Pension Commissioner Tanner.

Commissioner of Pensions Tanner, who is known to the country as "Corporal," has been the objective point of an apparently concerted attack by a portion of the American press, during the last month or two, and has been charged with an utter disregard of all legal and business methods in the administration of the affairs of the pension office. The sources from which these charges emanate create a reasonable suspicion that they are exaggerations. Commissioner Tanner has undoubtedly shown great zeal in furthering just claims for original pensions and increasing others; but it would be entirely unjust to adopt the theory of some newspapers that he has done so in violation of law and in contempt of all legal restraint. It may be that in his devotion to the cause of the needy soldiers of the country he has misinterpreted the scope of his authority, but he bears the reputation of a citizen of inflexible integrity and it is not probable that he has been guilty of willful maladministration of his office by recklessly granting gratuities without warrant of law.

The Secretary of the Interior, however, has taken a proper step in the matter by appointing a committee of investigation on the management of the pension bureau. The committee is composed of Dr. George Ewing and H. L. Bruce, of the pension office, and Frank L. Campbell, of the Department of Justice, who will thoroughly inquire into the alleged wrong doing of the Commissioner. Pending the investigation, it is due to that officer to withhold condemnation upon the mere dictum of newspaper reports against him.

If the inquiry shall establish the charge that he has been recklessly disregardful of the obligations of his office; has granted pensions without sufficient evidence, rerated others in the same manner and exhibited undue favoritism to certain agents and claimants, as alleged, then his summary dismissal will not only follow, but receive the approbation of all good citizens, including the soldiers for whose welfare he is so earnestly solicitous.

But if it shall be shown that the head and front of his offending has been to hasten the granting of pensions that should have been issued long ago; that he has only sought to give prompt effect to the laws under which the disabled soldiers of the country are pensioned, and that his only indiscretion has been an enthusiastic zeal for the welfare of his comrades, who, like himself, have made great sacrifices for the nation, let shame fall upon his accusers, and let them bear the contempt and scorn of every patriotic citizen. The people want the preservers of the Union rewarded with a generous, not a niggardly, hand.

A Suspicious Exhibit.

Mr. John C. Rose, counsel for the Reform League of Baltimore, has been analyzing the work of the registrars of voters at the July sittings, in connection with which he has made a rather singular discovery, which leads to the suspicion that these officers have been up to some of their old tricks. A searching inquiry is in order to ascertain whether there has been a conspiracy to reduce the Republican vote. Mr. Rose states that, "according to the printed lists, there were, exclusive of persons transferred, 5,670 names stricken off by the registrars at the July sitting. The average number stricken off per ward was thus upwards of 257, varying from a minimum of 63 in the Second ward, which in 1888 gave Mr. Cleveland a plurality of 930, to a maximum of 514 in the Eighteenth ward, which gave Harrison a plurality of 640. The average per precinct was 28, the number stricken off varying from none in three precincts to 140 in a single precinct. The average number stricken off in the Republican precincts is nearly seventy-five per cent. greater than in the Democratic ones. Thus, in the 121 precincts carried by Cleveland last fall there were stricken off the lists 2,724 names, being an average of 22 names to a precinct, while in the 77 Republican precincts there were stricken off 2,946, an average of 38 to a precinct. As there were 34 precincts in which none are advertised as having been stricken off, and 40 others in which the number of persons stricken off did not exceed 10, and 26 in which the number stricken off was between 10 and 20, nearly ten-elevenths of the whole number, or about 5,000, were stricken off in 98 precincts, or in less than one-half of the whole number of precincts in the city. These figures prove conclusively that either there were a great many names stricken off in these 98 precincts which ought to have remained on the books, or that there were left on the books in the remaining 100 precincts, in which, in the aggregate, there were only 600 names stricken off, a great many names which ought to have been taken off."

