LEGISLATURE STUDYING LIQUOR CONTROL

PETIT LARCENY BILL INTRODUCED

The method of controlling the dispensing of liquor in Maryland, following the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment which takes effect December 5th, is the major work before the special session of the Maryland Legislature. The principal discussion which is technical, refers to the State-wide bill permitting the sale of liquor at towns from which each of the political divisions of the State may ask for exempton. The suggested change is that the sale of liquor at taverns be left out of the State-wide bill and each political division that wants it may have it included in a special bill.

Indications at the time of going to press are that the proposed State tax of $1.10 per gallon of liquor may be reduced to from 20 cents to 25 cents. The present Federal tax is $1.10 a gallon. The objection to the higher tax is based on the fact that a high tax would increase the price of legalized liquor to a point where the handler of illicit liquor could still stay in business.

There is a probability that in Kent ounty liquor will be dispensed by the State or by a special liquor control board appointed for that purpose.

Introduces Petit Larceny Bill

Delegate Arthur Brice, of Kent County, has introducted a bill in the Legislature giving Magistrates jurisdiction over larceny cases involving thefts up to $25. This would eliminate approximately 65 per cent of the criminal work at the Circuit Court sessions. It is understood that the bill will pass, as the objections to the bill, which have been offered at previous sessions, have been overcome.

The Wayside Poet

By J. Thomas Price

The Eagle of the N.R.A

T'was in a time of dire depression,
When Roosevelt took the chair of state;
And called a conference of officials,
And worked from early morn till late.

I know not what they did or said,
Behind those closed doors that day,
But they brought out a bird of might,
Blue eagle of the N.R.A.

Men gazed upon this bird of power,
What can it mean, I heard them say;
The President looked wise and said,
Blue eagle of the N.R.A.

Some said he was a bird of peace,
Some said he was a bird of prey;
Some said he'd bring prosperity,
This eagle of the N.R.A.

This eagle of the blue brigade,
With powerful wings stretched to the sky;
Brings promises of better days.
And bids men hope, and trust, and try.

Obey and he will promise peace,
But ruck his feathers the wrong way;
And he will sink his talons deep,
This eagle of the N.R.A.

So let us rally at his call,
And do our best the code obey;
United, we can win the fight,
And usher in a better day.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT ON THE DEATH OF JOHN D. URIE

At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kent County Savings Bank held this day, November 29, 1933, the following memorial respecting the late John D. Urie was presented by the undersigned committee and, after being read, was adopted by unanimous action of the members present.

John David Urie, one of the original incorporators of this institution, a director and its legal advisor from its organization until the hour of his passing, died at his home, Riverside Terrace, in Chestertown, Saturday evening, November 18, 1933, at the age of seventy-two years and eleven months.

For more than forty years the deceased was a conspicuous and influential figure in the legal, financial and political affairs of this community. His career in life was in every sense and in all respects a self-made and personally earned success. Born amid humble environs, deprived in early childhood of the protection and material assistance of parental guidance, he endured and surmounted the hardships and struggles of adverse circumstances, and by the potency of his own superior intellect, indomitable will, unfailing courage and tireless industry attained to positions of great responsibility and commanding influence.

Like the similar experience of all men of force, independent thought and aggressive initiative he was not immune to the criticism of those who differed with him in concept of purpose or method of procedure; but by none was he ever held in default of conscientious performance of duty or infidelity in the execution of a public trust. His real worth was most highly appraised and most sincerely appreciated by those with whom he was the more intimately associated and who thus knew and understood him best.

To this institution, that he served so long and so faithfully, his loss will be well-nigh irreparable. Against the seductive temptations and ever menacing indiscretions of these hectic and perilous times his unswerving resistance has stood as a bulwark of strength and safety, and its present position of success and security is a monument to his wise counsel and unerring judgment.

Highly esteemed by his fellow directors, not alone for his invaluable services as an associate member of the governing body, but as well for his many sterling qualities, his passing creates a sense of personal loss that is keenly felt; a loss that is also shared by the community at large.

With sincere sorrow because of the eternal dissolution of an earthly association so long enjoyed, and deep regret that the ever ready service of so wise and safe a counselor is no longer available, this simple memorial is dedicated to the memory of Mr. Urie, and inscribed in the permanent records of this institution in the hope that the influence of his life and example may inspire and stimulate to like ideals of fidelity to trust, steadfastness of purpose and faithfulness in service.

To the bereaved family we tender assurances of the profound regard in which we will ever hold the memory of our late fellow director, and extend to them our warmest sympathy in the dark hours of their deepest sorrow.

RESOLVED, that the foregoing memorial be spread upon the minutes of this meeting, a copy thereof delivered to the family of the deceased, and to the local press for publication.

CHARLES S. SMITH,
HOWARD TURNER.
L. BATES RUSSELL,
Committee.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kent Building and Loan Company held Monday, November 27th, 1933, the following resolutions were passed on the loss by death of John D. Urie, Esq., a member and attorney of the Board;

Whereas, Providence in His wisdom has decreed the passing from our midst of John David Urie, Esq., our co-worker who had always the welfare and interest of our Company close at heart, and

Whereas, John David Urie, Esq., was a faithful and loyal member of our Board for many years and had constructively and industriously served the Company.

Resolved, That we, the members of the Board, express and record our regret and sense of loss at his passing and extend to his family our deep sympathy in their sorrow.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, recorded in the minutes of this Company and published.
