard Zepp and family, A. Reese Bixler and wife, Misses Rosie Orndorff, Jennie Malehorn, Jennie Zepp, Lizzie Thompson, Ella and Jennie Shreeve, Messrs. John Shreeve, George Bixler, Charles P. Cassell, of Westminster. The happy couple left on the 4.50 P. M. train for Baltimore, Washington and other cities.

FRINGER-PANEBAKER.

A delightful home wedding took place in Bachman's Valley, on Tuesday evening, February 12th, 1889. The contracting parties were Mr. Calvin T. Fringer, of Taneytown and Miss Sarah R. Panebaker, of Bachman's Valley. Promptly at 6 p. m. the wedding march commenced, Mrs. Eyster presiding at the organ, keeping time with which the happy couple appeared and was soon made one by Rev. C. M. Eyster, of Manchester. Mr. Will. Panebaker, of Franklin and Marshall College, brother of the bride, and Mr. John H. Fair, of Taneytown, cousin of the groom, acted as ushers. The bride was handsomely attired in white albatross cloth, trimmed with lace and ribbons, the groom wearing the conventional black. The guests were numerous, representing Taneytown, Manchester, Littlestown, Melrose, Lineboro', and Wakefield and Bachman's Valleys. The bride received many tokens of high regard from her many friends, in the gift of useful and ornamental articles. The guests all seemed to be pleased and enjoyed the occasion, and only a late hour found them dispersed. After visiting for a short time among their friends, the happy couple will take an extended wedding tour.

Donation Party.

Friday night of last week Rev. W. S. Delp, pastor of the Uniontown charge of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, was pleasantly surprised by a visit from upwards of a hundred of his parishioners, members of Baust's, Winter's and Uniontown congregations, who brought to his residence a large and varied supply of the necessaries of life, including groceries, provisions, dry goods, blankets, towels, &c. A neat presentation speech was made by Dr. J. J. Weaver, Jr., to which Mr. Delp responded, on behalf of himself and Mrs. Delp, in a feeling and appropriate manner. The visitors brought an abundant supply of oysters and materials for a supper, and taking possession of the dining room and kitchen soon had a delicious repast prepared, of which all partook with relish and enjoyment. After restoring the parsonage to order the self invited party retired carrying happy hearts and the minister's blessing with them and leaving glad and grateful hearts in their pastor's home.

G. A. R. Annual Encampment—Excursion To Hagerstown.

The G. A. R. Annual Encampment will take place at Hagerstown on Friday, February 22nd, and promises to prove an event of unusual interest. The Western Maryland Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Hagerstown at all ticket offices on Main line and Baltimore and Cumberland Valley Division on February 21st, and 22nd, at the special low rate of one fare for the round trip. In addition to regular trains a special train will leave Hillen station, Baltimore, for Hagerstown, at 2.15, P. M., on Thursday, February 21st, making stops only at Glyndon, Westminster, New Windsor and also at Rocky Ridge for Emmittsburg connection. Returning the special train will leave Hagerstown on Friday, February 22nd, at 8.05, P. M., stopping at stations above named. Excursion tickets will be good to return until Saturday, February 23rd.

Gamber Items.

Two weddings have occurred in this vicinity during the week, the parties to which were Levi Barnes and Miss [illegible]tie Frizzell, A. N. Zentz and Mi[illegible] Caple.

William Arnold is rebuilding his barn and is having the help of his neighbors who sympathize with him in the loss sustained by the destruction of its predecessor upon which there was no insurance. Mr. Arnold is a very worthy man and illy able to bear the loss.

The concert, under the leadership of Dr. S. N. Gorsuch, was a decided success and is to be repeated next Tuesday night at the hall in Finksburg.

Some of the boys are personating the White Caps and are sending warning notices about the neigborhood.

Woodbine Items.

Rev. Mr. McLinn, pastor of the Lutheran Church of Union Bridge, preached to a large and attentive audience of ladies and gentleman on Sunday, 10th inst., at 3.15 P. M., at Newport's lumber yard. His text was from 5th chapter of John and 8th verse—"Rise take up Thy bed and walk." He will preach here again on the 24th and every two weeks afterwards. A Sunday School will be organized here on the afternoon of the 17th. Our place is very much in need of a Church, Sunday School, and a Public School, as first steps to guide in the Gospel of Truth.