The Crescent Club of Baltimore adopted a declaration of principles, at a special meeting on Wednesday night, which denounces the present Democratic primary election system and calls for a conference of clubs, on the 31st inst., to devise a plan for harmonizing the Democratic party. The vote on the declaration was 412 to 11, showing that the Crescent Club is practically unanimous in its hostility to the bosses and its determination to oppose the Business Men's movement. Bro. Colton must be losing faith in the virtue and efficacy of his Olive Branch.

The Democracy of Boston seems to be very much in the condition of their brethren of Baltimore—only more so. A convention in that city on Monday night was like "pandemonium let loose," and the disgraceful scene was kept up several hours. The hall was at last cleared by the police.

The Indian chiefs White Horse and Black Eagle were killed by lightning Thursday afternoon of last week, during a terrific storm, at Standing Rock Agency.

Sweet Harmony.

The Cumberland Alleganian illustrates the beautiful and charming harmony existing among Maryland Democrats by paying its respects to the Annapolis Republican in a manner more forcible than elegant. The Republican, which is an anti-ring Democratic paper, had the temerity to criticise Gov. Jackson's pretensions as an aspirant for a seat in the United States Senate as the successor of Hon. E. K. Wilson. The criticism was sharp and severe and excited the ire of the Alleganian, which, under the caption "An Annapolitan Monstrosity," launched forth in this style:

> "In its issue of the 8th inst. the Annapolis Republican, grown fat at the party crib, arrogant, dictatorial, mendacious and scurrilous, by reason of its removal therefrom after its swinish proclivities had led it to attempt the monopolization of the trough with all four of its cloven feet and obese body, makes a most scurrilous attack upon Gov. E. E. Jackson. With callous snout rooting among the records of self-made, worthy and honorable men, this swinish ingrate, disgruntled into a state of plastic consciousness, finds that Governor Jackson has by diligence and care in the details of business life, made it of so signal a success as to incapacitate him for serving the State.
> "The alleged justification for this most disgraceful exhibition of sour grapeism and petty spite is that the Easton Ledger has said that Governor Jackson has never been heard to say that he was not a candidate for Senatorial honors, as the successor of the present incumbent, Hon. E. K. Wilson, of the Eastern Shore.
> "Assuming, with that degree of arrogance common to the ingrate, and the purblindness of an ass, that this means the nomination and election of Gov. Jackson to the Senate under the party lash, like some drivelling dervish, the one time sycophantic Republican raves and foams and from a fouler mouth came forth never fouler vituperation of an upright, honest gentleman.
> "Speaking of the possibility of his being in the Senatorial race, this self-constituted avatar of the Eastern Shore, of the Democratic party and all things else under or beyond Heaven, says," &c., &c.

There is a good deal more of it, but this will suffice as an example of that sweet harmony that makes all things lovely in the Democratic camp.

The Free Trade Minority.

From N. Y. Tribune.

The Free Trader in this country has occasion to be ashamed of his organs. Where else under the sun would the advocates of a financial policy openly rejoice over the crimes by which the suffrages of the people were defeated in several States, and claim such blood-stained and crime-painted defeats as proof of the excellence of their economic policy? Strange as it may seem, this is exactly what The New York Times is doing. Because a vast number of Republican votes were suppressed by fraud or crime in Southern States, the Mugwump organ gleefully boasts that there was a plurality against protection of the votes cast and returned.

The Mugwump organ is not ignorant, and does not pretend to deny that in several Southern States the elections were fraudulent. Its own reports and dispatches could be cited in great number to prove that thousands of voters have been kept from the polls by threats and terrorism; that false returns or stolen ballot-boxes account for the loss of many thousand more, and that these methods in most of the Southern States greatly swelled the majority against the candidates of protection. Very wide differences of opinion there are, it is true, regarding the extent of these frauds. But there is not a sensible man in the country of any party who does not believe that over 100,000 more Republican votes would have been cast and returned in Southern States if the elections there had been as free and the returns as honest as they usually are in this part of the country. The nominal plurality for Cleveland was less than 100,000, and he would have been beaten on the popular vote beyond doubt, as he was beaten on the electoral vote, if the election had been free and fair. As to that men can hardly dispute, however much they may differ as to the extent of Republican loss through fraud in Southern States.

