HOSPITAL BOARD SUED

ASK FOR RETURN OF DONATION

Suit to recover a donation of $10,000 made by Henry W. Catlin, New York lawyer, to the Kent and Upper Queen Anne's County Hospital Association was filed in Kent County Circuit Court last Saturday by Harrison W. Vickers, attorney, on gehalf of Mr. Catlin, who claimed a proposed hospital, for which he gave the money, has not been built.

The association has in hand $28,000 and the proposed building here would cost $48,000. The Rev. John White, rector of Old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church at Fairlee, is president of the organization. An injunction to stop the erection of the building until the money is refunded also was filed.

The suit will be contested on the grounds that the money was given outright. R. Hynson Rogers is attorney for the association.

LEGION EMPLOYMENT DRIVE

EVERY ONE URGED TO COOPERATE

The American Legion program on unemployment is progressing very satisfactorily, throughout the entire State. The Legion has gone into this battles vigorously and wih a determination to win against the enemy—depression.

Many of those outside the American Legion may feel that there is little that can be done but that is not the case. Cooperation by all will bring about results.

All are ,therefore, urged to contact local American Legion Posts and find in just what way assistance can be rendered. No matter how small the job, it should be listed as the Legion will find a ready man to fill it.

Much credit is due the State Road Commission this week for their prompt action in this fight we are making. A Legion committee waited on the Roads Commission and asked that repair work be started at once, and that it be conducted by laborers working directly under the road engineers. To the credit of the Commission this was approved and approximately eight hundred men will thereby receive jobs.

If a few more large organizations will act in a similar and understanding manner we will be on the way to recovery in Maryland in short order.

The time is now approaching when farmers will begin their Spring work. Many men will be needed on the farms throughout Maryland and it is suggested that the farmers make known their needs to the local American Legion Posts. We believe concerted and systematic action will find both the jobs and the men who can properly fill them. While the American Legion is taking the lead in this important program we welcome assistance from every quarter. Constructive suggestions will also be thankfully received. Give us your support and assistance in this all important work. The results will be well worth the effort.

HOW TO FAIL IN BUSINESS

The Mellette County News publishes the following excellent set of directions on how to fail in business: "A trade publication points out that according to Bradstreet's report for 1923, 95 per cent. of all business failures were non-advertisers. One does not hesitate a minute about insuring his home or place of business, but how about the business itself? The successful business man is the one who goes after business; the failure is the on who sits around and waits for business to come to him. Bradstreet's percentage shows that the going business man is an advertiser."

—Mr. Paul Sipola, of the firm of Paul and Sam, attended a shoe exhibition in New York the early part of this week.

NOW AND THEN

Unvalued Antique

Of course I've oft been told about
The good old-fashioned way.
But this I'll whisper, sing or shout:
I don't desire a sleigh.

Now let the radiator freeze
And trafic cops get gay
And leave me often ill at ease—
I don't desire a sleigh.

I ask no jingling bells to hear,
Nor yet the horse's neigh.
Though things antique are growing dear,
I don't desire a sleigh.

Give me the shelter from the storm
When sparkling snowflakes play.
Give me the flivver, staunch and warm,
And you can have the sleigh.

I am sure that if Washington were living he would grow tired of seeing his own picture, and hearing his praises. It is really refreshing to hear of one time when he was angry with a subaltern. He had commanded him to go and search for the enemys' whereabouts on the other side of the river. The subaltern returned in an hour, saying, he could fined no boat. Washington, seizing an ink bottle threw it at him and thundered. "Go and find one," which he did.

On thing is told of the immense reverence his men regarded him, and they always stood in his presence.

One day several statesmen were talking about the democracy of America, and that it was better nat to stand when Washington appeared. Just then he came in, and involuntarily every man stood.

Dr. S. Parks Cadman, the great preacher tells the following story:

He was telling his little grand daughter a bedtime story which held her breathless attention, at the end of the story, when she had recovered her poise, she demanded, "Grandfather, was that a true story, or were you just preaching?"