Sam's Creek Items.

The weather has recently become cold and winter-like, giving our farmers and dairymen a fine opportunity to secure their ice for the coming season. Their fears of an ice famine have vanished.

On last Saturday a small property, containing about 12 acres, lying on the Buffalo road, near Newport, and known as the Bill Hill Lot, was bought by Wm. F. Sharretts for the sum of $529.

A short time ago N. E., (better known as Dock), Franklin sold to John H. Stem his house and lot, adjoining Mr. Stem's Sam's Creek farm, for $800, Mr. Franklin having a desire to invest in city property.

Littlestown (Pa.) Items.

The first death in our town this year occurred on the 26th ult., when William Hofford died, aged 62 years. Mr. Hofford was a citizen of Littlestown for over thirty years.

The Black property, on North Queen street, so long in dispute, was sold by the sheriff, recently, for $470. The borough and school board had a claim on it of over $200 for accumulated taxes.

Dr. E. F. Shorb has sold his house and lot, corner of South Queen and Lombard streets, at public sale. George W. Riffle was the purchaser at $1,505.

A cold wave struck us a day or two ago and drove the mercury down to 14 above zero, within one degree the coldest we have yet had this winter.

From present indications there will be more changes of residences than usual this spring. To our knowledge fifteen new families will take up their abode in our town.

J. E. Crouse, a former citizen of Littlestown, but recently living in Kansas, has returned to this, his former home, and expects to remain.

J. H. Huber, who recently bought the drug stores of Drs. Shorb and Kemp, has consolidated the two, and removed them to the Crouse building, near the Square, which he has fitted up expressly for a drug store. Littlestown now has, by far, the finest drug store in the county.

It is getting to be a common practice for young men to carry cigarette pictures of a disreputable nature. Even boys are guilty of this practice. A good method to counteract this evil would be for these reckless boys or men to carry with them pictures of their mothers, and we are certain that every time they gazed on these pictures a restraint would be thrown around their baser passions.

The Y. W. C. T. U. met in the U. B. Church, on Monday night week. The house was crowded, even to the standing room in the aisles.

The friends of H. J. Miller, a former citizen of Littlestown, but now residing in Clearfield county, have received the sad intelligence of a frightful accident to his family. A hanging-lamp, above a centre table, fell and, striking the table, broke, scattering the oil over those around the table. A six-year-old daughter was so severely burned that death ensued in a few hours; the mother was also so badly burned that she is not expected to live; and Mr. Miller and a grown daughter were also severely burned, but not fatally. Mr. Miller has been connected with a number of different newspapers in our town, either as publisher, editor or foreman, and has the sympathy of the community in his sore affliction.

Mrs. Mary Ann Fair, an aged lady, died at her residence, near Copperville, on last Saturday morning. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. O. C. Roth, in the Lutheran church, after which the remains were laid away to rest in the Lutheran cemetery.

The holy communion will be celebrated in Grace Reformed church, on Sunday, 17th inst. Preparatory services Saturday afternoon previous. The services will be conducted by Rev. Walter Krebs, of Littlestown, Pa.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, of the Lutheran Church, held their anniversary on last Sunday evening. The services were conducted by Mrs. O. C. Roth and Mrs. Mary Motter. A very neat and attractive program was carried out. The report of the society was read by the treasurer, Mrs. Maggie Reaver. A select reading by Miss May Forrest was very well rendered; this was followed by a recitation by Miss Bessie Reindollar. Three excellent essays were read by Misses Sadie E. Snyder, Emma L. Reaver and Annie Motter. These were followed by a recitation by Miss Virgie Motter. Dr. Birnie delivered a short address, and was followed by the pastor, Rev. O. C. Roth. The program was interspersed with music, by the choir. On the whole the anniversary was a success, and shows the interest which this church manifests in the work of missions.

There are several invalids in our village. Mrs. A. J. Koontz has been confined to her bed about eight weeks with a heavy cold. She has cataract of the eyes, one of which is entirely sightless and will soon be in condition for an operation. She can still see a little out of the other. Her physician expresses confidence in her ultimate recovery.