It might be added moreover, that the Democratic votes cast were not all or nearly all in favor of free trade, or of Mr. Cleveland's ideas of tariff reform, by whatever name they may be called. In this State, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New Jersey, Ohio, and in the Virginias, Kentucky, Tennessee and Louisiana, there were hosts of Democrats who desired to sustain the National policy of protection, but could not separate themselves from the Democratic party. Mr. Randall and his associates number a great many thousand voters, as everybody knows. Had the election turned upon the tariff question only, had all the votes been cast with exclusive reference to that issue, the majority against Mr. Cleveland would have been remarkably large.

Prohibition Candidates.

The Prohibitionists of Baltimore county held a convention at Towsontown on Tuesday and nominated the following county and legislative ticket:

For sheriff—Samuel W. Owens, first district.

Treasurer—Rev. Joshua L. Benson, fifth district.

County Commissioners—Alex. Guthrie, tenth district; William J. Porter, twelfth district, and John Knight, Jr., seventh district.

County Surveyor—Calvin Harlan, eleventh district.

For the legislature—Charles M. Phipps, ninth district; J. M. Pearce, tenth district; Wm. H. Hendrix, seventh district; Abram J. Biddison, twelfth district; John E. Allender, eleventh district; Wm. H. Singleton, eighth district.

The convention also elected fourteen delegates to the State convention at Glyndon Park, August 1, to nominate a candidate for State comptroller and elect a new State central committee. These delegates will confer with the Harford county delegation in reference to a judicial ticket.

Major Warner, commander in chief of the G. A. R., has issued a general order in which he urges all the G. A. R. posts of the country to send as large delegations as possible to the national encampment at Milwaukee. The tender of services by the Missouri Department as escort for the commander in chief is accepted. The day for the parade is set for August 27, and the announcement is made that no one will be allowed to participate except members of the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans. Department commanders are urged to inform headquarters of the number of men who will attend from each department, so that suitable provisions may be made for all. Appointments to the staff of the commander in chief are also announced.

The Maryland Crop Report.

The crop report for July has been issued by the Agricultural Department, and contains the following for Maryland, regarding corn crops:

"St. Mary's county—The excessive rains caused a bad stand and much delay in corn planting. Talbot—Prospect most unfavorable; planted during wet weather, and now the plant has a disposition to 'french' (the plant is yellow and dwarfed, caused by diseased roots). Washington—Stand good and plant growing well. Worcester—Acreage diminished on account of low prices; other crops, especially strawberries, tomatoes and potatoes, substituted; backward on account of heavy rains. Calvert—The late-planted corn looking badly from the effects of wet weather. Charles—In consequence of the excessive rains acreage has been very much decreased. Harford—Promises a good yield. Kent—Wet weather has interfered very much with corn cultivation. It has been too wet to work except at short periods, but the crop is doing well under the circumstances. Wicomico—The wet spring decreased the acreage; the condition, which has been bad, is very much improved by recent dry weather. Baltimore—Looks well on upland, but owing to the inability to work it on account of the wet weather, will be a partial failure. Caroline—Looking well. Frederick—is backward, but with favorable season may yet produce a fair crop. Garrett—Has suffered for want of cultivation at proper time. Prince George's—Planted late, but with favorable season will mature. Queen Anne's—Owing to the excessive rain there is a poor stand of corn on low, stiff lands; some bottoms were not planted."

Other remarks on Maryland crops are as follows:

"Wheat, which at one time bid fair to excel the expectations of growers, has turned out to be a poor crop. The same may be said of oats. Potatoes have been reduced in area, and the yield is light. The area of corn is increased, but owing to many reasons has been put back, and now looks badly.