New Winter Climate

With gentle Springtime almost due
The snowflakes are exceeding few,
The ways of fashion are so strange
Even climatic styles must change.

To those who were tormented with mosquitoes last summer the following will be good news:

Mosquitoes Are Doomed

Professor Elihu Thompson of Lynn discovers that male mosquitos are lured by the hum of an electric furnace. He foresees an invention of immense benefit to country life.

The male mosquito hears it sing;
He hastens to embrace the thing,
Believing it to be his mate—
Electrocution is his fate!

Poor slave of love, he has no choice
But answer to the siren voice.
His end is lightning- swift and grim,
It must be quite a shock to him!

Three early novels by John Galsworthy are to be reissued in a single volume by Charles Scrcibner's Sons on Feb. 24 under the title "Worshipful Society." The novels included are "The Country House," Fraternity" and "The Patrician." The theme of the first of these novels is divorce; of the second, class-consciousnss, and of the third, unyielding family pride.

TRAVELS OF AN EGG

The following story of the travels and age of an egg before it finally reached the consumer is reprinted by the Baldwinsville, N. Y., Gazette, from the Eldora, Ia., Herald:

Two years ago this Winter, in 1929, Dan Tabor, of Hardin Co., Ia., shipped a quantity of eggs to Chicago, and on one of them Mr. Tabor's son Carrol wrote his name and address. Last week a letter, bearing the date of January 12, was received by Carrol Tabor, from a Baldwinsville, N. Y., resident, who had bought the egg at a store. Carrol Tabor replied as follows: "I received your letter a few days ago and maybe you think I wasn't glad to hear from that old egg. That egg was shipped from here in March, 1929, to Chicago.

Two years is rather unusual egg storage—far too long to be profitable. But refrigeration methods have been greatly improved and, as one large storage man tells us, "shrinkage in eggs is kept to a minimum." Another intimates that it is practically impossible for anyone but an expert to tell the difference between a storage egg and one quite near newlaid, so far as size of air space is concerned. And the air in these storages is kept pure by an ozone process, so that musty flavors do not develop. These things, combined with lack of law to compel storage eggs to retain their identity until they reach the consumer, make shady practice possible for those so inclined. Quite likely there are many other eggs that "could a tale unfold" to the consumer were their point of origin inscribed on the shell as in the case of this Iowa egg.

THE WOMANLESS WEDDING

"The Womanless Wedding," with many prominent local business men taking part, will be staged by the Men's Brotherhood of the Chestertown Methodist Episcopal Church on April 11 and 12.

The production will be under the supervision of the Sympson Levie Producing Company, Bardstown, Kentucky. The play, a riotous comedy, has been staged successfully in many neighboring towns but is making its first appearance in Chestertown.

COLLEGE LOSES TO LOYOLA

CAPT. ROBINSON INJURED AS TEAM LOSES 19-17

Washington College lost its return game with Loyola last Saturday night 19-17. The game was played in the Loyola gymnasium, at Evergreen, in Baltimore. Washington defeated Loyola earlier in the season in Chestertown.

Besides losing the game to Loyola, Washington also suffered a terrible loss, when Capt. Robinson sprained his ankle. This injury came near the end of the game and it is feared that Capt. Robinson will not be able to participate in the game with Western Maryland on Saturday night.

As many other sporting events took place in Baltimore Saturday night, the attendance at the game was smaller than usual. A good crowd however turned out from Chestertown and the College.

The feature of the game was the defensive work of both teams. No scoring was done by either team in the first six minutes or the last five minutes of the game. Washington made but three field goals. Loyola was able to score seven.

Washington was first to tally, Robinson hitting the cords with a foul shot after six minutes of futile play. Two more scoreless minutes intervened before Tanneyhill's fild goal gave Loyola the lead. After the score was five all, Loyola forged ahead and kept the lead during the entire contest. This lead ranged from one or five points and at the end of the contest was a bare two. Bambler, who went in for Robinson missed a sucker shot that would have tied the score.

