Shults, at Sykesville, was the scene on Thursday evening of a fashionable and most enjoyable reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Shultz, in honor of their son, Mr. Louis P. Shultz, and his bride, Mrs. Mamie B. Shultz, nee Taylor, whose marriage took place in Cincinnati, Ohio, on the 32d ult. The couple arrived home at a late hour on Wednesday night from Niagara and other points visited during their bridal tour. The bride is a handsome petite brunette, and is particularly winsome in her manners. She is a grandniece of President Zachary Taylor. The groom is the only son of Mr. L. H. Shultz, of Sykesville, and is a prominent and popular business man of that place. The large parlors were thrown open at eight o'clock, and until ten a stream of guests extended congratulations and pleasant greetings to the happy pair. The couple stood while receiving in front of a background composed of laurel and ferns that reached almost to the ceiling. Around the parlors were arranged clusters of ferns and daisies, which gave additional brightness to the scene. The host and hostess were assisted in receiving by Misses Mamie and Sophie Shultz, of Frederick.

Festival of the Ascension.

Ascension Day is always a great day at the church of the Ascension, Westminster. This year it was observed by special services and sermons and by a social gathering of the people at the Rectory. On Wednesday night, the eve of the festival, there was service with a most interesting sermon by the Rev. Joseph Fletcher of Baltimore. Ascension day there were three services in the church. At the chief morning service the Rector delivered his annual address on the work of the parish. He outlined three great causes for thankfulness for the past year, viz: the speedy and satisfactory settlement of a new Rector, the renewal of the daily communion, and the release of the parish from its burden of debt. He also named four things to be accomplished in the coming year:—the beautifying of the church, keeping it more holy, the thorough organizing of the parish work, and the strengthening of the inner spiritual life of all the members. The decorations of the church were unusually beautiful, and the services were well attended. In the evening, while a heavy rain poured outside, there was a large and happy gathering of young and old at the Rectory. Refreshments were served and a general good time was enjoyed. The social gathering will be continued from year to year, and it is hoped that this one was the beginning of many more pleasant ones to follow.

Memorial Day.

Memorial services were held in this city, on Thursday, 30th inst., under the supervision of Burns Post No. 13, G. A. R. The members of the Post assembled at the Hall at 1.30 P. M., and with Alexander Klinedinst as commander, and John H. Mitten, adjutant, formed and, led by the Westminster Band, marched to the entrance of the Cemetery. A large number of citizens, ladies and gentlemen, gathered to witness the exercises, which were opened by the singing of the National Anthem, My Country, 'tis of Thee," by a select choir under the leadership of Harry M. Gernand, with Mrs. Isaac E. Pearson as organist. Prayer was then offered by Rev. Charles A. Reid, and, after music by the band and singing the Memorial Hymn by the choir, Col. Wm. P. Maulsby introduced Rev. C. S. Slagle, who delivered an able and interesting address. Much to the disappointment of the audience a sudden shower interrupted the proceedings and induced the orator to abbreviate his address. It will, however, be published in full in next week's SENTINEL.

After the address the choir sang "Cover Them Over," and the members of the Post, to the strains of a solemn dirge, rendered by the band, proceeded to decorate with flowers the graves of their fallen comrades, in Westminster Cemetery. This sacred service completed they marched to the Cemeteries of Ascension Protestant Episcopal and St. John's Catholic Churches, where the graves of the dead soldiers therein reposing were also strewn with floral offerings.

Tne organ used on the occasion was kindly furnished by Mr. Joseph D. Brooks, who also, during the exercises at the entrance to the Cemetery, threw open his house and extended other courtesies to the participants that were highly appreciated.

The graves of soldiers interred in Greenmount and the M. E. Church Cemeteries, at Hampstead, were decorated during the morning of the 30th by members of Burns Post residing in that vicinity. No formal services were held.

Excursions can also be made to various other places of interest in the vicinity.

In addition to the charms of the place, a program of unusual merit may be expected.

Arrested on a Serious Charge.