A Year of Great Disasters.

Judged by the record of its first six months the year 1889 bids fair to be remembered as the year of disaster all over the world. During the month of January there were no serious railroad wrecks except the collision on the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio Railroad, in which eight persons were killed and as many more seriously injured; but there were fifteen marine disasters, involving a loss of 165 lives, included among them being the steamboat Paris C. Brown, which went down in the Mississippi river, costing the loss of 11 lives. February and March also were singularly free from railroad disasters, but the marine losses in February were 284, an increase of 119 over January. During the same month 20 persons lost their lives by a railroad disaster in Belgium, 10 by a wind-storm in Nebraska, 23 by the terrible hotel fire in Harford, Conn., 200 by an earthquake in Costa Rica, 13 by a cyclone in Georgia and 11 by a powder explosion in Wilkesbarre, Pa. In March the marine losses further increased to 351, the number being swelled by the 146 sailors of the German and American war vessels who were drowned during the hurricane at the Samoan Islands. In May the floods began their work of death and devastation. The first intelligence came from Austria and Bohemia, where 135 lives were lost. The consummation was in the Conemaugh Valley on the last day of the month, when nearly 5,000 persons perished and $10,000,000 worth of property was destroyed. The month was characterized by a frightful series of disasters. Thirty persons were killed by an accident on the Pennsylvania road at Latrobe; 70 by a railroad disaster at Armagh, Ireland; 1,200 by a fire in China; 40 by a falling market building in Mexico; 70 by a mine disaster in Austria, and 70 by a cyclone in Cuba. July well keeps up the record with railroad, mine and storm disasters. Altogether during the first six months of the year nearly 15,000 lives were lost in disasters of all kinds. Besides the loss of property involved in these disasters fire has swept away property amounting to over $70,000,000 in value in the United States. It adds to the mournful record of the six months that suicides, murders, hangings, lynchings and crimes of all kinds have also shown a marked increase over the corresponding period for many years past.

The G. A. R. in the Parade.

The Department of Maryland, G. A. R., will join in the great industrial parade in Baltimore in September. The column will march in single ranks of twelve files front and and the post commanders will have frequent drill meetings of their posts, that the comrades will march with precision and credit to themselves. In order to stimulate the posts to a friendly rivalry the department offers cash prizes for the best turnout.

To the post parading with the largest number of uniformed members, fifty dollars will be given.

To the post with less than one hundred members parading with the largest number of uniformed members, forty dollars.

To the post with less than fifty members parading with the largest number of uniformed members, thirty dollars.

To the post parading the largest percentage of its membership, twenty dollars.

But no post shall receive more than one prize.

Comrades parading on staff duty will be counted as with their posts.

Arrangements have been made whereby comrades may obtain uniforms from $8 to $10 each.

A cloud burst in the Little Kanawha Valley, West Virginia, on Thursday night of last week, wrought death and destruction in that region. The little village of Morristown, on Tucker's creek, in Wirt county, was almost, if not entirely wiped out of existence. Thirteen houses were swept away at that point and many others in the neighborhood. Eighteen persons were certainly drowned and probably many others. Many bridges were swept away and the soil washed from the fields. The loss is very great.

It is estimated that over 25,000 persons were carried to Atlantic City, Cape May and Sea Isle City, Saturday and Sunday last, by the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroads.

Washington Letter.

