THE TRANSCRIPT

ON MAY 11TH the qualified voters of Kent county will go to the polls and vote for or against two bond issues aggregating one million dollars for building of concrete roads and slag roads in the county. According to the plan of construction it is estimated that this bond issue will improve one hundred miles of road within the next two years. This is probably the largest and most constructive issue for the development of Kent county that has ever been presented and every voter should thoroughly study the situation before going to the polls. The issue, if passed will mean a substantial increase in taxes the first year diminishing each year for a period of 10 years. This tax increase is estmated at 25 cents the first year, 22½ cents the second year, etc. It is a question of roads vs. taxes. However the continued demand for good roads in every district in the county indicate that this is probably the most important issue in the county. Figures have been compiled showing that automobile and truck owners in Kent county are spending $75,000 a year to travel over dirt roads above what it would cost to travel over harddsurface roads. There is no question but that the progress of the county is being retarded due to bad roads both from a point of hauling and travel and also from a point of bringing new settlers into the county. A first opposition to the issue is that due to the high cost of growing farm products and the low prices received for these products, an increase in taxes will work a tremendous hardship on the agricultural interests of the county which bears the bulk of the taxes. The whole question of the bond issue is whether the use of improved roads in Kent county for ten years is worth the interest to be paid on the bonds, it is a question to be settled by every voter and we urge every one to thoroughly study the situation, figure the actual annual increase in taxes on their property, consider the value of good roads and then vote. It is not a political issue but a business proposition of cost against the value of the purchase.

SCHEDULE TO CHANGE APRIL 28

MAIL SERVICE TO BE CONTINUED BY SPECIAL MAIL TRUCK

Those citizens of Chestertown who have been depending on the train whistle at 7.30 in the morning to announce the time to get up will have to buy an alarm click after April 28th, because on Monday, April 29th, there will be no north bound train in the morning or south bound train in the evening. This will also affect the other railroad stations in the county.

The only passenger train service to and from Kent county will be southbound arriving in Chestertown at 11 a. m. and northbound at 2 p. m. This schedule will not affect the freight, express or milk train service to and from Kent county.

Another Mail Truck For Kent

Mr. R. H. Bordner, of the U. S. Postal Service was in Chestertown on Friday of last week and through arrangement by Mr. Wm. G. Smyth, Postmaster, he met representatives from local newspapers, Chamber of Commerce and Chestertown Commissioners to discuss a plan for mail service to surplant that lost by the change in Railroad service.

Mr. Bordner was in Chestertown again on Thursday of this week, and with Mr. Smyth, motored to the various postoffices affected and discussed the situation. As a result of this study of conditions the following mail schedule was adopted.

A mail truck will leave Church Hill in the morning arriving at Chestertown at 7.30 and take north bound first class mail north, stopping at the various towns enroute, and at Galena will meet a spur route from Barclay, Sudlersville, Millington and Massey, and then carry all north bound mail to Middletown for the 9.45 northbound Delaware division train.

In the evening the truck will leave Middletown at 4.30 p. m., retrace the above route, transfer mail to the Millington, Massey, Sudlersville and Barclay spur route at Galena and arrive at Chestertown at 6 p. m.

This arrangement will give the same mail service which now exists and offer additional service to and from Millington, Massey and Sudlersville for other Kent county points.

POCKETBOOK NABBED AS HE VOICES IMPENDING "EVENT"

A Detroit despatch says: Terrence O'Grady McGehee now is a qualified prophet of the first water.

Terrence was attending the All-American Aircraft Show in Convention Hall today.

"Ain't it terrible," said McGehee to a stranger with whom he stood examining a mammouth amphibian, "how people take themselves up in the air with one o' these. It gives me bad dreams. I feel like somethin' was goin' t'happen to me right now!"

"It is," said the voice of a patrolman right behind Terrence. "Suppose we just give this man back his pocketbook and then go for a little ride."

"Faith," quoth McGehee, "but aint I the prophet though?"
