THE TRANSCRIPT

THIS BEING OUR first issue in the year 1929. We want to wish our friends and patrons a happy and contented New Year. We appreciate the friendship and friendly acts accorded us during 1928, and hope for the same cordial relations in 1929 that we received in the year just past.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE

MET IN ANNAPOLIS WEDNESDAY

Senator McIntosh Elected President Of The Senate And Hon. E. Brooke Lee, Speaker Of The House.

The Maryand Legislature convened on Wednesday at Annapolis, and as usual there were many applicants for various positions of clerks, doorkeepers, etc.

Senator McIntosh was elected President of the Senate and E. Brooke Lee speaker of the House. Senator McIntosh's election was unaniuous while Mr. Lee met with considerable opposition, the opposition coming principally from Baltimore city.

The state tax rate for this and next year, 1929-1930 will be the same as last year 27 11-28.

Of the $5,800,000 recommended loan by the Governor $50,000 is for an armary in Chestertown.

The road and bridge loans aggregate $2,500,000. It is to be hoped that a new bridge for Chester River at Chestertown will be included in this item.

The outstanding features recommended by Governor Ritchie in his message to the General Assembly Wednesday are:

Taxation—State tax rate to remain at 25.74 cents for fiscal years of 1930 and 1931.

Construction—A $5,800,000 loan to cover building of first unit for new penitentiary, additions to State hospitals for the insane, post roads, bridges and general improvements, repair and equipment.

State Roads Commission—A promise to take whatever action eventually is necessery in the shortage.

Finance Control—Establishment of a central fiscal division in Comptroller's office to care for all State money.

University of Maryland—New law and horticultural buildings. Appointment of commission to study future of University Hospital.

Insane—400 beds at Spring Grove; 210 at Crownsville, and 50 for Rosewood State Training School.

Schools—Slight increase in budget. Large appropriations for Teachers' Retirement Fund.

Conservation—Recodification of fish laws.

COMMUNICATED

There is a report in circulation that muskrats hides are expected to range in price from $1.75 to $3.00 this season; I certainly think it is wrong to circulate such articles as it is misleading to the trapper. There are no indications of muskrats being so high, as there are more hides being carried over in New York than ever was known before, and everyone that held rats over has lost lots of money.

Several dealers on the Eastern Shore have lost thousands of dollars this year, as rats have been going lower ever since last season closed. One dealer in Baltimore has 10,000 rats carried over from the spring of 1927 for which he paid $2.15 each; he might get around $1.15 each today if he could sell them. I have had 1,250 spring rats on sale in New York since November 15th, which I am asking $1.20 for, but as yet I have not been able to sell them.

So I cannot see any reason whatever for high priced rats. As for the quanity of rats in this section, I think there will be less than last year as we had a very high tide this past fall which must have drowned lots of young rats, and the heavy rains drowned some of the rats in branches. There is enough muskrats stored in New York to last them all this season if they don't buy any more at all. So I can't see why any one should expect high prices for rats this year, but let us hope for better times in the fur market.

Yours truly,
MORGAN K. BENNETT

SHOT IN LEG

Bus Walker shot Leon Seney, colored, in the leg just above the knee at Butlertown Thursday evening. The shooting is claimed to have been an accident. Seney was taken to the Easton hospital where he stated that Walker was fooling with a gun and he told Walker to put it up, but instead of doing so he went in the house, got a loaded shell, placed it in the gun and then accidentally fired it.