From our regular correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., July 22nd, 1889—The President has endeared himself to every working republican and proved himself to be a master in the delicate art of political manipulation by bringing about harmony between the Mahone and anti-Mahone republicans of Virginia, thus changing the coming gubernatoral campaign in the State from the "forlorn hope" it promised to be to a spirited fight in which the united republicans will have about six out of ten chances to carry the State. It is interesting to note how this was brought about. Some weeks ago, it will be remembered a large delegation of anti-Mahone republicans visited the President to ask that their faction of the party be given recognition in the distribution of the federal patronage in the State. Of course the President told them that he could not and would not recognize any party faction in Virginia or any other State and incidentally he asked why both factions did not submit the questions upon which they differed to the Republican National committee and let that body decide them. They expressed a willingness to do so, and Gen. Mahone showed an equal readiness to have the National Committee decide the matter. In accordance with this understanding Messrs. Quay, Clarkson, Dudley, Fesenden and Hobart of the National Committee met in this city to hear both sides. Both parties presented copies of a call, to be issued to the republican voters of Virginia, for a State convention to nominate a Governor and other officers, and both were represented before the committee by the leading men in their ranks. The hearing lasted all day and all night. The committee then conferred with the President and it was unanimously decided to throw out both "calls" and issue a new one, substantially that presented by Mahone. The decision was accepted by both sides and they returned home determined to carry the State for the nominee of the Convention. Immediately following the decision the President appointed Col. J. D. Brady, who had been the leader of the anti-Mahonites, Collector of internal revenue for the Fourth (Richmond) district, and P. H. McCall, a red hot Mahone man, Collector for the Sixth district. It is generally recognized by both parties that the party is now really united in the Old Dominion. If the same condition of affairs had existed last November the vote of the State would have been cast for Harrison and Morton.

The President, Mrs. Harrison and private secretary Halford left Washington for Deer Park Saturday afternoon. The President's vacation program, subject of course to change, is as follows: He will remain at Deer Park two weeks and then return to this city for several days, after which he will go to Bar Harbor to spend two weeks with Secretary Blaine. He will then return to Washington for a few days before going to Deer Park to remain until about the first of October.

Major Pruden, the President's executive clerk, has presented Mrs. McKee a certificate of the baptism of her infant daughter which took place in the White House June 1. It is a marvel of penmanship, being executed by hand in red black and gold. It bears the signature of John Witherspoon Scott (Mrs. Harrison's father) the officiating clergyman, and of the following as witnesses: Benjamin Harrison, Secretaries Blaine, Windom, Noble and Tracy, Postmaster General Wanamaker, Attorney General Miller and private secretary Halford. In the years to come that certificate will be a valuable document.

The need of a residence for the President and his family, separate from the public offices in the White House, is again being discussed. It grows more pressing each year as the growth of public business makes greater encroachments upon the private portions of the White House. Congress could not do a more popular thing than to provide for the building of a suitable residence for the President, something in keeping with the wealth and grandeur of the country.

Government officials are looking anxiously towards Hayti, as interesting international complications are likely arise there at any time.

The British Minister has gone to England to bring his family to Washington.

Information has just been received at Nashville, Tenn., that Mrs. Hattie Gibson Heron, wife of Rev. David Heron, late of Jonesboro', that State, is under sentence of death in Corea, for teaching the doctrines of Christianity. Rev. David Heron is well known as a presbyterian minister. He went to Corea about three years ago, the wife joining her husband a few weeks later. Mrs. Heron preached the Gospel as well as her husband, and was the means of converting a nobleman in Corea, who began preaching Christianity. The emperor had Mrs. Heron arrested and thrown into prison. Her case was investigated and finally the sentence of death was passed. Mrs. Heron was known as the most beautiful lady in upper East Tennessee.

A cablegram dated Seoul, Corea, July 25th, to the Acting Secretary of State at Washington, from Mr. Dinsmore, the American representative in that country, says the report concerning Mrs. Heron is wholly without foundation.

The recommendation of Col. Wilson, superintendent of public buildings and grounds in Washington, that an addition to the White House be erected on the site of the present conservatories, to serve as a private residence for the President's family, meets with the earnest endorsement of Mrs. Harrison. The President's wife declares that there is not sufficient room for an ordinary family in the Executive Mansion owing to the fact that so large a part of the space is devoted to public purposes. "Very few people," she says, "understand to what straits the President's family has been put at times for lack of accommodations. Really there are only five sleeping apartments and there is no feeling of privacy."