Washington was able to hold Loyola down by their superior ability to shoot fouls. Washington made eleven out of twelve chances while Loyola made five out of eleven.

Washington made three field goals. The first was an outside shot by Johnson. The second was a neat toss from under the basket, made by Huey, but brought about through a pass from Robinson. The third was a gift, when a Loyola tap from a jump bounced freely toward Washington's goal, with Del Proudfoot, center, near enough to capture the ball and shoot without hindrance.

Washington made several dangerous charges in the second half, but to no avail. With the score 16 to 15, following five successive foul shots by Washington, Loyola sank a one-pointer, and then again netted a field goal from close range. Proudfoot stole a tapped ball, shot the goal, and the scoring was ended though five minutes remainded.

LEGION POST MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Frank M. Jarman Post No. 36 was held at headquarters on Thursday evening of this week.

Part of the program for each meeting evening has been devoted to a talk by one member on his war experience. The talk this week was given by Major Frank B. Hines who was with the 29th Division during the world war. The talk described his experience from the time he enlisted until he returned from France. It included the Argonne Drive, the treatment of gassed soldiers, etc.

At the next meeting which will be the first Wednesday in April, Mr. William B. Wilmer will tell of his over-seas experience.

—A hen belonging to Mr. Thomas Bryan recently laid an egg having three yolks. Certainly nature has been very prolific in these times of financial trouble.

ENTER MARATON RACE

SHORE RUNNERS URGED TO ENTER RACE

The National Olympic marathon trials to be run between Cambridge and Salisbury on May 28 is strictly an amateur event and the sponsors are anxious that entries be received from Eastrn Shore athletes as well as athletic clubs from distant parts of the nation.

The only qualification is that the runner be registered with the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States which requires a fee of only twenty-five cents. Athletes of southern Delaware, Maryland and Virginia, should register through the South Atlantic Associaation of the A. A. U. Application blanks may be obtained from The Salisbury Times office.

It is planned to hold an annual marathon at Salisbury over a much shorter course than the Olympic distance of 26 miles, 385 yards. This sports event will be such as to attract scores of runners from the Shore and elsewhere, with suitable awards for all contestants.

The athletes who wish to compete in these events in future years, will be given an opportunity of a thorough test by qualifying for the pre-Olympic marathon in May.

James T. Ireland, chairmaan of the marathon committee of the South Atlantic Association, gave these suggestions for the method of training for distance running.

The athlete should start training by walking five miles a day at a fast pace for about five days, then run three miles at a dog trot for several days. When legs and stomach show signs of condition, increase the running to five or six miles and gradually increase the distance.

Do not run on a "full" stomach, Ireland advises. Smoking is absolutely toboo for a distance runner, since it cuts the wind of the athlete he added.

FISH AND GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

ORGANIZED AT SUDLERSVILLE THIS WEEK

Sportsmen of the upper part of Queen Anne's county met in Cox Memorial Hall, Sudlersville, Monday evening, February 29 and formed the Upper Queen Anne's Fish and Game Protective Association. The meeting was presided over by William T. Roe as chairman with J. Edward Stevens as secretary. The Association started with 43 members and expects to have 75 members within a short time. A committee consisting of Prof. Kenneth Baker, Lloyd Gale, J. Edward Stevens and William T. Roe was appointed to write proposed Constitution and By-Laws for the Association and the election of officers will be at the next meeting which will be next week. A banquet with turkey and the trimmings will be held by the Association in Cox Memorial Hall Monday, March 14, 7 p. m. and all sportsmen of the surrounding section are invited to attend. E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden will speak and show movie reels of hunting and game propagation, the State Game Warden of Delaware has promised to attend and speakers have been invited from the county and from Pennsylvania. Though this is primarily an organization to interest sportsmen in the protection and raising of game and to promote better fellowship among sportsmen it is also planned to have rifle, pistol and trap-shooting teams in connection with it.