Mr. A. G. Hutzler, of the well-known dry goods firm of Hutzler Bros., Baltimore, was before United States Commissioner Rogers on Wednesday on the charge of opening a letter addressed to Miss Lucy Wilson, who is employed at George H. C. Neal & Son's. She testified that Miss Mamie Slaughter, who is a student at Western Maryland College, Westminster, came into the store about the first of May and informed her that she had written a letter to her in care of Hutzler Bros. Miss Wilson demanded the letter of Mr. Hutzler. He said he knew nothing of it, but if she would find out the date he would look it up. She wrote to Miss Slaughter and obtained the date, whereupon she went to Mr. Hutzler again. He then produced two letters written by Miss Slaughter, but refused to give them up. Mr. Hutzler told her the letters had been opened, and seeing inside an order for goods they had advertised, they supposed it was intended for them. Mr. Hutzler testified that he knew nothing about the letters until Miss Wilson inquired about them. When Miss Wilson came back with the date of the letters they were hunted up. The first letter began "Miss Lucy," and contained an order for goods, and the second, beginning "Mr. Hutzler," was in reference to the first. The envelopes were destroyed, but Mr. Hutzler said they could not have been opened. The case was adjourned until next Friday in order to secure the attendance of Miss Slaughter, who will testify as to the address she placed on the envelope.

Special from Woodbine.

The members of Round Top Union Sunday School are so much interested in the erection of a church at Woodbine that they have concluded to hold an ice cream and strawberry festival on Friday evening, May 31st, and Saturday afternoon and evening, June 1st, for the benefit of the project. Prof. Hess will conduct vocal exercises as a feature of the affair.

Mr. Miller and Miss Lakin, of Woodberry, paid a short visit to Miss Gilliss, on Sunday last.

W. R. Steiner has finished the erection of his warehouse at this place. A. Eichelberger was carpenter, Mr. Koontz, tinner and Lyons & Burch, painters, all of Frederick.

W. H. H. Grove has taken charge of the postoffice and removed it from B. H. Belt & Bro's. store to the Railroad Depot.

Committees on Exhibits.

Mr. Frank H. Orendorff, of this city, who was appointed secretary for Carroll county by the late Maryland Editor's Convention, with power and authority to name a committee of one or more persons in each election district, who should be requested to report to him such things as may be worthy to be exhibited at the grand State Exposition to be held by the Maryland State Agricultural and Mechanical Association, at Pimlico, in September, has completed his list of said committees, which is hereto appended, as follows:

[redacted]

In pursuance of the resolution under which Mr. Orendorff was appointed secretary he will, whenever notified by any member of these committees of any stock, cereals, minerals, manufactures, or other objects worthy of exhibition, communicate with the owners and urge them to send such products to the Exposition. It is anticipated that in this manner Carroll county will take a leading place at the Exposition. The interest indicated by the acceptance of this trust by so many of our leading citizens is exceedingly gratifying and promises the most satisfactory results. We are assured the committees will faithfully discharge the duties imposed by their appointment.

Harney Items.

Col. Fuller, President of the Harrisburg and Gettysburg Railroad, was in our town last week looking after the interests of the route now being surveyed and which is to pass through here.

A. J. Lightner, of Baltimore, moved last week on the farm, near here, recently purchased of J. W. Black. Mr. Lightner was raised in our town but has not lived here for about twenty-five years. For a number of years he was engaged in the grocery business in Baltimore where he carried on an extensive trade. We are always glad to welcome into our neighborhood citizens of high moral worth like Mr. Lightner has always proved himself to be.

Flickinger & Slonaker, stone cutters of Taneytown, have recently erected several tombstones in the U. B. cemetery at this place.

Mrs. Kroh, of near Manchester, has been visiting at her daughter, Mrs. Susan Hawk's, near this place, during the past few weeks.

Mr. Daniel Hess, who recently opened a new store here, keeps ice-cream for sale. This is an act worthy of approbation, as our people can now get ice cream without going to a place filled with the odor of liquor.

The wet weather continues, and farmers are much delayed with their corn planting. The wet weather has caused the grass and wheat to lodge in many places. It would be well for the county commissioners to visit our town during this wet time and see the condition of the space between the houses at the square. It presents the appearance of a lake, as the water cannot get away until it gets deep enough in some places to float a boat.