According to the latest statistics, carefully compiled by the board of inquiry, the number of lives lost in the devastated district of the Conemaugh Valley was about six thousand. The figures may be changed some little in the near future, as it is possible that a few who are reported missing may have been absent on a visit when the compilation was made.

The large barn of John Beidler, near Wrightsville, Pa., was destroyed by fire on Monday morning. Loss $6,000. Cause of fire unknown.

Heavy and continuous rains are reported from all sections of Kansas. Trains were delayed by washouts.

Ohio Prohibitionists nominated a full state ticket at Zanesville Thursday. The Rev. J. B. Helwig, of Springfield, is the nominee for governor.

Governor Lowry, of Mississippi, is still after the prize fighters and their associates in the violation of the laws of that State. It is believed by some credulous people that he will finally procure the trial of these parties.

Lewis Brothers, of New York, the leading dry goods dealers of America, have made an assignment to Cornelius N. Bliss, of Philadelphia, for the benefit of creditors. Their liabilities are stated to be $4,200,000; assets, $5,500,000.

It is reported that Attorney-General Wm. H. H. Miller, of Indiana, has been determined upon by the President as the successor of Justice Stanley Mathews on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States.

While Judge W. A. Settle and James A. Burchfield were driving along the county road, near Fayette Court-house, West Va., during a storm Wednesday afternoon, a large tree fell on their buggy, killing both men instantly.

Rev. James Curley, S. J., the celebrated astronomer, who had been a member of the faculty of Georgetown College since 1827, died at the college at 6.20 o'clock Wednesday evening, at the age of ninety-three years.

The engagement of Miss Helen Newell, of Chicago, to James R. Garfield, second son of the late President Grafield is announced. Miss Newell is the daughter of John C. Newell, general manager of the Lake Shore railroad.

The civil-service rules require that examinations for clerks, carriers and other persons employed in the postoffices throughout the country shall be held twice in each year. The second examination for the present year occurs on the 6th of August.

The large barn of Nathaniel King, at Chaddsford, Chester county, Pa., containing all the season's crops, was burned Wednesday morning. Loss about $6,500; partially covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

A barn on the Perkins property, Chester, Pa., was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. Frank Meehan, who was sleeping in the barn, was burned so badly that he will die. Four horses, a lot of hay and implements were burned. Loss about $3,000; insured.

A recent fire at Lu Chow, China, burned 23 hours, destroying 87,000 dwellings. Over 1,200 persons perished in the flames and 400 were killed. Nearly 170,000 people were obliged to camp out without shelter, and were dying at the rate of 100 a day from want and exposure.

News received at San Francisco from Ounalaska by the steamer Bertha confirms the recent reports of the loss of three whaling schooners—James A. Hamilton, Otter and Annie. No trace of them has been seen in the Arctic, and it is generally believed they are lost. The vessels carried about 60 officers and men.

Tommy and Agnes Williams, aged five and three, were burned to death by the explosion of a coal-oil can at Columbus, Ohio, Sunday night. The mother had left the house a few minutes on an errand, during which the boy secured the oil can, placed it in the middle of the floor, and then secured some matches and set the oil on fire.

Mr. C. P. Huntington has sold 100,000 shares of common stock of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad for $2,500,000, and it is understood that the Vanderbilts are the purchasers and that the Chesapeake and Ohio will be operated in connection with the recently organized Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Road as one system as a rival of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Thursday was the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone. The Queen telegraphed a congratulatory message to the distinguished couple, and the Prince and Princess of Wales and other members of the royal family sent letters to them. The Prince of Wales also sent a gold inkstand to Mr. Gladstone. A number of liberal ladies presented a portrait of Mr. Gladstone with his grandson. The portrait was painted by Millais. A large number of other presents were received.