At this meeting a motion was made and carried that the secretary write Congressman Goldsborough and our Senators urging them to do all within their power to secure a longer duckings season the coming fall.

Sportsmen wishing to join the Association or to attend the banquet are requested to communicate with Arthur Truitt, William T. Roe, J. Edward Stevens, of Sudlersville or Lloyd Gale and Spencer Coleman, of Crumpton.

EARLY TOMATO PLANTING

The New Jersey Extension service has conducted studies in the tomato planting time in reference to yields and the following is the result from 254 FARMS REPRESENTING 2579 ACRES with the time planted.

MAY 1-15—9.3 tons to acre.
MAY 16-31—7.3 tons to acre.
JUNE 1-10—6.6 tons to acre.
JUNE 11-20—4.3 tons to acre.
JUNE 21—2.7 tons to acre.

This will bear out facts observed here in Kent County, hence the desireability of early field grown plants. The State Department of Maryland cooperating with the State Department of Florida, through the Extension service of the U. S. Pepartment of Agriculture is now growing plants from seed grown and saved by the Tri-States Packers Association, of Easton, Md. These plants are grown for Harris & Silcox, Betterton, Md., and there will be a few for sale.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ralph Rockhold announce the marriage of their daughter, Eloise to Mr. William Stevenson Walker, Jr., on Monday the twenty-ninth of February, Nineteen hundred and thirty-two Glen Ridge, New Jersey. Mr. Walker is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Walker, of Chicago, formerly of Chestertown. The groom has visited Chestertown on numerous occasions.

DOLLAR DAYS NEXT WEEK

TWO DAY EVENT TO BE STAGED FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The merchants of Chestertown will stage the annual Twin-Dollar Days next week, Friday and Saturday, March 11th and 12th.

With the regular prices of merchandise cut to pre-war levels, the special bargains offered on Dollar Days equal those days that are referred to when the war-time price comparison is made. The Dollar Days price of clothing and food is the lowest since 1918 and is an excellent opportunity to shop.

Practically every type of store in Chestertown is cooperating which assures a large variety of bargains.

The Twin-Dollar Day is being staged under the direction of the Mercantile Section of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce and the special committee is composed of Messrs. Sam Dorf, H. F. Jefferson, Carl N. Bordley and Albert L. Wheat.

PETITION SASSAFRAS ROAD

CECIL AND KENT CITIZENS MEET WITH COMMISSIONERS

A delegation of twenty men from Cecil and Kent County, living in the vicinity of Sassafras, appeared before the Commissioners of Kent County on Tuesday afternoon of this week and petitioned that body to make every effort to have the link of road between Cecil and Kent county at Sassafras connected.

At the present time the Kent 16 ft. slab is within 300 yds. of the Cecil border and the Cecil road is within a mile of the border. The connecting of this link would materially shorten the distance between Sassafras and Warwick.

The Kent and Cecil commissioners have jointly appeared before the State Roads Commission to see what could be done but up to the present time nothing has been accomplished.

Mr. Leonard Wilson, Chairman of the Board, read a letter from the State Roads Commission in which they stated that Kent county had no funds in their hands with which to build the road and that while Cecil county had $70,000, this sum was to be expended on two other roads, at the suggestion of the commissioners, on one of which the contract had been let. Kent county stills owes the commission approximately $40,000 from over expenditure on the recent road program.

It was suggested at the meeting that instead of building a bridge over the stream which marks the border of the two counties, that a fill and series of culverts be built which would cost approximately 1-4 as much as the bridge. It was also suggested that every effort be made to induce the State Roads Commission to advance the two counties a sum sufficient to complete this highway.

A meeting of the delegation with the commissioners of both counties was scheduled for yesterday at Sassafras to see what could be done.

TRIANGLE CLUB BANQUETS

The eleventh annual banquet of the Triangle Club of Christ M. P. Church was held in the Church hall Tuesday evening. The affair was a leap year banquet and the program carried out to that effect. Eighty four members and guests were present.

