THE TRANSCRIPT

Entered at the Postoffice at Chestertown, Md., as Second Class Matter.

THE MARYLAND LEGISLATURE, now in session, will determine the method of manufacturing and dispensing liquors in this State following the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment which takes effect December 5th. The liquor control measure, as submitted by Governor Ritchie in his message to the Legislature, makes it possible for each of the political divisions of the State to determine its own liquor control measures through their representatives requesting that their political division be exempt from the privilege of issuing any or all of the different dispensing licenses. The plan will eliminate a multiplicity of different laws for each division of the State. However, serious consideration should be given to the proposed State excise tax of $1.10 per galon on liquor, which when added to the proposed Federal tax of $1.10 would make a total of $2.20 per gallon. The danger of a high tax on liquor might defeat the purpose for which many favored the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment—the sale of illicit liquor. The excess tax would make it possible for the manufacturer of illicit liquor to continue to stay in business and far undersell the legal distilleries, which would mean the continuance of the uncontrolled liquor traffic which has been one of the causes of wholesale lawlessness. At the present time it is not known just how the Maryland liquor laws will affect Kent County but it is practically assured that there will be no sale of liquor in Kent county for consumption on the premises. In all probability the present method of dispensing beer will continue as it has been for the past few months, which has from all appearances been conducted in a lawful way.

The Curbstone Diplomat

WILLIAM S. COLLINS

"All is not gold that glitters", The repeal of the 18th amendment is not going to make conditions quite as good as they seemed. Quite a few, yea, quite a number voted for repeal in the hopes that they would be able to use decent quality liquor instead of the present day "rot-gut." But, from all reports the legallized liquors are going to be taxed so high that the poor man will not be able to buy it.

Here is what Al Smith says "It is inherent in every good citizen to desire to be obedient to the law. Repeal has given the opportunity to respect and obey the law again and to see that others respect and obey it. The people now have the opportunity not only to be law abiding, but the opportunity to help their country by increasing the taxation revenue so that the budget can be balanced. Realizing that the Government needs more revenue and that he can do his part only by buying his supplies legally, no good citizen will patronize a bootlegger after repeal. Now that the Eighteenth Amendment is repealed, there is no reason why any decent citizen should lend support to any group seeking to violate the law."

So, the poor man who uses hootch and voted for repeal in the hopes of making things better, has voted himself bone dry if he intends to be, Al Smiths idea of a "Decent Citizen."

Politically the liquor issue will not be dead. From all appearances it is going to be a continuous wrangle over high or low tax and licensing.

Most people would gladly buy their fire-water legally but they want a reasonable tax. Some of our Maryland breweries in advertising their wares to meet higher priced beers from other states used the statement, "You can't drink the freight.' Absolutely, and you can't drink the stamp on liquor bottle. According to some of the local boys, to stop bootlegging in Kent liquor should sell from between one busk, and one buck and one quarter. It is very unlikely it will be that low.

This elevating, refined and cultured subject will be continued next week, when we will know just how Kent shall handle the problem. It is very likely that we will have package sale here but no open drinks.

Why Liquid Laxatives Do You No Harm

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement, and with no discomfort at the time, or afterward.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it!

An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is syrup pepsin. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help, as they do in the case of cathartics containing mineral drugs. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Member N. R. A.