Col. Robert J. Page, a prominent lawyer and editor, was shot and instantly killed at Marion, N. C., Monday night, as he alighted from a train. The assassin mounted a horse and rode rapidly away. It has been ascertained that the fatal shot was fired by a young man named Edward Brown. Young Brown had warned Col. Page, who was a married man, but separated from his wife, to desist from paying attention to his, Brown's, sister, Mrs. Dr. Butt, a handsome young widow. Page disregarded the warning and Brown shot him. It is supposed the murderer has fled the State. The murdered man was a relative of Governor Lee, of Virginia.

A special from Washington, Pa., dated Thursday says: An accident occurred this afternoon at Elwood's Crossing, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, a few miles west of Washington. Mrs. Wm. Irwin, of this place, with her three little children and a sister-in-law, were out driving in a buck-board wagon. When they were near the crossing the horse became frightened and ran towards the railroad track. Just at this moment a train approached, striking the horse, which was killed instantly. Mrs. Irwin was thrown under the wheels of the train and ten cars passed over her body, mangling it terribly. A three-year-old son had both legs cut off and has since died of his injuries. The other parties escaped without serious injury.

An Alabama Chautauqua Assembly has been organized, to be held this fall at Fort Payne, which the Atlanta Journal announces will be made memorable by a debate between Secretary of State James G. Blaine and Senator Morgan of Alabama. The Plumed Knight will defend the Republican doctrine, pure and simple, of protection, and Senator Morgan will advocate the other side of the tariff question. Fort Payne is in Northeast Alabama and is the seat of a great land enterprise which Boston capitalists control, but in the inception of which General R. A. Alger was interested. Mr. Blaine's visit to the South on such an occasion and with such a mission will be one of the exciting events of the year.—Daily Graphic.

Trustees' Sale

OF A

VALUABLE FARM

Near New Windsor, Carroll County, Md.

BY virtue of a deed of trust from Jesse Baile and Ann L. Baile, his wife, to Peter Baile and David Englar, Jr., bearing date 23d day of July, A. D. 1889, and recorded among the Land Records of Carroll county, the undersigned, as Trustees named in said deed, will offer at public sale, on the premises, situated on the public road leading from New Windsor to Jewsburg and within half a mile of the railroad depot at New Windsor, on

at 1 o'clock, p. m., that valuable farm on which the said Jesse Baile and wife now reside, containing of which about 12 Acres are heavily timbered. The improvements consist of a large and comfortable two-story Brick Dwelling House, 60x20 feet, with brick backbuilding thereto, 30x20 feet, conveniently arranged; large Ice House, Stone Spring House, Smoke and Wash Houses, BRICK BARN, 75x40 feet; large double Wagon Shed, 35x30 feet, with Corn Cribs, Hog Pens, &c., attached; together with all other necessary outbuildings usually found on a first-class farm. There is an abundance of fruit of the choicest varieties, a never-failing spring of splendid water, which is piped into and through the dwelling house, and also running water in the barnyard. The location of this property within half a mile of the station at New Windsor, the large quantity of meadow land thereto, coupled with the fact of its having two streams of water running through it, makes it admirably adapted to the dairy or milk business, which has been most successfully conducted thereon for several years past.

This property is in every respect worthy the attention of purchasers—for it is seldom that a farm so productive, with such first-class appointments, located so near a thriving town and railroad station, comes into the market.

Persons desirous of viewing the premises can call upon Jesse Baile, Esq., residing thereon, or Peter Baile, at New Windsor, and David Englar, Jr., near Medford, and for further information call upon or address Hon. Chas. B. Roberts and McKellip & Clabaugh, Attorneys-at-Law, Westminster, Md.

Terms of Sale.—One-third part of the purchase money to be paid in cash on the day of sale or upon the ratification thereof by the Court, and the residue in two equal payments, the one to be paid in twelve months and the other in two years from the day of sale; credit payments to be secured to the satisfaction of the Trustees and bearing interest from the day of sale.