Milton Wantz, aged 8 years, son of Wm. Wantz, has been an invalid about three years. His physicians call his disease rheumatism or blood poisoning. He is able to sit in a chair, but cannot walk.

Both Joshua Corbin and his wife have been confined to the house, and occasionally to their beds, about a year. Mrs. Corbin's case appears to be the more serious

Birdie, daughter of J. Babylon, who has been suffering with rheumatism, is improving.

Wm. and Charles Harver, of Baltimore, visited their brother Frederick this week.

R. J. Wantz has killed six hogs which weighed 217, 223, 240, 271, 332, 335, and a beef 444 pounds.

The laws still oppose a hostile front to road engines. Whenever Mr. Otto wishes to avoid trouble and expense, or a conflict with dread authority, he makes a circuit to the east of town, passing a swamp and climbing the rocky alp known as Vinegar Hill. Mr. Buckey, on the west of the village, considering Mr. Otto unjustly denied his right to a free road has given him privilege to pass through his fields. This display of judgment and generosity on the part of Mr. Buckey plainly shows that he is neither a judge, nor a lawyer, nor a Lilliputian.

At no time since the commencement of the series of incendiary fires which have occurred in Codorus township, York county, Pa., has the excitement been so great among our people as at present. The crime seems to have become epidemic and has at last been extended within our own borders. Last Thursday evening the fine new barn of Samuel Hare, near Tank Station, was burned, with most of its contents. The incendiary gave warning by writing on the barn door a notice that the building would be destroyed. The notice read: "Remove your stock and grain; this barn and 4 others will be burned." Mr. Hare discovered it on Thursday morning, and it was soon made known to his neighbors, a number of whom gathered and made a thorough search of the barn but could find no trace of any explosive substance. Some wheat was threshed and taken to the station, and towards evening it was concluded that the notice referred to subsequent action. Mr. Hare and his workmen left the barn floor and went into the stabling below while his little son remained behind and in a few minutes gave the alarm. An explosion had occurred overhead and scattered fire in every direction. In less than ten minutes the whole structure was in a blaze. The fire attracted several hundred people to the spot but it was impossible to arrest the flames, and the building was soon reduced to ashes. The live stock was rescued, but the remaining contents were destroyed. By hard work a large crib, near by, filled with corn, was saved. The loss is said to be $2,000, with an insurance of $1,000 in the Dug Hill Company. Farmers are greatly excited and are removing hay and straw and stacking them; stock is turned into the yards and the people are spending sleepless nights. Numerous notices have been served on farmers that their barns are marked for destruction. David Beckley, of Baltimore county, has received such a notice and has taken precautions to guard his many buildings. On Monday morning Henry Berwager, near town, found a bottle containing coal oil with a heavy sediment in it among some fodder in his barn floor and near it some charred fodder leaves and a paper with these words written on it: "You are spiteful at me and I am spiteful at you." John Shultz, who resides in the 5th district of Baltimore county, found a notice on his barn Monday night that it was marked for the torch. On Tuesday with the aid of his neighbors he removed the contents of the building. It is reported that other persons in that section have received similar warnings. Our warehouses are receiving large quantities of grain for shipment, regardless of price. Farmers are threshing and rushing it into market in haste.

Despite the predictions of the lovely (?) "Rosalie" and clan to the contrary, the creamery is assuming a decidedly more tangible form than that of a "sort of winter nightmare." H. M. Zile has in course of erection a large building which, when completed, will be fitted up with all the modern appliances for the manufacture of ice cream and butter. He is also erecting an ice-house which, it is estimated, will have a capacity of one-hundred tons, and he has already harvested and housed about seventy-five tons of ice. Let the "festive tramp" commence his perambulations.

A spark falling from a burning chimney and alighting upon the roof of C. R. Pickett's house, on Thursday of last week, was the origin of a slight fire, which, though quickly extinguished, was the means of impressing the minds of our villagers with the importance of providing appliances for doing battle with fires in the future; should it unfortunately become necessary. A meeting was therefore held at Mr. Cover's store in the evening, when liberal contributions were made to a fund to be applied to the purchase of ladders, buckets &c.