Last Sunday night week some persons tried to break into Mr. Geo. Fream's house They were heard at the window on the back porch. Mr. Fream came down stairs with his gun, but when the thieves heard the noise inside of the house they fled.

Mrs. Ann Hess, who has been sick for several months at her son, C. M. Hess's is still very ill, and her death is expected any day.

Spring will soon have passed away and nature arrayed herself in summer's garb. Soon the welcome harvest will be here and the clattering, deafening sound of the harvester be heard over the land.

A New Windsor Wedding.

ZOLLICKOFFER—SNADER.

The peerless taste with which all church weddings are managed in New Windsor makes it hard to speak superlatively of anyone, except when other considerations unite with sentiment in nominating for a marriage a May day,

> "When daisies pied and violets blue
> Do paint the meadows with delight."

Such a poetic coincidence distinguished the marriage of Miss Ida L. Snader, daughter of the late David Snader and sister of E. E. Snader, to Mr. Milton Zollickoffer, at the M. E. Church, at 4, P. M., on the 29th. The hours of the afternoon preceding the ceremony were spent by a number of relatives of both bride and groom and a few neighbors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Snader, in Dickson's Valley, south of town. An ample and appetizing luncheon, displaying the skill of cook and florist, admiration for a superb pyramid of flowers reaching from the floor to ceiling in the parlor, a view of an array of presents rarely excelled for variety and value, and an exchange of wit in which even the parson participated, soon passed the time till all were due at the church door. A building thrice as commodious would not have seated the witnesses. The flowers were notable for profusion and arrangement. Prof. Royer furnished the music to which the advance of the bridal party was gauged. The ushers, Messrs. W. Zollickoffer and Ed. Roop, led, dressed as ushers forever are. Next came two flaxen-haired maidens of six, Lamora Bankerd and Edna Snader, in cream-colored attire, bearing baskets of flowers. Then the bride and groom; she, in a rich brown traveling costume, carrying a bouquet of pink roses, was a picture altogether justifying the groom for looking better and happier than ever before. The Rev. Mr. Marsh officiated with a grace acquired at 163 weddings. Amid a shower of congratulations, rice and yellow corn the happy couple took the train for a week's trip to the ocean. It is appended as a piece of curious information in regard to the manouvres of Cupid that this is the second wedding which has resulted from a Western trip taken by a party of young folks two years ago, at the time of the Dunker Conference, and it is bruited that more's to be.

Woodbine Items.

Woodbine has been suffering for several years with over-much Democracy, but the fact that a Republican has taken charge of the postoffice there will have a tendency to equalize politics and make the place more healthy. The next wish of the people there is that Brother McLinn will continue his eloquent preaching and that a church may be built in the place.

Rev. J. S. Burton preached at Morgan Chapel on the 26th instant; text, "Occupy till I come."

Miss Maggie Touhey, of Woodbine, is lying ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. Ellen A. Mercier and L. Scott Mercier have each had a valuable horse to die recently.

Some of the county roads in this section are in very bad condition. The supervisors need looking after.

We recently bought an everlasting lamp wick from the "Poet of the Wilderness," and it is all that is claimed for it If the man of the wilderness will spend a few dollars advertising his goods in the SENTINEL, we have no doubt that he will soon have his pockets full of dimes and money left to help "the printer's poor devil."

The incessant rains have thrown the wheat to the ground and prevented corn plowing.

We are requested to say there will be a picnic and ice cream festival in the grove on James Pickett's land, on Whit Monday, commencing at 10 o'clock, A. M. The public are invited.

Union Mills Items.

There was never a more favorable spring for all growing crops.

The brickwork of the Dunkard Church at this place was completed last week.

Moorhead M. E. Sunday School is making preparation for an appropriate observance of Children's day.

A. K. Shriver & Sons have been busy the past week taking in new bark. Their sheds are not yet full.

Rev. Jno. G. Noss, of Silver Run, is suffering with a severe attack of neuralgia and is unable to attend to his ministerial duties.

The old saw mill attached to B. F. Shriver & Co's mill, being unused for many years and in rather a delapidated condition, was demolished this week. Thus, another old landmark has passed away.

Fountain Valley Items.

There has been a great deal of wet weather in this section and the indications are for a wet season. Crops of all kinds are growing finely, especially grass and grain.