Miss Kathrine Smith was toastmistress at the affair. Orchestral selections, a solo by Charles Harris, a monologue by Miss Alice Dole, selections by a quartette composed of Miss Dorothy Woodall, Mrs. Louise Faucett, Philip Sewel and W. R. McMenamin and the club song were features of the affair.

Mrs. Ella Smith made an address in behalf of the president of the club, Mrs. Pauline Robinson, who was incapacitated.

The following menu was served: Fruit Cup, Roast Turkey, Cranberries, Candied Sweet Potatoes, Peas, Hominy, Slaw, Rolls and Biscuits, Ice Cream and Cake.

C. H. S. DEFEATS SMYRNA

Chestertown High School defeated Smyrna in a closely contested basket ball game Thursday evening by a score of 20 to 19. Smyrna led at half time 10 to 9.

CHECKER CHAMP INVADES POCOMOKE

PLAYS SIX OPPONENTS AT ONE TIME

Mr. Joseph N. Wheatley, of Chestertown, undispeted checker champion of the Eastern Shore, branched out in his conquest of all comers and played six of Worcester county's best at the same time in Pocomoke Monday evening.

The match was two games each, making 12 games in all, and in the twelve games Mr. Wheatley won 9 games, 2 draws and lost one. His method of playing the six men was to move on one board then move to the next, etc., as fast as the checker move could be made.

The handicap under which the champion was playing allowed his opponents to study their next move until he had moved on each of the other five boards while he had to decide his move at a glance. The match lasted 1 1-2 hours.

George Lank, of Snow Hill, succeeded in winning one game and getting one draw. The only other player to be recognized was W. E. Priutt, of Greenbackville, Va., who succeeded in geting one draw .

James Rauty, A. P. Long, W. T. Taylor, and W. Matthews were defeated both games.

After this contest was over Mr. Wheatley, playing blindfolded, had a game with Mr. Rantz but lost.

This is Joe's first attempt at a six board exhibition match and the results were very gratifying.

NEW OIL COMPANY

CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY TO HAVE DISTRIBUTING PLANT HERE

Work will begin next week on an oil distributing station, to be built on West High street, just beyond the Farm Bureau building. The plant will contain two storage tanks.

The firm of Strong and Cooper will be distributors for this district. The Continental Oil Company makes Penn-O-Lene and Conoco gas. Penn-O-Lene gas coming into this district now is being shipped from Dover.

WEDDING NOTES

Evelyn Pearle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Anthony, of Still Pond, and John Henry Crew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crew, of Betterton, were married Saturday, February 27th, at 8.30 by the Rev. Mr. Coley at the home of the grooms brother, Emmitt Crew, of East Lansdowne, Pa. Their attendans were: Miss Lydia Dean, of Elkton; and Mr. Leonard Carnes, of Philadelphia. The bride is a graduate of Chestertown High School, class of 1929, also of Maryland State Normal School, class of 1931. After the ceremony a reception was held. They will reside in Philadelphia.

DROUTH REPORTED ENDED

The heavy rainfall in the last month of 1931 and the early part of 1932 has effiectively broken the nation-wide drought which began in 1930. The Geological Survey announces that drought conditions are gradually disappearing under heavy precipitation and there is a marked improvement in both surface and ground water supplies.

The indications are that during 1932 water supplies in most sections of the country will return to normal.

The survey found that 1931 rainfall, although below normal, was well distributed during the growing months so that vegetation suffered but little and in most localities crop yields were normal.

EMPLOY GOLF PRO

Nathaniel Jervis, of Philadelphia, has been employed as golf pro at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club and will assume his duties April 1st. Mr. Jervis will occupy the position held by Mr. R. W. McAdams for the past two years and comes here highly recommended as a golf teacher and player

The club has renewed its subscription to the Maryland State Golf Association which entitles its members to compete in tournaments of other clubs that are members.
